WE'RE STRICTLY IN IT

In regard to several lines of goods passed into stock recently.

That is to say: We are able to sell you these goods, which have advanced greatly this season, at prices lower than you can buy them elsewhere

We're Glad to be able to do it.

WRAPPERETTES

Those whose have seen our stock of these goods will tell you that we sell The Widest, Prettiest, and Best weight Wrapperettes at 10c per yd while you pay others 12 1/2c for them. Patterns count also, we have the choicest.

FLANNELLETES

Where else can you buy flannellettes for 8c per yd; or 30 inch goods for 5c. The weight tells too.

In Pinks and Whites we challenge competition. We sell you those heavy Loch Lomond Shirts for 10c. This is a snap which attracts many. 2 1/2c per yard is a big saving.

This is Enough at a Time. These gen nine snaps; we have many more like them. But remember, You Can't Judge Prices until you Inspect Quality. We're willing to let you be the Judge.

THE DURHAM REVIEW

Announces the most remarkable proposition ever made by a Canadian publication to its readers:

TWO DOLLAR PAPERS FOR $1.15

By special arrangement, and at heavy cost—justifiable only by the certainty of largely increasing our subscription list—we are enabled to offer our paper and The a great dollar weekly, for $1.25 per year. This offer is exclusive, and can be made by no other paper, as we have purchased the exclusive rights for this district.

REMEMBER THIS FACT—Every subscriber paying one dollar in advance for our paper will receive The Montreal Weekly Herald for one year without extra cost. The expense to us is so great that we can make no deviation from this rule—the money must be paid in advance, and all arrears must be paid.

As a Newspaper.

THE MONTREAL WEEKLY HERALD was established in 1868, and is the second oldest Canadian paper. In its old age it has retained its youth, and stands in the forefront of Canada's great newspapers. As a newspaper, it is edited with respect to its constituency of readers, who desire a comprehensive summary of the world's news of the week. Everything is viewed from the standpoint of the Canadian who wishes to keep abreast of the times, without being made through countless volumes of irrelevant matter. The denotation marks The Herald's treatment of every line of news. Do not confuse it with other papers of a similar name. The Herald is a compact paper, not a blanket sheet.

As a Home Paper.

THE MONTREAL WEEKLY HERALD is pre-eminently a paper for the Home. In the first place, nothing is permitted in its columns that cannot be read with profit and instruction by every member of the household. In the second place, it is edited with special reference to matters that interest women. "Madge Morton's" weekly talks with her women readers constitute the most popular department of the kind in any Canadian paper. They are veritable "heart-to-heart" talks with the women of the Dominion, and are appreciated in thousands of homes in the department as given hints to Mothers; time-tested looking receipts; the latest Fashions, illustrated and a hundred and one topics of feminine interest.

THIS COMBINATION is a great one. Your home paper gives you in full the local news, the local markets and the local gossip. The Montreal Weekly Herald gives you the general news of the world, reports of the great markets, departments of interest in farmers, and, in particular, features of value and interest in The Home. One paper is the complement of the other. They dovetail into each other, and never overlap.

THE REVIEW, DURHAM, ONT.

The Late Mrs. Geo. Amos.

By our Dromore Correspondent.

There died at Dromore, Oct 25th inst., one of the oldest settlers of this township of Egremont, viz., Margaret Amos, born at Yarrow, Dumfriesshire, Scotland, Jan. 10th, 1816. She emigrated to Canada in 1855 residing in Pushlimh Tp. for one year, coming to Egremont in 1856 as housekeeper for her uncle, who had settled on lot 12, con. 13. Four years afterwards she married Geo Amos, who predeceased her about one year and a half ago. She was truly a remarkable woman in many ways. Possessed of a vigorous frame she was well able to take her part in the arduous labors incidental to pioneer life in the bush. Many a time she has told the writer of meeting bears and other wild animals in the woods, as with her faithful dog she searched for her cows in the then almost unbroken forests. Her home was ever open to the besighted traveller and many of early pioneers can testify to the kindly hospitality given so heartily and freely in their time of need: to such as she in the hungry and footsore were always welcome. She was possessed of an intelligence above the ordinary. For a time she was a servant of the family of Jas Hogg, the great Ettrick Shop-heru of whom she had many pleasant recollections. At that time the late Rev Mr Park, of Durham, was the tutor to Mr Hogg's family and Mrs Amos took the advantage of the opportunity offered to acquire the opportunity above the average of that time. While here she occasionally met Sir Walter Scott, and could recall incidents of the great poet and his "dogs." She could discuss any subject coming before her with an intelligence and ability often surprising. But it is by her strong and consistent christian character that she will be longest remembered.

The Presbyterian Church as a whole and the congregation here in particular have lost a warm friend and supporter. The first religious services held here were conducted by the Rev Mr Stewart of the Baptist Church, Mt. Forest. Later on the Rev Mr McLean, of Mt Forest, Presbyterian, held services here once a month, the gatherings being held in Mrs Amos' house in winter and in the barn in summer. About this time a bush fire occurred and she was called upon to put forth supreme efforts to save her home, becoming almost exhausted she lay down to rest beneath the shelter of a beech tree that stood where Amos Church now stands and falling asleep she had a dream and imagined she heard beautiful strains of sweet music, awaking and listening to the wail rushing through the leaves above her head, she thought would not this be a beautiful place to have the Psalms of David sung to God's praise? She immediately formed a resolution to make a proposition that on this spot a church should be built and she offered one year's wages of hard labor, as the price of a plot on which to build. Her offer was accepted, and in 1862 the old log church known as Amos Church was erected and regular services established.

From that time forward for many years, her house was the minister's home, her stable the home of the minister's horse. Her interest in the church she had thus been instrumental in establishing never abated, and her presence seldom vacant in all the succeeding years. Truly a mother in Israel has left us: one to whom this community is indebted for the establishment of gospel ordinances which have been of untold benefit. For her pure and godly example, her benefactions to us as a congregation and community, all are thankful, and all proud to think that as long as "Amos" Church stands her name will be perpetuated, and our recollection of her will be "She has done what she could."

Her funeral took place on Tuesday, 27th inst., from her home in Dromore, and was largely attended by many who came to pay the last tribute of respect to one who had been to them a helper in the time of need. The remains were taken into Amos Church, where her pastor, Rev Mr Campbell, delivered an appropriate address, choosing for his text, Mark 14:8. "She hath done what she could," those words so fitting the one who had gone. How did Mary erect this monument of character? She loved the Saviour, and showed it in deeds of love; using the precious ointment, she did what she could; the Lord expects us all to do the same—to be faithful stewards, were points emphasized by the pastor. Referring to the character of deceased he said many points were worthy of our example. She was a good neighbor, had undaunted faith in God, loved His house, His word and the preaching of it, had great regard for the Sabbath Day, and in many other ways her life was a lesson.

The remains were then laid to rest in Amos church graveyard beside her husband, the pall-bearers being Messrs James Isaac, James Leask, Peter Reid, Samuel McLean, Chas McKenzie, Robt Renwick.

NORTH EGREMONT.

It is our pleasing privilege to report this week, that which is generally looked upon as the consummation of happiness, the marriage of two of our loving citizens in the person of Wm Tucker Esq., and Miss Mary A McKinney, a sister of Mrs Robt Baxter. The pleasant event took place at Dundalk on Wednesday of last week, consequently the secret did not leak out till the latter end of the week, when on Halloween the number of 18 met for an old-fashioned good natured chatavari. Rusty shot guns, and old cow-bells, which had become the resting place of spiders since the days of poor fences, were brought into requisition. This coupled with old tin pans and lusty lungs, made melody in the hearts, if not on the midnight air. The bride and groom with admirable tact, invited the boys into the house, where all gave hearty expression individually and collectively to the wish, that the young couple may experience happiness, prosperity and longevity. After a pleasant time spent, the company dispersed to their homes, no overt act of roughness or rudeness having been indulged in, and all feeling in their hearts, nothing the worse for their good natured though noisy jollity. They promised the boys a party, some time in the near future, when they get things straightened up and settled in their home. We, in common with others, bid the bride a hearty welcome to our locality.

Mr Falconer, of Mono Road, was up last week on a visit to his daughters Mesdames Jos and J H Moore.

Austin Hann has recently added a 4 horse power to his stock of machinery with which to run his cutting box.

The value of a cistern in a locality where water is scarce was amply shown when Mr Bernard Hartford, S. Glenagh, supplied his neighbors with 14 tankfuls for the use of the engine.

We regret to learn that John Walker, who has made his home at Adam Hall for several years, has been lately affected with a slight aberration of the mind, and was removed to a place of safety a physician. We hope that John, who has always been a quick, diligent and trustworthy boy, may soon be restored to his usual mental condition.

OPPOSITE THE CHRONICLE OFFICE

The Late Duncan McMillan.

By our Hopeville Correspondent.

There passed away on Saturday, 31st Oct., to his reward at the ripe age of 84 years, Duncan McMillan, Esq., J. P. and an ex-reeve of Proton township. Mr McMillan is one of pioneers of Proton, came here about 50 years ago and settled on lots 12 & 13, cons 16. When there was not much better track to follow than the surveyor's blaze on the trees, he by diligence made a good comfortable living and leaves a well-cleared farm of 200 acres with good substantial buildings on it. He was a public spirited man and took part in the formation of the council in its earliest days. He was reeve the second year of Proton Council and was a member of the council for many years since and reeve again not many years ago. He always took part in church work and helped to get churches of the Presbyterian religion established in Proton, and was early appointed an elder. For years there were only three elders in the township viz., Duncan McMillan, Wm Dunn and Thos Fraser, of Ventry. Mr McMillan was Highland scotch and came here from Lower Canada. He married a Miss Smith in Proton, who still survives him, with three sons and four daughters. All of whom, received a good education and are left comfortable by their aged and much respected father. Mr McMillan was always of a cheerful disposition and his home was often the calling place for many a weary traveller in the early days. He was a strong reformer and could always be depended upon for support by his party. The funeral will be Monday 2nd November to Seinton Park.
