TOWN TOPICS

The Review to January 1, 1903, 25 cts. Herbageum, the great Horse and Cattle Spice, at—Grant's.

25 CENTS.—We will send the Review to any address on the continent till Jan. 1, 1903 for this sum. Our friends will oblige us by making this offer known.

SEP. 23rd AND 24th.—This is the date of South Grey's Big Show and friends at a distance who intend to visit Durham should time themselves to be here.

W. C. T. U.—A meeting of this body will be held on Friday at 3 p. m. at Rev. Alex. Stewart's. A full attendance is requested as this is a business meeting.

CAMPERS.—Quite a number of our young people are camping on the banks of the Rocky Saugeen, where scenery and attractiveness, equalling Muskoka, can be found.

A RUN-OFF.—Tuesday evening, spreading rails caused a run off on the G. T. R. happily without causing much delay or damage. Monday a similar accident occurred at the cement works, also without serious loss.

ALL AT IT.—If many eyes are turned on Manitoba's big harvest, all hands available are at work on our own. Since the middle of last week the weather has been good, and another week or 10 days of it will be welcome.

FANCY HORSE FLESH.—Mr. Wm. Black shipped his handsome Bay Mare to Glasgow, Scotland, and received a handsome price for her. Mr. Black seems to have made a profitable connection between the right kind of horse and the right kind of purchasers.

The Largest and Finest Stock of Practice Books at Darling's Drug Store.

FARM FOR SALE.—Containing 100 acres Lots 45&46, 1st Con., N. D. R. Glenelg, one mile west of Pricville. The farm is well watered, 75 acres under cultivation, with good buildings. For particulars, apply to Peter McKechnie, Newville, N. Dakota, U. S.

"OVER THERE."—A late issue of the Weekly News Review, of Thayer, Indiana, contains the advertisement of Albert McClinton, a new furniture dealer and undertaker in Rose Lawn, Indiana. Albert is an old Durham boy, and his many friends here are proud of his enterprise and wish him success.

ACCOUNTS.—All parties owing me are requested to call without delay and make settlement by cash or note. I can be found at the Big Store for a short time, but have to leave earlier than I expected. J. A. HUNTER.

BROKEN LEG.—Miss Marion Morton, while assisting at the harvest on a hay rake had the misfortune to be thrown off in a runaway, and got her leg broken. At any time painful and awkward it is peculiarly so at present, as she was next week to enter on Model School work here. We hope she may make a speedy recovery.

Ladies' Black Satin Underskirts at—Grant's.

SAFELY LAUNCHED.—Wednesday morning last the Cement Co., without any fuss or sentiment launched the monster dredge—scooped on Wilder's Lake, and the thing now floats drawing less than a foot of water. When all the machinery now being rapidly installed, is in position, it wont, we are informed draw 2 feet. Its dimensions are 43 x 45 feet, and it we reckon right, that area of water, 2 feet deep would weigh nearly 250 tons, so there is quite a margin for the massive machinery, engines, cranes, dredge, &c., &c., which compose its outfit. The trestlework at the great tank is being constructed this week. The foundations, imposingly solid, of the Laboratory, are in position, just north of the office, and at many points further from the fence, we presume other parts of this vast machine are receiving finishing touches. We hope the management will be able to have an exhibit of Durham Cement ready for Secy Davidson to place at the fall show.

Go to Macfarlane's for school supplies.

"BUSINESS."—This heading in a recent issue of the "Oban Times" looked familiar. It was not the Glenelg P. O. however, but the original spot in Mull it is named after. To many of Highland blood round here the names and doings of their countrymen 'over there' will be of interest: "On Coronation Day a grand treat was given by His Grace the Duke of Argyll to the children of the Ross of Mull. The scholars of Bunnassan School assembled in the school at ten o'clock and marched in procession with banners, headed by a piper, to the grounds at Ardachy. The children from Creich, Erraid, and Ardechaig Schools were assembled at Tiregoil. The Rev. Duncan MacLean, parish minister, conducted a short service at both places, explaining the different steps taken in the ceremony of the Coronation of a King. There was a great turnout at both places, and especially at Tiregoil of grown-up people. The children enjoyed the games thoroughly and were rewarded by new copies of the realm direct from the Mint. Mr Cameron, Sheepknowe, superintended at Tiregoil, while Mr McMaster, teacher, took charge at Ardachy.

A LAUNCHING IN N. EGREMONT.

(By Our Correspondent.)

Not so many years ago, four or five decades perhaps, that body of water, originally known as "Wilder's Lake," nestled in its primitive solitude, a secluded spot for wild ducks and other water fowl, nothing to disturb their seclusion and quietude save the swish of falling trees, the crash of heaven's artillery, or the screech of the midnight owl. Of late, and during the last 3 months, mysterious sounds and tapplings, which could sometimes be heard for several miles, have taken the place of the wood man's axe or the click of the mower in recent years.

This all culminated on Wednesday of last week, when the scow, or dredge, or more properly, large pontoon, was let slip from its moorings into the water.

A large concourse of spectators to the number of about 200 gathered to witness the event at 2 p. m. But alas! unseasonable officialdom had already stepped in and decreed that it should take place at 11 a. m., thus disappointing the larger number. As it was, however, the pontoon slid successfully and gracefully down the ways, but not with sufficient force to clear the marl at the bottom. It had then to be forced onward with jacks, a slow tedious process but certain in the end. At length when one corner was afloat, a long hauser was attached from it to the locomotive some 150 yds up the track, when with a long pull and a strong pull and a triumphant whistle from the engine, it finally floated on the bosom of the lake at 4 p. m.

The people, at first much disappointed, consoled themselves by reflecting that they had seen the real launching—when the vessel first floats. The officials, about 12 in number, left shortly before the noon hour. A rumor went around that Mrs. Jamieson was to christen it—wonder what she would have called it? If any honors are going we think Mr. Neil McKechnie, the first to work the thing up, should not be forgotten. It has one resemblance to him, it is built on the square, and is sound.

Here it is destined to remain for many years. It will certainly never come out in one piece. We are told that four tons of spikes and nine tons of bolts have been used in construction. Foreman Abbey and his men know their business thoroughly and are ever courteous to visitors and expressed their regret at the seeming disappointment, which they were unable to prevent.

Mr. Dea, the head machinist of the Polson Works, is now on hand to superintend the placing of the machinery, much has yet to be done before the mammoth orange peel scow takes its first plunge into the white marl that lies under the clear and placid water of Wilder's Lake.

County Com. Allan represented the County. Mr. Wm Lawrence, ex-deputy reeve of the township, and Mr. J. McCreve Murdock, Insp. of W. & M. visited the scene later in company with Post master Calder of Holstein. Some from the second concession came prepared to stay for a while with well-filled hamper and the boats were well utilized by the youth and beauty present.

SCHOOL OPENING.—All kinds of School Books and Supplies at Darling's Drug Store.

A large quantity of McCormack binder twine for sale at the Durham Foundry. C. SMITH.

LABOR DAY.—Monday next being a legal holiday, the bank and post office will not be open all day. The usual afternoon delivery of mail of course.

REVIEW DAY.—Monday is Labor Day but everyday is Review Day and 25 cts. gets it to the end of the year. Give us your name or that of an absent friend.

Take a walk, that's what Jas. Ireland has said to over two hundred pairs of Shoes that are in broken lots and sizes. The prices are pulled down to the last rungs on the ladder.

S. G. WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.—A meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Wm. J. Derby, Vickers, on Thursday, Sept. 4th, and will commence at 2 o'clock p. m. All ladies are invited to attend. KATE L. DIXON, Secy.

THE EXODUS.—Last Thursday morning, Durham Station, in common no doubt with all in Western Ontario was busier than usual the str being caused by the demand for harvest hands in our great western wheat field. This year it is observed more women are going and also more family groups. Amongst the number taking the train though possibly we haven't half of them, were: C. Stewart, C. Ector, Jno. Jas and Thos. Henderson, Howard McGirr and sister Jennie, — Reay, Jno Moore, Geo Brown, Mal Stewart, H. Aldred, Mrs Jas Staples and son Fred, Miss Mary Sharp, Geo Matthews and daughter Lizzie, Lytle Hutton, — Dennet, — Ledingham, — McDougall, Wm Alexander, Wm Ford, wife and 3 children. Misses Mary and Maggie Porter and Jennie Matthews left for Toronto.

REV. ALEX. STEWART.
1812—1902
First Pastor Durham Baptist Church
WELL AND TRULY LAID.
Corner Stone Ceremony. Fine Weather

Wednesday of last week, Aug. 20, amongst Durham Baptists, for on that day the first public function in connection with their new church building was held with appropriate ceremonies, in weather delightfully fine for an outdoor function.

The choir of the church at the opening of the service and at intervals led in appropriate music. An opening prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Cline, of Owen Sound and it was marked by the piety and thankfulness so fitting at a time when a new temple for the worship of God was not only planned but under way.

Rev. Wray R. Smith, of the Methodist church showed his interest and sympathy with his Baptist brethren, whose progress was inspiring, and he hoped that with a new church, new and widened influence would be wielded by them in the gospel field, in which there was ample room for workers of all denominations.

Rev. Mr. Cline was on his first visit to Durham and he was pleased that it was on such a happy occasion. He quoted Carlyle as saying that a man's religion was the key to his life. Hell, religion and education were united, in putting down ignorance and atheism. It spoke well for public opinion that there was rejoicing at the foundation of a church, something there was no cause for at the laying of a corner stone of a poor house, a brewery, or a saloon. In the fight against the world and worldly influence, independence was necessary, and he was proud of the church in insisting on paying their taxes, and hoped the time would yet come when all churches would do so, for thereby they would be strengthened. He then went on to show that the church i. e., goodness, was profitable not only in spiritual but in material things. It was so also in social things, warning all influences, though sometimes meeting with icebergs. Labor troubles would vanish were the churches respected more than at present. The church insisted on government also and this could be plainly seen if churches were closed for a time, for "if men lost faith in a Divine Providence anarchy would follow." No fear of such result could be entertained however, for "the church of Christ was an anvil that had worn out many a hammer." He closed with an able address by hoping that it would be dedicated free of debt.

Dr. Jamieson, M. P. P. followed in a congratulatory strain and made reference to the devotion he had observed on a recent trip to Quebec, where the habits here built and worship in splendid churches. He made his remarks brief, seeing his wife was to follow, a more important personage than him that day.

Next came the venerable Alex. Stewart, whose vigor of mind and body, belied the proverb, he introduced himself with "once a man, twice a child." To listen to Mr Stewart, speaking from the pinnacle of two generations of experience, is a treat in itself. It was almost thrilling to have him point out the spot behind Mr. McComb's house 10 rods away, where 50 years ago, he held bush meetings. "I have lived long but I'm not tired yet" and the veteran, we believe, could almost be persuaded to dive into another new settlement, 90 years and all. He was glad to meet Mr. Cline, who was of the most orthodox of Baptist families, Dr. Spencer, too, most zealous in Mission work. Complimented Mr Newton by saying "actions speak louder than words" and pointed to the new manse alongside, and the business in hand. Gallantly too he complimented Mrs Newton for her faith and Spirit, and gracefully hoped Mrs Jamieson would long continue to be a worthy leader in society.

Mr John Brown read the document containing the record of the church and its ministers, the substance of which we give below.

Rev. Mr Newton then presented to Mrs Jamieson a silver trowel, with which she very gracefully performed the symbolic ceremony of laying the corner stone.

Rev. Mr Spencer, Brantford, is an able and eloquent speaker, was here for the first time also, glad to assist an old friend like Mr Newton at such an interesting time. Mr Newton was a man of faith and experience and he hoped the membership would rally around him and strengthen him in his work. He also spoke of the power of the churches

Lacrosse Notes.

Durham Juniors defeated Hanover Juniors again Tuesday evening in an exhibition match by a score of 4 to 3. The return match will be played in Hanover on Monday, Labor Day, when we hope to see our boys win as the last match in Hanover resulted in a tie.

Brantford are champions of their Senior district No. 1, having won 9 games and lost 2 with 1 game still to play.

Senior district No. 2, has been easily captured by Woodstock.

Owen Sound defeated Collingwood Friday last in Owen Sound by a score of 20-0. The return match will be played in Collingwood today, (Wednesday), where it is expected Owen Sound will win easily. We wish the Owen Sound boys success now in landing the intermediate championship. Fergus now appears to be the hardest team for them to conquer as it tied Seaford in Seaford by a score of 6-6.

Copper Cliff and Bracebridge are winners of Intermediate districts Nos. 1 and 2. They played their first game Tuesday in Copper Cliff. Owen Sound will likely play the winner.
