GLENROADEN

Miss Winnie Banks, who has spent the summer at Jackson Point, has returned to her home and after a few days recreation will take a position in Miss M. Dick's millinery store.

Owing to the early wind and rain storms Mr Angus McCormick was unable to take his annual trip to the Manitoulin Island. It has been his custom for several years to combine a business and pleasure trip and very frequently he has brought back excellent specimens of Manitoulin farm stock.

Mr Robert Young is visiting his sister Mrs G Boyd.

We are all pleased to know that the report of the drowning of the Bell boys of Lafona, was only a case of misplaced recognition as they reached home safe and sound a few days ago. It is quite uncertain yet which of the fair ones of Glenroaden Mr Ed Bell will make Queen of his western home for we understand a decided preference has been given to Jack Wilkie, altho' if Bob remains here all winter he may spoil the pie for both of them.

The pupils of Miss Bessie Banks will be sorry to learn that owing to the stress of circumstances she has decided to take a course in domestic science.

The noisy buzz of our busy mill may be heard from time to time as the occasion demands. Indications would lead us to believe that lumber will be in great demand this season among our neighbors. Only a few days ago one of our young men who sometime in the last century passed from boyhood into manhood was seen thoughtfully inspecting the empty houses in our village. On enquiry we found he had been disappointed in not getting the house on lot 33.

Already Xmas arrangements are being made.

Messrs Jas Heslop and Banks intend taking in Toronto sights.

Jas Anderson, on his way to Flesherton station, passed thro' our village. It was a very round about way but he wanted to transact some banking business before taking his trip.

Willie Ritebie has been re-engaged as teacher for S. S. No. 5. We are greatly pleased to learn that his efforts have met with acceptance and success. Miss Katie McCormick spent Sunday at her old home.

A very pleasant social evening was spent at the home of Mrs John Quin. Mrs Gillen Boyd intends having a party on some evening soon.

BUNESSAN.

Rob McFadden and Arlene McComb left last week for Toronto where they intend spending the winter months.

Miss Susie McKinnon, of your town, spent a few days with the McComb families recently.

Miss A. Jones, of Ceylon, visited Miss Susie Kennedy part of last week.

Miss Leah McComb spent a couple of days visiting friends in your town last week.

Sandy Bell was laid up with a felon on his finger last week, but is able to attend to his duties again.

Halloween passed very quietly in our burg, although some little mischief was done. One neighbor was so doubtful about his gate being taken, that he brought it to the house and barred the door with it.

It is related that Mr. C. Firth of Luke Valley brought our scribe up a pair of wild ducks which we suppose our scribe intended to tame, but when the poor little things had found that their lot was cast in with that of the scribes they spread their wings and soared away. One of them was rescued by Mr. S. and it is now quite contented among the Gentiles.

VICKERS.

Mr and Mrs T. H. Lawrence visited at Mr Matt. Barber's of Normanby last week.

Mr Jas. Alexander's auction sale of livestock last week was a decided success.

Mr Sam Lawrence who had rented Mr Corbett's farm is now settled in our neighborhood. We wish him success.

Miss Sims, the teacher here left for Toronto to fill the position of a nurse at the General Hospital. Miss McDonald of Lamlash, fills the vacancy caused by Miss Sims' departure.

Rev. Mr Pomeroy the pastor here for the last year has resigned his position on account of ill health. The esteem in which he was held was indeed great. He preached his farewell sermon to a full church on Oct. 26th. He left the next week for his home in Kincardine. The vacancy was filled by Rev. Mr. Miller who preached to a large congregation Sunday last.

S. G. WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

A very good meeting was held at Mrs. Sam Patterson's on Thursday last and despite the unfavorable weather the attendance was larger than any of our previous meetings held in private houses.

Two good papers were read after which several interesting subjects were discussed. A number of ladies from Holstein were present and helped along the program.

It was decided not to hold any more meetings till January when talented speakers from a distance will be secured to address the meeting. The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

ACTIVITY.—All around us judging by our exchanges there is activity in the prohibition field. South Wellington has raised $500 to finance the campaign. East Grey seems to have meetings in every School house. South Grey seems apathetic in comparison but election day may show different. Temperance men are not agreed on the wisdom of all that has been done by prohibition leaders, but there appears to be complete agreement now as to the wisdom of voting for the Referendum and rolling up a vote in excess of anything yet recorded. The apathetic, yet sympathetic voter, who stays at home Dec. 4, takes upon him a great responsibility.

MISS DICK

CAMPAIGN POINTERS.

Those only are entitled to vote whose names are on the voter's list of 1901 and who have been since the last general election domiciled in the province of Ontario.

Two agents may be appointed for each polling subdivision, but no person shall be so appointed who is not a resident of the electoral district in which he is to act, that is, for this riding, all agents must be residents of South Grey.

The Returning Officer is liable to a fine of $100.00 if he give certificates to more than two agents at one polling place in the same interest.

The ballot papers for the purpose of voting shall be in the following form:—

Are you in favor of YES NO the bringing into force of the Liquor Act of 1902. X

(Mark your ballot as in the above.) All the provisions of the Ontario Election Act and amendments thereto relating to the prevention and punishment of corrupt practices and other alleged acts at elections shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to the taking of the vote on this question. Thus every safeguard is given against bogus votes.

In case that a majority of the votes in the question are in the affirmative and that the number of electors voting on the question in the affirmative exceeds one half of the number of electors who voted at the general election of 1898, the Lieutenant Governor in Council shall issue his proclamation in the Ontario Gazette declaring Part II of the Act to be in force on, from and after the first day of May 1904. It is thus evident that no matter what government be in power, the conditions of the bill demand that if the necessary vote be secured the law should go into effect on May 1st 1904.

As to the conditions on which the bill, if passed, may be repealed, the act itself gives no information. In countries where a referendum is part of the constitutional machinery it is customary to have a fixed proviso as to what would be required to change the action sealed by the popular vote. So far as we know, there is nothing in our constitutional procedure to indicate what steps would be necessary to be taken. The bill itself has no time limit and does not say whether or not a majority in the house could repeal the bill without another referendum. It is however safe to say that no government will dare to repeal a measure, supported by a majority of the electors without first submitting the question to the people.

Do not be afraid of the liquor men staying at home. They are organizing everywhere for the hardest fight there has been on the prohibition question. The fact is unless the temperance people awake and unite they will get an awakening on Dec. 4th by finding themselves snowed under as were the prohibitionists of Manitoba. Being marked men is not to be the death of the temperance cause is to die of.

Look out for notices of meetings in your neighborhood and be there, by your very presence to help on the cause.

CAN THE LAW BE ENFORCED?

Rev. W. A. Mackay, B. A. Wood stock, has some pertinent remarks on the "Liquor Act of 1902" passed at the last session of the Legislature, under the above heading:

"Let it not be said that in British Dominions a beneficent law, declared good by the highest court in the realm, and adopted by a large majority of the people, cannot be enforced. It is unfair to compare the Liquor Act now before us with the Dunkin Act or Scott Act limited in extent, imperfect in restriction, and without any Government behind it acknowledging responsibility for its enforcement. The law we are now seeking was drafted by men who were not only lawyers of the first rank, but also earnest prohibitionists; it has stood the test of the Privy Council of Great Britain, and our Provincial Government is pledged to enforce it, if it is passed by the people. These things cannot be said of any preceding law. Is the present license law enforced? Is there one of its restrictions that is not almost constantly ignored? Does license regulate? Look at it in our own Province: Drinking, the official records tell us, has increased 30 per cent. in three years; $500,000 more were spent last year on strong drink than in any former year; the bar-rooms are more and more coming into the possession of a few brewers and distillers who constitute a most dangerous political combine. President Wilson of the Licensed Victuallers' Association, of Quebec, speaking a few days ago of the object of that Association, said, "With the federation of the whole trade of the Province, we can reckon with every man of the seventy-three members of the Legislature." Whither are we drifting? On Dec. 4th we have to choose between a license law that has everywhere proved itself an awful failure, and a thorough-going well-devised prohibitory law, with the Government pledged to its enforcement.

Prohibition meetings will be held as follows: Dornoch Presbyterian church, Wednesday, Nov. 19; Burns' Church' Rocky Saugeen, Tuesday Nov. 18. Collection at both meetings: 7.30 p. m.
