WILSON-STAPLES.

Wednesday, July 8, the home of Mr Jno. Staples, Glenelg was the scene of a pleasing matrimonial event—the marriage of his daughter Miss Nellie to Mr. Jas. Wilson. The wedding took place at 5 p. m., Rev. Mr. Farquharson officiating. The bridesmaid was a sister, Miss Jennie Staples, and Mr. Thos. Wilson, a cousin of the groom was best man.

The bride looked very pretty in gray hopsacking, trimmed with white alpaca and satin, and carrying water lilies. The bridesmaid was attractive in blue cashmere, alpaca trimming.

The presents so numerous and pretty bespeak the high esteem held for the bride: A list of them follows: 2 bowls, cheese dish, pickle dish, teapot and cake plate, teapot, half doz silver teaspoons, silver butterdish and knife, salad bowl, dozen table napkins, berry set, salad bowl, parlor lamp, sugar set and mustache cup, salt and pepper cester, parlor lamp, salt and pepper cester, berry set, pickle dish, water pitcher, silver salt and pepper set, butter dish, salt and pepper cester, berry set, berry dish, pickle cester, sugar set, card roediver, bread plate, tea set, salad bowl, lamp, pickle tray, berry set, crayon picture, matting and table cloth, silver fish set, carving knife and fork, bread knife and fork, 3 pr lace curtains, table mat, bed spread, 2 table cloths, 4 towels, pair of bowls, sugar set, 4 doz goblets, tray and water pitcher; quilt, mat, water pitcher and sideboard; set knives, forks and spoons, sugar set, butter dish set flat irons, 2 berry sets.

WILKINSON—DERRY.

On Wednesday last, July 8, at 4 p. m., about 150 guests assembled at the home of Mr and Mrs. Jno. Aldred to share in the rejoicings over the marriage of their niece, Miss Maud Derby, to Mr. Henry Wilkinson. At the hour named, the bride, on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Aldred, was led to the side of her lover, under a beautiful evergreen arch trimmed with white, and there took the vows that made them man and wife. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Newton, Rev. Mr. Miller assisting with "admonition due" and closing with prayer. The bridesmaid was Miss Cora Derby, while the groom was supported by his brother John. Miss Winnie Blythe made a delightful flower girl and strewn clusters of red roses on the bridal path. The bride was attractively attired in white spotted muslin, lace yoke and lace ribbon trimming and carried a bouquet of white lilies. The bride veil was caught up with sweet peas. The bridesmaid carried June pinks and she and the flower girl were also attired in white muslin and ribbon. The wedding march was played by Miss S. Burnet.

Mr. J. I. Brown took a picture of the bridal group, and later of the whole company. Supper was served in the orchard, picnic fashion, and a very pleasant operation it was. Suitable games were indulged in, fine music was rendered by Mrs. Newton, violin, mouth organ and zither, added variety. Heartly congratulations were tendered the happy young couple, and the Review extends the same to his old pupils.

The presents were numerous and beautiful and comprised: silver cake dish, 2 butter knives, 2 sets tea spoons, 2 berry spoons, fish knife, pie knife, 2 cracker jars, butter dish, dozen forks, 2 lemonade sets, water set, 3 glass fruit sets, china fruit set, china cheese dish, 2 large parlor lamps, bedroom lamp, large painting, 2 paper racks, 2 bread-boards and knives, set of knives, 2 sofa cushions, sofa cushion top, pr blankets, 3 pair lace curtains, 2 fancy side board scarfs, large hall-rack and mirror, 2 rocking chairs, set of toilet mats, envelope with $1, pocket book containing two 5-dollar gold pieces, 2 table-cloths, dozen table napkins.

RICKS & CAKES AT PRICEVILLE.

Last Friday Priceville was the scene of an afternoon of sport and a social, intellectual evening. Teams from Meaford, Evesham and Swinton Park struggled for victory at football, with the incentive of a $100 prize before them and a good crowd of onlookers around them.

Dromore and Markdale played full time but did not score. Twelve afterwards they tried to decide the matter but failed. Latterly, the main feature of the evening, Dromore choir was presented as usual had appropriate pieces which they rendered well. Songs were given by Misses Anna James & Emma McLean which produced rapturous applause. Misses Jean Bennett and S. Isaac and Messrs Wm. Ramage and Wm. Isaac sang with acceptance in quartets, &c.

Brief remarks were made by Messrs C. Ramage of the Review and locally of Priceville, and Rev. Dr. Watson gave an excellent little address which fitted in admirably with the events of the day, the topic being—strength and beauty.

The proceeds amounted to $75. Mr. D. MacCormack was gatekeeper.

From Durham we noticed Dr. Hutton and Miss Johnson, Mrs. A. Gordon and Miss Gordon, Messrs Jno. H. Hunter, J. S. Drysdale, W. E. Theobald, T. J. Jordan and Mr. and Mrs. C. Ramage.
