BALSAM VALLEY.

A long time has elapsed since anyone has written from our burg and I thought I would take this opportunity of letting your readers know some of the affairs of this vicinity.

Nobody got its name or how it ever originated. About 17 years ago this winter, this little hamlet of ours was here in our midst taking out ties on balsams which have nearly all disappeared since. At that time Mr. Alex. Nevin, now a resident of Ardenburg, was here in our midst taking out ties on his property here and being troubled so much with these balsams being in his road he named the place Balsam Valley. Since that time it has clung to the name and likely will for all time to come and the people of this vicinity may thank Sandy Nevin for the origin of the name Balsam Valley.

We understand Mrs McKechnie has rented her farm for a term of years to Sam McMurdo. We wish Sam every success in his undertaking for he is a hustler.

Mr Orchard and Miss Sarah left for their home in London, where they intend to remain for the winter.

Mr Willie Orchard was up last week and brought a gang of men to cut wood and returned the following day. Mr Orchard has made a great change here inside of a year and he now has a fine house erected and also a large sawmill with all the latest improvements where they turn out first-class work. Frank Orr is head sawyer and I tell you he knows his business, while Tom Cherry carries the boards out of existence and watches that the slab taken off of true and Tom Watson keeps the floor clean and rolls the logs to place and Jack gives them the power from the White and sons engine and but not least is Archie Caldwell, who will never die with consumption and can be heard when asperson cannot see him but still he draws the large logs to place for to be devoured up in a few minutes.

Mr D McIntyre is erecting a large woolshed, which looks right for the time.

We were much pleased to see and hear Mr Walter Nichol, a student of Knox College, last Sabbath. A large crowd turned out to hear their fellow citizen.

Mr Thomas McDougall has returned home from Michigan, where he has been for some time.

Mr C McLean and his gang of threshers is in our midst at present, and is about the end of the season, which was a good one.

Mr C Ferguson is home at present and will remain for some time and perhaps settle down.

What would like to know—Who stole the oats? And how did the padlock get sprung? Who is going to buy the old school—Went.

A leaflet entitled "A Message to those who are far back in their Studies," introduces a new department in educational work. The Northern Business College, Owen Sound, has started a department to assist young people who have not had a chance to get a full public school training.

WELCOME LIGHTS.—Saturday night last after 6 weeks off, the electric lights were turned on and were daily welcomed. Few would like to return to the old trouble-making lamps. Only one wheel is yet in place, but next week the second wheel will go on and street lighting will be improved. The two wheels and improved dam will, or should, give us an excellent service.

MARRIED.

KENNEDY—ROBERTSON.—On Wednesday, Nov. 11th, at the manse, Durham, by the Rev. Wm. Farquharson, Thomas Kennedy to Fanny Robertson, both of Bentinck.

A MAMMOTH HOLIDAY ISSUE.

The December Delicater (Christmas Number) represents the high-water mark of beauty and utility, and possibly of circulation also, in a woman's lion copier. It contains 240 pages and striking to exquisite color work, clever fiction and strikingly illustrated articles, the number includes a display of charming winter fashions covering forty-two pages, letters from the foreign fashion centres and trimmings, etc. etc. The contributors are: Richard Le Gallienne, with a delicate romance; a Wedding Ring in the Garden, containing lyrics in the author's best vein; W. A. Fraser, with an Indian tale, the Net of Leo; Albert Bielew Paine, with a clever travesty on the fables of the collector; Harriet Prescott Spofford, with a love story of unusual interest; Andrew Lang, with a clever travesty on the usual fairy tale; and Gustav Kobbé, with an interesting her Italian home, with a remarkable photograph by J C Hemment. There are many beautiful art features, among them four pages in colors representing Babyhood, Childhood, Girlhood and Motherhood—the work of Bernard J Rosenmeyer. For the children there are interesting games and stories, and for the housewife many practical suggestions in cookery and other departments of the home, for the Christmas season.

Among the important series of articles will be one on the occupation of the farmer in many parts of the world—in England, in Ireland, in India, in Argentina, etc.

Obituary.

THOS. NOBLE DEAD.

The town was startled on Friday last when it learned that the night previous a well-known citizen and business man had been called away. Mr. Noble was ill only a few days with an acute attack of inflammation of the lungs and many aged not even heard of his illness, and this the news came with startling suddenness.

Mr. Noble has taken a part in the life of Durham for many years. For some time he kept a hotel in Upper Town, but it was as an implement agent he was best known, first for others, and latterly for himself. He leaves to mourn his demise at the comparatively early age of 48 yrs., his wife, three sons and two daughters. Besides, his aged mother survives, eight brothers and two sisters, and to all, but especially to the widow and children sincere sympathy is extended. The funeral on Sunday was very largely attended by the general public, and by the largest fraternal turnout ever seen in Durham. Orange-men and Foresters, (C. O. F.) over 125 in number, some from Hanover and other points, turned out to perform the last rites for their deceased brother. Rev. Mr. Smith conducted the religious services at house and grave.

ANGUS MCCORMICK.

Saturday last the mortal remains of Mr Angus McCormick, were laid to rest in the Rocky Cemetery beside his father. He died at the home of his sister, Mrs F. McLaren, Spooner, Wis., the cause of death being a kidney trouble, and last week the sad journey home was made by his brother Hugh, a doctor in Cartwright, Wisconsin. The aged mother of the deceased still lives at the old home, Bunessan, one son and one daughter, Donald and Eliza, living with her; besides these named, two daughters, Kate and Annie are in the post office, Walkerton, and one son, Alex., in Trout Lake, B. C. Deceased was the eldest of the family and left here 29 years ago finding a home in Minnesota. Many of those who knew him in his Glenelg days assembled for his funeral and these and many more extend sympathy to the bereaved ones in their sorrow.

FARMERS' ASSOCIATION.

Meetings of this body will be held at Dromore, on the evening of Dec. 2nd; at McCuaig's School House, S. Glenelg, evening of Dec. 3rd; at Allan Park, afternoon of Dec. 4th, 2 p. m., and same evening at Watson's school house, Nornaby. Evening meetings at 7.30 p. m.

Mr W. L. Smith, Toronto, will be present to address the electors on the issues of the day.

WM. ALLAN, GEO. BINNIE, Pres. Secy.

The Youth's Companion in 1904.

As the years increase THE YOUTH'S COMPANION endeavors to keep pace with them in all that is wise, beautiful and progressive, and not only to retain but to deserve the honorable and exceptional high place it holds in the confidence and affection of three generations of readers. The greatest living authors in all branches of literature continue to contribute to it.

Among the important series of articles will be one on the occupation of the farmer in many parts of the world—in England, in Ireland, in India, in Argentina, etc.

The Annual Announcement Number of the Companion, describing the principal features of The Companion's new volume, will be sent free to any address.
