6 lbs of fresh Figs for 25 cents at Parker's new Drug Store.

Miss Hattie Anderson visited her sisters in Hamilton last week.

Miss Frankie Black is visiting with Miss Galbraith in Chatsworth.

CROWDED OUT—A reply to Rev. Mr. Magwood's letter, a wedding notice and other matter must be held over.

Mr. Mack, nephew of the Misses McKenzie in town, is around home at present and meeting with old friends.

NOTICE.—I have placed my accounts in the hands of Mr. John Kelly for collection and request all parties indebted to me to call and settle at once.

JAS. R. GUN.

Bright, Ont., November 21st, 1900.

Edgar Noble left Tuesday for the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Belleville. A number of his playmates gave him a hearty send-off. Edgar will make a brilliant student, being a bright boy.

Rev. Mr. McGregor will preach Anniversary Services in Clinton on Sunday next, and will remain over to a week-night celebration. His pulpit here and at Glenelg Centre will be taken by Mr. James Currie, Allan Park.

County Council is in session in Owen Sound this week. Our southern members went north on Monday. Inspector Campbell left on Tuesday. The biennial election is now looming up big and intending candidates are busy and will be till January.

THE LATE JOHN YOUNG.—On Saturday last there passed away at his residence in Normanby one of the pioneers of the district, a man of sterling integrity whose good name and good works were known to a wide circle in South Grey—Mr. Jno. Young. "By reason of strength" he had almost reached the four score, having been born in Aberdeenshire, Scotland on Dec. 22, 1820. He married in the old land and moved to this country over 45 years ago. He settled in Normanby in 1855 and to him and his wife were born 10 children all of whom with their mother survive him. They are Barbara and Thos. at home; John, Mary (Mrs. Nichol), Ebenezer and George in Owen Sound, Annie (Mrs. Dr. Henry) at Bognot, Lizzie and Martha in Toronto, and Walter in Winnipeg. Deceased had only been seriously ill about 3 weeks, but he falls as a sheaf of corn fully ripe. Mr. Young was an earnest Presbyterian, for many years an elder of Hampden Presbyterian Church. In politics he was an ardent Reformer, and as neighbor and friend was held in high respect. The funeral takes place to-day Thursday, delayed to allow Walter being present from Winnipeg.

THE CLARKE CALDER CASE.—We take the following account of the final proceedings in this famous case from an exchange: "Our readers will remember that the case of the Queen vs. Wm. Calder, of Durham, was tried at Brantford on May 10th last before the police magistrate and resulted at the time of an acquittal of the defendant. The complainant, however, entered into a bond to lay a fresh charge upon the same facts at a later date. Accordingly he went before the grand jury at Brantford at the general sessions in June last and laid such new charge. This charge, which was tried at Brantford on Tuesday, was in short that at a division court case between the Queen vs. Shapley & Muir Co., of Brantford, and one John Clarke, of Bentinck, which was tried at Brantford on the 1st of February last and at which trial Mr. Calder was a witness, he, in his examination, has stated that he had not on the 5th of Sept. 1898, telegraphed to the said company from Durham any message whatever. On this perjury was charged, it being claimed that Calder had sent a certain message that day to the company. Owing to the county judge of Brant having to be a witness on the case, the trial was before His Honor Judge Barron, of Stratford, who was called in to take the case specially. Many witnesses were heard, the trial lasting all day. The evidence went very clearly, however, to show that while Calder had as a fact telegraphed the company from Durham on that day, he had not been asked nor had he sworn that he had not telegraphed them at all, but that he had been asked whether he had on that day telegraphed them to a particular effect and that he answered that he had not telegraphed them to that effect, and that he had not denied telegraphing them at all. The charge was therefore dismissed. A rather unusual circumstance in the case was the placing of Judge Hardy in the witness box and his cross-examination. Mr. A. J. Wilkes, Q. C., Brantford, appeared for the crown and Mr. Kingston, of Mt. Forest, conducted the defence."

Have you noticed the sale of desirable young stock at John Morrison's, Glenelg, on Nov. 23? See bills and notice elsewhere.

Mr. Lock, Elvidge was taken ill on Saturday with an attack of inflammation. Mrs. Jno. McKelvie is down with fever and Regie Kelly is ill. We hope that a speedy recovery is in store for them.

THE LATE WM. L. MCKENZIE.—On Monday last at the early age of 33, this promising young man, after a long and weary wasting illness was cut off. He was only son of the late Roderick McKenzie, and was a young man of talent and ability, though, to his own loss these were some times obscured by the tendency of his social nature to excesses. He was working up a nice legal practice but failing health and weakened will has brought the inevitable. His only sister Mrs. Mitten died some years ago, and her children are the nearest relatives. For many years the deceased was Secretary of the S. Grey Conservative Association to which side of politics he was warmly attached. He was buried on Wednesday in the new cemetery Rev'ds. McGregor and Farquharson conducting the services, which were held at the residence of his cousins the Misses McKenzie.

TWO HUNTERS—Mr. Jno. A. Hunter returned home last week from the Bruce peninsula where he spent two weeks in the attractive and exciting sport of deer hunting. He secured two of the "beauties", the limit allowed by law and had them home with him. He was the only one from this neighborhood to "stalk" or "stand" for the royal game. While "Jim" was thus engaged letters have been received from his military brother Lient. Fred Hunter, who, in India a year ago was yearning for active service in Africa. He has had his wish gratified and has smelt powder in China. We have no doubt his loyal British heart would resent Boxer cruelties as much as it did Boer cunning, but we just would like to know your curiosity's sake if he "brought down" as many of the enemy as his brother did of the deer.

LORD ROBERTS' APPEAL.—Toronto Globe of recent date contained a letter from General Roberts, dated Pretoria, 30th September 1900. The letter contained a strong appeal to the public to refrain from making the welcome to the returned soldiers a "treating" affair. The words used by the noted General were eloquent with praise of the gallant conduct of the soldiers in South Africa. A passage of the letter read as follows: "My sincere hope is that the welcome may not take the form of 'treating' the men to stimulants in public houses or in the streets, and thus lead them into excesses which must tend to degrade those whom the nation delights to honor, and to lower the 'Soldier of the Queen' in the eyes of the world—that world which has watched with undisguised admiration the grand work they have performed for their Sovereign and their country. From the very kindness of their hearts, their innate politeness, and their gratitude for the welcome accorded them, it will be difficult for the man to refuse what is offered to them by their too generous friends. I therefore beg earnestly that the British public will refrain from tempting my gallant comrades, but will rather aid them to uphold the splendid reputation they have won for the Imperial army."

A PRETTY NUPTIAL EVENT.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Noble, Hutton Hill, was the scene of a quiet and happy event on Tuesday evening, Nov. 6th, at half past four, when their youngest daughter, Miss Emma, was united in marriage to Mr. James Lawrence, son of Mr. Anthony Lawrence, Glenelg. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Smith, pastor of the Methodist church, Durham, in the presence of forty near relatives. The bride was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Annie, while the bride's brother, Mr. John Noble, discharged the duties of groomsmen. Immediately after the ceremony a dainty wedding supper was served. The bride was attired in new blue broadcloth trimmed with white surra silk and rhinestone buckles. She wore a blue velvet toque, trimmed with white feathers and velvet, and rhinestone buckles, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Her reception gown was of gray serge, trimmed with pink satin, overlaid with tinsel and white satin ribbon. The bridesmaid wore a pretty gown of blue figured cloth, trimmed with cream shirred silk and cream ribbon. In the evening a number of young people gathered and remained until the wee sma' hours, the amusements being dancing and games. The bride received many handsome and useful presents.—Post.

The nice little 3 or 4 day winter we had last week left us tearfully at the beginning of this week and it has been weeping nearly ever since. "No winter till the swamps are full" was a saying 30 years ago. If this be true winter is not far off.

GOT $1000.—Promptly on the completion of guardianship arrangements Mr. John Milligan, as official guardian of his late brother's children, received a check last week from the Grand Secretary of the Sons of Scotland for the amount of his brother's beneficiary. The family and the guardians are duly grateful.

Durham Portland Cement Company.

Monday's Globe contained the announcement that a charter had been granted to the above Company with a capital of $150,000.

We congratulate the Company and especially the chief promoters, this in turn coupled with the name of Neil McKechnie for this long step in advance.

We shall return to this subject in future issues; meanwhile success to the Durham Portland Cement Company.

Three Returning Officers accepted cheques instead of money for the candidate's deposit and the irregularity may yet bring them into trouble or cause a new election.

SHOULD BE REWARDED.—There seems to be a general expression of regret at the defeat of Dr. Landarkin in South Grey, and among both Liberals and Conservatives, the opinion is freely expressed that the Government should do something for him. He has stuck to the Liberal party through evil as well as through good report, and is justly entitled to some recognition. A Senatorship would, we presume, fill the bill all right.—Telescope

A YEAR OF PROGRESS.

Durham's Building Operations in 1900.

$50,000 in Sidewalks—$30,000 in Buildings.—A Prosperous Town.

Following our usual custom we intend to make a survey of the progress of the town during this last year of the nineteenth century. The last three or four years were years of substantial progress and when our survey of this year is concluded we believe it will be seen that advancement is still the watchword of the town with the prospect that the opening century will see still greater advancement.

NEW SIDEWALKS.

Taking what may be called Corporation work first, we note the great fact that following the example of two years ago, extensive additions have been made to our cement sidewalks. An expert estimate furnished us makes the amount spent on sidewalks foot up to $30,000. They have been continued on Garafraza St both sides from Saddle St, South for a block or two. South side of Lambton St to Jno. McKechnie's property on Kincardine St. In front of the Methodist Church North to C. Smith's Corner, on both sides of Countess St. N. of the old P. O. Corner to the foot of the hill, and from the corner of the Calder block east to the Laidlaw residence and around it.

N. McINTYRE

Of the strides forward made by private enterprise easily the first is Norman McIntyre who has added to the fine block built by him two years ago an extensive addition filling up his property from the corner northward to the bank and westward to the Livery stable with a handsome structure, superior to anything in town.

The area built over fronts for 33 feet on Garafraza St. and extends 125 feet back. Between the corner and the bank there are three stores two double and one single facing on the main st. The corner one will be occupied by J. & J. Hunter, merchants, the next by Wm. MacFarlane, Jeweller, and E. Lenahan, furniture, &c., between him and the bank. Behind these and facing on Lambton St. are three very snug business places, to be occupied by E. McClocklin, butcher, a barber and a gravestone man.

Fine plate glass fronts will adorn all, and improved refracting glass and luxfer prisms, will throw light into basements and the back of stores.

Five basement accommodations extend below it all and in one cement floored chamber is placed the boiler which, connected with steam radiators, will throw heat to every part of the building.

Above the front stores is to be the McIntyre residence. Entering from Lambton St, the visitor will find himself in a spacious vestibule leading to a wide hall in which is the main stairway to the residence above. From the top of this to the right is a fine hall with an elaborate arrangement of rooms on each side making what will be at once a handsome, convenient, and commodious residence. Bathrooms and all modern conveniences are provided.

Above the three side stores is another residence to be occupied by F. Lenahan and family. This can be entered from his store or from Lambton St., and here, too, comfort and convenience has been studied though with less elaboration than the other.

The whole building is under a felt and gravel roof which drains the rainfall into a big cistern. The area on top is extensive enough to suggest a comparison with the hanging gardens of Semiramis.

Henry Prast, Hanover, is contractor for mason work, plastering and roofing. Ed. Kress had the woodwork. Joe Parrot finishes every store with fine steel ceiling through which light at several places light is admitted from the roof by shafts or wells. The whole place will be lit by electric light, and supplied with water from the waterworks system.

Mr. McIntyre has an office and an electric light supply room above the western stores. The cost of this fine building will touch about $3000 and the "McIntyre Block" will long stand as a monument to the enterprise and the taste of our townsmen.

took to house building this year and having freed himself from business, went into it on amore. The fine site on Mill St. has been utilized to the best advantage and to day there stands there one of the most attractive residences in Durham, which we hope Mr. Laidlaw and family may long enjoy.

The style is altogether unique and as far removed as possible from the ordinary, right angled, L shaped buildings so commonly in use. Its principal front, if it has a front, looks west, and is adorned with an elegant verandah and large window in the second story. We are entirely at a loss to describe the various nooks and angles, projecting circular corners, &c., but certainly inside there is an arrangement of halls and rooms which are models of attractiveness and con-
