"CANADA."

By James Watson, Varney.

There's a land that bears a world renown And Canada's the spot, the brightest gem in Britain's crown. Whose glory fadeth not. And Canada the truest name, The home of Britons free, The land that ever will maintain, The cause of liberty.

CHORUS. It's a star in the crown of old England the free; United as one our empire shall be, Our homes and our country young Canada sing. Three cheers for our country and three for our king. Three cheers for our country and three for our king.

There's a heart that beats with honest pride, Fair Canada for thee, Thy mountains bold and prairies wide - Fit emblems of the free. Our boast is not in arms, but art. And truth shall guide our way And Canada with hand and heart, Will hail the better day.

There's a flag that waves for freedom's sake, It's honor to defend, (cause) By right, not might, shall be our laws And truth and friendship blend. No hostile foe shall tread our land When loyalty prevails, Our motto's peace, goodwill to man. Borne on the swelling gales.

From rockbound coast of eastern shore, O'er prairie lands of west, May peace and plenty evermore, Our great Dominion bless, Our homes, our country and our king. No discord e'er shall sever, With loyal hearts we'll ever sing The Maple Leaf Forever.

CHORUS for fourth verse. (Tune - "God Save the King") To thee, O Canada, Our loyal song of praise, Of thee we sing, May peace and plenty reign, O'er this our wide domain, A blessing on thy name, O, Canada, Our noble king him bless With heavenly righteousness: Long may he reign O'er Britain's vast domain: And we have cause to sing, God bless our noble king And Canada.

FROM BENTINCK TO BEULAH.

Wednesday, Oct. 28th, the home of Mr and Mrs Don McQuarrie, Bentinck, was gay with a company met to celebrate one of the ever-interesting life unions, whose recurrence always awakens in the circle of at least two lives, the liveliest interest and the warmest wishes. The occasion was the marriage of Miss Annie McQuarrie to Mr Leslie Adams, Lake Beulah, Wis. Rev. Mr Aitchison, Dornoch, tied the knot, and the happy couple were supported by Miss Annie Livingstone, Glasgott, and Mr Neil McLean, Rocky Saugeen.

The ceremony took place at 12 noon in the presence of a goodly company of friends and relatives, amongst them being Mr and Mrs Neil Livingstone, Glasgott, Mr and Mrs Jas. Ledingham, Dornoch, Mr and Mrs L. McLean and daughter Esther, Rocky, Mr Hugh McCormick, Florida, Mr and Mrs Duncan McQuarrie and two children, Campbell and Annie Livingstone, Glasgott, and Misses Kate McCormick, Julian and Tema McLean and Malcolm McLean of Bentinck.

The bride's dress was of cream de chene, her reception gown is of light blue voile, and her travelling dress was navy blue and white wool goods. The bridesmaid, a niece of the bride, wore a pretty shade of blue. A rare and sumptuous dinner was then partaken of, the table being graced by a handsome 5-story cake adorned with silver ornamentation and pink and white decoration.

They left last week for the West, expecting to stay a few days in Chicago with the bride's sister, Mrs. Wm. Ferguson and be at home in Beulah latter part of Nov.

The bride got many handsome and useful presents and the young couple many warm felicitations. Com. The REVIEW extends warmest good wishes.
