Capt. Geo. Crandell, of Lindsay, Tells How He Secured Release From this Most Dangerous Malady

(From the Watchman, Lindsay, Ont.) In the town of Lindsay and surrounding country no man is better known or more highly respected than Capt. George Crandell. Forty-seven of the first steamer that navigated the Scugog. Since that time success has crowned his life both on land and water. For forty-nine years he was a member of the Lindsay Town Council. He is now 73 years of age, and enjoys the best of health, but it has not always been thus. Some years ago the exposure and worry incident to his calling began to tell upon his health, and his heart showed signs of weakness. His sufferings and complete restoration through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are best told by himself. To a reporter the captain gave the following story:

"Sweral years ago my heart began to bother me. At first I took little notice of it, but the trouble gradually grew worse, until I had to summon medical aid. I suffered much pain and at times was attacked by an' white." smothering spells, which caused me great distress. ## The Herd Boy And the Wonderful Plant

One fine morning in spring Mr Brown, the farmer of Burnhead, sallied forth and hailed his herdboy, Willie Paxton, a smart and promising youth, and said:

"Here, Willie, man, I want ye to rin owre to Mr. Tawse, the schulemaister, an' get a leu' o' a book frae him. Here's the name o't written on this bit o' paper, so that ye'll not years ago he was owner and captain forget it. Rin as quick as ye can,
