

A Story of Deep Interest to All Women.

Relating the Sufferings of a Lady Who Has Experienced the Agonies That Afflict So Many of Her Sex—Passed Through Four Operations Without Benefit.

Throughout Canada there are thousands and thousands of women who undergo daily pains—sometimes bordering on agony—such as only women can endure in uncomplaining silence. To such the story of Mrs. Frank Evans, of 33 Frontenac street, Montreal, will bring hope and joy, as it points the way to renewed health and certain release from pain.

Writing under a later date Mrs. Evans says: "I am glad to be able to tell you that not only has the great improvement which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills effected in my condition continued, but I have now perfectly well. I had given up all hope when I began the use of the pills, but they have restored me to such health as I have not before known for years."

BARROOMS OF THE BISHOP.

Scheme of an English Prelate to Promote the Cause of Temperance.

The people of England are much interested these days concerning the working of the plan of the Bishop of Chester for dealing with the evil of excessive drinking. The Bishop thinks that prohibition does not prohibit, and that regulation is much better.

In villages the houses are to have club, temperance and recreation rooms, and where space is available a billiard-room and library, with baggagemen, draughts and similar games, are to have also a bowling green and other counter attractions to the bar and tap room.

At the same time, the action of Nerviline is simply charming, pleasant, penetrating and powerful. Druggists sell it.

HE DREADED GERMS.

A Fable by Geo. Ann.

Once there was a thoughtless man who had been plugging along, eating three square ones each day, gaining about a pound a month, and not taking any care of himself at all.

One night he happened in on a Lecture Course to find out about the Germ Theory of Disease. When the Pictures were shot on the Screen he learned that ordinary Drinking Water and many kinds of Food, such as he had been using, were chock full of three-eyed Goggles with curly tails and long feelers.

The Man who had been knocking around for thirty-eight years, drinking out of Hydrants and Troughs and eating any old Thing that could be Masticated, was Scared stiff when he realized how many thousands of times he had flirted with Death.

From that Moment he decided that he would not touch any Water unless it had been Boiled and Skimmed. When he couldn't get Boiled Water he would demand Vichy or Deep Rock or a certain Lithia containing 0.07 Parts of Sillykilate of Polarium, which is Good for whatever you happen to have at the time.

Occasionally he would forget and take a Swig of Plain Water, the same as other People were drinking. Then, when it was too late, he would recall those Pictures of the Germs and he could imagine a whole Menagerie of these little Animals gnawing around through his Inwards and leading bold Expeditions into the most remote Corridors of his Being.

He began to wear a haggard, persecuted look. The microbes were hiding at every Corner, waiting to pounce out at him in any place he was able to stand them off, he consulted the Authorities and found that it was No Use. The crafty little creatures were floating around in the Air, and the only way to Buffer them was to breathe through a Sieve. They were camped out by the Millions on a mouldy piece of Bread, while one Cubic Inch of Roquefort Cheese contained 14,500,000 of them.

Now it is well Established that He who begins to scrutinize his Intestines and Brood over the Conduct of the Germs that he happens to be Chaperoning will get ready, sooner or later, to do what is known as the Appendix. He began to exhibit the usual Man had a Stitch in the Side, he went and shaved himself and brushed his Hair and got ready to make a neat, respectable Appearance on the Operating Table, when the Doctor would come and go over him with a silver-plated Tack Hammer and try to locate the imaginary Lump.

As might have been expected, the Subject of Nutritive Qualities in Food. This was another wild Tack, for which the Scientific Works and the Health Hints in the Paper were responsible. At the Table he would poke suspiciously at the Dishes and want to know how much Nitrogen, Carbon, Starch, Dextrine, Sugar and Albumen they contained. It took away the Appetite of those who had to associate with him. Instead of going ahead and eating, he merely monkeyed with Chemical Compound and used his Stomach as a Retort. He began to exhibit the jerky Mannerisms of a Kansas Reformer, and it was whispered at the Office that he was slightly Touched.

One day while he was in a condition of Panic from having his unguarded Moment, eaten some underdone Ham which probably contained the deadly Trichinae, in walked his Brother Thomas, who was Travelling And/or for an Investment Company. Thomas was Fat and Sassy, with a Patch of Red on each Cheek.

are now over 800 Varieties running at large seeking whom they may Devour. I have figured that it is impossible for any Person to escape them for any Length of Time. Our only Hope is to prepare for the Battle by eating peppered Water, drinking Anti-Septic and keeping a private Drug Store in the Closet. For three Months I have been in a hand-to-hand Struggle. I am still in the Ring, but I am getting wabbling. I never can tell what minute a Germ is going to sneak up behind me and Soak me good. It keeps one pretty Busy when one has to have one's Eye peeled for 800 different kinds, knowing that the whole Fash has it in for one.

"That is Strange," said Brother Thomas. "I have been all over the Country putting up at bad Beereries, eating and drinking everything I wanted, from Pie to Whiskey, drinking insightfully seven different samples of Well Water in Country Hotels, and raising Cain generally. I have not carried any Drugs with me. Neither have I set up at Night to throttle the Animals when they came in through the Window to do me Dirt. How does it happen that I, who have taken no Precautions, am Strong as an Ox and feeling Boss, while you, who have been making such an intelligent Warfare on the little Rascals, look as if you were ripe for a plain white Cot in the Ward for Incurables?"

"It seems," said the Sufferer, "that the pecky Things show a Spirit of Retaliation. They get after the Person who are trying to Investigate them."

"MORAL—Never arouse a sleeping Germ."

A RARE BREED.

The Claim Agent Had Never Seen One Like Him Before.

"What was the value of the cow?" asked the railway company's claim agent. "I was offered $15 for her once," replied the farmer.

"What?" exclaimed the other, the pen dropping from his nerveless fingers. "Is she an imported animal?" "No."

"Not even after she was killed?" "No, she was just a common scurvy."

"No money loss of any kind?" "Not a cent. But what in the name of—"

"Then it's all right. No, sir, I ain't crazy. I'm all right. Every day will tell you I'm the blamestest contrariest old skeezicks in the township, and I reckon I am. I don't care a darn, either. Any of the rest of you want to trade with me for $25, I'd love to see you in Hannibal, Missouri, before I'd touch a cent of your dirty old money."

KICKED BY A HORSE

Robert Hall, of Arkona, Ont., Narrowly Escapes Death.

Struck Twice in the Same Place—The Kidneys Turned Out of their Natural Position—Doctors Said He Would Die, Yet Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

Forest, Ont., April 29.—(Special.)—Probably the best known man in the Townships of Warwick and Bosanquet, is Mr. Robert Hall, of Arkona. Mr. Hall says: "Five years ago last April, I was kicked by a horse in the left kidney. The doctor that treated me said the kidney had turned out of its place, and I passed blood for several days. 'I did not get quite well from that until I got another kick, which caused me to pass blood again from my kidneys.' 'I continued to doctor until last fall, when they told me I could not get well, and that I would die, so I quit taking their medicine. I quit taking the power of my legs, and had to be lifted in and out of bed. I was so low that I was not expected to live from one day to the other. 'I started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills, and from the first I commenced to improve, and by the time I had taken five boxes I was quite well. Dodd's Kidney Pills certainly saved my life.'"

No more startling case has ever taken place in the neighborhood of Forest, and many questions have been asked of Mr. Hall, in explanation of the very startling statements made above. He has but one answer—"Dodd's Kidney Pills saved my life, and that for all the doctors had told me I could not get better, and that I must die. Mr. Hall is certainly a living monument to the wonderful curative properties of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only remedy known to science that has ever cured Bright's Disease, Diabetes, or Dropsy. They never fail."

Art Treasures From the Deep. Off Corfu, the island at the southern end of Greece, divers are bringing up art treasures that were sunk 200 years before Christ. Lucian tells of a ship laden with art spoils that went down on the voyage from Athens to Rome, and it is believed that the wreck has been found now. Besides many bronze statuettes a life size bronze statue resembling the Hermes of Praxiteles has been brought up. Some of the objects are excellently preserved, but others are corroded.

MRS. EDDYS OWN VIEW.

She Advises Christian Scientists to Obey the Law.

I have already expressed my opinion publicly as to the precautions against the spread of so-called infectious and contagious diseases in the following words: "Rather than quarrel over vaccination, I recommend that if the law demand an individual to submit to this process, he obey the law, and then appeal to the Gospel to save him from bad physical results. Whatever changes come to this century, or to any epoch, we may safely submit to the providence of God, to common justice, to the maintenance of individual rights, and to Governmental passages. This statement should be so interpreted as to apply, on the basis of Christian science, to the reporting of a contagious case to the proper authorities when the law so requires. When Jesus was questioned concerning obedience to human law, he replied: 'Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's,' even while you 'render unto God the things that are God's.'"

I believe in obeying the laws of the land, I practise and teach this obedience, since justice is the moral signification of law. Injustice notes the absence of law. Each day I pray for the pacification of the world, for the end of idolatry and infidelity, and for the growth and establishment of Christianity. I also have faith that my prayer avails, and that He who is overturning will overturn until He whose right it is shall reign. Each day I pray, "God bless my enemies; make them Thy friends; give them to know the joy and the peace of love."

Past, present, or future philosophy or religion that departs from the instructions and example of the great Galilean Prophet cannot be Christ-like. Jesus obeyed human laws. But nineteen centuries have greatly improved human nature and human status. That the innocent should suffer for the guilty seems divine; and that humanity should share alike liberty of conscience seems more divine to-day than yesterday.—Mrs. Eddy in The Christian Science Journal.

Catarrhozone Cures Coughs and Colds. Fatal Delusion. She contemplated the future with terror. "I already weigh 200 pounds, and still I gain in spite of all I can do!" she moaned.
