MASSEY-HARRIS

No. 4 Hoe Drill

Runs Smoothly, Sows Evenly, is Easy on the Team. Read what those who know say of it:

Dromore, May 8th, 1902.
Massey-Harris Co., Limited, Toronto.

Gentlemen—The New No. 4 Hoe Drill which you sent me through your Agent, John Livingstone, I consider complete in every way, being very easy on a team and the smoothest running and most even grain sower I have ever seen. It is built strong and light, and being low, with the levers so complete and out of the way, every user will consider it a pleasure to work it. Money would not induce me to change it for any other drill made. It is satisfactory in every way, and I am pleased to be fortunate enough to have one. I believe that after any farmer finds out the make-up of your Drill he won't buy any other. Sincerely yours, WM. NELSON, Egremont Tp.

JOHN LIVINGSTONE, Agent

Mr. Jno. Clark's Sale last week proved most successful and the good prices obtained have given the proprietor a smile of satisfaction which mitigates the worries of moving. He is moving next week into the residence near his implement warehouses and we welcome them to town and to the civic and social life of the place.

Missionary evening in the League next Monday.
We omitted mention last week of the Lacrosse Club Concert. The lady artists were first class in the line, but the attendance was so slim as to cause surprise at the lack of interest in the financial end of the Club's efforts.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY MEETING.—We notice that the Mayor has called a public meeting for this (Wednesday) evening to discuss the recent proposals to construct the Huron-Ontario electric railway. Mr. David Robertson and others who have been looking into the matter seem to think that the offers are genuine this time, and that if the extension of the charter can be secured we will get the railway sure. There ought not to be much trouble about the extending of the charter.—Telescope.

APPRECIATED.—A very pleasing event took place at the stock room of the Cement works at the noon hour one day last week. A number of the workmen by pre-arrangement, captured Mr. McGrane, one of the foremen, and presented him with a gold ring with inscription inside. Mr. McGrane expects to leave soon and it must be very gratifying to carry with him this mark of the good will of his fellows. His skill and experience have been useful factors in the success of the construction work. The presentation was made by Mr. Dee, who succeeds Mr. McGrane as overseer of the machinery and the dredge at the lake. Mr. Whitechurch also spoke, and Mr. McG. who was taken completely by surprise expressed his thanks.
