The editor of this paper will be as glad to publish for you as for your neighbor, the names of your guests or visitors, or any item of local news of general interest. The only condition is that we become possessed of the facts, and we courteously ask our friends to send or hand in such to either of our offices—we will do the rest.

AT THE CEMENT WORKS. Loads of clay are arriving and the preparatory work of drying and grinding begins this week.

Last Thursday evening for the first time three powerful arc lights were lit on the grounds and their refugence was seen a long way off. These are run by the big dynamo which is now in position and working satisfactorily.

The supports for the high trestle work are being placed this week and last. It will be a most imposing sight.

Vast quantities of coal were laid in before the recent rise in price, though we presume it will require steady buying when fully under way.

COMING EVENTS.—Cast their shadows before, is an old proverb. We were reminded of this a few days ago when Mr. Peter McInnis, informed us he was in the field for Glenelg Council for 1902. He is particularly proud of a promise he made at the last nomination when he told the electors that if they wanted their barns well filled they were to vote for McInnis. They did vote for him and lo! they have the promised result. Of course he thinks that such a promise fulfilled is a good guarantee for future success.

No man conducting business dependent upon public patronage can do so profitably for any length of time unless business is kept prominently before the public in the paper published in his town. It is all very fine to talk of the people all knowing where to find him, but unfortunately for the man who does not advertise, the people do not buy that way. Four times out of five the goods were practically bought before leaving the house. That is the place of business and the goods to be purchased had been selected from advertisements in the paper. If you are represented there you reap the benefit; if not, well, you don't. Many persons, too, decide on purchasing goods they would not have thought of but for having their attention called to them in an advertisement. Advertising not only brings people to your place of business but makes it easier to sell your goods when you have them there. The prosperous business is invariably one well advertised.

HYMENEAL. CARTER—O'NEIL.

On Tuesday, Sept. 23rd last, at 10 a. m., St. John's church, Glenelg, was the scene of a pretty wedding, when Miss Lizzie O'Neil united heart and hand with Mr. Jas. Carter of Owen Sound, who is bookkeeper and shipping master of the basket factory there. Father Hauck performed the marriage ceremony while Father Murphy of Dundalk, celebrated the mass. The bride was attractively attired in white organdy and the bridesmaid Miss Nellie O'Neil, was also very nice in a gown of biscuit colored cloth. The bride's travelling dress was of light gray ladies' cloth. Mr. McCurry, of O. Sound was groomsmen.

The ceremony over the guests to the number of about 30 enjoyed a sumptuous dinner at Mr. Peter O'Neil's, and the young people, as they well know how spent a pleasant afternoon and evening an elegant tea being also partaken of. The happy couple left for the evening train at Markdale for O. Sound, carrying the hearty good wishes of all [In which the Review desires to join.—Ed.] The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents. Guests from a distance were: Mr. McCurry and his sisters, O. Sound; Willie O'Neil, Toronto; Dan Lenahan, Mildmay.

BROWNSVILLE. The orangemen's picnic on the 23rd in John Hardy's bush was fairly well attended considering the weather which was very threatening all day. The programme was good, the playing of the bagpipes by Mr. McDonald, Priceville, was very much appreciated and also all the other selections were excellently rendered.

A serious accident might have happened had J. McDougall not been smart and caught Geo. Witter's horse. As Mr. Witter was chatting to a man behind his rig and not watching his lines of horse came near enough to run the high one over the end of the crossway, the horse became unmanageable and broke loose from his wagon by breaking the tugs and hold-backs in the struggle. J. caught and held the horses.

Miss Mary Ann McFarlane, after several weeks spent at her brother's, returns to Toronto soon. J. McDougall called on friends on the townline, Glenelg.

We sympathize with Mr. Abe Haw in his trouble and hope his daughter may recover from her severe illness. Mr. Abe Haw is coming in to Angus McDougall's this week to thrash.

A young tory arrived at Herman Haw's last week. All are well. Alex McLean has bought Mrs. Bell's property.

BOOTHVILLE.

We are sorry to write this week the death of Mr. Archibald Clark Dromore, who died Sept. 25th. He was in poor health for the last two years, but was always able to go around till the day before he died. Mr. Clark was born in Islay, Scotland, in 1834. His parents and his sisters and brothers came to Canada in 1852, when he was a young boy of 18. They settled in Chinchy for a few years. Then a year in Glenelg, and then moved on lot 21, con. 18, they having taken up a lot for each son Archie, Donald and Neil, where they worked and cleared for themselves comfortable homes, and as his father before him had done he left each of his 3 sons in the possession of a farm.

Mr. Clark was a man of sterling qualities. He loved the good and beautiful, despised the mean and the base, and in all his dealings he was manly, honest, and his word was as good as his bond. He loved peace and order. He was a great reader and well versed in the good literature of the present day, and above all things he read and studied was the bible to whose pages he daily went for grace and strength. As the outer man was daily failing the inner man was strengthened and built up. He was highly respected by all who knew him.

In politics he was a staunch Reformer. Mr. Clark was a member of the Presbyterian church, and was a faithful attendant at the house of God. His seat was seldom vacant while at all able to go, and was a liberal supporter of all the schemes of the church.

Mr. Clark was one of a family of nine. He was the oldest son, 3 sisters being older and 3 sons younger. Donald in Wyoming; Neil on the old homestead; Mrs. William McLeod, of Glenelg; Mrs. Charles McQueen, of Egremont; Mrs. Neil McCannel, Glenelg.

The beautiful casket was decorated most handsomely by a round wreath made of mountain moss surrounded by lilies and roses with the inscription of father across the centre made by his daughter Flora, and a cross of white lilies and geranium leaves with nle on it was made by his nieces the Clark girls, also a large bouquet of Scotch thistle and lilies tied up with a black ribbon by his niece Miss Maggie McCannel. A number of others brought flowers. The pallbearers were his three sons, and three nephews, Neil McCannel, Neil McLeod, John McQueen.

He was in his 68th year. He leaves a wife and 5 children to mourn his departure. Mrs. John McMillan, Proton; Neil, Findlay, Archie and Flora at home. His pastor Rev. Mr. Campbell, officiated both at the house and at the grave speaking very highly of the departed one. Mr. Clark in sickness was patient, and will long be missed by his own household.

The remains were followed to the grave by a large number of friends and neighbors. Among the friends from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Dan McQueen, Stayner; Mr. and Mrs. Frances McLeod, Sarnidale.

Mrs. Clark and family have the sympathy of the whole community in which the REVIEW joins.
