SERVANT GIRL WANTED—Apply to Mrs. A. S. Hunter, Upper Town.
See S. F. Morlock's millinery opening announcement on page 4.
TEXAS SEEDS—Mrs. Wm. Johnston lately received a package of rare flower seeds from Texas, and has generously left us a share. Should we succeed in growing these "tropical flowers" our readers will hear of it.
EASTER HOLIDAYS—Amongst the teachers home for the holidays we notice Misses May McClocklin, Rocky Saugene; Nora Chadwick, Normanby; Allie Grant, Priceville; Maggie Caldwell, Normanby; Amy Meredith, Flesherston; Mary Gordon, Egremont.

C. McArthur makes a speciality of and Shoes. One quality—the best.
TRY A GUESS—We notice some of our exchanges are speculating on the result of the Census. We want our readers to give us a guess of what they think will be the population of Durham when the work is completed. No result is allowed to be given out till the census department is ready, but there is no restriction on estimating. Now how many do you think we are?

DIRECTORS MEET—The directors of the South Grey Ag. Society met on Saturday last to arrange for the fall Prize List. The President being ill, the chair was taken by Mr. Wm. Smith and only two directors were absent. They thoroughly revised the list and especially the Ladies' Department round which of late years some unpleasant things have been said. Messrs. Bunnie, Firth and Davidson were appointed a committee to confer with the ladies' as to the extent of remodelling necessary.

SUDDEN DEATH—Very painful and saddening was the news that spread around town on Monday evening that little Marjory Hunter, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hunter had died. A few days before she was down town in her usual health, was first attacked with bronchitis, other complications followed, and an attack of brain fever carried her off. Much sympathy is felt for the parents and family deprived so suddenly of their bright home blossom. She was the darling of her sisters and a little favorite generally. She is being laid to rest today Wednesday.

Easter Bonnets are not in it with C. McArthur's display of hats. Call and examine. McKechnie's old stand. Variety, quality and price are right.

WHEAT MEAT FOOD—Wheat meat food is a perfect pre-digested food and an ideal food for Invalids and children 17c a package at Parker's Drug Store.
Rev. D. McVicar, B. A. Montreal formerly of Amos church, Dromore and Knox church, Normanby, has been receiving honors. At the recent Convocation of the Presbyterian church, Montreal, he had conferred upon him (by Examination) the Degree of Bachelor of Divinity, and is now B. A. B. D. We congratulate Mr. McVicar on the promotion and know that our old Normal school chum so well, we predict he will be as much a student as ever. He will never rust out.

POLES MOVING—Mr. Alex McLaughlan is shipping telegraph poles at the station this week.
CHEAP RATES FOR P. O. ORDERS—On April 1st, the new postal regulations reducing the commission on post office orders came into force. Hitherto no single orders to U. S. exceeded $50, now orders can be issued up to $100. Formerly the commission on orders up to $50 was 3c, now it is 3c on orders up to $25. Between $25 and $50, the commission is now 10c, formerly it was 12c, on orders from $50 to $100. Orders for $50 to U. S. was formerly 5c. They have been reduced to 15c. This will be a great saving to those who remit by post office orders. What's the matter with Mulock? He's all right says a contemporary.

A FINE MAP—Mr. J. P. Telford last summer spent time and money in securing information and elaborating a map of the County of Grey, some thing that had become very necessary and something extremely desirable to have in schools and offices. We had the pleasure this week of examining a proof-sheet of one quarter of the map which is going to be of imposing dimensions. The part we saw is the S. West corner of the county and outlining and filling in generally is clearly done and very correct. The preparation of such a map should be liberally encouraged by the County Council and we doubt not that progressive trustees will see to it when the map is ready, that it adorn the walls of their school. For certain county offices the map is an absolute necessity. Mr. Telford worked at this for months and we hope his efforts will be worthily rewarded.

MILLINERY OPENINGS.

Once more youth and beauty mingle in the millinery shops to witness, the bright displays of head gear so dear to the ladies at this season. Whether it is commercial push that has made a fixture of these openings or whether there is something in the vernal sun that stimulates the average woman to seek adornment at the same time as nature begins to "put it on" we are not sure, but we are inclined to think the latter must be the reason. It is a delightful fancy any way and an entirely creditable proceeding that man, we beg pardon, woman, should imitate great mother nature in the matter, and the only regret woman, we beg pardon, man, can feel, is that the imitation cannot be accomplished, without gross feelings of expense obtruding themselves.
However in our three establishments, progressive and up-to-date as they should be, we find variety enough to please every taste and suit every purse, and no lady within 10 miles of Durham, should rest satisfied till she sees and admires the beautiful "creations" which the milliners here have provided.

The opening days were Wednesday and Thursday of last week and the ladies in charge were civility and urbanity personified and while glad to see them come we fancy when the last visitor left tired nature would give a sigh of relief.
S. F. MORLOCK.

Entering this handsome establishment we pass through piles of prosaic Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots and Shoes &c., towards the rear of the store where Miss Sweet reigns as millinery queen in an apartment bewilderingly enlarged by an immense mirror. On the sides of the apartment are two oblong mirrors prettily draped, the whole giving an impression of size multiplying the beauty it reflects and speaking volumes for the taste of the artiste and the enterprise of the owner.
Our attention was first called to a picture hat, headings of chiffon and sequins. Trimming, 3 ostrich tips drooping over the front caught with knot of black velvet ribbon at back, raised off the face at front by band with large jet buckle caught into the chiffon, the whole forming a beauty piece for those who delight in ever fashionable black.

Another hat is of a prevailing mushroom shape made in maize shade of straw, trimmed with tulle, with strands of maize straw through it, all caught at back with large cut steel buckle, a wreath of morning glories on edge of rim with band of black velvet at left side, front caught with another steel buckle and you have a hat delightful in its blending of color as in the disposition of the materials.

One more of a rolling shape is sure to catch the eye of the visitor. It has a side flare-up, the leaf composed of shimmered turquoise chiffon brilliantly brought out by sequin crown. A large tucked chiffon rosette rests on the crown with a spray of black roses at the back. A large quilled ostrich plume is caught at front on edge of leaf with a knot of black velvet and jet buckle. Black roses banded in on band at left side makes a pretty finish.

Pretty sailors in straw, pique and watered silk are abundant. Children's hats "just lovely," roses, velvets and pretty things generally that make up a woman's paradise. No wonder Miss Sweet has had large sales.

MISS DICK
In a spic-span bright attractive show-room facing on Lambton St., Miss Dick has an elegant display of bright and fashionable goods. Good taste is shown in the attractive window and the interior has a fine appearance also, making it one of the brightest spots in the new McIntyre block.

One of the prettiest things was a large black picture hat, turned from face at left side disclosing a very handsome flaring in gold applique. Two half plumes caught with rhine-stone ornaments making a perfect finish.

Another hat was mushroom shape in fancy white and black braid, with rose petal facing and straw wings and black taffeta bow completes the trimming.

A neat conception was a hat with brim of tucked chiffon, plaque top of sequin and gold and wreath rich foliage between, raised at left side with pink crush roses.

Another very much admired hat was the chicco, composed of violets and drapery of panel velvet edged with gold, and finished with gold buckle.

The Cement Industry.

Substantial progress is being made in the preliminaries necessary at the inauguration of such a vast enterprise as is proposed to locate here. At a meeting in Toronto last week Mr. Gilbert McKechnie was appointed one of the Directors, the Board now consisting of:

W. F. Cowham, President
Barlow Cumberland, Toronto 1st Vice President.
McLaren, Stratford 2nd Vice President.
P. W. Stanhope, Toronto Secretary.
G. McKechnie, Durham Treasurer.

This is a well rounded off board, Cumberland is a trusted and tried man and his work on transportation lines has made him known all over the Province. McLaren, the chess King, is also well known, his business tact and ability having secured him a Provincial reputation. Gilbert McKechnie is one of the shrewdest and most popular of Durham's business men, and his presence on the board is a guarantee to local investors, if such were needed, that their interests would be safeguarded. Stanhope has been a trustee for many years of the trusted head agent in Toronto of the McCormick Co. and letters we published last week do us, but looking there is all the elements of a successful manager of the great works planned to be established.

Stock is selling well and a payment of 15 per cent is being made on subscription. We have not yet seen a copy of the new prospectus, but are informed it is a complete and taking affair, the naked truths of our vast natural wealth and advantages of power needing no embellishments.

Inquiries as to when the output will be available are already being made and there is no doubt that the selling of it will be accomplished without solicitation, so great is the demand for the stuff. In our case it is believed there will be other advantages springing from the surpassing excellence of the raw material as established by government tests.

Suitable buildings for the accommodation of workmen are not to be had and it is proposed we believe to bring tents large enough for boarding house and for sleeping accommodation for the men while construction progresses or until suitable houses are provided.

Messrs. G. McKechnie and W. Calder have been down in Toronto for two days this week in connection with the works.

THE LOCATION

Much interest is being taken as to where the cement works are to be located in this town of magnificent dimensions. Any where in the town would do us, but laying aside our own preferences as a property owner, we believe a good case can be made out for their location on the flat north of Crawford's mill.

Placed there the extension of the railway is an easy matter, the nucleus of buildings that would grow up around it would be all in the town and the centre of gravity of the present business centre would not be affected and this is a very important matter.

Besides the many substantial buildings in Upper Town on which the assessment of late years has been so seriously lowered, could again be utilized for residences and the assessment increased. The benefit then to Upper Town would be a benefit to the whole town in the place, while it would in no way detract from the business centre as at present established, for the "principle of ease" will effectually prevent a restoration of the prominent position once held by Upper Town as a business centre, a position no one now expects.

The town council in its efforts to safeguard the town should certainly strive not to have it placed at the edge of the corporation unless for some great compensating advantage, for undoubtedly there would grow up in an adjoining municipality, residences and other buildings, whose tax paying benefits would be entirely lost to the town while profiting from an industry encouraged by the town.

The greatest good to the greatest number is an old truth applicable here. Cook's Flaked Rice. As a food in convalescence of fever it has no equal. The weakest stomach will digest Flaked Rice. 15c a package at Parker's Drug Store.

FROM SPOKANE—We have received a very interesting letter from Mr. Batson, formerly of this town, from which we propose to take some interesting paragraphs next week.

AWFUL ROADS—The roads beyond Priceville must be something awful when Dan Campbell turned the other way and let our worthy mayor foot it to the station so as to make better time.
