INTERNATIONAL LESSON NO. XIII JUNE 28, 1903.

Review.-Read Rom. 1;1-7, 13-16.

Summary.-Lesson I. Topic: Paul's ministry at Ephesus. This is near the close of Paul's first missionary journey. After the riot at Ephesus he visited Macedonia, a city about 35 6. IV. Topic : Paui's coming afflictions -Paul reaches Tyre; meets with a cordial reception; continues his journey to Caesarea; enters the house of Philip the evangelist, one of the seven; tarried there many days; the prophet Agibus arrives; takes Paul's girdle and binds his hands and feet : says that thus Paul will be bound at Jerusalem and will be delivered to the Gentiles. When the disciples heard the prophecy of Agabus they besought Paul not to go to Jerusalem, but he told them that he was not only ready to be bound at Jerusalem, but also to give his life for the truth.

V. Topic: Paul mobbed and rescued. As soon as Paul reached Jerusalem he conferred with the elders of the church. He then entered into the temple and purified himself, according to the ceremonial law. Jews from Ephesus saw him in the women's court with strangers and supposed he had taken a Gentile into the temple and thus polluted it. They stirred up a mob against Paul for the purpose of taking his life. Paul was rescued by Roman soldiers, and afterwards while standing on the stairs delivered an address to the auto ride, "the auto has its advanassembled throng.

VI. Topic: Paul delivered from the Jews. Topic: Life through the Spirit. The law has no power to deliver from sin; it is weak through the flesh: Christ, who came in the likeness of sinful flesh, has power to save from sin. The Christian is not carnally minded, but spiritually minded; he walks not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. X. Topic; Paul's voyage to Malta. Faul set sail from Caesarea to Rome, August 21, A.D. 60. They landed at Fair Havens on the Island of Crete during the stormy sea-Paul advised them to winter here, but Julius, the centurian, who had charge, decided to sail for Pherice, a more commodious port of Ciete. XI. Topic; Paul preaching to the Jews at Rome. Paul performed many miracles on the Island of Malta, and the people of the island houored him and his companions with many honors. In the spring Paul and the others with him were taken to Puteoil, near Naples. The apostle then went to Rome, called the Jews together; explained why he was there a prisoner, and preached Christ. XII. Topic; The duties of the Christian minister. Paul wrote this letter to Timothy from Rome. These were among his last words. Timothy had learned much concerning the Scriptures when a child. Paul charges him to be faithful as a minister and to preach the word.

PRACTICAL SURVEY. The story of the quarter is very interesting and may be briefly told with profit. When Paul bade farewell to the elders at Miletus he was returning on his third missionary journey. Before he reached Jerusalem important stops were made at Tyre and Saesarea. Through the prophet Agabus and the premonitions of the Spirit Paul was apprised of trouble ahead at the capital city. His arrest at Jerusalem came soon after his arrival there, and to preserve his life Paul was hastily sent to Caesarea, the Roman capital, to Felix the governor. Here Paul's accusers met him, and although he showed their charges to be false, yet re was compelled to remain a prisoner for two years. Two memorable addresses are referred to, one delivered before Felix and Drusilla and the other before Festus and Agrippa. At last Paul saw that he could not obtain justice at the hand of the petty ruler who governed Palestine, and he accordingly appealed to Caesar, the Roman emperor. A few points should be noted. 1. Paul had an affectionate nature. He loved intensely. His greetings and ardor. 2. He was sympathetic. He wind up with "so they lived happy farewells show great warmth and with those that weep and and went on marrying ever after.

carried the burdens of the church He was an indefatigable worker. Men do not often die of overwork. Worry kills more people than work. 4. Paul had a persevering spirit. When his course of action was once decided upon, nothing was allowed to hinder him. He overcame difficulties that would have discouraged ordinary men and pressed on to victory. 5. Paul was a man of prayer. Some of his best writings are prayers for the church. Eph. iii. 14-21; Col. i. 10, 11 are examples. bold and courageous. Whether he II. Mrs. F. Wright, of Oelwein, lowa, is another one of the million women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A Young New York Lady Tells of a Wonderful Cure:-

"My trouble was with the ovaries; I am tall, and the doctor said I grew too fast for my strength. I suffered dreadfully from inflammation and doctored continually, but got no help. I suffered from terrible dragging sensations with the most awful pains low down in the side and pains in the back, and the most agonizing headaches. No one knows what I endured. Often I was sick to the stomach, and every little while I would be too sick to go to work, for three or four days; I work in a large store, and I suppose standing on my feet all day made me worse. "At the suggestion of a friend of my mother's I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is simply wonderful. I felt better after the first two or three doses; it seemed as though a weight was taken off my shoulders; I con tinued its use until now I can truth fully say I am entirely cured. Young girls who are always paying doctor bills without getting any help as I did ought to take your medicine. I costs so much less, and it is sure t cure them. - Yours truly, ADELAID PRABL, 174 St. Ann's Ave., New York City." - $5000 forfeit if original of above lette.

Bradstreet's on arade.

The continued advances in the markets for staple goods has stimulated the demand at Montreal for fail delivery. The fine outlook for the crops is helping trade in all lines, and the general opinion in trade circles is that the turn-over the coming fall will be much larger than ever before. There has been a steady increase in the demand for goods for fail delivcry at Toronto this week. The movement in seasonable goods is quite brisk in some lines. Wholesale trade at Quebec during the past week is reported satisfactory and merchandise is moving freely. At Victoria, Vancouver and other coast trade centres there is a good demand for fall staples. Trade generally appears to be in a healthy condition. The feature of the s.tuation at Winnipeg is the steady progress being made by the crops. Busness at Hamilton has shown steady progress this week. The firm tone of the markets for staple goods has had a good effect on country orders for the fall, and the sales for current requirements of retail trade are very encouraging. The conditions of trade, as reported to Bradstreet's, are exceedingly encourpast week. Retail trade is showing more activity, and it is expected that country remittances will show improvement soon. The movements in wholesale trade at Ottawa this week have been quite large, the retailers, under the stimulus of advancing prices of staple goods, having or- clothes, or sometimes appeared as dered freely for the fall.

RACE OF NILE GIANTS.

Men 7 ft. 6 in. Discovered at Supposed Source of the Nile.

Notes in the diary of Lieutenant Schloifer, who has just returned to Europe, contain interesting details of the discovery of the actual source mer. Schloifer, who has successfully led an army of 5,800 bearers carrying a dissected steamer to Lake Tanganyika, where it was put together and floated, fell in, on his return journey, with Kandt, who was hunting for the source of the Nile. The discovery was finally made by a party of six, comprising three natives. Kandt, Schloher and the wife of the latter, who had accompanied her husband in all his journeyings. There is nothing very striking about the source of the Nile-a little pool in a marsny basin-but the natives of Ruanda, the Watussi, are described by Schlolfer as a very interesting and remarkable tribe

They are giants of seven feet six inches, with small hands and feet, proud and self-confident manner, long straight hair brushed stiffly upward, and European or Hamitic features, with no negro characteristics. They were armed with immense spears and smoked black clay pipes incessantly. A young man of twenty, with weak eyes, was presented as their king, and Frau Schloffer. thanks to Dr. Kandt's popularity in that region, was received by the King's two wives-an honor never before accorded to a European. The visitor was conducted through nine great courts, enclosed with artistically woven straw wattles, to the royal huts, where she found the queens sitting like graven images on mats, with their backs against the wall and their legs stuck straight out in front of them. They had pretaging. In London there has been a ty and intelligent faces, small hands struggling to control himself, while steady demand for fall staples the and feet, tall, slender figures. They sat motionless with downcast eyes, for a time, then looked up at the visitor with evident wonder. They seemed disinclined for conversation, and the only question they asked was whether the German lady always wore all those they did. Their costume is described as consisting entirely of ornaments, though in public the Watussi are very fully clothed for Africans.

A Token of Attachment

In former days it was usual for a couple s ated tog ther to eat from one trencher, more particularly it the relations between them were of an intimate nature, or again if it were the master and mistress of the establishment.
