PIE AND BOX SOCIAL.—Will be held in Hutton Hill School on the evening of Friday, October 11th in aid of Trinity Church. Doors open at 7 p. m. Social starts at 7.45 sharp. Admission 10 cents Ladies with pies and boxes free. A program will follow.

Perfect work displayed in mourning hats and bonnets at Miss Dick's.

ANOTHER TREAT.—The Jubilee singers with full orchestra accompaniment will give a concert in the Town Hall on Monday, Oct. 14, under the auspices of the Methodist church. Tickets.—Adults, 25c. Children, 15c.

The Ladies say for a becoming and comfortable fitting hat or bonnet, go to Miss Dick's.

GRAND CONCERT.—Will J. White a comic singer, and D. McGregor a celebrated Baritone singer will give a musical entertainment in the town Hall, Durham, on Thursday evening, Oct. 17, under the auspices of the South Grey Teachers Association. Come and enjoy the treat. More next week.

The Big Store bought a large assortment of Glass Lamps—very cheap. Secure one at reduced prices.

We notice by the Hepworth Journal's advertising pages that Mr. J. P. Whelan has now a prominent position in his firm. "The Geddes—Whelan Co." has been changed to "The J. P. Whelan Co." John is nothing if not pushing; we congratulate our old town boy.

HOUSE BUILDING.—Mr. D. Campbell's new residence is now roofed in and receiving finishing touches from painter McDougall and other workmen. Mr. E. Kress has his new house on the hill-face nearly ready for the roof, while Mr. Thos. Black's renovated property in Upper Town will soon be ready for occupation.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Presbyterian church hope to have two or three special addresses by neighboring ministers during the coming winter, the first to be given about the middle of November. The next meeting of the society will be on Tuesday instead of Monday when the subject of discussion will be John Knox. At the close of the meeting there will be a social reunion.

THE PARK-MCKENZIE CASE.—Much interest was taken in this case which was settled in O. Sound last week in favor of plaintiff who has been warmly congratulated. The claim, which has been thoroughly established was for property given to the plaintiff's wife, now deceased, by her father, the defendant. Mr. Park gets the property, a farm of 100 acres, and $500.

Thanksgiving Day has been fixed for Nov. 28th, which date agrees with that fixed by the United States. This allows the housewife longer time to prepare her turkeys, the farmer to get all his roots up, the navigator to get through navigating, and will possibly allow the skater to go skating, but all the same were the day of our making, we would choose an October dating for celebrating this important annual event.

IMPORTANT HOTEL CHANGE.—The well known "Knapp House" has changed hands this week. Mr. Knapp having disposed of property and business to Mr. Geo. Ries of Bentinck, for the sum of $15,000. Mr. Knapp during the 10 years he has been here has made many friends and earned the reputation of being one of the best hotel-keepers that Durham ever had. We are pleased to hear that Mr. Knapp and his family are still to remain in Durham and as it is reported that he will, in company with relatives, go into another business requiring $30,000 in capital, the town is still to have the benefit of his business enterprise. Mr. Ries, one of our County Commissioners, is well and widely known, and we extend to him a hearty welcome to our town.

PERSONAL MENTION

Dr. Park spent a day or two at home since last issue.

Miss Annie McKenzie is visiting Bruce friends this week.

Miss Martin, of Exeter, is paying her uncle Dr. Jamieson, a visit.

Mr. D. W. Fraser, of Owen Sound, spent Wednesday at the Fair here.

Miss Ida McEwen of Mt. Forest, is visiting Miss Maude Davidson, for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Whelan spent Sunday with friends in Durham—Hepworth Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Swallow visited the Pan-American last week and report a pleasant trip.

Messrs Arch. Robertson and Joe Burnett left on Wednesday morning for Toronto and the Pan-American.

Mrs. Alex. McNab, of Owen Sound, spent a couple of days visiting her aunt Mrs. Alex. McCormack, last week.

Mrs. Greig, after a pleasant two month's stay with her sister Mrs. Calder, returned to Saginaw on Monday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid of Mt. Forest, visited Mrs. Reid's sister, Miss Ewart, of Ireland's millinery department, on Sunday last.

Rev. Mr. Craigie, Hanover, will preach the preparatory Communion sermon in the Presbyterian Church, on Saturday, Oct. 12th, at 2.30 p. m.

Miss S. Vollett, came home on Wednesday last week, looking as if the lakeside town in New Ontario had agreed with her. She has resumed her classes.

Mr. Geo. Brown, son of Mr. Jno. H. Brown, who has been in the West for many years, came home last week on a visit to his parents, whom he has not seen for 20 years.

Misses Margaret and Marior Gun came home last week after a visit of several weeks' duration with their brothers at Bright and Innerkip, and with other friends.

Dr. Arthur Gun and wife came up last week on a visit to the former's home. Dr. Gun, sr., is, we regret to say, still in very poor health and we trust the grave anxiety of his friends may soon be removed by his convalescence.

Messrs Courtice, of Clinton, Broadfoot, of both, and Cline, of Wingham were in town on Monday to study out the cement situation for themselves, with a view to investing in stock. In company with Mayor Calder and Director McKechnie they inspected the works and drove out to the lake. Mr. Cline, and we believe the others also, come in a representative capacity and we feel confident they will take with them a good report.

O. Sound Sun; "Mr. H. H. Miller of Hanover, was a guest at the parental home, Scrope street, over Sunday and yesterday. Mr. Miller is a rising citizen in Hanover and is looked upon as the coming man on the Liberal side for the representation of the riding.

SO NEAR AND YET SO FAR.—"Columbia Rules the Waves" as far as Yacht racing is concerned it seems. Sir Thos. Lipton's challenger "Shamrock" has been beaten in three "straights" for the America Cup, which is the nautical Yankee has held on for about 50 years. Never, however, was victory so close. It has been a matter of seconds, and in the last race the Shamrock came in two seconds ahead, but owing to a time allowance in favor of Columbia, the latter was declared winner. There is the best of good feeling between the combatants but a natural disappointment that Sir Thos. did not get at least one race.

SUNDAY LABOR.—The exigencies of some building operations at the Cement works last Saturday suggested to some of the foremen the necessity of continuing work on Sunday. However, the blow at public sentiment in this direction was soon evident and after conference with Mayor Calder, who is a strict Sabbatarian, the Day of Rest was not infringed upon. While we are delighted to see the push being made at the works by competent men we voice, we are sure, the sentiment of the whole community in hoping that the sanctity of the Lord's Day will not be violated by public labor. Workmen in all countries are striving to retain the weekly day of rest, and we notice the Belgian government are framing a law to prevent the issuing of Sunday newspapers.

AT THE CEMENT WORKS.

The works are now taking shape and becoming of intense interest not only to citizens, of whom there is a steady stream of sightseers, but to outsiders, for a week never passes now but that some actual or prospective stock takers step off the train and investigate for themselves the prospects of the National Portland Cement Co., Limited.

The inspection we are sure is invariably satisfactory, for the evidences abound that the site is an ideal one for the purpose, the material the best that ever was handled, while the men in charge of the buildings and works are experts each in their line.

On approaching the grounds on Monday the visitor saw nine great pillars placed at equal distances along one side of the new machine shop. About 15 feet high and 2 feet square, they are constructed of solid cement concrete and between them is being built the wall with the building blocks "made in Durham." The process is as interesting as it is unique, and it requires no prophet to foretell that in a few years such walls will be frequently seen here. Other pillars are in course of construction and before many days a strong rugged building will rise, the first of the great cluster necessary to the successful making of Portland Cement.

One of the switches runs into the end of this building and the grading of the other switches about the grounds 4 or 5 in number, is in progress. To the north of the machine shop a vast excavation is going on for the building to contain the rotaries, one of which is expected to arrive very soon. From the grounds the clank of the iron rails could be heard as they were being unloaded at the deviation from the main line and before long the iron horse will poke his nose across the Garafraxa Road and take a view of south Durham or go screeching through Rombough's hills awakening the echoes of S. Glenelg and N. Egremont to the song of steam or the whirr of the trolley, as it rushes to the vast reservoir of 98 per cent marl in "Wilda's Lake." This lake has for ages been sending out its waters through receiving nose, and now from its springy depths is about to yield abundantly a most valuable article of commerce. Many will see it begun, but the child of the youngest child who witnesses the beginning will not see its close even if drawn upon twice as heavily as is proposed.

Foreman Mather and his gang have moved to the lake, where grading will commence to meet Hartford's gang working now about the town line.

10 car loads of steel rails are delivered and Lawrence of Dornoch is rushing in his contract of ties.

MILLINERY MATTERS.

The annual Fall Millinery openings took place last week, and the wants of the ladies in this line were never surely, better catered to than on this first of the Century Fall display. The attendance on Friday and Saturday evenings was large and interesting, and our reporter had to content himself with furtive glances at the bewitching creations, and drink in a reflected delight from the delight that danced in the eyes of the fair ones as they poised before the mirrors adjusting or tilting a natty sailor, an imposing black Gainsboro, or some other silk or velvet or feather bedecked piece of headgear. A later visit gratified his well-developed millinery tastes and a few of his observations are herewith recorded.

Passing first into the establishment of S. F. Morlock, now the oldest established Millinery house in Durham he found Miss Sweet again in charge and she had surrounded herself with a bower of beauty and good taste, and assured our reporter that she had had a 'real' good opening. Particularly to be admired were her Faon velvet trimmings and drapery. Sequin crowns and facings are found in abundance, while the prevailing black plumes give a dignified aspect to the whole. She has all new shapes in ready-to-wear hats and full supplies of all children's headwear.

This firm has achieved a reputation in Durham as having as fine a display of Trimmed Hats as could be seen anywhere. They have surpassed any previous season. The showroom which is large and well lighted with electric lights gave the visitors an excellent opportunity to examine the various styles of which they have many but we are only going to mention a few of the leaders.

A lovely and much admired hat was a large Gainsborough, crown plain and upper brim of shirred black velvet with a honey comb facing of turquoise facing with steel finisings. Large black plume held by a gilt buckley and velvet ribbon knots giving a pretty effect.

Refoux Hat made in serpent green velvet and silk the brim of shirred velvet with a plateau crown made in frills of velvet and silk and a soft draping of silk between the crown and brim large white breast caught in front with brilliant buckle and at left side with a knot of silk and brilliant buckle.

Draped Turban in the Castor shades shaped after the Gainsborough style brim of tuckled velvet and draped crown of fawn velvet large breast on edge of brim at left side forming a stylish effect.

Jas. Ireland

Crossing the street to this well-known establishment he wondered if the Millinery display was outside from the number congregated round the window. A close view revealed the cause.

A Delightful Window. Here was something unique, and worthy of inviting royalty to view. An arch, the width of the window in white, puffed out with white tulle, and twining around it pretty red and green virginian creeper and myrtle. Above, the arch was draped in pink silk with white chiffon while the bottom of the window was puffed up in white, with sprays of myrtle here and there. Completing the charm there was suspended from the centre of the arch or held from other positions a number of beautiful colored birds in lifelike flying positions, and the pleasing effect was heightened by the use of a mirror at one side extending the display.
