EGREMONT S. S. CONVENTION.

A large and enthusiastic convention assembled in Fairbairn Church on Wednesday, the 10th July. Notwithstanding the sizzling hot weather, a large sprinkling of ladies graced the meeting, a barn-raising in the neighborhood, no doubt accounting for the lack of the sterner sex. After devotional exercises, the secretary's report, and the reports from the various delegates appointed to visit the different S. S.'s in the township, were heard all reporting as their belief that good work was being done, Mr. John Sinclair of Yeovil presided, Mr. Robt. Renwick, Dromore, Sec.

A nominating committee, composed of Jas. Sharp, Wm. Allen, Alfred Tucker, J. Ross, J. Snell, to nominate officers for next year, was appointed.

Chalk talks to children, by Rev. Wray Smith, Durham, was the first paper. He believes first in every S. S. having a blackboard, and illustrated the fact (that the sense of sight was the strongest sense humanity is possessed of, citing cases all through the Bible, i. e., writing on the wall, on the sand, etc. The main object of the teacher, is to arrest attention so use a board. "Music of Life" was the title of his subject. He drew some features, with lines resembling staves of music, and showed that the loss of a line above or below would result in discord. The bars represented the measurement of life, not so much the number, as what you could crowd into them. Elaborating a drawing not necessary. He drew a butterfly, by the inverting of which, he showed a butterfly of fashion, i. e., a lady of the present day, as sometimes seen. He showed a pic, which inverted, gave us little Jack Horner of history. It was a very live paper, and was skilfully handled. An adept with the crayon is Mr. Smith and it was attentively listened to.

Mr. Kendall next showed "How best to retain our young people in the S. S." by first, obtaining their interest. Parental authority seems to be lacking in the present day. There is not sufficient instruction at home. Put life into the music, interest them in the authors of hymns, citing as a sample, "Rock of Ages" written while taking shelter from a storm, beneath a rock. Take interest in their pursuits in their amusements, be constant in your attendance as a teacher.

Discussion led by Robert Renwick who deprecated the lack of consideration by the parents. W. J. Sharp emphasized the importance of thorough preparation by the teacher of his subject. He would not dare to appear before them without preparation even in his secular work. Rev. Mr. Kendall emphasized "enthusiasm" We are enthusiastic in politics, in temperance, but in S. S. work it was too often lacking. Rev. Wray Smith enjoins the attendance of the parents sometimes. Mr. Dickson and we should notice the scholar's absence, question them kindly, and tell them we hope see them there.

Mr. Wm. Allen, in "the Ideal S. S. scholar" remarked upon the fact, that there is no grander work than that of the S. S. The Ideal Scholar is one who attends regularly, and in proper time, and comes ready to answer questions. He likes the idea of delegate visitors to other schools, stir them up in interest. Have the lesson well up. To assist in making the ideal scholar, be always in your place as teacher, and as hearer at Divine Service, and instil them with a spirit that will continue with them through life.

Mr. W. J. Sharp, Holstein, "On teaching a recent lesson, the Convention as a class," took the lesson of John in the Isle of Patmos. The authorities tried to shut him in, impossible to shut in the gospel, or the Spirit's work, citing Paul and Silas, John Bunyan, Fanny Crosby, Matheson of Glasgow, and others. Persecution spreads the truth, as indicated in the reformation. He conducted the lesson as it should be, the audience answered freely, and discoursed the various points brought out very ably.

Music was given at intervals, Mr. John Murdoch ably leading, Miss Agnes Renwick presiding at the organ.

Nominating Committee moved that next convention be held at Woodland, that Robt Dodds be Pres. J. Dixon, Vice Pres., J. Sinclair, Sec. Treas., Yeovil.

Eyening Session was opened by retiring President, who introduced the new Pres. Mr. Dodds, who made some opening remarks and introduced the Rev. Mr. Varley of Priceville, who characterized the S. S. teacher as more important than the preacher, who had character already formed to deal with, whereas the teacher had not. He dealt with the first S. S. work by E. Raikes. A teacher must be well posted in the Scriptures, must emulate the earnestness of the Apostles who understood the Master's desire who understood the Gospel; must not only instruct the pupils, but endeavour to save their souls. He should feel the responsibility of his position, as being the instrument of God's blessing, but the speaker would not imply that a non-Christian should not teach, he should do his utmost to prepare himself and his lessons, and it would meet with the approval of Christ. An able and entertaining paper.

A solo by Mr. Wm. Isaacs of Dromore, "The Holy City," was rendered with fine effect. He is possessor of a fine tenor voice.

The Rev. Mr. Kendall, of Woodland was heard in "The true aim of the S. S. teacher. Appeal must be made to the position that the S. S. holds at the present time. It must be placed on the same footing as worship, prayer-meeting and preaching, as a means of saving souls. Not merely the giving of knowledge, but the upbuilding of character. The S. S. is different again from that of preaching or revival meetings as indirect methods have to be tried in order to attract attention. A child should have a true conception of his inborn sin and of the means of salvation.

The collection amounted to $7.82; this with the balance on hand amounts to $10.00. The church was finely decorated, a bower of flowers being constructed on 3 sides of the platform. A hearty vote of thanks was given to the ladies and young men for the handsome way in which they had entertained the visitors.

The meeting closed with the singing of "God be with you till we meet again," and the Benediction.

Notes on the Convention. Township well represented from north to south, especially Dromore, who turned out all its youth and beauty. Dr. Wolf of Durham was present at the afternoon meeting. Mr. and Mrs. D. Leith from Normanby, Miss Blinnie from Glenelg also graced the meeting with their presence. Secretary's report showed a membership of 701 scholars for 11 schools viz:-6 Meth. 4 Pres. 1 Union, with a total of 82 teachers a decrease of 4 scholars, and 13 teachers since last year.

Average attendance, scholars 545, teachers 75. Amount contributed by 7 schools, $91.04. Number of scholars who are members of church 158. From the number on the roll, there can be but very few who do not attend S. S. as compared with the assessment roll. Facts of an international aspect were given showing 140,000 scholars, 500,000 teachers, and 12 million scholars. In the Province we have, 5,800 schools, 51,500 teachers and 425,000 scholars, a gratifying fact of the magnitude of our work, which should gladden the hearts of those who are engaged in this grand and glorious work.

The closing sentences of Sec'y Renwick's report was as follows: "Brother teachers let us go forward hand in hand in this noble work. It is what our master would have us do; forgetting class and creed and not forgetting our responsibility and the importance of having all our children well grounded in a knowledge of the scriptures, the mightiest factor we can give to them for good in this life and the life to come."

Orangemen Celebrate.

Williams, so long a prominent figure at the walk.

The streets down town were tastefully flanked with evergreens though some disappointment was felt by local Orangemen that no arches were erected at or near the busy corner and mine host Ryan of the Central came in for many appreciative remarks on his enterprise in erecting the only arch in town.

Every shady corner or place of concourse had its booth and they seemed well patronized.

No voice can be raised against the conduct of the Orangemen during the day. All went home with credit to themselves and to the order.

Many townsmen, not Orangemen, wore the lily or in other ways acknowledged the presence of the visiting celebrants.

Rev's Smith and Ryan in their addresses touched on the much disputed coronation oath, and were vigorously opposed to change.

The hotel accommodation was pretty well taxed and the ladies of the Methodist church served meals in the Town Hall.

The scarlet and blue silk Banner carried by the Swinton Park Lodge is a new one costing $100. It carries on the face of it, a picture of King Wm., on the reverse side one of King Edward VII. On the way out Swinton Park was met by the Dromore boys who opened ranks and received them royally. Again at Lawrence's they were received with cheers in addition to cheers for the King, in which all heartily and lustily joined. Membership of this Lodge is 64 strong, Thos Atchison, Master. Mr Hugh Atchison, Swinton Park, took part in the walk for the 48th time and looks good for a few more years. Chaplain Sam Kinnell, one of the Township's old assessors, assessed the qualities of the various lodges with a little partiality we fear.

An arch of evergreens was erected at Dromore across from one of the principal places of business, through which Swinton Park boys passed. The uniform of the Dromore boys is a decided improvement and is quite creditable.

Live Stock Market

Toronto.

Trade was lively at the Western Cattle Market to-day and all the good cattle were sold in a hurry.

Cows and bulls were quiet, with light offerings. Small stuff was unchanged and hogs were steady. The total run was 77 loads, including 1,254 cattle, 1,234 sheep and lambs, 47 calves and 1,000 hogs.

A rather serious charge with reference to the preparation of cattle for sale at this market has been made recently, and one prominent cattle dealer mentioned it today. He said that it was a practice with a few sellers of cattle to bring them here on the evening before the market was held, and keep them from water all night. By feeding them with dry salted meal they could generate a wonderful thirst on the part of the stock. When the time for business came in the morning the cattle would be led up to the trough and allowed to drink their fill. This would, of course, greatly increase their weight, to the advantage of the seller, and to the corresponding disadvantage of the buyer. Some cattle are said to have been "stuffed" in the way so as to increase their weight 25 pounds or more per head. Some action will probably be taken soon to prevent a continuance of the practice.

Export Cattle—Trade was good and the offerings were large. The preference was for fine stall-fed stock, and some of these, which had been on grass only a short time, sold at $5.20 to 5.30. Other lots of good grass stock sold at $4.95 to $5.10, and there was no dullness. The range of the best stock is quoted at $4.75 to 5.25, and medium cattle, including light weights are steady at $4.40 to $4.75. Export cows sell at $5.75 to $4.40, but the market is quiet on account of the small receipts.

Feeders—A load of short-keep feeders sold at $4.35, but it was about the only load offered. Medium weights are scarce, while light are inactive on account of the dullness prevailing in outside markets.

Stockers—The Buffalo market is in bad shape and there is no demand here for anything but the choicest stock. Prices are nominally steady at $3 to $3.25 for the best, but few are being bought. Off-colors and heifers are weak and dull at $2.50 to $3, and one load sold even lower to-day.

Milk Cows—There is a scarcity of good cows and the demand for the choice ones is well maintained. Prices are firmer at $80 to $90 each.

Sheep, Lambs and Calves—Run was large, but demand was fairly good and prices held steady. Everything was sold and there was no change in quotations.

Hogs—Deliveries moderately large and market steady at $7.25 per cwt for select, $7 for common and 6.75 for lights and fats.

SEND IT TO DAY—We are offering the Review to Jan. 1, 1902 for 40c. Have you a friend who would appreciate its weekly visits? Give us his name and address on a post card to-day.
