PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Beatrice McIntyre is in Toronto this week.

Miss Lizzie Hunt is visiting Traverston friends.

Mr. Arthur Vair, Galt, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Dr. Gun, this week.

Mr. Clarence Wilcox, of Sault Ste Marie, is visiting friends in town.

Miss Kate McDougall left Tuesday for an extended visit to Leamington.

Mr. Slatner, who had a stroke of paralysis lately, is not improving much.

Miss Iza Campbell, teacher, Mulock, visited Durham friends over the week end.

Mrs. R. Williamson and Miss Velma visited Holstein friends the latter part of last week.

Mr. Calder was recovered sufficiently to leave on Monday morning on his regular duties.

Rev. Jas. Skene, Hillsdale, (a Dorloch boy) was lately elected Clerk of Barrie Presbytery.

Mrs. Pitt, of Toronto, is the guest of her cousin Miss Liza McDonald and other friends in town.

Mr. Wm. Wiggins, Warton, came down Saturday to visit his wife and parents here for a few days.

Miss Riddell, Dornoch, who has been in town dressmaking during the last three months, returned to her home Monday.

Rev. Jas. Binnie, Tweed, (son of Mrs. Binnie, of town) was lately appointed to a position on the Council of Queen's College.

Mrs. C. McLean, Mrs. Chas. Cameron, and Miss Rennie return this week from Toronto, to spend the summer at their home in Upper Town.

Mr. Chas. Cameron, Leith, near O-Sound, visited his brother Angus last week for a couple of days, and called on Mr. J. P. Telford, a companion of boyhood days.

Mr. Angus Cameron is progressing as well as could be looked for from the effects of the amputation last week. His hopeful nature has served him well and he will soon be around again.

Mr. T. G. Elwyn, Toronto, is spending part of his holidays at Mr. Allan McKinnon's. Together with Mr. Dan McKinnon, they, last Saturday made a haul of 150 trout. Who can beat this?

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Banks left on Tuesday for Owen Sound to take up residence. Edge Hill neighborhood and the Union Sabbath School will miss the worthy citizens, but good wishes follow them and new avenues of usefulness will open.

Mrs. Rev. Farquharson and Mrs. C. L. Grant, from Durham, and Mrs. Dr. Smith and Miss Skene, Dornoch, left Tuesday morning for Guelph to attend the sessions of the 27th Annual Convention of the Western division of the W. F. M. S. Mrs. (Rev.) D. L. Campbell attended from Dornoch, Mrs. (Rev.) Little and Miss Stevenson from Holstein, and Mrs. Morrison from Cedarville.

Mrs. Arrowsmith on Tuesday turned the key for the last time in the door of the house she has occupied for 28 years. Though having disposed of this property, she intends to have a home of her own in Durham, but will likely spend a few months with her children this summer. The sale of her furniture, &c., took place on Saturday, and under auctioneer Carson's hammer nearly everything sold well. She is making her home with Mrs. Foreman at present, but is negotiating for a small house and lot of her own. We hope she may succeed in getting it.

Additional Locals.

FOR SALE.—A full line of Window Shades, 6 and 7 ft lengths. Shewell & L'nahan.

Never say anything in your advertising that you cannot verify in your store. An advertiser who believes thoroughly in what he is going to say has a far better chance of convincing people than he who only half believes what he is saying.

Last week's Wroxeter Star records an attempted highway robbery where a farmer named Casmore, returning from a pig delivery, was clubbed to unconsciousness. The robber got no money, however, and has not yet been located.

CORDAGE CO.—Last week's Aytton Advance contains the prospectus of the "Aytton Cordage Co., Limited," which proposes, if stock enough be secured, to manufacture Binder Twine in or near the village. The Wenger Bros. offer a free site.

A very common church custom, which prevails especially during the winter months, is described by a writer in this unique way. Praise God from whom all blessings flow; (here wrap your muffler round your throat) praise Him all creatures here below; (now get into your overcoat) praise him above, ye heavenly host; (right here you put your rubbers on) Praise Father, Son and Holy Ghost; (by this time you are out and gone.)

SPLENDID PUBLICATIONS.—The Montreal Witness has of late come into more than usual prominence for its unswerving and powerful advocacy of righteousness in civil and political life regardless of cost or consequences. One prominent writer says: "There are papers that publish religious things because these may secure for the paper an entrance into homes from which they would otherwise be excluded. But the religion of the 'Witness' permeates the whole paper. Long may it live, abundantly may it prosper, and long may it be spared to inform, educate, inspire and uplift humanity."

Then from the same office we have "World Wide," a weekly reprint of articles from leading journals and Reviews reflecting the current thought of both hemispheres. It is a marvel of interest and cheapness, and compares favorably with magazines several times its price. It appeals to thinkers, is entertaining as well as instructive and has no axe to grind.

The "Northern Messenger" is an old and worthy favorite, with stories and other matter so carefully chosen that they exercise a sweet influence on old and young. The paper has several well-conducted special departments and is deservedly popular in home and Sunday School.

The Weekly Witness, World Wide, Northern Messenger and the REVIEW, all four publications will be sent one year for $2.50; worth $3.30.

These clubs will, at most reasonable rates, provide the best reading matter for every interest of any family. Just try it for a year.

The Toronto "Telegram" has particularly distinguished itself in this Gamey business. Up to the time that the member for Manitoulin projected himself into public notice the "Telegram" had two heroes, R. L. Richardson and "Joe" Martin, neither of whom has been canonized by any other newspaper. The "Telegram," however, hailed the entrance into public life of Gamey with most peevish plaudits, declaring that he had done more for the Conservative party than anybody since Sir John A. MacDonnell. It welcomed him as the John the Baptist of the Opposition, as a patriot, and as a self-sacrificing harbinger of purer politics. The trinity which the "Telegram" worshipped for a time was an odd one and it has been forced to erase the name Gamey. Hereafter public men will probably prefer to be in the index expurgatorius rather than on the roll of honor of the "Telegram."—Saturday Night.

THE LATE JAMES SWANSTON.—The death of this gentleman removes a very prominent man in the municipal life of Egremont Township. Our North Egremont correspondent refers at some length to his demise and funeral. We may add that for many years he sat at the Council board of the township, and for part of the time, as deputy reeve, represented it at the County Council. He was always a man to be reckoned with in municipal contests, and he gave a great deal of his time and much of his attention to municipal affairs. He was public-spirited too, and took a generous share, when in good health, of the work and responsibility in connection with Farmers' societies. In the storms of political strife he, a number of years ago, cast his lot with the Conservative party, and his counsel and advice were there sought and valued. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved and sorrowing relatives. We append part of a notice in last week's Confed, which was also intended for us but did not reach us until Tuesday of this week. "The deceased gentleman came with his parents from Scotland in the year 1852, and lived for some years in the township of Nassagaweya. The family then moved to the Orchard Farm, near Holstein. About 40 years ago the present homestead, "Spring Brook Farm" was bought and James, then a young man of 18, began to take charge of the business of the farm. He proved to be a man of great energy and good judgment. In Nov. 1898, at the age of 25 years, he was united in marriage, his helpmate in life ably supporting him in building up their beautiful home. The success he achieved bears lasting testimony to his ability. He always took an active interest in school and church work, being for 30 years chairman of the Board of Management of Fairbairn Presbyterian church. He leaves to mourn his loss a family of four sons and five daughters besides his partner in life and a brother and sister. The family are as follows:—John and Mrs. Murdoch, Egremont, William C. in the North West, James, B. medical student, Toronto, Elizabeth S. High School, Mount Forest, and George, Alice, E. S. and Mary at home. In the death of Mr. Swanston the township loses an able officer, the community a faithful and obliging neighbor, his family a kind and indulgent father and his beloved wife a devoted husband. Of him it may truly be said, "Life is not measured by the length of time we live." The community extend to the bereaved family their most sincere sympathy. Among the relatives from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Arne, Arkell, George and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Swanston, Eramosa, and Mr. James Ferrell, eldest brother of Mrs. Swanston, Gladwin, Mich.
