MARRIAGE MAXIMS.

*+++++++++++++++++++++ A marriage must be one of two things, happy or unhappy. It is an existence where but one condition can exist. You are supremely blest or you are cruelly cursed. The simple rules governing a happy marriage may be found in the following list: deviation from the same may not ensure discord, but it will certainly prevent accord. Read them over and the very simplicity of each one's duty to the other will appear not only slight but trivial; act upon them in all sincerity and you'll find that crowning happiness the human heart craves, "the love at home." HEALTH HINTS.

From an Official Circular by Buffale Health Officer.

(Buffalo Courier.) Women would not wear long trailing skirts if the wish of Health Commissioner Walter D. Greene were observed. In a pamphlet issued yesterday for gratuitous circulation Dr. Greene calls attention to some of the means whereby comsumption is spread. He declared that the skirts of women dragging on the streets and in street cars tend to stir up bacilli, which are thus carried from one place to another. "Women should not wear skirts that drag," said Dr. Greene. "It is the duty of women, for their own health and for the health of those about them, to wear short skirts. Dr. Greene's pamphlet calls attention to the growing dangers of tuberculosis, or consumption. For the year 1901 a comparison of the number of deaths from consumption with those from other causes is given as follows: Consumption, 471; as compared to 275 of cancer, 136 of diphtheria, 98 of typhoid fever, 64 of whooning cough, 45 of scarlet fever and two smallpox.

Some of the preventive measures recommended by Dr. Greene are: No consumptive mother should give nurse.

Consumptives should never marry. Never sleep with a consumptive. Consumptives should not kiss or In every case of chronic cough and expectoration, have the spotum examined. Do not use a public drinking cup until you have thoroughly rinsed it Avoid towels that have been used by others in public places, or towels used by consumptives. The linen of tuberculous persons must be disinfected or boiled before being brought in contact with the linen of others.

Any family having a tuberculous member should use extra precau tions wherever infection may take place, especially through dishes clothing or carelessness in expectorating, and should regularly cleanse and disinfect the room of such patient. Ladies' walking skirts should be so short as not to touch the ground by several inches. Trailing skirts
