GLASSFORD IN DURHAM.

Thursday, Nov. 27th, at 8 p. m.
Thursday evening next in the Town Hall, Rev. J. M. Glassford will address a public meeting in the Town Hall on the "Liquor Act of 1902." The Rev. gentleman is well known here, and his eloquence and ability will draw a crowded house. Every voter in town should crowd into the Hall to hear him on the great issue. November 27th. Voluntary collection at the door.

TOWN TOPICS

The Review to January 1 1903, 10 cts. MacFarlane's Laxative Grip tablets cure a cold in one day.

The Ontario Provincial Winter Fair will be held at Guelph on December 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th next.

There will be a "Song Service" in the Baptist church Sunday evening next conducted by Mrs. Newton.

The second quarterly meeting of the officials of the Durham circuit will meet in the Methodist church on Tuesday at 3 p. m.

The noise on the street Saturday night was caused by the people talking about the extra values they got at the New Clothing and Furnishing Store.

KILLED IN WINNIPEG.—We sympathize with Mrs. Calder in the sad news received by her a few days ago that her brother John had been killed by the falling of a derrick.

Mr. John Torry, near Blyth's Corner, died at Sarna, of Typhoid fever. The remains were taken to the home of his mother in Normanby and interred in Maplewood cemetery Sunday last.

We want good, plump, live young chickens for which we will pay sets per lb. in trade. Also highest prices paid for dressed poultry of all kinds.

J. H. BROUW, Holstein.

MILD WEATHER.—Seldom has such a mild November been seen. Dandelions are blooming on the roadsides, and ripe strawberries are being plucked in the open air. Too much rain for farming purposes.

JUICY VENISON.—Last week Messrs Holt and Calder came home from Muskoka where during the open season each got the two deer allowed by law. We are indebted to Mr. Calder for a juicy roast of venison.

Carr's Liver pills cure sick headache. 2 boxes for 25c.—at McFarlane's.

TEACHERS APPRECIATED.—At the special meeting of the School board on Monday evening, increases were made in the salaries of Miss Davey, Miss McKenzie, Miss Gun and Miss Anderson of $20 each. The increase will commend itself to the town as a recognition of faithful work.

I wonder if the New Clothing store has anything new in this week? It won't take long to look.

Mr. F. Lunney, of Aberdeen, died Sunday, aged 80 years, leaving a widow and family of five sons and one daughter, with a goodly number of the third generation. He moved to Benbrook from Hamilton 25 years ago. His remains were interred in Durham cemetery on Tuesday, Rev. Mr. Smith officiating.

VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL.—Mrs. Newton is now prepared to take a limited number of advanced pupils for Piano, Theory, Harmony and History. In Vocal music a full graduate course taught. It will be to the advantage of those wishing to study vocal, to take not less than two terms, as the first must necessarily be foundation work, preparatory.

IN MAPLEWOOD CEMETERY.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Marshall last Thursday was a very large one. Two brothers of the deceased Joseph Graham, Balaclava, and George, Rockwood were present, Rev. Mr. Campbell in the services referred to the great worth of the deceased, and to her interest in the House of God and in spiritual things. Six of her sons acted as pall bearers.

Take a jump to yourself. You would need to in order to cross the street in front of the New Clothing store. Mud Galore.

Inhabitants of Kent County are greatly excited over the discovery of Oil near Chatham. The flow has exceeded one barrel per minute. The company have been offered $500,000 for their rights. This is claimed to be the largest flow of oil ever struck in Canada. The Durham Natural Gas & Oil Co., have had opinions from some of the same experts that located the wells in Kent Co. and they agree that the prospects are that the oil beds at Durham are equal to those in Kent Co. according to that one share in the Durham Co., of $10,000 would be worth about $2000. Subscriptions are rapidly coming in to the local Company as only present subscribers are entitled to purchase the balance of the unsubscribed stock if the venture proves successful.

The Stock books are now open and may be found at Standard Bank or at the office of the President John McKechnie Esq., or W. S. Davidson, Sec.

A few desirable Lots and Dwellings in Durham for sale.—A. H. Jackson

The Zion Quarterly meeting will be held on Sunday afternoon at 2:30, conducted by the pastor.

HOUSE OF REFUGE.—By a vote of 10 to 6 Markdale was selected by the County Council as the site for the new Institution.

What did you get your suit? Can buy a graun anc. I didn't ken yet you could it see cheap? Why at the New Clothing and Furnishing store.

Next Sunday evening a young men's service will be held in the Methodist church. The pastor will be assisted by a young men's choir.

Knocked down by a locomotive is no surprise to the one you would receive in the extra values you get at the New Clothing and Gents Furnishing Store.

Business Changes.

The business changes taking place are an index of the expansion of Durham, and we note a few of recent occurrence, so that Durhamites at a distance and people near home can keep track of our growth.

W. E. TYEBALD.
This gentleman, well-known in Durham this year in connection with the hardware department of the Big Store, has opened an elegant stock of new Gents' Furnishings in the South Store of the J. M. Hunter block. He has associated with him as assistant, Mr. D. Munro, a well-known Durham boy, and we have no doubt a share of the increasing business of Durham will go the way of the two active and experienced young men.

JORDAN AND BURNET.
Mr. Jordan, of the Star Grocery, and Mr. Jos. Burnet have gone into a partnership to develop the grocery trade of the town. Both have a good knowledge of the trade and its needs, and their combined energy will meet with its reward in a developing business. The Burnet store, Upper Town, is not affected by this change, but will still do business at the old stand.

T. NOBLE.
The dissolution of the firm of Barclay and Noble has allowed both members to continue in business at separate stands. Mr. Noble is at the old spot next the Post office and expects to have suitable warerooms erected at the rear before long. Meanwhile he can do a lot of business, even though crushed for space as those who call will see.

BARCLAY & BELL.
The members of this new firm are well-known. The "Bell" is Mr. Allan Bell who has been hustling in the implement business for some time, and the "Barclay" needs no introduction. Their place of business is to be in the old Caldwell Livery barn opposite the Middaugh House, and with a good stand and good goods they ask the patronage of the public with confidence.

JNO. CLARK, JR.
And still another implement change. Mr. C. McKinnon has sold out his well-established business to Mr. Jno. Clark, Jr. of Aberdeen, who takes possession on Dec. 1st. Mr. Clark's wide acquaintance, well-known energy, and his knowledge of the needs of a farm will stand him in good stead in his new venture in which we wish him success.

For Farmers to Think About.

An important letter from Mr. H. G. Wade, of the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association appears in the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal this week. It reads as follows: "It has been my privilege to read for a number of years from time to time, the farming papers not only of our own country but of the United States and Great Britain, and I beg to say that the agricultural news in the Family Herald and Weekly Star is alone worth many times the subscription price. Your Agricultural Editor is a good one and he appears to be thoroughly versed in all agricultural matters," signed, H. G. Wade, Office Registrar of Live Stock, Toronto. Mr. Wade accompanied his letter with a year's subscription, one dollar. The Family Herald and Weekly Star is recognized as the best agricultural paper in America and as a family paper excels in every department.

THE LIQUOR ACT, 1902.

The question to be decided on Dec. 4th is not whether the government have kept their pledges, or whether there should be a referendum, or even whether the conditions on which it is submitted are fair. The simple issue centres on the question of the merits of the Act. Will it be in the interests of the province to put this bill in force, or will it not? This is the issue which Grit and Tory, Prohibitionist and anti-Prohibitionist, every one who loves his country and hates iniquity is bound to face. Let it be faced honestly, fearlessly and decided on its own proper merits. To help to a decision we call attention to some of the leading features of the Act as it is before us.

Some real Difficulties.

In the first place let us calmly recognize the fact that in drawing up the measure there are two real difficulties that had to be faced, one of these is in the nature of things, and has to be met by every prohibitive measure, no matter by what authority it be enacted. The other is a difficulty arising from the limited authority of the provincial Legislature. As to the first the difficulty comes from the fact that it is all but universally admitted that liquor is for many purposes not only a useful, but a necessary article. There are cases when in the battle with disease and death, the use of the best liquor is commended by the highest authority, and when that struggle comes, happy is the patient who has never drained his reserve power by previous indulgence. There are uses of liquor for chemical and mechanical purposes which are universally recognized. Now the difficulty for the legislator is to devise a scheme by which it shall always be on hand to rally the fainting heart, to be a power for life for the physician, the druggist or the dentist and yet to be so secured that its abuse will be impossible. But the limits of the Provincial authority leaves another difficulty since the Province has no power to stop the manufacture, exportation or importation of strong drink. If then the Province is to deal with the question at all, it must do so without going beyond its constitutional authority.

The Difficulties Met.

These great difficulties are met by the bill in the best way that the leaders of the temperance movement could devise. The bill recognizes the need of drink for medical and other necessary purposes, and so there are to be issued licenses to wholesale and retail druggists, to provide liquor under due restrictions to all who are entitled to get it. It is true that liquor would still be manufactured in the Province but the manufacturers may not sell to any in the Province except the wholesale licensed drug stores. Liquor may still be imported, but it may not be opened or used while in transit. A man in his private house, that is a house where not more than three reside besides his own family, may have liquor which he may use or give to his friends, but if he uses this liquor anywhere else, or if he uses it in his own house to ward the purpose of the bill, he at once becomes liable to its penalties. The real end and aim of the measure is to deal a death blow at the bar, at the open and shameless way that men gather together and treat one-another with the liquor that intoxicates. If the bill becomes law, every bar will be branded as illegal and every act of drinking on the street in a shop, anywhere but in a private residence will be a violation of the law.

Severe Penalties.

If heavy fines are a proof of a measure's strength, then there is every evidence that this bill is strong. It holds up as a stern warning the old motto "nemo me impune lacessit" or "no one shall strike me with impunity." The skill of the legislator was nowhere in more demand than in grading a series of penalties that would be aweinspiring, and yet not unjust. As one reads the measure there seem cases when the fine does seem severe for the offence. Section 152 prohibits liquor prescribed for one person being drunk by another, and the penalty is $200.00. Section 156 lays any person who drinks liquor that has been bought at an illicit place under a penalty of $50.00, but both these sections are tempered by the clause that it "shall not apply to any person who within a private dwelling house innocently uses or consumes liquor not thus purchased and received."

In general terms every infraction of the rules by licensees is punished by a fine of not less than $200.00. Every act of selling illegally is punished by a fine equally severe. Clubs furnishing liquor to one another on any pretence whatever are subject to a fine of $200.00, thus seller, buyer and drinker are held responsible and are each bound by penalties that are heavy enough to be prohibitory, no doubt the liberty to import liquor and keep it in a private house will create complications, yet the bill does
