to stand alone in condemning sin, "In every moral issue stand by your minister," the call promises obedience and they should remember he has promised the same to higher courts. The importance of the financial promise was not overlooked. He urged them to support him by prayer, by attendance at prayer meeting, by readiness and promptness of young and old to come to the House of God, and when in trouble take him into their confidence. The doctor was summoned in case of sickness, while the minister was left to find out and sometimes blamed if he didn't, the reasonable course being to let him know too.

After devotional exercises and the benediction, an informal reception was held and the large congregation were introduced to the new pastor.

The Evening Meeting was convened about 8 p. m., and again there was a large attendance. Rev. Mr. Campbell, the moderator, just relieved from his duties, was in the chair and was particularly happy in experience and expression over the union that day made, and the part he had taken in it. On the testimony of Rev. Mr. Graham, given later, he had made a most valiant fight before the O. Sound Presbytery, and swayed that body, almost against its will, into acquiescence with the translation just consummated. That the congregation appreciated Mr. Campbell's good offices was well known and made known by a handsome acknowledgment.

The speakers of the evening were Revs. McCullough, Farquharson, Nelson, Reid, Kendall and Graham. The latter at some length related the regrets felt by the O. Sound Presbytery at losing Mr. Little, and made appreciative references to the work and worth of his late fellow presbyter, and his estimable wife and family. The others all spoke briefly as did also Mr. C. Ramsay, of the Durham Review, and of course the prevailing note was congratulations to pastor and people on the happy union and good wishes for the future. Mr. Little was at the close called upon and contented himself by making a few brief but appropriate remarks thanking all for the kindness shown and promised.

The Music

Separating the addresses were well-rendered selections of music given by such well-known and capable soloists as Miss King, Miss Jean Renwick, Dr. Brown, Messrs Hood and Wm. Ramsay. Rev. Mr. Reid also gave a solo. The accompanists were Miss King, Miss Ethel Sharp and Miss L. Mickletoront. Miss S. McEwen, church organist, played for the afternoon services.

Notes

The proceeds of the Soiree part was about $95.

The church is a very comfortable and commodious one, and the very effective floral display was a delightful feature.

The congregation deserve congratulations for the very handsome way they have fitted up the manse for its new occupants. The taste and workmanship displayed are admirable.

Holstein seems a thrifty village, an example of industry and progress as well. Fine residences and well filled stores. New and handsome residences are being erected by Messrs. Petrie, R. McClelland and McKinnon.

In company with Mr. R. McFarlane, Sr., we were shown through the large butter factory, so successfully for many years. It is now among the largest in the province having turned out 185 tons of butter in 1901, and since the 13th of May last they have turned out over 21000 lbs. The President is Thos. Brown, Secy., W. J. Sharp, and the Managers Messrs. Thair and Hood. A new and improved churn is being added to meet increased demands. This institution pays shareholders very substantial dividends.

The Petrie Flour Mill is one of the important industries of the place doing a large business.

A well-ordered hostelry is that of Mr. Klennip and he is liberally patronized.

The two tinmiths, Seaman and Drum, are both busier and each reports plenty to do.

Messrs J. D. Brown and Waddell have good general stores. Pleased to meet at the latter Mr. Robert Taylor son of the late Alex. Taylor of Dromore.

Miss Booth, formerly of Boothville, P. office, is a popular young lady at the wicket of the post office here. Postmaster Calder bears his honors lightly.

Mrs. Peter Browne, we were sorry to hear, was unable to be out. Mr. Robt Kerr, undergoing an operation that day for appendicitis, has since died, and much sympathy is felt for his widow and 6 small children.

THE BIG STORE

J. A. HUNTER,

VARIETY — VALUE

TWO FACTORS IN THE UP-TO-DATE LIVE BUSINESS HOUSE OF TO-DAY.

We have the Variety beyond a question of a doubt and its for you to say whether we have the value or not. We can't commence to tell you in this little space all about our business, but we can tell you that we want you to join the crowd and deal at the Big Store. Try it a few times anyhow. Learn what sort of business people we are: How we do business. You will find out that we buy almost anything in the way of produce and will pay SPOT CASH for it. Will sell you almost anything you require from Silks to Stoves and if you dont get the right thing bring it back and get your money refunded. We give a check with every purchase large or small and we keep a copy of it. We try to insure you against any loss of any kind. The more Stores you see the more you'll think of The Big Store. Our growth has been wonderful in the last ten years. It is most gratifying to us to see the steady increase in the number of customers. We consider your coming again infinitely more important than your first purchase. We never use undue influence to press a sale, you are the doctor and know what you want. We are here to give it to you that's all.

NEW HARDWARE DEPT

is the latest addition to our Store. Don't be afraid to ask us for anything in the Hardware Line now for we have increased our Stock and our Manager of this Department Mr. Theobald will be pleased to show you what you want. Drop in and see him. We have men coming in every day saying the change is a great improvement and promising us their Hardware Trade.

HOPEVILLE

The election is past but not forgotten. Many rumors are going around of the doings in Divisions No 2x3 in Pruton, Hopeville, and Swinton Park. In the Hopeville Div., Mr Binnie received a much larger vote than was expected. Some of the Dr's supporters did not work faithful and there are wild rumors about the count not being correct. All the scrutineers give a less number of votes for Mr Binnie than the reports that come from Durham. Then in Swinton Park every person counted on Mr Binnie getting a nice majority, but it is now said if true, that some of his workers sold him for some social notoriety, but such is life, the Dr's majority was 3 there.

The McLeach church party here is having daily meetings and appealing to the people for funds. The meeting commenced last Sunday with three meetings that day, and is to be kept up as long as the people feel able. There are preachers from Toronto here.

The Proton Council has purchased a grader, and we understand it is working well. They are going to hold the 7th meeting for this year on Saturday evening the 14th at Proton Station.

A new bridge on the 12th side road, Con 15, that was built this spring by our Council, broke down and fell about eight feet, by it is alleged, a spring wagon going over it with some few dozen of eggs. The council very promptly sent men on and had it rebuilt.

Andrew Dean, from Sauls St Marie, is here on a visit.

MULL CORNER.

The raising of Mr S Putherbough's barn took place Thursday afternoon last. We must congratulate Mr T Torry, councillor the winning captain he being little acquainted in this vicinity, however he knew how to choose good men.

Miss M Fletcher left for Toronto last week.

Mr T Turnbull, of Woodbridge, visited in the neighborhood last week.

Misses Sarah and Jane Putherbough are home on a month's vacation from Toronto.

Miss Annie McCormack, of Walkerton, passed through here Monday, en route for her home at Bunnassan.

We are sorry to hear of Mrs J Clark Jr., being ill, but trust she will soon recover.

Miss Campbell, of Mulock, is visiting Miss Julia McLean for a few days.

Miss Tena McCormack is home for a week's holiday.
