PRICEVILLE.

The funeral of Miss Mary Campbell of Swinton Park took place to the Cemetery in this place on Friday afternoon the 20 inst. Miss Campbell has been ailing for a couple of years with cancer and has been in the hospital, Toronto, for the last six months where she died on the 18th inst. The body was taken to her father's from where a large crowd of sympathizers followed the remains to their last resting place. Miss Campbell was a lady who was highly spoken of by all who formed her acquaintance, and to the aged father the blow is severe as to the rest of her family. The funeral was largely attended considering the short notice given. We extend our sympathetic feeling to the bereaved family and more particularly to the aged father whose allotted span cannot according to the natural course of life be far from its termination. Rev. Mr. Matheson officiated at the house and grave. We expect some correspondence from that neighborhood to give more of an obituary.

Mrs. (Rev.) Matheson who was unwell for the last month, we are pleased to say, is able to be about again.

Mrs. Heilly keeps very poorly yet but we hope by good attendance to hear of her being about again before very long.

We again remind Gaelic speaking worshippers of the Gaelic Communion in the Presbyterian Church on next Sunday the 1st March. A church full of highlanders is expected to be out on the occasion.

Mr. Alex. Livingston is improving somewhat of late and it is to be hoped by the time the weather gets a little milder he will be able to be around again.

The Rev. Mr. Matheson had two marriages on Wednesday of last week in spite of the coldest day of the season, the first was Mr. Boles of Vandeleur and Miss Aggie McDougall, youngest daughter of Mr. Malcolm McDougall East of this place. We have no particulars concerning this marriage only that we congratulate the young man who captured Miss McDougall for his help mate. The other marriage speaks for itself further on.

Hector McEachern is visiting friends at Owen Sound at present.

Neil McCannell and mother visited friends at Stayner last week and attended the sale of Mr. McLeod, Mr. McCannell's brother-in-law, on Tuesday the 18th inst.

We expect Top Cliff correspondent to give the news in that locality soon and regular. "Take notice."

We are pleased to hear of young Whyte, son of Dan, Whyte East of this place, who was operated on for appendicitis lately is getting better.

The Rev. Mr. Little, of Holstein, consented to come to preach another sermon in this place on Sunday the 15th of March, morning and evening and will wait for the Annual Tea-meeting which probably will be held the following evening, Monday 17th, but more particulars will be made known concerning the tea-meeting before then.

English communion on Sunday the 8th March at the usual hour 11 o'clock morning.

McLeod—McDonald—The inclemency of the weather on Wednesday the 18th

Feb., did not hinder Wm McLeod, Jr. Esq., and Miss Mary Ann McDonald, youngest daughter of the late Neil McDonald, South Glenelg, to be pronounced man and wife by the Rev J. A. Matheson just exactly at 5 o'clock in the evening. The groom stood the trial well. The bride, who was always counted amongst the fairest of her sex, appeared handsomely dressed with brocaded white silk trimmed with silk applique and silk chiffon, by her side stood Miss Christina, her sister, who also was dressed with the same as the bride. The groom was supported by his brother Aris McLeod. After the ceremony being over the company which consisted of near relatives to the bride and groom sat down to an excellent spread prepared by Mrs. McDonald manifesting her appreciation of her faithful daughter's love to her, which now was exchanged for love beyond a mother's. The bride's evening dress was a beautiful stone gray Ladies' cloth and bride-maid wore the same kind. The following is a complete list of presents:—Mr and Mrs D Graham, set of 1 room dishes; Donald McDonald, a parlor lamp; Flora and Finlay Clarke, a china fruit dish and one doz. servers; Hugh McDonald, a china fruit bowl and cream pitcher; Mr & Mrs Neil McLeod, a silver cruet; Miss Maggie McCannell, silver butter dish; John L. McKinnon, mousethe cup and saucer; Alary McKeechlin, one doz silver tea spoons; Wm. Johnston, Jordan McLeod, bib; Mrs. Donald Campbell, linen table cloth and pair lace curtains; Mr and Mrs Duncan McDonald, a bed spread and cake stand; Arch D. McKinnon, a chieftie table cover; Mr and Mrs John McKinnon, pair of lace curtains; Mr and Mrs David Hucks, silver butter dish; Arch McLeod, silver biscuit bowl; Mr & Mrs Arch McLeod, silver sugar bowl; Finlay & Sonie McCraig, glass fruit dish; Jonathan and Christina McDonald, pair lace curtains; Arch & Alex. McDonald, silver; Kate Clarke, silk handkerchiefs; Neil Clarke, linen table cloth; Mr & Mrs Dugald McCannell, linen table cloth; Neil Alex. McQueen, doz table napkins and a pipe case; Mr & Mrs Neil Cameron, china teapot; Arch McDonald, oak paper rack; Hector & Kate McDonald, parlor table; Mr & Mrs Neil McCannell, parlor rocking chair; Angus McDonald, pair lace curtains; Christina McDonald, pair woolen blankets; bride's mother, Mrs. McDonald, tea set; John A. THE GROWTH

Of trade in the Ready-to-wear Clothing is such that since opening out our business here, we have had to double our stock. This we have done and to-day we can show the best Ready-to-wear Clothing at the lowest prices ever offered in Grey County.

NOT ONLY THAT

But we have in stock the best and newest suit lengths of ordered Clothing. Patterns taken from the latest American Styles and up-to-date in every particular.

RIGHT IN FRONT

In headgear for Gentlemen we have in stock the very newest effects. No American House is showing anything more up-to-date than we are in Durham.

A FEW MORE

Suits, Overcoats and Reefers, which we will clear out at cost. We do not want them to look at over summer. We promise a snap and we will live up to our promise.

W. E. THEOBALD,

THE NEW CLOTHING AND FURNISHING STORE
IN J. M. HUNTER'S NEW BLOCK.

BLTYHE'S CORNERS.

Rev. Mr Little, of Holstein, occupied the pulpit in Knox Church, Normanby, on Sunday last and delivered a very eloquent and inspiring sermon to a full house (among again).

Mr. Jno Cornish, Jr, Regina, N. W. T., dropped down suddenly into our neighborhood a few days ago, looking hale and hearty. He speaks very brightly of that western land and regret very much that he didn't go west 10 years ago. Among other questions put to him was "How about the winter?" We were much surprised to learn the fact of his horses being out every day grazing and always requiring considerable coaxing to get them to come home at night. On another occasion on his journey down, he counted 105 horses all in one drove which had never been stabled this winter. Knecks South Grey clean out, doesn't it, Mr. Ed.

Miss Sarah Patterson, of Millbank is at present the guest of Mrs. Samuel Stewart.

Mr Jno Cornish, Jr, bought, a team of 3 yr old colts from Cattle King John Brown for a sum in the neighborhood of $400 and another team fully better than Brown's, but John was too modest to tell us what they cost but we are safe enough to surmise that it was big. But the happiness of a man does not consist in the abundance of good horses which he possesseth and so in order to complete his outfit, John is on the look out for a good — we won't say it.

Mrs S. Stewart has rented her elegant farm to Mr John Thompson for a term of years at a rent of $200 per year, and intends going out west to enter into partnership with her brother Jimmy Pettigrew of Lumsden, N.W.T., where together, they intend to push farming on a large scale. She intends to have a credit auction sale in the early part of March.

Miss Lydia Thompson, accompanied by Mr K. McFarlane sr., visited one day last week the sick and the afflicted around the corners.

A sleigh load of the youth of Orchard spent an enjoyable time one night last week at the home of Mr and Mrs John Cornish.

We regret to announce Mr Ed. Ryan whom we reported as being seriously ill, is at time of writing so low that his death is hourly expected, while his amiable partner in life is so ill with the Grippe, as to be unable to leave her bed. We wish both of them a speedy recovery.

We were wrongly informed regarding the illness of Mr Geo. Schram, of Orchard, it is a very severe attack of Typhoid fever and very grave fears were entertained for his recovery, but latest accounts say he is improving, we hope he may continue.

The quilting bee under the auspices of the Knox Church Auxillary was a decided success, every member turning out cheerfully with the exception of two, and did credit to their quilting abilities.

Mr Alex. Blyth has recovered from his illness and has resumed his business again at Owen Sound.

Mr J. H. Hoellu got a snap on a 20,000 ft. pile of lumber, 12 x 14 ft. all long first class stuff and dry at $12 a 1000.

Mr and Mrs Chas. Gray jr., of Egremont, were visiting Normanby friends on Monday last.

RENEW FOR THE REVIEW.—A large number attended to this duty. We want a large number more to do so in the next few weeks. Small thing a dollar but the printer's dollars are largely singles, and count up. Please renew if your label is behind. Labels entitled to be marked up will be attended to in a week or two.

Keep Your Eye on Parliament

Both Local & Federal

The next session of the Ontario House will be one of the most interesting ever held in this Province because it is so evenly divided.

Enthusiastic Tories say that Whitney will surely be Premier, and the Grits assuredly say that Ross will.

In any case it will be a battle royal—Every division of the House will be close, with important possibilities for both parties.

You want to know every day just how the fight is going. The Star's Parliamentary reports, like every other part of the paper, are free from political bias.

Also, you want to be posted on the movements of the Dominion House. Most important questions are coming before this session—the new Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, Fast Atlantic Service and other important legislation.

The Toronto Daily Star

brings you all the news of both Houses every week day for a year and this paper as well for $2.20.

Think of being in touch with the whole world's news for such a trifle.
