WHAT THE LIBERAL GOVERNMENT HAS DONE

A good four years' record. Speaking in Amherst, N. S., a few days ago Sir Charles Tupper is reported to have said:—"No man has been able to put his hand on one thing that the Liberals have done that has increased one jot or tittle the trade in Canada," and again "Show me one single act initiated and carried out since this Government came into power that has contributed to the prosperity of the country, and I will apologize."

Let us glance for a moment at the record and then leave the intelligent elector to judge for himself as between that record and Sir Charles Tupper's statement. First as to transportation,—a matter which all will agree is of primary importance to trade. The fourteen-foot canal system from the Lakes to Montreal inaugurated by Alexander Mackenzie, but carried forward with inexcusable dilatoriness and at great annual loss to Canadian commerce during the sixteen years of Tory rule, was completed in less than three years and ocean boats are now trading between Liverpool and the Upper Lake ports without breaking cargo.

It has made provision for the necessary improvements and enlargements of the harbor facilities at Montreal, the sea-board terminus of that canal system. It has made a contract with a strong transportation syndicate by which grain elevators are being constructed at Montreal and Port Colborne, a fleet of modern grain carriers put on the lakes, and a vastly greater volume of the products of the west carried through Canadian channels.

It has developed and improved the system of cold-storage for Canadian shipments to British and foreign markets and perfected cold-storage facilities at the Paris exhibition which enabled the Dominion to make an exhibit of her grain, fruit and vegetables which has been a revelation to Europe and must give a tremendous impetus to the future trade in these natural products.

It has extended the Intercolonial Railway from Point Levis to Montreal, has granted subsidies to railways from point to point across the continent which will in due course form links in a new, complete chain of railway communication from the Atlantic to the Pacific and opened up millions of acres of magnificent agricultural mining and lumber country; a competing line which will shade the rapidly growing commerce of the west with the C. P. R. and prevent that country from ever again suffering from railway monopolies.

In granting subsidies to the railways, conditions have been attached which guarantee substantial returns to the country for the money expended; unconditional grants of public monies to private speculators has, under the present Government, become a thing of the past.

It has removed artificial fetters upon the trade of the country by re-adjusting the tariff to such an extent that the consumer has paid at least $13,000,000 less for the goods he has used in the last four years than he would have paid for the same goods under the Tory tariff.

It has, in connection with the Crow's Nest Charter, secured reductions in grain rates for the Western farmer and other freight concessions from the C. P. R. equal to a saving annually of not less than $800,000 and has taken the power to regulate freight rates on all traffic originating on the Crow's Nest Road or destined for points on the Crow's Nest system and made it impossible for the Canadian Pacific to increase rates on many staple articles beyond the prices fixed in that agreement.

DR. LANDERKIN.

FROM GLOBE OF TUESDAY, SEPT 4th.

An Interesting Estimate. Dr. Landerkin, who has been renominated for South Grey, is at the same time one of the oldest members of the House and one of the youngest. It is 28 years since he first entered Parliament as the Liberal representative of South Grey, and he has, with the exception of the election of 1878, when he went down with so many other stalwart Liberals, carried the riding at every election since. Although one of the oldest members of the House in point of service, Dr. Landerkin is one of the youngest in spirits, and is exceedingly popular among his fellows. He is the life of any gathering of members at which he happens to be present: he delights in a good story and is himself a good raconteur. The doctor has a pretty wide as many an Opposition speaker has ever discovered to his cost. He delights to carefully follow a debate, and as his opponent reaches the climax of his argument to send it tumbling about his ears by some pointed remark, some apt common-sense suggestion, that generally excites the laughter of the House and often destroys the whole force of a carefully prepared speech. Dr. Landerkin holds the degree of M. D., obtained at Victoria College, Cobourg, in 1863. He is as popular in the riding as he is at Ottawa, and although South Grey is not a "blue"—his majority at the last election was 66—there is no doubt of Dr. Landerkin's return. As an illustration of the stalwart Liberalism and thorough organization which has been kept up in South Grey, the fact may be recalled that in the last four general elections Dr. Landerkin's majority has not fallen below 46 nor risen above 97. Each Liberal appreciates his responsibility, does his duty, and the seat is safe.

SOME STRIKING FACTS.

ECHOES OF THE CONVENTION.

According to promise we this week give a short summary of the address of Mr. Jno. McMillan at the meeting of September 3rd which nominated Dr. Landerkin.

Mr. McMillan opened with a reference to Dr. Landerkin's position in the House of Commons. There was no one there he assured them who could take the Dis. place. He was many sided, well posted and the government side respected him thoroughly, while the opposition also respected him though from different motives.

He predicted that the coming campaign would be a better one, instanced Dr. Sproule a few days before supporting Wm. Smith who admitted before a Judge, and admits now, having spent $1200 corruptly. Reformers have today a great prestige, having in Laurier a leader equal to Imperial ones and therefore by honest and honorable means we must fight our battles and win our victories.

TUPPER'S PROPHECIES. Referring to the predictions of Tupper and his Associates in 1896 that the trade of the country would be ruined, he quoted statistics to show that the trade of even Belgium and Germany was increasing in spite of the terms of the treaties. He made a telling enquiry into the promises of the N. P. as contrasted with its performances in regard to the condition of the farmer. Though continually trumpeting themselves the farmer's friend figures would show that protection, so-called, had given the American farmer 3 to 5 cts a bushel more on oats than the Canadian had received.

QUARANTINE REGULATIONS. The great and beneficial change to the farmer by the removal of these regulations was evident when it was shown that from small beginnings the cattle trade had increased hundreds per cent. Mr. McMillan is a practical cattle man and at attention he had given to the subject showed that $1,000,000 had gone into the pockets of the farmers since the removal of these regulations.

CORN—VERSUS—OATS. He was an advocate of free corn. Government returns would show that in a certain number of years the value of 18 millions of bushels was exported and in the same time corn, of equal feeding value had been imported and the cost was just 11 millions of dollars, the difference of 7 millions remaining in the pockets of the farmers or invested in further progressive industry. It was a mistake to suppose our coarse grains would be decried if corn was kept out, for taking the last 27 years, American oats in free duty and American corn had ranged 3 cents a bushel higher than Canadian and then their bushel was only 32 cts.

REDUCTIONS IN DUTY. In spite of evasive assertions there was abundant evidence of reduction in duty on material used by farmers, and in one year no less than $87,000 had been saved the farmer in one year, although the effect of the reduction was not fully in force.

BINDER TWINE. Taking a comparison between 1896 and the present he showed that owing to the Spanish American War and other causes the twine now manufactured had increased at a much greater rate than the price charged the farmer so that actually a great saving had been effected.

PREFERENTIAL TARIFF. Was among other matters powerfully touched upon. The "not over scrupulous" Mr. Foster had said the reductions caused by the tariff amounted to only 62-100ths per cent. and Reports in Parliament, having respect to Mr. Foster's reputation as a financier had been staggered at the statement, but examination showed that he was either wilfully or carelessly making a false statement and he admitted in the House when cornered 2 days later that it was 3 and 62-100ths per cent.—nearly 6 times as much.

INCREASE OF EXPENDITURE. Taking the expenditure at 36 millions in '95 to 47 millions in '98, he showed how the former might be an extravagant expenditure and the latter economical for in '95 with the less expenditure there was over 4 millions of a deficit and in '98 with the greater they had 10 millions of a surplus.

THE YUKON CHANGES. Were plainly set out. Hibbet, Tupper's ridiculous course was founded on anonymous letters, hearsays on trains, &c., and the man whose name had been furnished to substantiate the charges was now under commitment for perjury. The Crow's Nest Pass Railway transaction was clearly explained. The C. P. R. had running powers over the road, but not exclusive. To get these it had to give a rebate of 3 cts a bushel on east bound freight on ALL its lines, and a very material reduction on supplies going eastward also a rebate of the best coal lands in the district had been made, and full control had been kept over the running powers of the C. P. R.

The Drummond Railway had been secured as an adjunct of the Intercolonial Railway with the result that instead of over 6 million dollars of deficits under the late government, there was now a yearly surplus.

The P. O. Department under Mr. Mulock had become more of a perfect system than under all his predecessors. The late government left continual P. O. Deficits, up in the millions, now with a 2 cts letter rate a better service, and many advantages it was almost if not quite self-sustaining.

He closed by a fervent reiteration on the raising of Canada among the nations by Canada's first son—Sir Wilfrid Laurier—who, the longer he was known the more he was respected. He sat down amid great applause.

FOUR STRIKING DEATHS.

The grain reaper has been more than usually busy this week. As the following obituaries show. Our sympathy to all friends.

Mrs Wm. McKenzie.

Very sad was the news that reached the home of Dr. Gun on Friday last that his daughter Mrs. Wm. R. McKenzie of Portland, Oregon, had died at the residence of Mr. Haggart Cochrane, Omaha, on that day.

Mrs. McKenzie was in poor health last spring and came home to have her father's skill and care and enjoy the companionship of her old home. She grew rapidly well and left in buoyant hope of soon rejoining husband and children to whom she was devotedly attached.

Visiting a friend in Detroit she got a cold which developed into pneumonia and she hesitated whether to go on or come back. The desire to rejoin her family decided her to go on but on reaching Omaha, she was compelled to stop and was happily accommodated at the home of old friends Mr. and Mrs. Haggart Cochrane. Getting worse she yearned for her much loved father, and he went to her and his presence and care again restored her.

Since he came home letters received were not reassuring but on Thursday last the anxious friends here were delighted to have a letter from her husband telling of improvement and their intention of soon leaving for home. Such was not to be, as Friday's telegram painfully proved.

The remains were taken to Portland where she sleeps with two of her children, and beside her husband and the friends here she will be mourned and missed by three children two sons and one daughter, the eldest of whom, a boy is 18 years old.

Mrs. McKenzie, (Joseph) was the only child of Dr. Gun by his first wife, who died at her birth. She grew to womanhood in Durham, was a bright and well loved member of the home here and greatly admired by all her acquaintances for her sunny disposition and many lovable qualities. She married about 19 years ago Mr. Wm. McKenzie, who occupies an important position on a Western railway and consequently only intervals has she been able to get here. We extend our sympathy to the mourners.

DR. FREEL.

Nearly every citizen of the town was painfully stricken on Friday evening to hear that Dr. Freel had succumbed to the illness with which for some weeks he had been prostrated. During the extreme heat of a month or so ago he had a touch of sunstroke and this was followed by a severe attack of summer complaint. He recovered from this, but got a chill while sitting on the bank watching a croquet game. This caused a relapse, other complications set in affecting his mind at intervals, and on Friday evening about 7 p. m. death ended his suffering.

He was of a kind genial nature and had the faculty of making friends. In his last illness expressing a desire to have Mr. Jas. Mack near him, that gentleman was assiduous in his attentions. Dr. Freel was born in Stouffville, Ontario, nearly 17 yrs. ago. After graduating he practised in Brome for 18 yrs. and later had 6 years hospital practice in Detroit. Feeling his health giving away he moved to Durham, about two years ago and frequently we have heard him express his satisfaction at the new vigor he acquired. He began practice here and as he became known his practice increased, latterly assuming large proportions.

At one time he was a public speaker of some note in Conservative politics, but gave it up when his health declined. Deceased comes of a medical family having two brothers, Ira and S. L. practicing in Stouffville and another a Veterinary surgeon. Mrs. Dr. Robinson, Markham, is a sister and one, Miss Freel, is in Stouffville. His widow was a Miss Lily Brook to whom he has been married 19 years and she with their only child Charlie, will have the deepest sympathy of Durham friends and many throughout the district.

All arrangements were made Friday evening, and the remains left by morning train Saturday, for interment at his birth place. Rev. Mr. Ryan conducted a brief service at the house before removal. Mrs. Freel and son and Mrs. Robinson accompanied the remains.

WM. MATHER.

How Suddenly death may overtake anyone is exemplified in the case of the above named gentleman. He attended the Reform Convention on Monday, Sep. 3rd, in his usual health and spirits, and one week later has got through with life. A few days ago he made a slip in the barn and fell through a hatchway and got up apparently not much the worse for the fall. That night however he passed into a state of unconsciousness from which he never recovered and passed away at 2 a. m. on Tuesday morning at the age of 78 yrs. Deceased was a native of Roxburghshire, Scotland, and came to this country 50 years ago. He lived for 5 years near Dunnville and for the last 45 yrs. has been a well known resident of South Ben tinct. His sons James at home, and John near Pricessville, are both well known and they with their mother will deeply mourn the loss of husband and father. Wm. Mather was one of the most genial of men. Gifted as a singer, hundreds in South Grey have enjoyed the vim and vigor of his songs, and the heartiness of his companionship. As a neighbor and friend, he was highly valued for his unending integrity. He was a devoted adherent of the Presbyterian church and a lifelong Reformer. He was buried on Wednesday at Hamden cemetery amid every token of respect from large numbers of neighbors and friends.

Mrs. ARCH BEATON.

The grim messenger of death came to this lady on Monday last and husband and family mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother. The immediate cause of death was an acute attack of cholera morbus, consequently her removal was painfully sudden and unexpected.

To her and her husband were born a family of 7 sons and 3 daughters and this is the first inroad made by death. Two of the sons are in B. Columbia, one in Michigan, one in Wisconsin, one in Dakota, two boys and two girls at home. Her eldest daughter, Mrs. Jno. Falsie is closely related. Deceased was of a most kindly and hospitable character, and as a neighbor and friend will be deeply mourned, while to her own family her decease is a severe blow. Both Mr. and Mrs. Beaton came from the Isle of Mull, Scotland and have numerous connections. Rev. Mr. Matheson, Pricessville, conducted the services, and the remains were interred in Pricessville cemetery on Wednesday.
