PRICEVILLE.

Intended for last week Heavy rain on Sunday which moistened the ground and gives everything a better appearance. The high winds of last week caused a lot of rolled grain, to be partially swept away, clouds of dust could be seen flying until the rain came. Some are due seeding a while ago, but there is lots to do yet.

Our churches were kind of empty last Sunday on account of the rain, but nevertheless the rain did not prevent the venerable John Campbell, of Swinton Park, to come out to hear Gaelic. He was accompanied by his son Donald. Mr Campbell is one of those good men that are always thankful with small mercies whether he gets Gaelic once or twice a month. No one ever hears him murmur, consequently it would be a pity to deprive such a faithful member as Mr Campbell of his beloved language the Gaelic.

Dr M Scott has moved to our town and will add much by his professional duties to the requirements of town and county.

Donald McDougall had Johnnie Livingston with him the most of last week putting in crop on Thomson's farm, South Lane, Glenelg

Roger McEachern is raising his frame barn to-day, Monday, with block and tackle. This is a great saving on having so many men as usual, as instead of having about 100, 12 or 15 will do all the attendance required by this method.

We are sorry to say that Hector McDonald, piper, is laid up with lung trouble for the last couple of weeks. We hope to hear of him being better soon again.

We wonder what has become of the Top Cliffs correspondent. We saw a few spatey budgets from there some months ago and we are at a loss to find out whether the author has laid aside her pen, writing "paraphernalia," or is her time occupied in attending to other correspondence of a different nature, which may prove to be more beneficial to her in future time than writing up the events and happenings of the locality.

Hugh McPhail, of Duluth, is spending a few weeks with his friends in Ardena and Glenelg at present.

Mr and Mrs Neil McPhail, of Collingwood, attended the late Mr McPhail's funeral on Saturday. Neil is a brother to the deceased Mr McPhail.

Fishing is the order of the day with those that have the time at their disposal. Good fish yards will soon be on strings now. Dugald, the shoeman, will be missing the mill-pond this spring, where he so frequently caught some fine big trout in times past but good Angus like Dugald will catch fish anywhere.

Mr McLeod is making preparation to rebuild his mill dam. As the water now is getting low it will afford opportunity to get at the work easier.

Died at his residence, one mile east of Priceville, on Thursday the 30th April, Mr Archibald McPhail, native of the Isle of Tyree, Argyshire, Scotland, aged about 65 years. Mr McPhail was ailing with a complicated set of diseases for the last few weeks. He was a long resident of this part and was a quiet and unobtrusive man. In religion he was a Presbyterian and in politics a reformer. He was a man that was well versed in scripture and in the affairs of our country. The funeral which took place to Priceville cemetery showed the respect he was held in the community by the very large procession that followed him to his last resting place. Rev Mr Matheson preached the funeral sermon. The family has the sympathetic feeling of the community in their sad bereavement.

This Week's Budget.

There have been three funerals in Priceville in space of five days. Frederick McGillivray's funeral took place on Wednesday last. He died at Toronto on Monday 4th inst, and the remains were taken up to this place for interment where he was laid to rest beside his mother and sister who predeceased him years ago. Mr McGillivray was born in the township of Proton 35 years ago. He was for a long time one of the managers of Toronto Asylum and was obliged to give up his position a couple of years ago on account of failing health. He leaves an aged father, three sisters and two brothers to mourn his death. Rev Mr Matheson officiated at the grave here. A goodly number of friends attended the funeral considering the short notice given. Again on Thursday 7th inst an old pioneer of Glenelg in the person of Mrs Dugald McGillivray, whose remains were taken from Owen Sound where she died with friends there to be buried beside her husband and some members of her family. Mrs McGillivray came to Glenelg about 52 yrs ago, but as we expect some of her old neighbors to write up more of an obituary we will not say any more this time.

Gaelic communion in the Presbyterian church next Sunday at the usual hour, 11 o'clock in the forenoon. All who are desirous of upholding that language will manifest the same by faithfully attending the solemn ordinances.

Mr Gardner and Mr Irving, of Toronto, accompanied the remains of their late brother-in-law, McGillivray to Priceville and were the guests of Mr and Mrs Donald Graham for a short while in the afternoon before returning to Toronto.

There is no surer sign of summer than to see the small boy throwing aside his winter shoes and hopping off to school on his birthday boots and if he in his hurry bump his big toe against a stone he still keeps hopping on one foot, heedless of pain or anything else.

Martin Murphy, (Councillor Sullivan's hired man was run over by a land roller while at work and narrowly escaped being flattened out by the accident. He however is going about with a sore side as a result.

Commissioner McArthur and Patrick Bolger were in Toronto last week, not on the Ganey case, but on business of their own.

Our graveyard in this town is in kind

o. a dilapidated condition and would need to be looked after. During winter many new graves were made and as a natural result these graves are now sunk below the level of the ground. While some are paying due respect by ornamenting the mounds of their beloved ones others are careless and neglectful in even looking after straightening up the slab that marks the resting place of a dear wife, son or daughter, father or mother. Let us by all means respect our dear departed ones by beautifying as to the best means at our disposal the spot where their bodies are at rest. Our cemetery is nearly full and ought to be enlarged. Some one was suggesting to us if there could be a possibility of purchasing the street immediately south of the cemetery and the lot opposite the school house. Perhaps some of our good politicians could put us on a way of how to obtain the street, as for the lot we could deal with the owner.
