Hallowe'en. Apples and nuts and candles. Small boys removing gags, &c. Buy your wife one of those nice Fur Jackets at The Big Store. The fine weather of last week came as a boon to farmers who had roots to get up and put in store. It was also a boon to the cement builders. J. H. Brown, Holstein, is showing an unusually large and well assorted stock of general Dry Goods, Clothing, Men's Furnishings, Boots & Shoes, Crockery Groceries, etc., at prices that cannot fail to interest you.

The monster cement works at Durham is being pushed forward with commendable enterprise and is causing somewhat of a boom in our sister town. -Markdale Standard.-Right you are Brer Rutledge, come over and see it. BE ON TIME.-Advertisers will oblige us greatly by having copy for change of advertisement in by 10 a. m., Tuesday. Left at either of our offices, to suit advertiser's convenience, it will be attended to. Later than this it is impossible to guarantee change.

One dollar will get the Weekly Globe to Jan. 1, 1902 with a beautiful picture of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York and a splendid picture of a pair of horses "Our Pets," or all of these with the REVIEW for $1.00. May as well have them now. Send or call to-day. BARGAINS IN PAPERS with the Review. $5.50 is now the ruling price for hogs. We want live chickens and ducks for which we will pay the highest price in Cash or Trade. Also highest prices paid for dressed poultry. J. H. BROWN, Holstein.

Mr. and Mrs. John McKelvey have lately had very sad news indeed from New Ontario. A child of their son Dan, aged 2 1/2 years got scalded and died as the result. Angus, their other son, lost a year-old boy from inflammation. We sympathize deeply with the sorrowing parents. LOST AGAIN.-The widow of the late John Jack Jr., it may be remembered, sued the Canadian Foresters some months ago for insurance on her husband's life, which the order claimed had been forfeited. She lost the case and an appeal she then made to the Divisional Court has decided about 10 days ago in the same way. The judgment in the appeal was given by Mr Justice Ferguson and Mr Justice Meredith.

In the question of Boots and Shoes our motto is not "low cheap" but "how good." We aim at buying only the best and our increased trade in that line shows us that our efforts are appreciated. If you are not already a customer we invite you to call and examine our stock. We are satisfied that we can make it worth your trouble. J. H. BROWN, Holstein.

SUDDEN DEATH.-On Monday of last week Miss Emma Supernault, sister of Mrs. Thos. Swallow, was attending to her usual duties in Toronto: on Thursday as a result of an attack of diabetes she died. The remains were brought to Durham in charge of Mr. T. Swallow and interred in Dornoch R. C. cemetery on Saturday last. She was 29 years of age, and her sudden removal is a cruel blow to friends and relatives.

KNOX CHURCH, NORMANBY.-A large attendance graced the Sabbath School Anniversary here on Friday evening last. Rev. Mr. Campbell took the chair including a social tea. Addresses were given by Rev. Truax, of Holstein, and Messrs Wm. Allan and David Leith. Music was rendered by the children and by some of the larger girls. Mr. Jas. Watson, also gave solos and there were duets by Misses Olive Thompson and Lottie Fee. Proceeds over $16.

ONE OF THE PIONEERS.-Rev. Alexander Stewart, of Durham was visiting at Donald Anderson's, Alex. McGregor's, and Wm. Hope's last week. Mr Stewart is 80 years old and has been in the ministry 45 years. It is 41 years since he preached in the old log school on the farm of Donald McGregor, who then lived on the 3rd con. Eld. He preached for the Baptist congregation here several years, always walking from Durham to attend to his pastoral duties. At that time there was not even a blaze on the trees to guide the traveller through the forest between Durham and Chesley. Mr Stewart finding it necessary to go a round by Ellengowan. The old gentleman is slightly deaf, but his vision is not dimmed, and his voice is as strong as in the days of auld lang syne, when he took the long trips through the wilds of Grey and Bruce.-Chesley Enterprise.

HORRIBLE FATALITY.

T. B. STINSON SHOT.

Last Friday three young lads, Thos. B. Stinson, aged 16 years and a few months and Robert and George Lindsay about the same age went out shooting and in coming homewards in the evening they passed through Mr. David Watson's orchard. Here Stinson took his rifle by the muzzle and attempted to knock an apple from a tree with the butt end, the fatal folly of the affair lying in the fact that the gun was at half-cock, and loaded. It was discharged and the ball passed into his right abdomen tearing through the bowels and lodging in the hip. The alarm was given, Mr. Watson, Mr. Hugh Riddell and others were soon on hand and the boy was taken to the home of his distracted parents, and medical aid summoned. Dr. Smith of Dornoch and Dr. Mahan of Durham were soon procured, but examination of the wound, as large as an American silver dollar, with intestines protruding, left no hope. He was made as easy as possible, but he died Saturday morning. The boy is an only son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Stinson, who, last December moved from S. Bentinck to the McDonald farm near Welbeck. The affair has cast a gloom over the community and intense sympathy is felt for the parents and sister thus so suddenly bereft of their son and brother. We extend our sympathy.

THE LATE DR. GUN.

We present our readers with a cut of the late Dr. Gun from photograph taken a few years ago and add some supplementary notes not included or not in time for last week's notice.

The funeral took place on Friday last and was very largely attended and markedly representative in character. In addition to the local medical men Dr's. Jamieson, Hutton and Mahan, there were present of his profession Senator Landerkin and Dr. Mearns, Hanover; Dr. Jones, Mt. Forest; Dr. Smith, Dornoch and Dr. Brown, Holstein. From Hanover, we noticed also Mr. H. H. Miller, from Priceville, Mr. Neil McKinnon and Mr. John Nichol, and for miles around the town representatives of families to whom he has ministered for many years and who valued his friendship as much as his professional skill were present.

Rev. Mr. Farquharson conducted the services at the house and drew many useful lessons from the occasion common to humanity, and more especially from the life of the deceased, so intensely and benevolently active as it had been, closing with the fitting eulogium "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord, ye saith the spirit and their works do follow them." The aged and venerable Rev. Alex Stewart led in a pathetic prayer and Rev. Mr. McGregor closed the house service with prayer. The pall bearers were: Messrs Charter Smith, Wm. Smith, Geo. Turnbull, R. McFarlane, sr., Thos. Lauder, sr., and Jno. Cameron. He now sleeps in the new cemetery for the securing of which he was one of the warmest workers and beside his boy, Willie, who was the first to be interred there.

In addition to his work for Education, the Public Library, the church, &c. which we referred to last week, he took also a warm interest in the Horticultural Society, was Chairman of the Board of Health for many years and did much in his official capacity for the sanitation of the town. He had charge of the official instruments for observations for the weather bureau, and took a great interest in meteorology and all this interest with his practice, his reading and his classes of latin scholars from time to time goes to show what an intensely active spirit has gone.

He was a beneficiary member of the Workmen Society and an honorary member and Camp Physician of the Sons of Scotland, who sent a beautiful anchor for the coffin and at their last meeting passed a resolution of appreciation and condolence. Others who expressed appreciation in the language of flowers were Dr. and Mrs. Jamieson, Mr. and Mrs. Laidlaw, Mrs. J. H. and J. A. Hunter, members of his Bible class, the Public School staff, Mr & Mrs A. S. Hunter and family. The Dr's own family, including his grandson Mr C. A. McKenzie also had an appropriate floral offering. White cypressanemums and roses were the prevailing flowers.

A MEMORIAL SERMON.-On Sunday morning Rev. Mr. Farquharson preached from Heb. 11:39, 40, bringing out the good work done by the old worthies mentioned in the chapter, the motives which actuated them, and their influence on all who followed them. He broadened on the value of pioneer work in all countries of men who were the landmarks of history, men who stamped their character on their own age and whose faith and works lived long after them, yet whose work without ours was not perfect. "God having provided some better thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect." The strong men of the ages had their weaknesses but there was still the diamond in the rough. In closing he referred to the long public service of Dr. Gun, who was second to none in all that was good and especially in the interests of the town and church. Enthusiastic in his profession he was looked up to as the beloved physician. His heart took an interest in the government of the young. About 40 years education over 30 years an elder of the church, and for almost the whole time a teacher of the Bible class, his faith was shown by his works. In the roll of membership, constantly thinning out towards the front, only 5 or 6 names were now ahead of his. He touched upon his marked integrity, his resolute purpose to do the right, and though his strong mind worked opposition sometimes, there was still the respect for his integrity. The example of his religious life was very valuable; his regularity in the House of God, his care for the young, the simplicity of his faith which clung to the old realities and held to abiding principles till his dying hour, were all worthy of emulation. The heroic element was present but he had not lived out all his purpose, and it would be well for us if we drew inspiration from his life and work, "that they without us should not be made perfect."

ABERDEEN.-Episcopal Service next Sunday at 3 o'clock at Aberdeen. 2 Fairy Flower Pots for 25 cts. at The Big Store.

LIFE OF LORD ROBERTS.-We have seen the prospectus of this timely book now being handled by Miss Nettie Brown who has taken the agency for this district, with the view of strengthening her health by outdoor exercise. It is superbly illustrated, printed on fine paper and contains a full narrative of the life and deeds of the hero of South Africa. It is just such a book as most people would enjoy having on their shelves or on their parlor table, and cheap too as subscription books go. Miss Brown has four others to suit all tastes, and we bespeak for her the interest of all lovers of good books.

On Thursday evening, Nov. 7th (seventh), there will be a Stereopticon lecture in the Baptist church, given by Rev. T. J. Bennett, of the Herkimer St. Baptist church Hamilton.
