

LEFT LEGACY BY RHODES.

Cousin, a Lakewood Janitor, Gets $50,000.

CANADA NOT FORGOTTEN.

Rhodes Gave Executors Powers to Add to List of His Beneficiaries—How He Drew Up the Document Described.

New York, April 5.—George Rhodes, a Lakewood, N. J., janitor, has received a despatch from his son at Philadelphia, saying that Cecil Rhodes left him a legacy of $50,000. The old man was almost overcome by the news, but left at once for Philadelphia, and said he expected to sail immediately for Europe to claim his fortune.

Among his fellows at Lakewood, Rhodes' relationship to the "Empire builder" of South Africa was unknown until the despatch arrived. Then he told his story, according to which he is a first cousin of Cecil Rhodes.

"Cecil," he said, "was going to Eton when I came to America. I went to Canada and later to Buffalo. From the latter city I moved to Philadelphia, but a few years ago I failed in the grocery business, and was compelled to earn a living by doing janitor work.

"Rhodes and myself never got along very well together, as our families had always disagreed over religious matters. I wrote him in 1896 and told him that I was not doing very well, and would like to go to South Africa. He sent me a curt note saying that there were enough Rhodeses in South Africa, and refused to help me.

London, April 5.—The war in South Africa, politics and every topic usually of interest were forgotten today in the absorbing discussion of Cecil Rhodes' will. Regarding that extraordinary document, the Associated Press has obtained some new facts. The total of Mr. Rhodes' fortune is likely to prove to be $5,000,000 or slightly under that amount. The executors, to whom he bequeathed the residue of his estate, are the late Cecil Rhodes' father, the late Cecil Rhodes' mother, and the late Cecil Rhodes' sister. According to the terms of this legacy, the amount is to be divided during their life time; but as each legatee dies his share goes to a common fund until the surviving legatee becomes its sole owner. Hence, one of the executors, the majority of whom are enormously wealthy, will one day inherit what will then have probably accumulated into nearly $5,000,000. The executors, the Associated Press learns, have unusually full powers, and can construe and add to the will as seems fit. Hence the omission of British Columbia, Nova Scotia and other Canadian provinces from the list of beneficiaries is quite likely to be corrected, and each province of Canada may be put on the same footing as the American States.

One of Mr. Rhodes' most intimate associates said to a representative of the Associated Press: "He drew up his will in the same spirit in which he approached all great undertakings. In his most important tasks he merely sketched the outlines and left us to fill in the details. His trustees are given plenary powers. In the matter of the scholarships, Mr. Rhodes saw the scheme was so vast that any attempt to too rigidly lay down the lines might result in harm, so beyond endeavoring to meet the legal requirements, he tried to leave the fulfillment of his agents to those with whom during his life-time he had frequently discussed them."

Regarding the American legatee the same authority said: "In offering Americans and Germans inducements to go to Oxford, Mr. Rhodes had a dual aim. First, to bring the youth of England in intimate touch with what he termed the two most progressive nations of the world, so that they might be broadened and spurred to more strenuous efforts. Secondly, bringing the best specimens of Americans and Germans on such terms with the English people as to make them feel that they might become missionaries of a better international understanding."

When the trustees can meet and all the preliminary details are settled, a request will be made to several leading American and English firms to act in conjunction with the English body and assume certain responsibilities for which the executors are palpably unfitted, both by absence from the United States and ignorance of its customs.

Captain Morrison Receives the D. S. O. for Gallantry.

FUNCTION AT THE STATE BALL.

Ottawa, April 7.—The presentation of the insignia of the Distinguished Service Order to Capt. Morrison, and of the colonial officers' long-service decoration to Colonels Smith, A. D. C., Lieut.-Col. W. Drury, C. B., A. D. C., Lieut.-Col. C. T. Irwin, A. D. C., Mr. Arthur Guise, Controller; Capt. A. C. Bell, A. D. C.; Major J. S. Maude, C. M. G., D. S. O.; Military Secretary, Mrs. Maude, Lady Alice Beauchamp, the Governor-General and Lady Minto. The procession passed up the centre of the room to the dais at the far end, upon which their Excellencies took their stand. Captain Morrison was first called forward, and Major Maude read the King's warrant appointing him a member of the Distinguished Service Order. The Military Secretary then called forward the Distinguished Service Order in a cushion to His Excellency, who affixed the decoration to Captain Morrison's breast. The following officers were then called forward, and each in turn had the colonial officers' long-service decoration pinned to his breast: Hon. Colonel J. Tilton, Lieut.-Col. John Macpherson, Lieut.-Col. J. P. Macpherson and Hon. Major A. S. Woodburn. The officers were then retired, and then dancing commenced.

Captain Morrison's Gallantry.

The decoration was awarded to Captain Morrison for gallantry at a rear-guard action at Lulliefontein on Nov. 7th, 1900. The action was fought by the Canadian mounted troops under Col. Leckard, consisting of the Royal Canadian Dragoons and two B. C. A. guns commanded by Lieut. Morrison. The Boers attacked Gen. Smith-Dorrien and tried to overwhelm the rear guard by firing from their horses. Two troops of the Canadian Dragoons, which were in the line at the time, sacrificed themselves to gain time for the guns to lumber up. Lieut. Morrison was wounded and captured, and only a few men of the two troops escaped. The Canadian platoon of the escort left and pursued by over 500 Boers. The latter gained rapidly on the tired gun horses. When they got within 700 yards Captain Morrison halted his last gun and fired into the charging line with shrapnel. This demoralized, though it did not stop, the charge, and some precious time was gained. The charge came on again, intent on getting the guns, but as they were closing in Lieut. Morrison came to Captain Morrison's assistance with his troop, and the cavalry again reeled. The Boers long enough to extricate the Canadian guns. Lieut. Turner was twice wounded, the Canadians rallied on the next ridge, where they were luckily reinforced at the critical moment by Col. Evans with a portion of the Canadian Mounted Infantry. The Boers pushed home their charge to within seventy yards of the Canadians, but were repulsed. Lieut. Cockburn, Lieut. Turner and Sergt. Holland, of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, were awarded the Victoria Cross. Captain Morrison, Gen. Smith-Dorrien's recommendation, was given the Distinguished Service Order decoration, "for the skill and coolness with which he worked and finally saved his guns."

BULLET IN HEART.

Moves Rhythmically With Each Beat of the Organ.

Berlin, April 7.—The thirty-first congress of the German Chiropractic Association opened here today with a discussion of the first treatment of the wounded in battle. Prof. von Bruns, detailing the reformed practice resulting from experiences in Cuba and South Africa, declared that antiseptic bandages were undoubtedly ideal for the battlefield, superseding antiseptic treatment.

Prof. Bergmann introduced several patients to illustrate the desirability as far as possible of not molesting wounds by probing and other operations. The most remarkable case was that of a man who attempted to commit suicide with a small calibre gun. The wound penetrated the heart, but the wound healed quickly. Subsequently "x" rays revealed the bullet lying on the right ventricle, bounding with each beat. Eventually it became encased and now moves rhythmically with the heart, not causing the least inconvenience.

MANITOBA'S WHISKEY NOTE.

The Liquor Act Defeated on the Referendum.

THE CITIES OPPOSED TO IT

Winnipeg, April 7.—Returns up to a late hour indicate the defeat of the Manitoba liquor act restricting the sale of liquor. The act was passed by the Legislature two sessions since. Enforcement was first withheld awaiting the decision of the courts, and today the act was referred to the people for rejection or approval. The weather was exceptionally fine in Winnipeg, and a very large vote was polled. The liquor men and anti-liquor men were very active, and carried the day in Winnipeg by 3,367; the totals standing 5,817 against the act and 2,450 for it. An unfortunate split in the temperance ranks and consequent inactivity greatly reduced the temperance vote, the Dominion Alliance leaders taking the stand that as the act was passed by the Legislature, it should be enforced without a referendum.

THE MANY ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF THE SCHOOLMA'NS.

ONE A HAMILTON GRADUATE.

Ottawa, April 7.—The forty young ladies who are going out to South Africa from Canada to instruct the young Boers in the English language and train them up in the ways of civilization are handsome, athletic specimens of Canadian womanhood. The Canadian soldier boys won the admiration and respect of brother Boer by their prowess upon the field of battle. It now becomes the duty of Canadian maidens to bring the blessings of education and refinement into the homes of the Dutch. If the young Boer farmers are at all susceptible to feminine influences one can easily foresee what will be the result of the arrival of such a bevy of handsome Canadian girls. When the news is spread abroad there will be a rush to surrender, and thus by peaceful influences will be accomplished what Kitchener with his mounted men and guns has failed to bring about. Of the accomplishments of the young ladies there is ample documentary evidence. All have a knowledge of music, and a great many can play the piano or the mandolin. Not a few have taken university degrees, and some have considerable proficiency in athletics. In the list of accomplishments also figures proficiency in the use of the rifle and in equitation and swimming. As to the personal attractions of the teachers their photographs demonstrate perfection in a marked degree, and it is well known that photographs do not lie. So far as is known the Government does not intend to provide a chaperon for the girls during their journey to South Africa, but young Canadians have been trained in habits of self-reliance, and can be trusted to look out for themselves. Nevertheless the spectacle of a shipload of charming girls bound on a long voyage across the Atlantic is calculated to strongly attract the masculine fancy, and the steamship company may be inundated with a rush of male passengers.

That there will be many opportunities of matrimony open to the Canadian teachers goes without saying. A fair Canadian girl, the susceptible Afrikaander, would hardly fail to ally himself with a fair Canadian? What greater guarantee could there be for the future happiness and prosperity of the King's dominions in South Africa? Here are the qualifications of a number of the teachers who are going to South Africa. For obvious reasons the names are suppressed:
