Rejoicings At Yeovil.

COLERIDGE-REID-Nuptials.

On Wednesday last one of those happy events that cause a responsive thrill in most hearts of maturing age, either of anticipation or of reflection, took place at the residence of Mr. John Reid, just west of Yeovil, when his second daughter Jessie united heart and hand with Mr. Wm. Coleridge, now of Owen Sound, but formerly of Yeovil, and a resident of North Egremont all his life.

The ceremony took place at 5 p. m. The parlor was very tastefully decorated, and an arch of evergreens and roses made an attractive bow for the young couple to step under. A most pretty decoration was the sunlight effect. The day had been overcast heavily, but shortly before the mating hour, the western sun broke through the clouds and flooded the bridal chamber with sunny radiance. As the joyous strains of the wedding march played by Miss E. Rawn floated on the air the bride entered leaning on the arm of her father and took her place under the arch beside her husband to be. She was supported by her sister Miss Jennie, while Mr. Thos. Coleridge, barrister, of London, held a like position for his brother. Rev. Mr. Trux, Holstein, then in the usual formulae took from the contracting parties the promises that are to be kept 'till death do you part,' and declared them man and wife. Congratulations and good wishes from the 60 or more guests followed, and the company were then sumptuously entertained round a table laden with the good things of life, and much to please the eye as well as the palate.

The bride, a handsome and attractive young woman, was most becomingly attired in a dress of pale blue cloth with white silk front and trimmed with applique. Her travelling dress was of navy blue homespun faced with lace. The bridesmaid looked charming also in dark blue lady cloth with trimmings similar to the bride's.

The banquet over adjournment was made to the parlor where games of various kinds were indulged in. An impromptu program was gotten up and Rev. Mr. Trux in a happy manner warded speeches, music, songs, etc. from the company. Mr. Wm. Ramage contributed generously in vocal music. Mrs. Wright, Miss Rawn and others furnished fine instrumental music, while little addresses all centered in a congratulatory strain were made by a large number. The bridegroom replied feebly, and at the close "God be with you etc." was sung. The rest of the evening was spent with a happy informality, and the company broke up in the small hours of morning, having a last good-bye and good wish for the happy couple and hearty appreciation of the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Reid.

The presents were numerous, useful and pretty and included a handsome gold watch, the gift of the groom, one large parlor lamp, kitchen lamp, bedroom lamp, two water sets, tea set, bedroom set, gold edged berry set with spoon, two parlor lamps, silver fruit dish, silver celery dish and sugar spoon china fruit dish, glass fruit dish, coffee pot, tea pot, chess dish, volume "Life of Queen Victoria," china berry set, mantle clock, two pair window curtains two bed spreads, three linen tablecloths, colored tablecloth, silk table throw, fine bureau scarf, set toilet mats, quilts, blankets, &c.

Relatives and near neighbors of both parties in the township were present, including the bridegroom's mother, and among visitors from a distance were Mrs. Wm. Gray, Alma; Mr. and Mrs. Crosby, Harrison; Mr. and Mrs. Legate and daughter Irene, Ceylon; Mr. Thos. Coleridge, London; Mrs. W. Reid, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Pinneck, Holstein; Mr. and Mrs. C. Ramage, Durham; Mr. and Mrs. R. Wright, Ceylon; Miss S. Coleridge, Fordyce.

Edge Hill.

A number from around here attended the World's Fair at Holstein last Tuesday and report a good time.

Sorry to hear of Master Clarence Staples being ill with typhoid fever. Mr. Thos. Armour, of Owen Sound, was a caller on friends on the avenue one day recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Petch left last Tuesday for their home in the West. Mr. Geo. A. Staples, who came home last Wednesday to see his little brother who is very ill, returned on Monday to North Bay.

Miss Annie Aijoe left Tuesday for Toronto where she intends to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Collier attended Walkerton Fair a couple of weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. Annes Weick of town, visited at Mr. D. McFayden's one day lately.

Mr. Geo. McKay of Owen Sound, visited his sister, Mrs. H. McFayden one day recently.

Mr. Geo. Staples while at the exhibition in Toronto, purchased a thoroughbred Tamworth hog from Douglas & Son of Mitchell. He believes in improved stock.

HOPEVILLE

Intended for last week Orange Picnics are fashionable, three having been held in Proton this year, and we hear there is some grumbling amongst the older heads who see danger of some infringement of the principles of the institution. First was near Kingscote, one last week in Cedarville and another near Swinton Park. There was a good attendance and a number of Dundalk and Egremont vocalists assisted with songs, &c. Piper J. McDonald, Priceville furnished some good music. Some canvassing was done in view of the coming municipal election, by an ex-reeve and a few others. The picnic was kept up to a late hour and we believe a runaway team made a smash of a democrat. The money results were good.

Mr. Kenning is home again. Mr. McLesch has also arrived in our midst.

Mr John Campbell is gaining slowly.

Mr Thos Spence, of 1-10 con. had a son only a few weeks old die on Sept 22. It was buried on the 23rd at E-plin.

Our apprentice blacksmith, Richard Davis, spent a few days in Gleneg with his parents.

This Week's Budget.

Proton Council met here on 27th inst. There is talk of another lawsuit against the township over an old crossway in the east, which, while being repaired was left unguarded at night and a waggon came to grief an old man being thrown out and having his arm broken.

Our horseman Geo Willshire took his two young bloods to O. Sound and won first and second prize.

J C Hall has gone to Sault Ste Marie to see his father who is sick.

Jas McMurdo is home from the Soo to visit his parents.

Municipal talk is becoming common, it being rumored that the present reeve and some of the council are retiring. Nothing definite as yet.

CAMP NOTES.

We arrived here after a pleasant trip. We were joined at Mt Forest by the contingent of the 30th, but as they went by rail all the way we parted company at Guelph. The lake was very calm so all thoroughly enjoyed the trip. At Toronto we were joined by the Owen Sound, Clarksonburg, Flesherton and Meaford Co's under command of Capt's Frost, MacKay, Telford, Chisholm and Korke, Lieut MacFarlane and Capt. Finlay respectively.

Major Cleland of Meaford is now attached to the musketry course. The staff is as follows: Col. Campbell commanding, Major Korke, second in command and Major Sproule, adjt.

The Quarter-masters this year accompanied their regiments instead of being there one day in advance, consequently there was considerable tent pitching to do on arrival at camp and things did not settle-down as quickly as on some occasions.

We have had considerable rain since our arrival in camp, but it has nearly all fallen during the nights, so that with one exception we have missed no parade. The Durham contingent are all in excellent health—except one, who, at time of writing thinks he has eaten too many grapes!

The camp this year presents quite a different appearance to other years. Each regiment occupies one row of tents instead of eight as usual. We expect a sham battle on Tuesday and Lord Dunsandel leaves for the artillery camp that evening. Particulars later.
