General servant wanted to go to the city. Good wages to an experienced girl. Apply to Mrs. Wm. Ross, 17 Winchester Street, Toronto.

COSTLY.—As will be seen by the minutes of Egremont Bd. of Health, a small-pox scare is costly. Vaccination is proceeding rapidly in some parts of the province. How is it here? Prevention is better than cure, and cheaper.

CHANGE IN POST OFFICE.—We were informed last week that the Holstein Post Office has gone or is shortly to go to Mr. Geo. Calder. Mr. W. T. Peirie for a good many years has held the position, but whether retiring or being superseded, we have not learned.

Shall the monthly fairs be revived? Is a question at present being agitated in Walkerton. There is no possibility, we imagine, of having such fairs of cattle as we once had, but a monthly day for the sale of horses and cattle too, is worthy of consideration.

STAR GAZING.—Early morning risers must be delighted just now to gaze on the eastern heavens where Venus, Jupiter and Saturn are holding brilliant court. If you haven't seen them get up tomorrow morning (for Venus will soon withdraw her charms), and you will be rewarded if the sky is clear.

CANADIAN CEMENT IS BEST.—In the House of Commons last week Hon. Mr. Tarte said the Department of Public Works had tested the Canadian Cement as well as all kinds of foreign cements, and the Canadian product had been found the best. We venture to add that our Durham product when ready will lead among Canadians, and hence be the best in the world!

Miss Charlotte E. Wiggins, Toronto. Lecturer and Organizer, will give addresses in one of the churches in Durham on Sabbath April 6, and on Monday and Tuesday following both afternoons and evenings. Particulars next week. She comes under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. and those who heard her on her previous visit will be anxious to hear the "Francis Willard" of Canada again.

WILMINGTON IN TROUBLE.—The Beet Sugar Company have secured an injunction to prevent the contractor from going further on a sum of $1000 placed in the Union bank there to pay for the work as it progressed. The company alleges Mr. Higgins, the contractor has already drawn $14,000, while not more than $3000 of work has been done. With the company and the contractor at law the prospects are not bright for the erection of the big sweet structure, but we hope there is a way out.

CITY STORES.—In common no doubt with many other homes in town one of the big catalogues of a Departmental Store reached us lately. This grasping out for trade is of course a result of the present condition of things where disloyalty to local interests leads many to spend money away from home under the belief they are getting bargains. We venture the prediction that the man who trades year in, year out in Durham's excellent stores will not be behind his flighty neighbor to whom distance lends a charm, and who gets "part" of wonderful goods cheap or think them so. Even the printer sees commercial work leaving town sometimes, which we can do as cheaply and as well as given in as large orders as out of town customers. We regret to notice in this connection that even our Furniture Company has a weakness for this practice, which we think should stop when attention is called to it.

The attention of REVIEW readers, is called to the advertisement of Miss Kate Cochran which appears in this issue.

A social gathering was held in the Presbyterian manse, Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E., which was a great success. About 150 of young people from country and town, and a number of older heads crowded the large house and games, music, social chat, and refreshments made up a delightful evening till about 11 o'clock.

A HEAVY BEREAVEMENT.—We sympathize deeply with Mr. C. McInnes, Yeovil, in the deep waters he is at present passing through, having lost a much loved motherless daughter, aged 18, one younger being also ill with diphtheria. We hope she is recovering and the cloud lifting from over the bereaved home. The obituary notice in another column, supplied by a friend, gives the particulars. Miss Armstrong, sister of Mrs. Jackson, is assisting as nurse.

The Messrs McKechnie have nearly completed the transformation of the old Hunter store Upper Town into a fine self contained residence, with an attractive front. Mr. T. Black has Mr. McNally employed putting a handsome verandah in front of his residence property, occupied by Mr. John Ehrhardt, and other proprietors are in various ways adding to the brightness of the town. Let no one forget the trees in season.

The Cement Works show day by day increased activity, and at least 100 men must be now employed in the various departments of preparatory work. The walls of the Power House are fast going up and an idea can be had from the imposing windows, etc., of the handsome as well as substantial character of the building. Excavations for concrete foundations for engines and boilers have been made and a very large and deep one outside is designed for the base of the big smokestack. Mr. Gibson returns next week and track laying and blasting will proceed apace. Before long the engine and supplies for building scow and dredge will be on back lines of the two townships will soon take on an unwonted dignity from the screech of the locomotive on its way with marl to the greatest cement mill on this globe.

THE CHARITY CONCERT.—The Town Hall was filled on Friday evening last, on the occasion of the concert given by a very large number of the young people. The musical and dramatic talent displayed was of a high order, and if the program had a fault at all it was in its length. The young performers must be gratified that their efforts resulted in securing about $30 which under a judicious committee's distribution goes to supply the pressing needs of a few honest and industrious but unfortunate poor. Lawyer W. S. Davidson acted as Chairman. The wealth of the program, the poetry of every body on justice to: there was song and recitation of course, the duet "I belong to the Upper Ten" was cleverly done. The cake walk and several other skipping or dancing combinations showed the poetry of motion to the delight of the crowd; then there was "Dancing round the May Pole," "Waiter's Drill" and several very striking tableaux at the close. As we didn't see quite the whole of it and haven't a copy of the names but congratulate everybody on its excellence. A reproduction was made on Saturday evening at reduced rates.

IN MEMORIAM.

Miss Agnes Forsyth McInnes, born 10th August 1883, second daughter of Charles McInnes I. P., of Yeovil, died at her home on Sunday 16th inst from diphtheria, after a short and painful illness, borne with Christian fortitude. On Saturday 8th she complained of a sore throat and Dr. Brown, of Holstein, was called in, who pronounced it to be the fatal disease that soon was to end her young life, and notwithstanding this gentleman's unfailing attention and the nursing of her father who attended to her night and day with the care and skill of a trained nurse, she succumbed as stated above.

During the whole of her sickness she maintained her bright and cheerful disposition and seemed to have no care, but for those around her. She spoke frequently of her approaching end and departed this life in the full hope of a glorious resurrection. Her last words were turned to the parent, who was never ending in his attention and just whispered "My father."
Just eighteen years of age, in all the bloom of youth and happiness and to use the sublime language of Longfellow was
"Standing on the Bridge,"
"Where Maidenhood and Womanhood meet";
Truly it is that death takes those we can least spare—
"There is a Reaper, his name is Death,"
And with his sickle keen,
He cuts the bearded Corn at a breath,
And the FLOWERS that grow between."

PERSONAL MENTION

Chas. Lavelle has secured a good position at the Cement works.
Mr. James Stinson, from Alma, is working at the Cement Works.

Miss Jarvis, from Toronto, is visiting her friend Miss Eleanor Kress for a few weeks.

Mrs. Jno. Cameron and Belle leave Thursday to spend the Easter holidays in Toronto.

Mrs. (Rev.) Pomeroy, of Kinardine, visited friends in town, for a few days this week.

Miss Lizzie McArthur, of Edge Hill, was the guest of Miss Mary Marshall, over Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Graham, Dornoch, and Rev. Mr. Campbell, Dornoch, will exchange pulpits next Sabbath.

Mrs. Rutherford and daughter Tessa, are visiting the former's father Mr. Wright, at the brickyard, for a few months.

Rev. Mr. Craigie, formerly pastor at Hampden, was made the recipient of a nice address and presentation one evening recently.

Mr. Dan Ferguson, Balsam Valley and Mr. Thos Wilson Boothville are going west as far as Regina in a few days. Boothville it would seem for the first time in many years is to be without a blacksmith.

Mr. John Sutherland, Ft. William, visited his sisters Mrs. W. B. Vollett and Mrs. Isaac for a week, returning Tuesday. His son Munroe was also home for about 3 days. He is now in the bank at Forest, where Mr. Fred Ryan has gone.

Dr. P. C. Park, Hamilton, will leave April 5, for the hospital in New York, London and Switzerland, where he will spend a few months in the interests of his profession, and in picking up new ideas. Before going he will spend a day or so at his home here.

Mr. Neil Clark, Boston, Chingacousy, an old friend and employer of Mr. Jno. Robertson, having come from Scotland together in 1847, visited him last week. Not having seen each other for 35 years they had many stories to relate. He has been visiting friends in Bruce County and near Priceville, and will visit relatives of the same name near Dornoch before returning. Though 82 years of age, he is still vigorous and has a retentive memory. Two of his sons are teachers in McMaster College, Toronto and in Woodstock.

Mr. John A. Campbell, late of this office writes on March 21, from McKinley, Minnesota, where he is now employed with the Roberts Mining Co., of which his uncle Mr. A. McDougall, is Superintendent. His uncle just came home with the remains of a deceased sister, as John was free here and in 8 hours he made up his mind to go with his uncle and was on the train at Dundalk for the west. He says "the country is rough, nothing but mining and timbering going on. This is a small place with 4 or 5 dry-goods stores, 3 groceries, 2 butcher shops, a barber shop and 7 saloons."

Rev. Jas. Farquharson, of Pilot Mound, visited his brother and family here from Saturday to Monday morning, preaching able sermons both morning and evening on Sunday. He has been at Toronto for several weeks engaged in arranging for the great work of Missions in the North West. Since Dr. Robertson died, Mr. F. has stepped into the front ranks in knowledge of the needs and importance of the work in our great growing west, and the church is using his administrative ability to further its aims and desires in the new country. He returns to Pilot Mound for next Sunday and will have to come east again in June to the General Assembly.

LONG SERVICE MEDAL.—We are pleased to have the opportunity of referring to and congratulating Lieut. R. Torry on the honorable distinction he received last week viz: a silver medal granted, as the inscription on one side has it, "For Long Service in the Colonial Auxiliary Forces." The obverse has a portrait of the late Queen and around it the usual "Victoria Regina et Imperatrix." On the edge or rim of the medal is stamped "Lieutenant R. Torry, 31st Regiment." Mr. Torry has 21 years to his credit, and the only other member of the company with the required 20 year standing is Mr. Geo. Matthews. There are 3 ex-members who can count 20 years: Pte John Saunders, Sergt. Wm. Saunders and Corp. Jas. Andrews. We hope all may be equally distinguished. Meanwhile we congratulate again neighbor Bob.
