Sight-Seeing on Train and Tram.

An old friend who was a Sabbath school scholar with myself, but has been Superintendent for many years and a pillar in the church, left his place of business to take me to see the old chapel we used to attend as boy and girl and we sat in the old gallery seats and more and visited each spot of sacred memory. The chapel is now a paper warehouse. My friend then took me to see the houses where I used to attend school, in one of which I got acquainted with his wife, she also was a Sabbath school scholar with us and I have kept up a correspondence with her through all these years.

On Sabbath morning we attended the congregational church, where my uncle is the Senior deacon. Found a number of changes in the service, but heard a very good sermon. In the evening we attended the 1st Presbyterian Church, which my late uncle John was actively associated in establishing and was also one of the first elders. We saw his likeness in the vestry, and were introduced to the pastor, Rev. Mr. Grant, formerly of Liverpool. Felt more at home in the evening service.

While in Nottingham was much interested in seeing a great many large electric trams filled with children of all ages who had been taken for a day's outing. They were all poor children and were returning home in the evening, so we had to stand for a quite a long time in the rain until all the children's trams had passed so that we might board one and get home. Was on our way from Newark where we had spent the day. This occasion, and one other in London, a thunderstorm and very heavy downpour of about two hours, was all the inconvenience to which we have been put since coming to Britain by rain. The weather has been quite Canadian. In London we took the underground railway and reached our home in Euston Road quite comfortably.

I must say that after seeing so many places, and London, which I like very much, yet I think I can say without fear of contradiction that Nottingham holds the pre-eminence for picturesque beauty, cleanliness, (the factories there consume their own smoke) and situation like Rome, I am told, Nottingham is built on seven hills, and the Castle, a very historic place, is built on the top of a high rock.

It is late so will now bring this to a close, and hope you will use your prying shears to cut all unnecessary remarks, and make it presentable to public eye. With kindest regards to everybody, I remain Yours sincerely,

H. CAMERON.

HOPEVILLE.

Intended for last week

Football game was played here on Monday evening 17th, as per arranged, between the Hopeville and Riverview team. The ball was not thrown until 7 p. m. and the boys went into it with each party being sure of success. The Riverview boys were a stalwart lot of young fellows and met by the Hopeville players as their equals. In less than 30 minutes the Riverview boys made a goal. Then after a few minutes rest they started again and played till dark without either party getting any more. Thus the play ended 1-0 in favor of Riverview. Mr. Barris, of Riverview, was referee. There was some grumbling about the fairness of the playing. Hopeville team was accused of having members of the Swinton Park and Dundalk teams playing with them, but they now say that some of the members joined the Hopeville team. The Hopeville people treated Riverview to a good lunch in Allen's Hall.

On Tuesday, the 18th, some of our young men started for Manitoba. Among them was Jos Conler Jr., Parslow and Dods.

On Wednesday 19th, H C Hooper, of the South of Proton, and who has been working here this summer, was united in marriage to Miss Emma Gilks, daughter of the late Thos. Gilks, of Dan-Jalk. They went to Shelburne to have the knot tied. Congratulations.

On Friday 21st some of our sporting boys went to Mt Forest to witness the lacrosse play between Owen Sound and Mount Forest.

The Cantlan's, cattle dealers, of near Mt Forest, were here buying cattle last week.

I W McArdle, of Markdale, pays a visit almost every Saturday to see his mother who is not improving much.

This Week's Budget. Mr John C Caldwell, of Galt, has been through Egremont and Proton in company with his two sons.

David Allen, of our town, has gone to Little Current, to do the carpenter work for a house for his brother Ham. It is reported here that David will run for M. P. P. on the Independent ticket against R. R. Gamey if there is a good opening.

The wet weather here has put the harvest back. We are expecting a good yield of grain. Considerable grumbling about the Bell Telephone Company here as not putting in the phones according to promise.
