THE WESTERN MARKET FOR ONTARIO FRUIT. A WARNING AND A COMPLIMENT FROM THE WEST.

The Commercial, a weekly publication devoted to finance and insurance matters, published in Winnipeg, under the heading of "Apples not Wanted in the West," in a leading article expresses the belief that it may not be out of place at this time to utter a word of warning to Ontario apple shippers against sending any more fruit to the west without first being sure that sale will be found for the goods.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON NO. XI. MARCH 15, 1903. The Riot at Ephesus.—Acts 19: 29-40. Commentary.—1. Demetrius causing a tumult (vs. 23-27). Demetrius was a leading spirit among the Ephesian shrine-makers, and may have been a wholesale dealer, executing orders for the shrines and "employing artisans who received lucrative wages for their labor."

"If my remedies will not do what I claim for them, their sale should be prohibited by law."—MUNYON. "I have suffered terribly with rheumatism for five years, and I was so badly affected that I had to go on crutches. I tried many advertised remedies and physicians, but it was no use. I steadily became worse. My joints and feet swelled up, and I would have frightful pains. I secured a vial of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure at the free distribution held at the office, and I am now completely cured. I haven't an ache or a pain, and I feel better than I have for the last ten years."—Joseph Smith, 119 Church street, Toronto.

PEACTICAL SURVEY.

A thorough religious reformation, Paul's sojourn and labors at Ephesus during his long stay had been by no means fruitless. Some who many years before had been baptized "unto John's baptism," were through the instruction of Paul baptized with the Holy Ghost, and spoke with tongues and prophesied. His preaching in the synagogue was interrupted because of the hardening of the hearts of many of his hearers, and a place outside was secured for the preaching of the gospel. This continued until the people, both Jews and Greeks, in all that region, "heard the word of the Lord." Miracles accompanied the ministry of the apostle, and some seeing them were constrained to attempt to secure gain by using the name of Christ in their incantations to drive out evil spirits. These persons had no interest in the system of Christianity, any further than to make gain out of it, if possible, and in this they failed, for they could not control the evil spirits, but on the contrary they themselves had to flee before the enraged evil spirits.

The Only Son.

O bitter wind toward the sunset blowing. What of the daisies to-night? In yonder gray old hall what fires are glowing. What ring of festal light? "In the great window as the day was dwindling I saw an old man stand; His head was proudly held and his eyes kindling. But the list shook in his hand."

O wind of twilight, was there no word uttered. No sound of joy or wail? "A great light and a good death," he muttered; "Trust him, he would not fail." What of the chamber dark where she was lying For whom all life is done? "Within her heart she rocks a dead child, crying. My son, my little son." —Henry Newbolt.

Bradstreet's on Trade.

In Montreal wholesale trade is showing considerable activity in goods for the spring and summer. The condition of trade are healthy. Payments on maturing paper this week have been fully up to expectations in most departments of trade. At Quebec during the past week trade has been active. Trade at Pacific Coast continues very good for what is always regarded as a dull time of the year. Mild weather here is stimulating the spring demand for spring goods. The outlook for trade is very encouraging. Business at Hamilton this week as reported by Bradstreet's has been quiet. The shipments of spring and summer goods have assumed large proportions and promises to continue heavy for some weeks. The buying by the retailers is still large. The very strong market for various staple goods stimulating purchases by those who fear that prices may be higher on some lines. Values at present are generally firmly held. London wholesale trade is developing considerable activity with the approach of spring and the outlook is very promising. There has been a good movement in wholesale trade at Ottawa this week.

Advertising Wisdom.

"Many millions are spent annually by advertisers. There are establishments conducted on the largest scale, where by far the greatest item of expenditure in the running of the business is on advertising, more than rent and clerk hire and the cost of the machinery generally. And this outgo is not periodical and occasional, but a steady, daily expenditure. "Very great and prosperous business concerns have developed rapidly from humble and obscure beginnings, because of the cleverness and originality with which they have presented their advertising. "For a short, spasmodic and a deceitful advertisement conspicuously placed may serve its purpose, but in the long run it does only damage. Accordingly, the public may usually take it for granted that a large and persistent advertiser is a safe man to deal with. He cannot afford to advertise misrepresentations. The valuable reputation of his house depends on his ability to make good his advertisements, the cost of which may be the greatest item in his expenditure on his business. He must justify the publicity he invites. Hence he is a safe man to deal with. As a general rule, of course, the more respect a newspaper commands from its readers the more respect they have for the advertising in it. A bulletin posted in a disreputable quarter does not tend to enhance the respectability of the concern using it."—New York Sun.

HATS IN HALLS, ETC.

Why Should They be Removed in One Place and Not in Another? The etiquette of gentlemen removing their hats while riding in a public elevator with ladies has long been a subject of discussion, and an agreement as to the proper thing to do appears as far as ever. A woman sharply reproved her young son the other day for remaining covered while ascending. "Take off your hat," said the matron; "don't you know that there are women in the elevator? I have told you about that many times." The man who had an office on the fourteenth floor turned around to look at the woman, but he didn't take off his hat. "This elevator hat-lifting habit is the worst kind of a farce." "I think it's a nice little courtesy to show to the women," said the other man, "especially when you are out of the business district." "Take off your hat as much as you please," said the man who started the discussion, "I have nothing against that, but for heaven's sake be consistent about it. You walk through a long hall with a woman and keep your hat on. The minute you get into the elevator cage it comes off. You get out with her on some upper floor and on goes the hat. Now, if you should take off your hat in an elevator you should not wear it when walking in the halls, as for many a day some other way of showing women that I appreciate their presence, some way that doesn't involve a cold in the head."

322 Acres Without a Hitch.

Wolfe Island, Sept. 4, 1902. Massey-Harris Co., Limited, Toronto. Gentlemen—I purchased one of your No. 4 Binders, 7 ft. out from Agent R. J. Spoor, and am well pleased with it, having cut my crop of 322 acres without a hitch or mistake with a span of horses of medium build. The binder worked so easy and handled the crop so perfectly that I would not hesitate to purchase a similar one 8 ft. cut, if such were built. I can recommend a Massey-Harris 7 ft. Binder to any of my neighbors. JAMES W. O'BRIEN.

Uses For Rice.

Rice can be used in various ways as a dessert. What is apparently the simplest way to prepare this cereal to most cooks is the most difficult, which is the boiling of it properly. The rice should be well washed and thoroughly drained. It should be put through several waters until the floury coating has been removed. Have ready a large sauceman of salted water boiling. Place it on the hottest part of the range, so it will boil violently, sprinkle in the rice slowly, so as not to stop the boiling, and let it cook for fifteen or twenty minutes uncovered. At the end of fifteen minutes take out a few grains; if they are soft when pressed through the fingers they are done; then drain off every drop of water, sprinkle with salt, cover the pot with a napkin, using one thickness only, and set it on the side of the range to steam and become perfectly dry, or the rice may be turned into a colander to drain the water placed in the open oven to dry. Rice may be also cooked in a double boiler.

Mrs. Fairbanks tells how neglect of warning symptoms will soon prostrate a woman. She thinks woman's safeguard is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. "Ignorance and neglect are the cause of untold female suffering, not only with the laws of health but with the chance of a cure. I did not heed the warnings of headache, organic pains and general weariness, until I was well nigh prostrated. I knew I had to do something. Happily I did the right thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound faithfully according to directions, and was rewarded in a few weeks to find that my aches and pains disappeared, and I again felt the glow of health through my body. Since I have been well I have been more careful. I have also advised a number of my sick friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they have never had reason to be sorry. Yours very truly, Mrs. MARY FAIRBANKS, 218 South 7th St., Minneapolis, Minn." (Mrs. Fairbanks is one of the most successful and highest salaried travelling saleswomen in the West.)—$5000 for first original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.
