cutters'

2,000.

the demands for money in ions could be g up Mr. Mc-tack upon the nizations to bers and levy torney Nott efend the exusand dollar ooklyn stone that this had e case before that the Disprosecuting ard Carvel for ld see that ed in another d until Friday v and Colonel paid the $10.committee of opening. Mr. v proceeding mittee for exit would have oklyn authorrpose District poklyn, had a ing notes.

eaver

weavers emmill at the ho have been rted for work r demand for used pay being ever, was comix hundred of the fifty loom mill have deuntil the dehe lower secin operation, turned to work th the same listrict, where mills are lo-

e holding firm, y be affected.

ribune.

MEY CASE Aug. 3.-Deped a sensation of the Diet tohe table 10.000 , which he deered him as a ellow obstrucslapest. Herr er of the Kosit was former ted had 12,000 he retained r Papp, which order to prove said that the er Orszag had money would ff that newse Obstruction-

and handed ommittee was te the matter. scenes in the when the Pre-, rose to comthe indemnity nists stood up esounded with banging of desk d at the Pretion benches ended, but the on its resumpking unable to Premier handouse a written reading of the metionists beaction a couple lossuin party ential tribune, om the clerk's leces. The triwith shouting the tumult tho

AT ALTAR.

ended.

ch Occurred in urch. the marriage of good social ceding in a in's voice callding must not is blind." The less, demanded hould proceed. he priest prowhen the bride mind. afterwards exhe bride's sisthe bridegroom to induce him ich and marry there was no ilged the bride's e had a glass er sister lying he woman utand fled from

The real joy of an outing is good tea! Blue Ribbon Tea is made from the tenderest and most delicate leaves and flowers of the Ceylon tea plant.

It is delicious and creamy to the taste—is simply delightful with bread and butter.

Blue Ribbon Ceylon Tea

Black, Mixed Ceylon Green

40c. should be

Ask for the Red Label

The Rose and Lily Dagger

A TALE OF WOMAN'S LOVE AND WOMAN'S PERFIDY # 4 # #

Even when the old doctor raised the table and put it on, and with a his head and exclaimed gravely, last glance at the outlined form, "Good Lord! Looks like murder!" moved toward the door. the inspector did not move his eyes! The inspector followed him, not from the marquis. They wandered | closely, but without delay. over him, without seeming to do so, of a bloodhound when he first gets | keeper's cottage to the Castle.

"Yes," said the doctor, "it looks like murder! The poor fellow has the inspector, without taking his his hand across his brow. Inspector eyes from the marquis.

"Eh? What? N-o! That is, I think not. But who could have done it? Such a nice young fellow! God bless my soui! Where-where-" It was Davie who related the findign of the body; the inspector did not contribute a word. He had got the lantern in his hand by this time, and kept its light playing over the marquis' figure. "Dreadful!" exclaimed Dr. Simmons. "Who could have done it? I don't know that he had a single enemy. How should he have? Quite an inoffensive young man, my lord. Flighty an-well, conceited, and rather foolish, but-dear, dear! Stabbed like this!" and he pointed to the clean cut. "What do you say, Mr. Policeman?"

The inspector withdrew his eyes from the marquis as if reluctantly. "Nothing yet, doctor," he replied. "Your say comes first. He didn't commit suicide, as his lordship suggests, did he?"

The doctor turned his eyes upon the marquis. "Do you think that?" he said, and shook his head "I think nothing," sald the marquis, slowly, almost mechanically. "I merely asked the question."

The doctor shook his head again. "No," he said in a low voice. "The man has been-murdered. But who could have done it? Who had a spite against him?"

The three men were silent. Dr. Simmons turned to the mar-

"awful. And in your grounds, too, my lord! I'm afraid it will give you a great deal of trouble. And you have guests at the castle." "They leave to-morrow," said the marquis, absently. "I am leaving myself." The inspector moved an inch or two nearer to him.

"I shall want your lordship's assistance before you go," he said, slowly. "Perhaps your lordship would let me accompany you to the

"Do you suspect any one?" asked the doctor. The inspector did not answer the question. "If you and Davie and my man will remain here, I will go to the house with his lordship," he said. quietly. The marquis took his cap from

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

Cholera infantum is one of the most dreaded diseases of infancy. It is prevalent during the heat of summer in spite of all the care mothers and put in the most innocent and it sometimes progresses so quickly that death occurs in a few hours no matter what care is given the child. | press. The first thing to do is to stop feed-Give Baby's Own Tablets to carry have told you I only met him off the poison in the system. Do not | twice." under any circumstances give a | "Just so, my lord," assented Saunmodicine to check the diarrhoea, ders. "But, of course, you were on in his hand significantly. except under the advice of a doctor. | the best of terms with him ?" By using Baby's Own Tablets the The marquis did not answer for you. cause of the diarrhoea will be re- a moment; then he said, not with moved, and the disease will thus be a smile or a frown, but just calmly dently thinking hard. checked in a natural manner. Proof | and cooly; fatal trouble is given by Mrs. Herbert Burnham, Smith's Falls, Ont., who says: "When my eldest child was six weeks old he had an attack of cholora infantum and was at death's door. My doctor advised me to try Baby's Own Tablets, and in twenty-four hours baby was better;

he regained strength rapidly." their prompt use may save your ship would have been able to give "No, I shall not attempt to es- mighty deeds of our fathers. little one's life. Sold by medicine me some information. I fancied that cape. I shall remain until—" He dealers or sent postpaid at 25 cents perhaps you might have heard the stopped. a box by writing the Dr. Williams deceased cry; Davie says he heard | Saunders reddened.

Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. him, or thinks he did. You see, as "I ought to dened."

"I'll take the lantern," he said, then settled upon him with a light and he kept its glare on the mar-In them that might burn in the eyes | quis during their passage from the | ger. The marquis opened the library window and stepped in, and the inspector followed him.

The marquis sank into the chair "By his own hand, sir?" murmured in front of the table, and passed Saunders glanced round the room with the comprehensive sweep of a man accust moed to dealing promptly with details, and his eyes rested for a moment on the dress-coat lying on the chair, on which the marquis had thrown it.

The marquis lifted his head. "What is it you want?" he inmembered the man's presence. spector, "if I may take the lib-

"To ask me?" The man inclined his head respect-met the deceased, I believe?" "Yes, twice, so far as I know." "Would your lordship have any objection to telling me where and how you met him?"

The marquis looked at him, not with the resentment which might I thought you would have been have been expected, but with a able to explain at once, and keep steady, thoughtful intentness.

The inspector looked at him sharp- dagger. ly, and then down at the carpet. are not obliged to answer my questions," he said in a low voice. "I see no reason why I should quietly, deliberately. "The least thing gives us a clew. sometimes," said the inspector, as question. "And you see, my lord, the fact of his having been murdered in your grounds--" "I quite understand," said the marquis, as quietly and calmly as before, and as thoughtfully. "The first time I saw Captain Sherwin was-" he thought for a moment -"about a month or more ago." "Was he alone, my lord?" asked of course." The marquis looked down. connection with this case." "Just so, my lord," assented The marquis stretched out his wanted. Nobody, at least of all a bravado, by any means. lady, likes to be mixed up with Sherwin a friend, as I might say, of yours, my lord?" The question was a skilful one, small eyes of the London policeman saw the marquis' lips com-"I cannot say Captain Sherwin tone. ing the child and give him plenty of was a friend of mine," he said, affrosh air and pure water to drink. | ter a scarcely perceptible pause. "I that the Tablets cure this too often | "May I ask if you suspect me of murdering Captain Sherwin?" the directness of this attack, rose and looked first at the carpet and then at the marquis' dark unwaver-

"I'm sure I beg your lordship's the vomiting and purging ceased and pardon," he said, respectfully and I said, everything is of importance, small though it may seem."

"I did hear him cry, or think that I did," said the marquis. Saunders opened and shut his lips, then opened them again as if he could not resist asking the questions that had sprung to them.

n the grounds?" the marugis.

"About the time now?"

that chair there, my lord," he went movements, but did not resent them. Suddenly something fell to the ground, apparently from the pocket of the dress coat. Saunders picked it up, not quickly, but quietly. "Beg your pardon, my lord," he said, with the deepest respect. "I'm afraid I've dropped this out of your The marquis looked at him steadily, with a weary kind of patience and resignation. "You may continue your search," he said, with quiet dignity and significance. Saunders started, for the first time, then he looked at the marquis, and then at the rose and lily dag-"What am I to do, my lord?" he said in a low voice, as if he were appealing to the marquis' sense of ustice. "I must do my duty. If didn't do it, someone else would be sent down from London who would."

"Go on," said the marquis grimly. Ask what you please." "I may, my lord? Well, then"-he dropped his voice still lower, and glanced toward the door- "will your lordship tell me-I'm quite sure it can be explained, and I ask your lordship's pardon-how came those spots of blood on your shirt front and wristband, and on this coatsee here, my lord." and he rapidly quired, as if he had suddenly re- touched the breast of the coat here and there. "And this-good God! my "I wanted to ask your lordship a lord, it's covered, simply covered, few questions," responded the in- and he held out the dagger in his open palm, something not unlike a look of horror even on his face. The marquis remained silent. There was no sign of fear in his eyes, fully, but his eyes were as sharp as | none of the cheap bravado which the criminal often assumes at this cri-"Yes, my lord. You had previously tical time; he simply sat silent and thoughtful, as if he were still weighing the problem which had haunted and perplexed him since he saw the red spots on Elaine's sleeve.

Saunders' face became pale. "You are right not to answer, my lord. I shouldn't have asked, only me off a wrong scent. "What is this, "I met him first--" He stopped. | my lord?" he asked, looking at the

The marquis took it and touched "I need not say, my lord, that you | the spring, and Saunders started as the venomous blade shot out like a serpent's tongue.

"It's a dagger!" he said. "It's the not," said the marquis, not haught- thing that did it! The blade is the ily as might have been expected, but same width-I measured the wound! I find this in your pocket- you admit being in the grounds at the time of the wurder. Good God, my "It's a terrible business," he said; I if apologizing for venturing on his lord, what am J to do?" and he stood breathing hard and his eyes fixed on the marquis, a man torn between duty and inclination. The marquis raised his head.

"Do your duty," he said quietly.

CHAPTER XXVI. "Do your duty!"

The words were so quietly, so calmiy spoken, that Saunders could only stare with perplexity and trou-Saunders. "I'm anxious to get at bled uncertainty. For a moment it his friends as quickly as possible, seemed to the astute inspector as if it were simply impossible that this calm, quiet gentleman could be "He was not alone," he said. 'He guilty; then he glanced at the coat, was with a lady. It is not neces- at the dagger, at the red spots on sary that I should mention her the shirt front and wristband and name; she can have no possible doubt and uncertainty fell on him Saunders. "There is no need to hand and took a cigarette, lit it, mention any name that is not and smoked, but not with an air of "Have you made up your mind, this kind of business. Was Captain Saunders?" he asked quietly. Saunders shook his head almost impatiently. "I-I don't know what to do, my lord," he said. "If it were anyone else, a stranger, I-I should arrest may take to guard against it, and natural of tones; and the sharp, him on the spot. That is, if he didn't offer me a satisfactory ex- a Scottish celebration in Calcutta applanation. You don't offer me any, my lord," he added in an aggrieved

"No," said the marquis, in a low thousand and eight hundred fourvoice. "I have none to offer. If you score and one, in the City of Palaces. suspect me of this murder, and I dwelt certain wise men from a far can see that you do-"

"There is only one course open to their own eyes.

the Castle to-morrow, my lord?" | left. Saunders, thrown off his guard by it is evident that I cannot go now." try, and it shall come to pass that kidney diseases; others are loss of severe that It affected my general

The marquis looked up.

No Vim, No Snap, No Energy, Exertion

"Fagged right out," is an appropriate way to express the feelings of many people during the hot sum-mer months. No strength, no vigor, "Were you indoors, my lord, or out | no snap, no ambition, too weary to work and too languid to take any "I was out in the grounds," replied keen pleasure in life. You need a tonic for this summer fag, and the "Indeed, my lord!" said Saunders. very best summer tonic in the world Division, Ottawa, has received from Canadian are very promising." "Thank you, my lord," said the inspector very respectfully indeed.
"I'm much obliged to your lordship for the information you have given for the information me." He took up his hat, his eyes done for months and equal to any ex- in parts of that county a fair har- don suburbs, the specially bred wandering round the room. "I shall ertion: I don't know anything to vest of apples will be gathered. Canadian chickens having a great ing they'll trust the case to me, my er in medicine, or they will be sent equally with apples. In some coun- has demolished all prejudice on the lord. It's raining still," he said, as paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes ties the yield will be meagre; in score of "foreign" produce. he stepped to the window. "Raining for $2.50, by writing direct to the as hard as when we were out. I'm afraid your coat's wet, my ford, and I've kept you with my questions, from changing it. There's a coat on that chair there's a coat on that chair there's a coat on the chair there is a coat on the chair the chair there is a coat on the chair there is a coat on the chair the chair there is a coat on the chair the chair there is a coat on the chair the chair there is a coat on the chair the chair quis. "And this feels damp too, my will stop and see the end of this- fruit, as crops throughout Europe are for space. It is satisfactory to lord," he said, passing his hand over it may be, I—I will go and a total failure. We anticipate that know that there is an increased prices will be satisfactory all round enquiry for cool cured cheese, and for applied. "You have my word," responded the for apples."

marquis. "I did not ask you, but I From Hamburg. Germany. Edward preference for it. Yours very truly. shall be glad, for more reasons than Jacobs & Sons report; "The fruit one, if you can let me alone until crop in Europe is this year gener- Publication Clerk of Department of to-morrow. I will not leave the ally speaking short. Should there be Castle. You can-I suppose you will -have it watched?" Saunders made no reply to this, Isles of the Sea.

but considered for a moment. Then he took up the coat and slung it over any unnecessary pain," he said. "And I'll leave, I'll—" he stammered— "I'll leave you alone till to-morrow. I'll run the risk." "There will be none."

"I can understand that your lord-

The marquis nodded, and Saunders, after a pause fixed his eyes on the calm, pale face and continued: "Besides, perhaps after you've thought over the matter, and-and realized how serious it is for your lordship, you will be prepared to explain. I say this, my lord, because-" he hesitated and then blurted out the words-"because I'm not at all sure that you are guilty!" If he expected to extort a response one way or the other, he was disappointed. The marquis made a weary

"Very well," he said. "I shall be here when you want me. You will return to Davie's cottage?" "Yes, my lord, on my way to the telegraph office at the station." "Will you tell him and the doctor, and your man, to say nothing of-of what has happened until to-morrow?"

"I should do that in any case, my "Very good. Is there anything and found the blind man still up, even the joints of their knees.

Saunders shook his head moodily. you think of and would like to tell which is the water of fire.

seated in a chair. He slowly told the tale of the to his home, and a third part of the married woman. events of the night-the discovery multitude followed, and a third part of the body of Captain Sherwin, the remained, saying, "We thirst"; and risit of the inspector to the Castle, a third part rose up to play. the dropping of the dagger from his 18. And they played after the fashcoat, the suspicions of the officer, lon of their country, and their moveetc. He also described, how he, the ments resembled the peregrinations marquis, had found the dagger in the of a hen upon a griddle which is hot.

Here Luigi interrupted the marquis for they shouted for joy. with the appaling information that | 19, Now, as for them that were he knew that the dagger a few hours athirst, behold their drinking was previous had been in Elaine's hand. steady, but their limbs were not so "Oh, what a terrible array of in- | yea, they also shouted for joy, and criminating circumstances! exclaim- sang amazingly. ed the marquis. "It will be known | 20. And they answered one to anhow I quarrelied with Captain Sher- other, and said, that, notwithstandwin. It is already known that I was ing the crowing of the cock or the on the grounds alone at the time of dawning of the day, they should still

"No! I was with you!" "My poor Luigi! I had left you. with these words. Remember! The dagger, stained with 21. No it came to pass that, as old maid.—Chicago Journal. blood, was found in my coat; my shirt was marked." The blind man shook his head, his plifted hands.

(To be Continued.) CHECECHELER CENTERE CETTER

OF ST. ANDREW.

The following amusing account of peared in the Indian Daily News of twenty years ago: 1. It came to pass, in the year one country beyond the great sea.

Saunders was silent a moment, evi- themselves together, and they said of kidney disease may mean years a great deal with pains in the small one to another, Go to, let us re- of suffering.

which increased Saunders' perplexity. on the earth; ye have fled from the urine, swelling of the feet and 'egs, much run down. Since using Dr. "You will not leave the Castle?" land of your nativity, because the severe headaches, stifness and sore- Chase's Liver-Kidney Pills I can say land of your nativity is poor. ness of the muscles, rheumatic pains, that my trouble has entirely disap-5. This thing, therefore, will we cold chills in back and loins, scald- peared I can speak in the highest "You mean, shall I attempt to do; we will make a great feast, so ing, painful urination, weariness and terms of this medicine from the way that the nose of whomsoever smell- despondency. apologetically. "I'm only doing my "Yes, that is what I meant, my eth it shall tingle, and we will call There is, we believe, no preparaduty, my lord. I hoped your ford- lord," assented Saunders, doggedly. to mind the ancient days and the tion extant which affords such pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all ride over to Porlington, and wake up equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when Many growers will be satisfied if demand and realizing from $1.75 may wire to Scotland Yard. I'm hop- You can get the pills from any deal- have suffered from the spring frosts by finished appearance and flavor.

E. A. O'Kelly & Co., of London, this account it has been found say; "We are glad to state that necessary during the past few across the room and took up the lord," he said in a low voice, "but- prospects are very favorable this weeks to refuse the requests of a dress coat, and approached the marif you'll give me your word that you | vear for the importation of Canadian | number of factories, which applied prepared, and men in white raiment | 22. And some said, It is the moon; ministered unto them, and a ruler of and others said, It is the sun; and "I'm anxious to spare your lordship the feast was appointed, and set in some said, Doth the sun rise in the the feast, and the writing was in a two in the sky. tongue no man could understand, for the language was the language of ship would like to get rid of your the "Crapaud," which signifieth in He was the son of Fill Foo, and his the heathen tongue, a frog.

> interpretation thereof, now, these less. were hypocrites; for they knew but this much was a great mystery.

inner man was comforted. 11. And while they ate, behold, there drew near three mighty men ceived them before. of valor, clothed in many colored garments, and they bore in their arms musical instruments shaped like unto a beast of prey.

12. And they blew mightily upon what seemed the tail thereof, and straightway came there forth shricks and sounds as it were the howlings of the damned. 13. And the hearts of the people were comforted, for this is that wherein their great strength lieth.

"No-if you are decided to say no but the children of the north would more, I'll go now, my lord. If you none of these; for they quenched their feast of the New Year, and they will should want me, if there's anything thirst with the Dew of the Mountain, remember us and bless us, and our me, I shall be at the police station | 15. Then spake the wise men of the waiting for instructions from Lon- congregation unto them, and called to mind the ancient days and the

He glanced around the room, and mighty deeds of their forefathers. then at the marquis searchingly, and | And the people rejoiced exceedingly. 16. Now it came to pass when they After finishing his cigarette, which had eaten and drunken greatly, even profession he should not forget the had the effect of clearing his brain, unto the full, that the hinges of the marquis went to Luigi's room, their tongues were loosened-yea,

17. And the ruler of the feast fled is acting the role of the long-ago-

Yet they seemed to think it pleasant, partake of the juice of the barley.

So they encouraged one another It is the bride of advanced years who speaks the most pityingly of an Ottawa, July 14, 1903 .- The Fruit no duty on apples the prospects for is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale several of its correspondents in Eurstate: "There has been an almost "I cannot tell you," said the mar- People. Every dose makes new rich ope reports showing that the fruit total failure here of plums and blood, tones the nerves, sharpens crop is a small one this year, and pears, and this year there will be "And where might you have been, the appetite, stimulates the liver, indicating that there will be an un- a good opportunity for the shipmy lord; in what part of the and banishes weakness and weari-usually good market for Canadian ment of Canadian pears. The latgrounds? It will help us to decide ness, headaches, backaches languor whether the deceased was stabbed near where he fell, or elsewhere, and carried to the stream afterward."

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—it's a waste of word."

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—it's a waste of word."

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—it's a waste of word.

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—it's a waste of word.

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—it's a waste of word.

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—it's a waste of word.

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—it's a waste of word.

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—it's a waste of word.

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—it's a waste of word.

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—it's a waste of word.

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—it's a waste of word.

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—it's a waste of word.

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—it's a waste of word.

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—it's a waste of word.

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—it's a waste of word.

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—it's a waste of word.

Incomplete the deceased was stabbed that can do this for you is Dr. Williams "I quite understand," responded else. Mr. Louis Doucet, Grand Etang, on an average they will do well. market before your fruit is ready, the marquis, "I was in the shrub- N. S., says: "I was very much run bery—" He stopped suddenly. "I down in health and was weak and siderably. In some parts of Kent Germany are large growers of apthink I had better not answer any easily tired. My appetite was varithe trees carry excellent crops; in ples, and the crop this season is further questions, Mr. Saunders," he able, my nerves unstrung and I often others hardly any. The same confairly large, but the quality is so aid gravely.

felt a complete indisposition to work.

felt a complete indisposition to work.

dition of things prevails in Herepoor that they can never reafly, fordshire, whence the Midland councompete with Canadian fruit."

buyers are beginning to show a W. A. Clemons.

and from the north, and from the | they sat, one came and said that he had seen a strange fire in the sky, 7. And, behold, a great feast was but what it was he could not tell. west? and others said, This is not 8. And forthwith to each man was the west, but the east; and some given a writing of the good things of said, Which is it? for we perceive

23. And one said, I see nothing, Now, mother's name was Haud Foo; and 9. And some there were who pre- his brethren, Bung Foo, Sing Foo, tended to know the writing and the Greet Foo and Tam Foo, were speech-

24. Then each man bade his neighsix letters of the writing, and those bor farewell, embracing and vowing letters were H.A.G.G.I.S., and even eternal friendship, and some were borne home in scanty raiment, and 10. And the dishes no man could others in carriages which jingled as number; the people ate mightily, as they went; and others drove their It were the space of one hour. And own chariots home, and saw many, no man spake to his neighbor till his strange sights-for they found grass growing and ditches in the midst of the way where they had not per-

25. And it came to pass that in the morning many lamented and took no breakfast that day; and the men in white raiment brought unto them many cunningly devised drinks. yea, pick-me-ups, for their tongues clove uinto the roofs of their mouths, and the spittle on their beards was like unto a small silver coin, even a six-

26. But when they thought of the previous day, they rejoiced again, 14. And wine was brought in vessels, for they said, Our brethren whom we have left will hear of it at the hearts and hands shall be strengthened for our labor here.

Second Thoughts.

When a man makes a choice of a small parts in it.

It is easy to detect the bride who business usually is the most unconventional when away from it. It takes a bride to feel real honest unconcern over flattery Men of public affairs often show. lack of tact in personal concerns.

The bride who is able to display a handsome outfit has a keen sense of her importance. Many men allow their ideas to become stunted through too much self-

Women Have Kidney Disease

And Often Make the Mistake of Attributing the Resulting

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

Backache to Other Causes

Many women have kidney disease scores and hundreds of statements and do not know it. They confuse which are received at these offices Saunders turned the dagger over 2. In that year the rulers of the the symptoms of kidney disease with from reputable people in all walks of city did that which was right in those of aliments of a feminine na- life. ture. We would warn you against | Mrs. W. Wilkins, Henry street. 3. Now these wise men assembled this danger, as a few days' neglect | Belleville, Ont., states: "I suffered

"You said you were going to leave | member our brethren whom we have | Pains in the small of the back or | trouble. Whenever I stooped I could weakness and lameness of the back scarcely rise again, the pains were "I did. That was my intention. But 4. For, behold, we be in a far coun- are the most marked symptoms of so great. The disease became so He spoke in a matter-of-fact voice men shall say of us, Ye be nameless flesh, dry, harsh skin, deposits in the health, and I was becoming very Saunders reddened.

"I ought to take you to-night, my Cakes and of Thistles, from the west a thorough cure is evidenced by the box.

prompt relief for backache and the dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co. 6 So they appointed a day, and other distressing symptoms of kid- Toronto. To protect you against many were gathered together - a ney diseases as Dr. Chase's Kidney- imitations the potrait and signa-