WHOLE NO. 1193

Local and District News.

Laxative Grip tablets will cure a cold in one day. MacFarlane's Drug Store.

SEED OATS.—200 bushels Ligowo Seed Oats for sale at Parker's, Druggist and Seedman.

A Proclamation by Mayor Calder proclaims Saturday from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. a holiday in account of our late beloved Queen whose funeral takes place about that time. All will no doubt loyally observe this in unison with the rest of the Empire.

The sale of tickets for the Sons of Scotland Concert on February 8th has begun at MacFarlane's Drug Store. Admission will only be by ticket secured there, those wishing to hear the great Prima Donna should apply early. The supply is limited.

We sympathize with Mr and Mrs Renton in the death of their little child caused by inflammation of the lungs. The remains of the little one, who was nearly 9 mos. old were buried at Dromore cemetery. This is the fifth child Mr. and Mrs. Renton have lost.

Buchanan's "Dear Auld Home" was in particular given with splendid effect. It was an exacting effort, and was admirably sustained. Hear him in the Town Hall Friday Feb. 8th.

Poultry Food, Oyster Shells and Crystal Grit at Parker's.

BOOM THE BAND.—The Carnival planned by the band at the Rink on Thursday, Feb. 7, bids fair to be a brilliant one. The management offer Liberal prizes, and some attractive special prizes are offered by the merchants of the town. These can be learned from the big posters out everywhere.

"Comin' thro' the Rye" was delightfully, entrancingly sung as an encore, and if "a body frowned" at all, it was because she did not come back. Hear her at the Hall on Feb. 8th.

The outstanding feature of the evening was the singing of Miss J. N. MacLachlan, who is undoubtedly an exponent of Scottish song of the highest order.—"Scotsman."—At Ben Nevis Camp Concert on Feb. 8.

The band boys have a lot of dash into the rink this year and since they have not followed the practice for some time of asking subscriptions, we think the town should loyally stand by them when they are trying to help themselves. Remember then, Feb. 7. Masqueraders are admitted free, but must leave a card at the door with name, and character assumed for the use of the judges in awarding the prize. General admission 15c, children 10c.

The Paisley Advocate says: "Mrs. Cohean, of Burgoyne, has been undergoing treatment for a painful affection of the eyes called glaucoma. An operation was apparently the only cure and to save the eye an iridectomy was performed by Dr. Black, who considers the operation successful and Mrs. Cohean has been comfortable since." The Dr. is an old Glenelg boy and we congratulate him on his success in eye diseases.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the officers and members of Durham Council, No. 392, Co. C. F. I desire to express my thanks to you and to the officers of the Grand Council for the cheque of one thousand dollars in full payment of insurance certificate No. 18854 held by my deceased husband, Thos. Vair.

I thank you for prompt payment. May our noble order prosper and continue to increase in numbers and usefulness in which it is engaged.

Yours very truly,

ROSEBELLA VAIR.

Galt Jan. 22nd, 1901.

MR. JAS. FAX says: "My humor may cease to be instructive, it will never cease to be innocent." Hear him and the other brilliant stars, Friday Feb. 8, in the Town Hall, but secure your ticket at MacFarlane's at once. They are going.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

For the late Queen Victoria.

In accordance with the Bishop of Huron's Pastoral there will be memorial services at Aberdeen on Friday evening next at half past seven, at Trinity Church, Durham, Saturday morning at eleven o'clock and at Allan's School House at half past two. The Rector extends a kind invitation to all to attend these services.—God save the King.

SHEWELL & LENAHAN

Wish All A
Happy New Year

The public of Durham and S. Grey are informed that the business heretofore carried on by J. A. Shewell will now be carried on in the new premises in the McIntyre block next the Bank under the firm name of Shewell & Lenahan.

Old customers are cordially invited to call and see us in our new store where we hope to make the acquaintance of many new friends.

Special attractions for the Christmas and New Year's trade.

A Call Respectful Solicited.

SHEWELL & LENAHAN.

La Grippe is very prevalent in town and country just now and some families are seriously invaded.

Mr and Mrs Leeson of Varney, left on Monday for a few months trip to Indiana to visit their children there.

La Grippe Pills. If taken early enough these pills seldom fail to effect a cure. At Parker's Drug Store.

NOTICE.—The account of all persons owing Dr. Burd are at MacFarlane's Drug Store. A settlement is requested to save expense.

Mr. and Miss Grier, Paisley, visited at Mr. Geo. Meikle's last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Best have as guests this week, Mrs. Best's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Collins, the latter a sister and Mr. Shewell, an uncle of Mrs. Best.

Messrs John McKechie, Charter Smith and Dr. Jamieson paid a visit to Cement City, Michigan, last week.

Mr. John A. Munro leaves this morning for a trip to Scotland and will see the great Glasgow Exhibition. We wish him a pleasant trip.

Laxative Grip tablets check La Grippe MacFarlane's Drug Store.

Poultry supplies at MacFarlane's.

The following bit of gossip about Miss MacLachlan who sings at the great Concert in the Town Hall on Feb. 8, will be read with interest: "But you will say—Tell me what she is like personally. Well, she is the nicest, brightest, and cheeriest woman you ever met. Her greatest pleasure is to be with artists in the musical world. 'I love to be surrounded with Bohemians like myself—clever Bohemians, mark you!' A sister-artist at the concert the other night said—'Eh, Jessie, but you're bonnie.' It was the one sweet compliment a true woman pays another. Yes, that's just what she is, with her round, sweet, girlish face, lit up with a pair of brown eyes, and lovely white teeth.

Sale of remnants in Wall Paper still on at MacFarlane's Drug Store—a nice paper for 3c.

Ben Nevis Camp meets on Friday, Feb. 1, as this is the last meeting before the great Concert, a full attendance is requested.

Miss MacLachlan, who was in high favour, kindled tremendous enthusiasm amongst the audience. She sang two Gaelic ditties in a sufficiently striking manner, accompanying herself, like the ancient bards, on the Clarsach or Caledonian harp. The instrument used by the singer being copied from one now in Edinburgh, which belonged to Mary Queen of Scots. At the Concert on Feb. 8th. Tickets at MacFarlane's Drug Store.

NEW ONTARIO BOGIMING.—Every letter one receives from New Ontario has push and progress to record. Writing for the Review on Jan. 18, from Webbwood, Mr J. C. McMillan, well known at Dromore, and now in business in Webbwood says: "Having seen a copy of your paper to-day reminds me of my old acquaintance in the neighborhood of Dromore. Having been brought up in that section it kindled the old fire to see the home news. You have no snow there as yet. We have about 23 feet here, have had good sleighing since the 8. of November. You will understand we are living in New Ontario which is booming at the present time. We are having a New Pulp and Paper Mill built here by a Company you have undoubtedly noticed, called 'The Spanish Pulp and Paper Mfg. Co. of Webbwood.' The Company are supposed to expend $500,000 inside of three years. In the lumbering Camp wages are good. Men are getting from $20 to $30 per month and the restriction on logs from going over to the U. S. A. has been worth millions to the country, but should I have been done long ago. The American Companies are now building mills on our shores since they now fully understand that Canada makes her own laws, so we are looking forward for a busy time here next summer." Success to our New Ontario boys.

King Edward VII

"Honor the King." Not only for his own sake but also for the sake of his mother, whose training and life long example will, all will hope, make him a worthy successor to her. He has said:

"I need hardly say that my constant endeavor will be always to walk in her foot-steps."

Again he said: "I am fully determined, so long as there is breath in my body, to work for the good and amelioration of my people." In conclusion I trust to Parliament and the nation to support me in the arduous duties which now devolve upon me by inheritance, and to which I am determined to devote my whole strength during the remainder of my life."

Well said words. We believe him. On our inside pages will be found extended notices of King and Queen. God Save the King!

THE LATE QUEEN.

A perfect Avalanche of eulogistic writing has fallen upon Anglo Saxon readers owing to the death of Queen Victoria. Never surely in the whole history of the human race did one of its numbers receive such warm adulations for a pure life such heartfelt expressions of sorrow for the loss and thankfulness for the example of our late beloved Queen. From cottage and from palace there is the same fond story. Europe also sends its sympathy and the United States, from all classes, voices the general feeling of sorrow, as if it were a personal loss.

We quote two American opinions as illustrations of the trend of their sympathy. P. R. Coudert, Lakefield N. J. says: Queen Victoria acclimated the domestic virtues to the atmosphere of a court. Vice shrank shame-faced from her uncongenial presence.

"The death of the Queen is felt in America as almost a personal bereavement. It is natural that this should be so in a land where womanly grace and dignity receive their fullest appreciation. Sincere sorrow for her loss is only tempered by the knowledge of her rich legacy of noble example to the entire world. America extends deep sympathy to England in her hour of gloom. The grief is not alone Britain's, but the whole civilized world's."

THE GREAT NATIONAL SORROW

Voiced in the Churches

On Sunday last in thousands of the churches throughout the civilized world and we have no doubt in some Mahomedan mosques as well, eulogistic references were made to the removal of the late most gracious lady who so long and brilliantly was herself the brightest gem in the British Crown.

The churches in town, took his morning text from 1 Chronicles, 29 chap. V. 25 "For we are strangers before thee, and sojourners, as were all our fathers: our days on the earth are as a shadow and there is none abiding." Also in verse 28 of the same chapter: "and he died in a good old age, full of days, riches and honor and Solomon his son reigned in his stead." Verse 15 gives us David's estimate of life. V. 28 gives us some historian's estimate of David. The speaker as may be expected found in these texts to apply to the illustrious lady and very warm were his references to her character as a woman and her worth in every public and private aspect.

Rev. Mr. Ryan took his text from Ezekiel 21-25. "Thus saith the Lord God: Remove the diadem and take off the crown." A very suggestive text, and on which he founded a very warm panegyric on her late majesty and all that she had been and done for the Empire.

Generous words have been abundant everywhere. The object was worthy of them and growing hopes are entertained that her successor will be every way worthy of his renowned mother: renowned to all the ages.

THE SCOTTISH PRIMA-DONNA.

ELECTRIFIES A TORONTO AUDIENCE.

Will Sing in Durham, Friday, Feb. 8.

FROM "THE GLOBE."

Miss Jessie Niven MacLachlan, who arrived from Scotland about two weeks ago, sang for the first time in Canada at the Caledonian Society's Burns' Concert in Toronto on Friday last. She will sing in Durham Town Hall on Friday of next week. Toronto papers speak most highly of her. Here is what the Globe says:

"The supreme attraction of the evening was Miss Jessie Niven MacLachlan, known as the Scottish prima donna. Toronto people have had good reason in the past to be sceptical of the claims put forward on behalf of singers who have sought their patronage for distinctively national reasons, that is to say, on the ground that they were par excellence interpreters in Irish, Scotch or French music. In the case of Miss MacLachlan it is gratifying to be able to say that she would sing with distinction, grace and charm the music of any school. She has a beautiful voice, with more of the mezzo soprano timbre perhaps than of the pure soprano, and behind all the sympathy and national instinct which she shows in the interpretation of purely Scottish music she betrays the cultivated art of the musician and the resources of the vocalist of training and experience. There were eighteen numbers on the programme, and the majority of these were encored. Speaking without the aid of notes, Miss MacLachlan, if encores are included, sang twelve times during the evening, a truly generous contribution to the programme. Her most successful number from a popular point of view—a number which created a furore—was Lady Lindsay's "Wi a Hundred Pipers," which she sang with electric effect, so spirited, so justly emphasized was her declamation, so instinct with true Scotch feeling her musical rendering. Prior to this she had sung a delightful little cradle song, O, Can Ye Sew Cushions, in which she gave a beautiful example of soft veiled singing. Later in the evening she gave two songs, which it may be presumed were Gaelic, as no Englishman could understand the words. But if one could not understand the words, there was no doubt about the musical rendering. They formed two of the most attractive numbers of the evening, the second being remarkable, among other good qualities, for the exquisite sense of accent displayed by the fair singer."

This brilliant artiste can be heard in Durham Town Hall, on Friday Feb. 8th. All seats reserved. Plan at MacFarlane's. Secure seats at once, as sale of tickets will stop when hall is filled.

DEATH'S HARVEST.

The grim visitor has been more than usually busy during the past week, and many families have been called upon to mourn.

MRS. NEIL MCGILLIVRAY.
This widely-known and much respected lady was called away very suddenly early on Monday last and was buried in Saugeen cemetery amid abounding tokens of respect on Tuesday, Rev. Mr. McGregor conducting the mortuary services. Deceased was the mother of 9 children, the youngest a few days old, and these, with her husband, will sadly miss her presence in the home circle. She was a sister of Councillor Peter McInnis.

MRS. THOS. PARK.
At the early age of 35, this lady, a daughter of Mr. Kenneth McKenzie, has been called to her rest, leaving a sorrowing husband and five children to mourn, besides her parents and other relatives. Her mother is aged and infirm, and the body of her much-loved daughter was taken into her room for a fond last look. A large number of friends attended the funeral, Rev. Mr. Graham officiating.

JAS. HILLIS.
Of the 2nd Con., Egremont, has also passed away and is being buried to-day, Wednesday. We have no details. Rev. Mr. Farquharson is conducting the funeral.

RITCHIE.
Very sad was the death of little Nathan, son of Mr. Andrew Ritchie, (Glenelg) on Thursday last. The cause of death was diphtheria. We are pleased to learn other members of the family are recovering.

RENTON.
To-day, Wednesday, the little 9 month's old child of Mr. and Mrs. Renton is being buried at Dromore, where others of their children sleep. Youth and age must bow to the grim reaper for

THOS. EWEN.
Aberdeen, at the patriarchal age of 88 years, 6 months has also, to-day, Wednesday, been called to his rest. We will be pleased to receive a fuller notice of this and others for next issue. Meanwhile, to all mourners we extend sincere sympathy.

Our January Stock Taking Sale.

We are busy with our annual stock taking. This brings many groups of tempting bargains to the surface and every department in this store will participate in this sale. The little prices at which we are selling all manner of heavy goods are appreciated.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Jas. H. Coleridge visited Durham friends at the beginning of the week.

We were pleased to see Mr P. McMurdo from Proton in town Tuesday.

Mr. C. Drumm and Mr. Jno. Wilson, Dromore, were in town on Tuesday on business.

Mr E. McClocklin butcher is very ill with inflammation of the lungs. He is not recovering very quickly.

Mr Bert Collyer and his mother from Guelph, were up visiting his grand parents Mr and Mrs P. Eva, last week.

Miss Agusta, Stewart missionary from Chicago, came home last week and will minister and be a companion to her father for a time.

Mrs Jas. Renton from Dromore, visited the past week at her old home in Latona. She returned Monday accompanied by her sister.

Mr Edwin Allan returned home last week from Ogdensburg, where he had been at a school for some time. He was accompanied by his cousin from Garrafrax.

Mr Jas. McIntosh, Upper Town, went Toronto Hospital Monday, to undergo an examination. He had not fully recovered from his attack of appendicitis which caused his illness about a month ago.

Mr. Jno. Burgess left on Monday for Cargill to attend the funeral of his father-in-law, Mr. A. Robinson who died there on Friday last at the age of 78. Mrs Burgess has been at her early home for a month during her father's last illness.

Miss Maggie Scott, teacher, of S. S. No. 9, Glenelg, attended S. S. No. 13, Egremont, entertainment in Russell Hall last week. She took part in the program and remained till Sunday visiting Dromore friends.

Mr James Park and family are moving to Fiesherston this week. Mr Park having obtained a position in Armstrong's sawmill. Mr Park has had a long experience and being a capable workman will be sure to give and we hope will get satisfaction.

Dr Gun, went to Stratford on Monday, to oversee an operation on the eyes of his son Jas. R. who is not yet free from a serious eye trouble. The operation was performed by Dr. Deacon. Dr. Arthur Gun was also present. His many friends here will be pleased to hear of his recovery.

Highland blood will be stirred as never was at the great Concert on Friday, Feb. 8 by Ben Nevis Camp. Not only will piper Murray in the "Garb of Old Gail" sound the "true martial strain" on the pipes, Miss Jessie Niven MacLachlan will play on the ancient "clarsach" while she sings "Gun chroich gun aighean" or "Thuing an Gille Dubh." Mr. Murray is also an expert dancer and will give several exhibitions. Tickets at MacFarlane's. Get one at once. No crowding allowed and sale of tickets will stop when seats are taken.

UNION SPECIAL SERVICES.

In memory of the Queen.

An agreement has been reached to have union memorial services on Saturday at 2:30 p. m. They will be held in the Methodist church and cordial invitations is extended to all to meet for Divine worship on the day of the Queen's funeral.
God save the King.

JAS. FAX, the renowned humorist, will sing at the great Concert, Friday of next week. Those who heard him before want to hear him again. Those who haven't should not miss this opportunity. "At my Time of Life" is one of his new pieces which is creating a furore. Read the Globe notice of Miss MacLachlan on first page.
