

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Dotty Fair is visiting Miss Lot-tie Beaton.

Miss Allie Grant visited Flesher-ton friends last week.

Mr. H. H. Engel, Hanover, was in town over Sunday.

Messrs George and James Stinson wheeled to Guelph, Saturday.

Miss Ethel Kinnee came home from Toronto Monday on a month's holidays.

Mr. Joseph Lindsay left for West Superior, Michigan, on Tuesday morn-ing.

Messrs Bob, Jack, and Ed Burnett are home visiting their mother who is very ill.

Mrs. Wright, sr., of Ceylon, and her son John, were guests of her son Robt. here Sunday.

Mrs. Brunt and Miss Maggie Laidlaw, of Hanover, called on friends in town on Thursday.

Mr. Melvin Storey left Wednesday morning for Kingsville, where he has secured a good situation.

Messrs. Sandy McArthur and Archie McDougall were visitors at Mr. John Greenwood's family, Glenelg, last Thurs-day evening.

Miss Young, an aunt of Mrs. Farquharson, left Wednesday morning after being a guest at the mans. for a couple of weeks.

Miss Gertie King, of Mt. Forest, is the guest of Miss Sadie Carson, and sang with great acceptance at the Methodist social at Mrs. Sparling's Tues-day evening, and sang acceptably at church on Sunday.

Miss Bella Hughes has severed her connection with the Big Store after a term of 8 years in Mr. Hunter's employ. During that time she has been greatly valued by her employer, her relations with the rest of the staff and with the public were of the happiest kind.

FORAGE CROPS FOR SUMMER FEEDING.

The losses that occur annually to our farmers from the drying up of their pastures in July, August and September, should induce every stock man to grow a few acres of green feed. In most cases only personal experience with fodder plants will enable a farmer to ascertain which are best adapted to his own needs, and district. In the past the chief objection to soil-ing has been that time is too valuable to be employed for this purpose. But it is becoming very evident that on high priced lands, and with valuable herds or flocks, we cannot afford to neglect our stock during the summer droughts. Some suggestions as to the selection and growth of suitable crops for summer feeding are worthy of consideration.

In laying out the work it is necessary to know how many head of animals it is desired to feed. The following estimate has been made of the land required to produce sufficient green feed for a cow for one day. Of Lucerne or other clover 1/2 of a square rod per day; of barley, oats and pease rye, wheat or millet, 3/4 a square rod per day; of corn or sorghum 1/2 of a square rod per day. The above is a fair estimate for a day's feeding on land in a good state of cultivation, and with no allowance for pasture. No cow can possibly consume 1/2 a square rod of rye, barley, oats and pease or millet in a day's feeding, where there is a good strong growth. But allowing that the above estimate is approxi-mately correct, we find that one acre of these crops is sufficient to feed a cow for 320 days. The amount required by other kinds of stock can be calculated on this basis. It is always best to make a liberal allowance. There need be no waste since any surplus can be cut and cured for winter forage, or plowed under as green manure.

Next it will be necessary to consider the most suitable kind of crops to grow, and the periods at which each will be available. For general feeding, rye, clover, rape, pease and oats, vetches, millet, sorghum and corn, will be found most satisfactory, and the list named will cover practically the whole season, if sown at suitable intervals. Rye sown in the fall will provide the earliest feed in the spring. Clover, where it will grow well, comes next on the list, and will furnish an abundance of good feed during the latter half of June. Lucerne, or alfalfa, where the soil and climate are favor-able to its growth, should be given first place on the list of soiling crops. It can be cut almost as early in the spring as rye, and furnished at least three crops per season of highly ni-trogenous food. It is greatly relished by all kinds of stock, but is apt to cause bloating if carelessly pastured. Rape may be sown about the first of May on rich well prepared soil for early feeding, and additional sowings may be made at intervals as desired. It is advisable to sow rape in drills two feet apart, and cultivate as tor turnips. From one to two pounds of seed of the Dwarf Essex variety should be sown to the acre, if drilled in, or double the amount if sown broadcast. Rape produces large quantities of green feed and is one of the best foods for keeping animals, including pigs, sheep and calves, in good condition. It is not satisfactory for milch cows, owing to its tendency to injure the flavor of the milk.

Oats and pease make one of the very best soiling crops for general growth, particularly for feeding dairy cows. They should be sown as early in the spring as the ground will permit, and at intervals thereafter, at the rate of about three bushels per acre, (equal parts, or 2 bushels oats to 1 of pease.)

MIDWAY.

Well Mr. Editor it is so long since you received any items from this hamlet that you and such of your readers as have noticed "Midways" former doings will doubtless think that "Far" is dead. Such however is not the case, at least not wholly. Were we to offer any excuse for non-appearance of late it would simply be lack of time, abun-dance of work, and scarcity of impor-tant items during the past 8 months. Those of your dear readers, who have the experience, know that the farmers time for writing during this season of the year is pretty limited. His lot is of labor and earn his bread by the sweat of his brow. He naturally gets tired, he reads all kind of "ads", how to get rid of that tired feeling, among other cures, to wear "Kern made clothes", but they all fall short when Nature's receipt, of a solution of tincture of sleep mixed with a little essence of rest is tried. However we will try to send a few stems, in order that Midway be not entirely forgotten.

The voice of the politician is heard. Surprising that a little assistance is so highly valued around election time. It is also surprising how much nearer and more intimate the M P's and the common people become at this particu-lar time. We will not venture any pre-diction as to the outcome, let the 29th decide, but every man that is endowed with manhood's franchise, should go to the poll and exercise that franchise ac-cording to the honest dictates of his conscience. 'Tis in the hands of the common people the issue lies, they are in the large majority. Abraham Lin-cold's noted saying might here be ap-plicable, viz., "That the Lord must love the common people", when asked of "why" replied, "because he made so many of them."

Our people turned out in goodly num-bers and attended the liberal candidate's meetings in Hampden, Neustadt, and Aytton. They were all one-sided as no opposition was present at any of them. The Dr comes this week to give us the picture of the other side, and we are all liberal minded enough to go and hear both sides, and then draw our own conclusions. We are not prejudiced or narrow-minded on any subject in "Mid-way". We will therefore be in a posi-tion to cast an intelligent ballot.

The sound of wedding bells is again faintly heard in the distance. This sound always brings a tinge of joy to the hearers, those who have already heard their own wedding bells chime, look back with joy to the past event while those less fortunate are inspired with new hope for the future. Particu-lars later.

HENRY'S CORNER.

The man who are working at the Lake for the Cement Co are making good headway and will soon have it completed.

Mr J G Johnston has treated himself to a new top buggy purchased from Mr McKinnon. "Golf if I had known I would have had one sooner."

We are pleased to hear that Mr John Wilson who has been under the Dr's care is improving nicely.

Mrs G Hunter, Teacher was visiting friends in Proton last Saturday.

Mrs C Falconer is at present visiting her parents Mr and Mrs Thos Daily.

Messrs W T Petrie of Holstein and A J Chisholm called around the Corners Mrs James Henry is at present in a very poor state of health. We hope to see her around again.

Messrs R Henry and Charlie McEachern of Robb visited on the 20th on Sunday.

Dromore.

Seeding is now a thing of the past and the farmers are beginning to pre-pare for the root crop. Heavy frosts last week we fear has done more damage than we are able to recognize.

Mr J M Findlay our merchant has in a fine line of summer goods and with two active clerks, Messrs John Laugh-ton and H Stern is able to do justice to all comers.

Mr Renwick started to cut shingles last week and has now lots of lumber lath and shingles on hand. Mr Ren-wick has a good mill and can turn out a first class article.

Miss Beanie Garson returned to Tor-onto last week.

Mr Andrew Leslie of Mt Forest, but formerly of this place was renewing old acquaintances last week.

The Laughon family had the pleas-ure of entertaining friends last week.

Mr Tom Henderson visited his old home on Sunday last and spent an hour or so with his sister Mrs D Ferguson who has been ill for some time. We are sorry to say she is not improving as fast as we would like to report.

The home of Mr and Mrs John Snell was brightened on Friday morning last the 9th when Mrs Snell presented her husband with a bouncing baby boy. We are pleased to say that both are doing well.

The Rev Mr McKay of Toronto and Secy of the British and Foreign Mission preached in Amos Church last Sabbath and ably made clear to his audience the duty and responsibility of the Christian nation to the heathen nation.
