TOWN OPICS

Maple Syrup at Grant's.
Don't read Theobald's ad.
OATS.—Formalin prevents smut and increases the yield, at Parker's.
A First Class Tailor wanted, apply to J. A. GLASS, Merchant Tailor.
Moth Camphor, Moth Bags, Paris Green, at MacFarlane's Drug Store.
ROOMS TO RENT—Apply to Jno. O'DONNELL.
FOR SALE.—A full line of Window Shades 6 and 7 ft lengths. Shewell & Lenahan.
SUGARS.—Buy Redpath's granulated (the best) $4.20 per 100 lbs in barrel lots, at Parker's Drug Store.

Mockler's New Goods arrive in a few days. Bought right and will be sold right. Watch ad next week.
Neither young or old of the female sex likes to be seen with a man unless he has up to date garments. They can be bought at Theobald's as cheaply as out of date goods.

OFF TO HOSPITAL.—Mr Jas. R. Gun left on Monday for the Hospital at Stratford to receive treatment for what threatens to be appendicitis. Mr Gun has had more than an average share of trouble of late years and we sincerely hope he may pull through this successfully and well.

Renfrew is an enterprising town. The Council there will spend $200 in fitting up and caring for a recreation room for the young men of the town. It will be under the supervision of five young men, one from each of the five churches. In addition to the room the Council also grants $300 per year to the public library.—Ex.

A RARE WINDOW.—Among the pretty things in town last week and this is Darling's Easter Window. Not alone for the artistic arrangement in front and on a tape structure resembling the nests of a lacrosse goal, but anything that we have seen in this line. It "caught on" and "held up" many observers.

SPRAY YOUR TREES.—The time has now arrived to begin the eternal fight against insect pests. If you want saleable fruit get a sprayer and use the best insecticides according to rules laid down and you will see results in the way of increased crop and better quality of produce, etc., for the work. A few dollars spent now will bring back big returns in the coming fruit season.

QUEEN ST.—Last week in some way in writing of the improvements contemplated by the council we used Bruce Street instead of Queen St. Mr McCracken has made a beginning in the old Moody corner of a new residence which we believe is to be occupied by Dr. Hutton, and the grading is to be done south of this residence from Garrafrax to Queen, then south to Lambton Street.

APPRECIATED.—All the long service medals applied for in No. 4 Coy, 31st Reg't have arrived. Those who got them are Lieut R. Torry, Serg't G. Mathews; Serg't Wm. Saunders; Corporal J. Andrews; Pte. Sanders. On Lieut. R. Torry's retirement from the Lieutenancy he was presented with a handsome medal by some of his military friends for the great interest he took in the Company and Rifle shooting while an active member of it.

MUSICAL.—Remember the "Piano Recital" (Friday) evening in the Baptist Church when Miss B. Brown will be assisted by Dr. Brown of Holstein. A memorised program of brilliant, yet difficult music will be rendered. Admission 25c. Should the night be unfavorable raincoats and umbrellas may be checked at the door. This Recital promises to be a "musical event." Those who love good music should not miss this treat. Mrs Newton will use her own piano. No tickets will be sold, fee paid at door.

EASTER OBSERVANCE.—Seems to be on the increase, especially noticeable being the homing instinct which brings and takes absent members of the family to the old choir. The churches too in pulpits and choir select appropriate offerings of word and music to mark the epoch that calls to mind a risen Redeemer. The day is second only to Christmas in its hallowing effect. At the Presbyterian Church in the morning a quartette rendered effectively "I know that my Redeemer lives" Miss B. Crawford taking the solo in a most pleasing manner. In the evening Mrs. A. W. Lauder gave a fine solo befitting the occasion.

Get out in the mornings and in the evenings, fellow-citizens, and see what you can do to assist nature in beautifying your home property in particular and the village landscape in general. Plant a tree or a number of trees—they'll grow and future generations will call you blessed, even if you don't live to enjoy the shade yourself. An evergreen hedge will fit in some places, and a few rose-bushes in other places, or perhaps you can make the earth bloom in spots where there never before was a flower garden, by purchasing and planting a few packets of those seeds that can be got so cheap just now. If it's too much trouble to grow anything but grass, then grow grass and keep it shorn down with a lawn mower. For any sakes don't allow a forest of burdocks and such stuff to spring up in the front or back of your lot. What a blot on the landscape is an unpainted house! Do some painting where it's needed. Get out and do something to make the old town look better. Don't let it be your fault if Durham isn't yet the prettiest, cleanest, healthiest and happiest looking town in the universe. Much has been done of late years and more can yet be done in this direction.

THE BY-LAW.

One week from Monday the property owners of the town will be called upon to express an opinion on the by-law now before them for the encouragement of the proposed new Cream Separator industry. The sentiment of the town is practically unanimous in favor of the proposed by-law, but votes, not sentiment, are required to carry it.
Everyone knows no mere majority will do. Should there be not even one against—and we expect very few, if any—there is yet required three fifths of the available votes on the list, so that should there be 400 property owners on the roll, it will require 241 votes to carry. To make this 241 is no easy task for many owners are absent, and it is never possible to poll even the full resident vote, even when there is political rivalry.

The council has done its part. It promptly submitted the by-law. It has bought the lot near the station for a site, it now remains for the voters to complete the work by turning out on the 30th to vote "For" on the By-law in such numbers as to make the result certain. Let everyone remember that if two mayors ran, and only 3 votes polled, one having 2 votes would be elected. Not so here, the law makes a minimum, and we must reach it, whether it is 241 or 300. A neighboring town 2 weeks ago, lost an industry for lack of this minimum vote.

Be sure to vote, and impress your neighbor, if he or she is indifferent.
A telegram from Mr Broomfield announces everything right from his end, he will be here in a few days. Meanwhile any information Agent Livingstone or the Council has is at your service.

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE.—Mrs. Arrowsmith intends to sell early in May all her valuable household Furniture, garden tools, &c. Particulars next week.

LEAVING TOWN.—Mr Wm. Wells and family left Tuesday for Winchester in the hope that change of air and scene will benefit the health of Mr Wells, who has been for some time an invalid. His many friends here will rejoice to hear of his complete recovery.

VERY ILL.—Very sincere regrets were expressed last week all over town when it was learned that Miss Annie McKenzie, teacher had been compelled to give up school and was alarmingly ill. At time of writing she is some better, her recovery is expected to-day, Monday, from the fact that warm sympathy is expressed towards the sufferer and her sister Miss Belle in this trying affliction.

A FINE NUMBER.—By the courtesy of Mr A. W. Lauder we have been given a perusal of the first Anniversary number of the Copper Cliff Courier, which is a revelation of the development of that mining town only secondarily to gold. Some fine views are given, taken mostly in winter. The town has 3000 population, has a fire department, a hospital, fine churches and not a saloon, and of course at the centre of the great copper and nickel industries, which pay out wages amounting to $90000 a month.

Hints About Bowling.

The etiquette of bowling is a nice question. When to bow, when not to bow, and the manner of bowing are points about which a great many persons need instruction. It is easy to offend in salutation, either by over-eagerness, when etiquette does not warrant it, or by remissness, when good form demands it. A bow can convey a good deal: it may be cordial, ceremonious or distant, but it should always be polite. In the May Bellator, under social observances, the rules prescribed by social usage in this regard are given, covering as well a number of particular instances.

MILITARY.—LEARN TO SHOOT.

Shooting match. The ex-members of No. 4 Company 31st Reg't would like to have a friendly shooting match with the present active members, with teams of say 10 men each to be held on the 24th of May, range to be 200 yds, one target to be 4 ft square with an 8 inch bullseye, the next to be the size of a man's body, above the ground line, shots at each target, complete. Arrangements on behalf of the ex-members can be made with R. TORRY, Ex-Lieut.

A BLAZE IN THE METHODIST CHURCH.

Monday evening a social and ceremony of a unique character was held in the Methodist Church. The occasion was to celebrate the extinction of the mortgage indebtedness, which has been in existence for nearly 20 years and this was done by a congregational tea in the hall, followed by a musical evening upstairs, culled from the dramatic burning of the mortgage in view of the whole congregation. And all this without admission fee or collection, proving, as the pastor said, that Methodists are not always after money.

Mr H. H. Miller, Hanover, who in the early days was for four years connected with the church, and has been a pillar of Methodism ever since, was selected as chairman. He made a good opening address and very ably conducted the subsequent proceedings. The church in the early days was more of a help to him than he is to it, he valued its teachings, rejoiced at the union of the various Methodist bodies that had taken place, and thought the time ripe and personally favored a union with the Presbyterian church the differences between the two bodies now being less than between the various Methodist bodies before their union. He dealt with various reminiscent features in a very pleasant way.

But music, music, music was the feature of the evening, and we find it impossible to do justice to the various performers. The opening piece "When I can read my title clear" by the Senior and Charlette Messrs W. K. and Thos. Reid, Charter Smith and Jas. Carson, was rendered with spirit and excellent harmony. The audience were delighted and demanded an encore, which was satisfied by a duet from Thos. Reid and Charter Smith. A melodious Jr. Male quartet, Messrs McEae, Vickers, Wright and Yirs sang "Why stand ye here idle?" Misses King, Lauder, Linn, and Mrs Hopkins (Mr Carson's daughter) gave a quartette with taste and feeling. Miss Madeline Irwin is well known as a reciter of great merit, but in her solo "While a great city sleeps" she shows musical talent also. Mrs Whit-church sang sweetly "The fairies," Messrs Yirs and Wright gave two instrumental duets. Mrs Hopkins, Miss Slatcher, H. Benton and E. Vickers had a pleasing pathetic quartette, and a bright hopeful duet "Hope beyond" was given by F. Vickers and Miss May Saunders. Miss B. Sparling's solo, tender and pathetic, was well done, and one of the best quartettes of the evening "Come where the Lilies bloom" was given by Miss King, Mrs Hopkins, F. Vickers and H. Benton. Miss Jessie Caton charmed every body with a clever recitation.

Rev. Mr Miller of the Varney circuit, gave a very good speech, urging them not to let their activities languish because their debt was paid. Messrs Irwin and Ramage were also invited to say something impromptu and the most interesting part of the evening was then prepared for.

Rev. Radian Smith as the chairman had it for the evening, then after praising the song talent of the town, rehearsed the steps taken to liquidate the debt and read a list of 17 names and amounts that had never been needed to contribute. He had never needed to ask twice and rejoiced over the willingness displayed.

As a preliminary to the burning, Miss Irwin gave an appropriate recitation—"Since we got the Mortgage paid" and the chief singers of the evening rendered "We'll have to Mortgage the Farm" in good style. Mr Vickers and Miss Lauder acted the old couple, Miss King at the organ, and while every part was good the rendering of the plaintive verse was simply superb.

This over Mr G Spurling mounted the platform with the old mortgage on a tray, Mr Robt. Aljoe, Sr., as the oldest church trustee present, said a few words and, lighting a match in regulation style, applied it to the document. The pastor gave it a turn over to facilitate destruction and the audience rose and sang "Praise God from whom all blessings flow" and were dismissed.

The program owed a great deal to Miss King and Mr Geo. Wright, as accompanist, &c., is a valuable worker.
