was severe,

cty in Pekin

s of houses

the Boxers,

id finally by

French will have been

banghai corrd, in a desays that roy of Yunn Sept. 5th cue the Emadds that neen issued. owager Emrant of the and was roops.

atch to the ong Kong, Gen. Gaser, has teleto send no

SPITE OF HIS BIRTH

CHAPTER XLIV.

Scarcely a word was spoken except by the men who plied the oars, from the moment the boat left the landing until it glided noislessly to the foot of the stairway leading to the deck of the Bald Eagle. Gertrude grew more and more frightened as the distance between her and the shore increased. thing was very wrong, and she heartily wished, again and again, that she two men. had never left the safety of her acted very foolishly in coming out ting late, and there's considerable to same as admitted my guilt. But, dear, finally discovered in a cunningly conthus alone and trusting herself to be done yet," the chief interposed. "I although every circumstance has trived safe, which had been built into the guidance of entire strangers. | think, however, when you hear the seemed to point to me, as the author | the vessel behind the berth in the boat with her? What kind of a crea- jury, you will be forced to confess as you are. Let me tell you, too, that owner. ture was this taciturn "stewardess," that it was the neatest job you ever we have the real robber safe in hand, To Ned's exceeding joy the bonds, rounded a projection in the harbor march below, and we'll accommodate "Can that be possible?" Gertrude his assertions regarding their loss, and and reached a point where the light you with as comfortable quarters as joyfully exclaimed. Then she added, as clearing him from all suspicion of upon the mast of the Bald Eagle could | circumstances will allow ; though we she slipped both her small hands con- | dishonesty. be discerned, when a low, fierce oath happen to be pretty full just now." fidingly into his: "Oh, Ned, tell me all The money, of course, had been escaped the lips of the "stewardess," Gould turned and looked at his com- that has happened to you since that used, but Mr. Lawson's generosity had but she laid her hand upon her expected to meet him there. companion's arm. remarking:

this vessel," Gertrude said, reso at the young man's heart.

no harm shall befall you, and you she thus confronted the would-be needed me." shall go back to the city whenever murderer.

the almost inaudible reply. "but I were put in irons to make sure of no ments while I go to make the necespromise you shall go within an hour attempt on their part to escape. H you wish.

Gertrude thought a moment. man's pledge. she asked.

"Yes, marm, he is." Somewhat comforted by this assur- much to save his life. ance-for she felt confident that no Ned, himself, almost reeled as his personal harm could befall her where eyes fell upon her, for, until that in-Ned was-she stepped out of the boat stant, he had not dreamed of her him the circumstances of Gertrude's and followed the others up the stair- presence on the yacht. But she was seized with a sudden he bore the almost helpless feeling of despair when, the moment girl to a chair, in which they all reached the deck, the iron he tenderly seated her. "My darlsteirway, by some invisible means, ing. what does this mean? How came was swung up from the water's edge, you to be here with those dreadand all hope, as she supposed, of est ful men? Where are your friends? additional protection, and in less cape, was cut off. "Captain Bleiberg! Captain Blei- Gertrude was too much overcome doesn't someone answer me?"

was thrown on deck from a couple of | drink every drop of it. brilliant lanteres, arranged for that | She obeyed him readily enough, but | trying experiences of the last two | various width stripes in green and | The father tabulated his expenses for | women prefer fine tilk in solid color, purpose, thus bringing into bold re- her eyes studied his face auxiously weeks, and also rehearsed the great white, gray and plak, or blue, etc. one week as follows: ilef every figure of the strange group and appealingly the while. gathered there, while Gertrude gave The wine both strengthened and ing. who, he explained, was the in- house gowns, the promised mode. vent to a startled cry as she saw it. quieted her and she smiled faintly, Near the companionway stood the as she thanked him and returned figure of the "stewardess," though a the empty glass.

had been stripped from the broad he brought another chair and seated shoulders, the bonnet from the head, himself before her, "you must tell and a finely formed man, the lower me the meaning of this startling ap- you both. Oh, Ned, I have been so style? Those that are, the double- Tomatoes, 2 bushels 40 Christmas, instead of a deluge of em portion of his body still enveloped in a pearance-I could not have been more dark skirt, stood revealed, while he astonished if one had appeared to two weeks!-they have seemed like gazed about him with an expression | me from the dead." of amazement and dismay. It was Gould, the cunning bank come to you?" murmured Gertrude, terrible had happened to you." and fall.

of a woman's dress partly to assist of the trap that had been set for lingly into that of her lover. Bunting in his vile scheme to decoy her unwary feet, although there were Gertrude to the vessel, and partly be some mysteries about it yet which cause he had begun to fear that sus- would need further explanation. picion had been directed toward him. Send for you, darling !- to come Near him was another man, who here, alone, at this time of night!" appeared no less confounded, and the Ned cried, amazed. "Assuredly girl's heart gave a startled bound as not. Is it possible that she recognized Ned's old enemy and you could imagine that I would subher would-be suitor, Bill Bunting; ject you to anything so disagreeable while, surrounding these two, each | and so imprudent?"

The fair girl wondered, and felt faint "Did I not what?" Ned inquired, deand weak as she noticed the threat- termined to get to the bottom of the ening aspect, the cocked weapons, and resolute faces of the men. She shrank close to a mast, and throwing her arms around it, leaned against it for support, while she continued to gaze, as if fascinated, upon what was occurring before her. "Well, -- you! what is the meaning of this?" Gould demanded fiercely, when he could command his voice sudden anger and alarm. sufficiently to speak. wered," returned the chief of police, as he stepped to the man's side and laid a powerful hand upon his shoulder. "It simply means that your game is up, and-you are my prison-A volley of oaths came from the heartening information.

his dark eyes burned Ike two fiery tion " Ned exclaimed, as she conclud- and myself with such base ingrati- watch may be heard from one end of coals as his restless eyes roved from | ed. face to face.

and bravade which excited both the tention of taking you with them and | the point of retiring.

with a quick indrawn breath. "No, it was the grandest pluck I ever heard of," replied the chief, with a glance at Ned and Mr. Hunting, who were standing side by side a little back of the prisoner. Gould's eyes followed his, and he

"Ah!" he exclaimed, and the single ejaculation spoke volumes. It told that he comprehended all the She instinctively felt that some. ruin and disaster which must overtake him upon the release of those gave a violent start.

"How did you do it?" he faltered. "I guess we won't stop for any with difficulty repressed a cry of "Well, Bunting, it is all up with us, "Her act touched him deeply; it nothing through him, and his grati-I suppose," he said, with white lips. | was so spontaneous and trustful that | tude knew no bounds. A few moments later the boat Bill Bunting did, not reply, but he it told him more plainly than words reached the vessel, whereupon the turned his glance upon Ned, who had could have done, that she believed in prima facie evidence against the "stewardess" instantly arose to been unspeakably astonished when the him fully, and loved him as truly as owner of the Bald Eagle, and on Monleave the boat as if in great haste. | light had been turned on and he recog- | ever. Gertrude was trembling with fear. nized his old-time foe, for he had not "I will, my dearest, but not just

"I am afraid to go on board this features. vessel. I do not like the way I have | "Curse you, a thousand times!" he | marked, in a troubled tone. been brought here, and I want to hissed; "you down me at every turn. "No," Gertrude answered, flushing, I thought I should best you, this and then she told him of Mrs. Page's "It is all right," was the muffled time sure," and ufterly losing his absence from the city, and how she reply, then the portly figure sprang head in the heat of his passion at had come, unknown to everyone in the out upon the steps and hastened up finding himself conquered again by house, in response to his supposed re-Ned, he sprang upon him, drawing | quest "It isn't all right. I am very a knife that had been concealed about | "I am appalled when I think of it," sure, and I am not going aboard his person, and aiming it straight Ned said. "That wretch might have

sound of swift steps and rustling gar- | from his power."

cue. The man was quickly overpow- lips at the brave assurance. "Then I insist upon going back ered, his weapon wrested from him, immediately," Gertrude returned, and he was dragged down the com-"I'm sorry I can't obey you," was was also conjucted thither, and both

When Bill Bunting had sprung upon | quiringly. his hated for Ned's revolver was She was only half assured of the knocked from his grasp and sent spinning across the deck; fortunate "Is Mr. Heatherton on the vessel?" circumstance, as it proved, since it left his hands free to catch the

"Gertrude!" he cried, appalled, as

What am I to do for you?"

berg, why are you not in sailing trim, to give any satisfactory reply just ! as I ordered? What, ho, there!-why | then to his hasty inquiries, and, leavwas hardly uttered, a flood of light to Gertrude and commanded her to stewardess no longer, for the shawl "Now, my dear girl," Ned said, as

"And you didn't send for me to robber, who had assumed the disguise who began to comprehend something again her hand was slipped confid- Capes to be en regle throughout with a cocked revolver in his hand, "But did you not-no, of course you were four other men, and one of these, didn't," Gertrude began, somewhat wearing an expression of lofty courage incoherently, then suddenly stopped and resolution on his place face, was- as she realized that the note she had received was only a part of the plot What could the strange scene mean? to lure her away from home.

> strange affair. "I received a note, this afternoon, purporting to come from you," Gertrude replied. "Here it is; read it, it will explain itself," she added, drawing it from her pocket and putting it gence. in his hands.

read the note, his face clouded with know that I shall never see you "It is a miserable scheme to get you "That question is very easily ans. into trouble of some kind, and yet I in his eyes and rolled over his cheeks, cannot comprehend it," Ned said, in | while Gertrude related all the circumperusal of it. "I think I can," replied Gertrude, whose confidence in her lover was increasing every moment. Then she told him of the visit which lips of the startled man, at this dis- Bill Bunting had paid her only the day following their drive to Auburn- the young girl returned."

> "He and Gould were accomplices in as you surmise."

wonder and acmiration of every ob- perhaps forcing you into a marriage, She was greatly astonished when, "Where is Captain Bleiberk?" he The young man felt as if he could their ring, she found her young ballad and oratorio tenor, has been liver over the health of other organs many dangerous and complicated disinquired, after a moment of utter scarcely contain himself, and it was silence.

"The captain and all his crew are confined below."

"Was it mutiny?" the man asked,

"It would have been horrible?" the inquired after a moment of utter scarcely contain himself, and it was granted a civil list pension of $500 that physicians have called the liver over the nealth of other organs charge, whom she supposed was granted a civil list pension of $500 that physicians have called the liver over the nealth of other organs charge, whom she supposed was granted a civil list pension of $500 that physicians have called the liver over the nealth of other organs charge, whom she supposed was granted a civil list pension of $500 that physicians have called the liver of the governor or controller of the lower, kidneys and bow-less that physicians have called the liver of the governor or controller of the governor young girl cried, with a shudder.

"Ned, I had the utmost faith in mising for him.

lieved this note-and that you did be- session. lieve it, your presence here proves- The Bald Eagle was thoroughly She began to realize that she had lengthy explanation to-night-it's get- you must have thought that I just the searched, and the stolen treasure was Who were these three men in the story in the presence of a judge and of that crime, I am as innocent of it state-room occupied by Gould, the who had not once opened her lips knew of. Now, Mr. Gould"-in a sharp, and I believe that the stolen treasure which had been stolen from him during authoritative tone-"you and your is all concealed on board this vessel, his trip from Albany, were also found She was thinking this just as they friend, whoever he may be, will just and will soon be restored to the bank. in the safe, thus proving the truth of dreadful day."

now. I must think and act for you Bunting was, of course, regarded as A look of hate swept over the man's first. Of course, your friend, Mrs. Page does not know where you are," he retaken you to a distant land, and there lutely. and refusing to rise from There was a faint shriek, then the would have been no one to rescue you the man could not have expresel more

At this one of the men who had ments, and the next instant the ruf- "I am afraid it was very thoughtbeen rowing leaned forward and fian's arm was stricken upward, and less and imprudent," Gertrude fal-Gertrude stood between him and her | tered. Then she looked up at him with | "Young lady, I don't know how lover, pale as a spirit, but with the shining eyes, and continued: "But, you happen to be here, but you courage of a dauntless love stamp- Ned, I believe-I should do it again if have nothing to fear. Trust me, ed upon her beautiful features, as I thought you were in trouble and

Ned lifted one of the hands he was you like, if there has been any foul But strong hands came to the res- holding and touched it softly with his in helping to rescue the treasure from $1 to $3 a month. yo may strive with one accord to ex-Then he arose with a resolute air "I must see about taking you back panionway to the cabin, while Gould immediately," he said. "You will not mind sitting here alone for a few mosary arrangements,?" he added, in-"No, indeed!" the fair girl replied, her face taking on a happier look than it had worn for many days.

Ned was the same true, noblehearted fellow that he had always half-fainting girl who had dared so been, and her cup of joy could ask for nothing more just then. The young man went directly to the chief, and briefly explained to > singular abduction, asking permission to take a boat and one of the sailors and attend her back to the His request was readily granted. and the chief added that an officer should also go with them as an ing over the waters back toward Halifax. When they reached the wharf Ned are you all in darkness, and why ing her there for a few moments, called a carriage, and, telling the expectations for fall. Ned dashed down to the saloon, where sailor that he would be back in Astonishing reductions in price, day." "Halt!" came the quick, startling he procured a glass of wine from the course of an hour, the two marking the decadence of the fichu. In one old house a family of nine make a raintow feel faded. The open-

Ned related on the way all the wrong perpetrated upon Mr. Huntventor of the "Eureka Pump." in which Mr. Langmaid came so near stuffs to be the smart jacket ad- Sugar 50 color and with the owner's monogram utterly wretched during these last breasted kind, from $7 up.

Ned clasped it warmly. "And I, too, my darling," he "have suffered more than I can tell black lace capes but awfully smart considerable proportion of the you, in view of what my friends would and expensive, too. I knew rested upon my good name."

Gertrude?" Ned cried, in a startled tone, and with a sudden heart-sinking. "I forgot that you could not know, or I would not have spoken so abruptly," Gertrude responded, regretfully. "But, Ned, Mr. Lawson died the next Tuesday after that dreadful Satur-

Ned's face was unutterably sad as he listened to this sorrowful intelli-"My dear old friend," he said, with He turned it to the light, and as he deep emotion, "how can I bear to

And tears of genuine grief gathered perplexity, when he had finished the stances attending Mr. Lawson's death. "And you say he died believing in my innocence, in spite of all?" he ques tioned, when he could compose himself sufficiently to speak.

"Yes, with almost his latest breath

CHAPTER LXV.

Gertrude soon explained her ad-"Yes, indeed," Ned said; but since | venture to her satisfaction, alshe was now safe, other thoughts though she chided her for being so IIU began to assert themselves, and he imprudent, and Ned, after chatting continued, as he bent forward to look a while, upon his own trials and into her eyes: "Gertrude, have you experiences, arose and departed, but Fifteen Cents a Day Suffices crime with which I have been possible, before he left for Boston. He returned to the Bald Eagle. The sensitive girl colored at the feeling very light hearted, for grave question; but, meeting his he believed that the outlook for the glance unwaveringly, she replied: | future was now very bright and pro- | SLIM

you until I received this note only a | On the evening of the next day a few hours ago; and you, yourself, Boston detective, accompanied by Mr. thousands of people are living on 15 can understand what it implies. But Cranston, who had returned from his now, looking into your face once vacation immediately upon learning of more, I know that you are as true the bank robbery, arrived in Halifax, empowered with all authority neces- where one small foom generally con-"Bless you, my own darling, for this sary to conduct the formalities for stitutes a family dwelling. comforting assurance!" Ned ex- the arrest and extradition of the claimed, with deep emotion, "it has criminals, and the recovery of the prolifted a great burden from my heart. perty of which they had robbed the Yes, I can understand that if you be- bank, should it be found in their pos-replaced that, so the bank would lose day morning legal steps were instituted to bring the offenders-for Bill an accomplice-to justice. Of course, this took some little time, on account of the formalities required in transferring the criminals from the jurisdiction of one country to that of another, and Ned was permitted, meanwhile, to enjoy himself in his own way, which, as may be supposed, in the company of Gertrude. The meeting between him and Mr. hearty satisfaction over Ned's entire vindication, if he had been his own income. my boy," he remarked, regarding him once fashionable hotels are now given lities come. The time for rain to fall a bountiful reward for it, too.' employers," the young man returned penses down. with evident emotion.

cally promise," Mr. Cranston replied; floor, and the thrifty wife manages you to make this known in every "and I know everyone connected with to get along with an allowance of $3 | place." do over the fact."

United States officers. It was then thought best to run the porter called. On the table was a dish | destruction of the Temple of Yu Ti. yacht and all on board directly to of stewed strong beans, four cups of He sees that the men of the I-ho-Boston, that being considered the steaming coffee, a half loaf of stale | Ch'uan are devout worshippers and safest way to convey the valuable bread and muskmelon-that was all, pray to him. papers and treasure, and the prison- except for sait and pepper, a quarter "If my tidings are false, may I be ers also to that city.

FALL TO BE'S. than fifteen minutes they were fly. Interesting Indications in Fashion's

(To be Continued.)

New Volumes.

A beil shaped skirt, reminding one | Salt, pepper and incidentals 09 | protectors, men will receive dainty I, were so afraid that something some of the recent importations for the autumn for general wear and all table. winter for evening. returned, in a tremulous voice, adorning astonishingly elaborate tion, said: "There is no doubt that a creasing as the season advances. "Yes, indeed; I know you must have | Very close-fitting shoulder effects | merchants. The way they do is by clerks. been nearly wild about it. But, Ned, to be the fashionable fall vogue and dear, old Mr. Lawson trusted you to for some time afterward.

> Advance hat models very timorous as yet. Too early for the popularlyaccepted shapes to be known. Beige a smarter autumn tint than to the ground. Little half length jackets are of the striking fashion novelties promised development by fall. The latest negliges charming beyoud description. Soft ribbons much preferred to the heavy kinds, as they can be so much more easily drawn close to the figure for stock or girdle, as fashion re-Black coiffure bows only comme il fault. The fad of last fall for colored ones entirely out. Wonderful Echoes.

Most Londoners are familiar with he asserted it to your mother," the famous whispering gallery in St. whole body. Paul's, says Tit-Bits, but there are A sense of fullness and oppression ing order. "You can quit that," sternly com- dale, and of his audacious proposals | "That is very comforting to me," other instances of curious if less well- about the stomach, a pale sallow | Notwithstanding the fame of Dr. manded the officer, "and you may to her, with her newly- aroused Ned said, with a deep sigh of relief. known echoes in churches. In a Sussex complexion and pain in the shoulders Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills throughas well yield quietly to the insvit- suspicions that he had done this "I should have grieved sorely if he church there is said to be one of the and back are among the first indi- out this continent, you will never stated that in the Cathedral of Gir- depression of spirits and despondency. such an enormous sale. He realized that his "game was indeed up," and that he had the very that robbery, and in other crimes; deed up," and that he had the very

they were about to escape from the land dound were accomplication.

When Ned and Gertrude arrived genti, in Sicily, the slightest whisper they were about to escape from the land dound were accomplication.

When Ned and Gertrude arrived genti, in Sicily, the slightest whisper they were about to escape from the land dound were accomplication.

When Ned and Gertrude arrived genti, in Sicily, the slightest whisper they were about to escape from the land dound were accomplication.

When Ned and Gertrude arrived genti, in Sicily, the slightest whisper they were about to escape from the land dound were accomplication.

The bowels become irregular and land the land they were about to escape from the land dound were accomplication. worst to look forward to; ret he bore country, and—yes, I believe that himself with a haughty composure wretch lured you here with the in-150 feet. upon opening the door in answer to Sims Reeves, the famous English So great is the influence of the it a safe and certain cure for the

for Thousands.

In the large cities of this country cents a day, says a U. S. exchange. To ferret among the tenements, there to stumble on the family at door of the dingy cupboard, with its well-nigh barren interior, to investigate the scant | contents of pots and boxes thrust behind the rickety stove for lack of room elsewhere, and to overhaul the threadbare garments on a row of nails that make up the family wardrobe, such an experience might astound some who find it difficult to get along on $2,000 or so a year. A tour of investigation among the tenements along the Cincinnati River front by a representative of the Cincinnati Post revealed a few practical solutions to problems of domestic economy. Among the Italians and Syrians on West Second and adjacent street families were and by day have I thought of these found huddled into close rooms, pers things. Should I command my generwas difficult to learn exactly the cost of living, owing to the ignorance of the housewives. They live from hand to mouth; and so long as the hand can hold a bowl of macaroni and a little hard rye bread, the I-ho Ch'uan are gathered together the mouth does not complain.

are hundreds of men who earn 50 to all the righteous in the three cents to $1 a day, and when it worlds that they must be of one comes to supporting families of six mind, and all practice the cult of the and eight the individual is likely to I-ho Ch'uan, that so the wrath of fall below rather than exceed the heaven may be appeased. 15-cents-a-day proposition. In the "So soon as the practice of the I-howife is compelled to take in wash- their doorn. The will of heaven is that with genuine sympathy, as he shook over to the poor classes. In the is yet afar off, and all on account of him cordially by the hand; "but you old Spencer House, at Broadway and the devils, deserve great praise for the courage | Front street, 90 families, averaging | "I hereby make known these comand good judgment you have shown four and five members, occupy rooms mands to all you rightcous folk, that those adactous knaves. You will reap Some of the rooms reek with lith, terminate all foreign devils, and so and are unkept, while others are turn aside the wrath of heaven. This "All the reward I ask is to be re- scrupulously clean. In all there is shall be accounted unto you for well stored to the full confidence of my evidence of close figuring to keep ex- doing; and on that day when it is A canvasser, his wife and twochil- cording to your desire. "That you will be, I can emphati- dren occupy a single room on the top | "Therefore I expressly command of a cupful of liquid oleomargarine destroyed by the five thunderbolts. and some skimmed milk. "We get along all right, the four of | 1900).

us," the housewife said. "We don't need much. It only takes a quarter of a pound of tea, that's 5 cents, and The girl who never before wore silk a pound of coffee, that's 14 cents, to stockings wears them this season. It do us a week. A peck of potatoes is in the air-a statement less im-First exhibit of fall hats on view lasts us a week, and they cost 15 proper than it sounds. Women have Summer buying mostly over. Great | cents. We generally have string | suddenly developed a mania for fancy beans. Meat costs about 10 cents a and beautiful hodery, and the stock-

response, and before the single word the steward, then bounded back again | young people proceeded directly to | Art ticking the latest pillow and lives on $7.34 a week, exclusive of work stockings have reached a point mattress covering. White, cream or rent and wearing apparel. None of of filminess that is more marvellous gray grounds with fioral designs, or | the children are old enough to work. | than teautiful, and the most modish The picturesque, especially for Coffee, 3 lbs. 8 60 or applique over the ankle. One wo-Bacon 100 man at Newport has started a fad

Walstcoats of all sorts of fancy Fresh meat 200 for plain silk stockings in one solid ed; "and it has been dreadful for these, as they are not the latest Butter 150 girl. It is prophesied, too, that next Milk 35 bro'dered suspenders and dress shirt

Total for week $10 34 ate monograms. Of course, the men Secretary Hubbard, of the Associ- lightning, but they will have to en-Hoods of black or white velvet ated Charities, in discussing the ques- dure the affliction as best they can.

buying at the market and bake shops late at night, and especially Saturday night, when perishable goods are practically given away."

THE CALL OF DOOM.

China's Gods Invoked Against the "Foreign Devils."

In a British Parliamentary paper just issued a translation is given of a startling placard which was posted in the West City, Pekin. It reads as In a certain street in Pekin some worshippers of the I-ho Ch-uan (Boxers) at midnight suddenly saw a spirit descend in their midst. The spirit was silent for a long time and all the condinner, to peep behind the battered gregation fell upon their knees and prayed. Then a terrible voice was heard saying: "I am none other than the great Yu Th (God of the unseen world) come down in person. Well knowing that ye are all of devout minit. I have just now descended to make known to you that these are times of trouble in the world, and that it is impossible to set aside the decrees of fate. Disturbances are to be dreaded from the foreign devils; everywhere they are starting missions, erecting telegraphs and building railways; they do not believe in the sacred doctrine and they speak evil of gods. Their sins are numberless as the hairs of the head. Therefore am' I wrath, and my als to come down to earth, even they would not have strength to change course of fate. For this reason I have given forth my decree that I shall descend to earth at the head of all the saints and spirits, and that wherever there shall the gods be in the midst Among the laboring classes there of them. I have also to make known was to spend as much time as possible majority of cases the children are Ch-uan has been brought to perfection forced into the streets to sell pap- -wait for three times three or nine ers, and often to beg, almost as soon i times nine, nine times nine or three Cranston had been a joyful one, and as they are able to walk and the times three-then shall the devils meet ing or do scrubbing to increase the the telegraph wires be first cut, then the railways torn up, and then shall Farther east along the river front the foreign devils be decapitated. In "You have had a hard time of it, are the cosmopo inta slums, where that day shall the hour of their calam-the bank will rejolce as heartily as I a week for the household expenses "This I saw with my own eyes, and and $2.50 a month for rent. This therefore I make bold to take my pen All legal formalities were at length | makes the family expenses 43 cents a | and write what happined. They who concluded, and the prisoners were day-a dai'y allowance of about 11 believe it shall have merit; they who transferred to the custody of the cents for each. The family was seat- do not believe it shall have guilt. The ed at the mid-day meal when a re- wrath of the spirit was because of the "Fourth moon, first day (April 29th,

Silk Stockings.

ing counter of a good shop would --- ered at the tops in front with elabor-And there is always plenty on the would rather, far rather, have bright purple hose zigzagged with scarlet

Japan has established commercial poorer classes manage on as little, or schools for the training of women. have to endure on my account; but, Many eccentricities of trimming al- even less, than 15 cents a day for and one of the largest Japanese failmost of all, because of the stain which ready observable and probably in- each person. They must do so, for roads announces that after a certain poor people can secure no credit from date it will employ only women as "To the end! What do you mean; far into the autumn and all winter in the house. Foulard silk gowns still to be worn far into the autumn and all winter in the house. Advance but models you to be worn in the house.

gray, as the latter has been running There is Sallow Complexion, Fulness About the Stomach and Pains in the Shoulders and Back-Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Act Promptly and Directly on the Liver.

By a careful consideration of the pared was perfected by the doctor in causes liver spots, blotches and pim- that you can turn to this prescripfollowing symptoms you can decide his immense practice and has proven following symptoms you can decide the greatest liver regulator ever for yourself if your liver is torpid fliscovered. It acts directly and and inactive. The liver is the largest | promptly on the liver, making it acorgan connected with the digestive tive and vigorous as a flittering orsystem, and as a filterer of bile from | gan. At the same time it regulates the blood is to a very large extent and tones up the kidneys and bowels responsible for the health of the and sets the whole filtering and excretory system in healthy work-fully realize and appreciate their a most remarkable ever known, while in cations of a disordered liver.

Then there comes indigestion, wind value until you have actually Then there comes indigestion, wind | value until you have actually on the stomach, headache coated used them, and only then can you tude and such reckless criminality." the building to the other. It is also tongue, a bitter taste in the mouth, fully understand why they have