PRICEVILLE.

Miss Minnie McIntyre, South Line, had the misfortune to break her foot above the ankle, on 2nd of Jan. by mis-stepping while going in on the door step. She is attended by Dr Dixon of this place and is doing as well as can be expected.

John Williams, old Durham Road, lies in a critical condition with a combination of ailments, but we hope to hear of his recovery soon.

Snow now is deeper than ever, and it is a hard matter for teams to pass one another.

The Annual meeting was held in the Presbyterian church here on Friday evening, the 15th. A goodly number of ladies and gentlemen were present and the business was got over in good order. Ladies provided lunch at the close and the choir gave some excellent singing, under the leadership of Miss Reily at the organ.

Miss Lizzie McDougall, of Maloch, visited at her friends, the McDougalls, South Line, Glenelg, for a few weeks and returned home on Friday last, accompanied by her father, Dan McDougall, and Christina J McDonald, who is complimenting the McDougall family, with the intention of a week or two's stay with her friends above named at that place. We hope Tena will enjoy herself to the full extent of her desires during her visit.

Miss Christena A McDonald, writes home from Oak river, Man., dated Jan 7th, says they have the finest weather she ever saw at this time of year, just snow enough to make the sleighs go and no more. She's thankful she's not in Ontario this winter, by the accounts she gets of the weather and depth of snow. She further says they were just let out of quarantine, after a month's service on account of scarlet fever and is thankful now of being set at liberty again.

The young boys that attended school at Owen Sound, from here, returned again after spending their holidays at their different homes. They write saying that both Collegiate and Northern Business College are well supplied with students. The latter has 160 students with more coming every day.

Miss Maggie McDonald is attending Durham School again, after going through the model term in which she was successful in passing.

Miss Bertha McIntyre, of South Line is attending the N. B. College, Owen Sound. Anniversary services will be held in the Presbyterian church at some future date, not yet made known. Also the annual service will be held on the following Monday.

Eighteen new members were initiated in the A O U W Lodge here this winter, with half that number in view at their next meeting. The S. O. S. initiated some 12 or 15, recently, as Organizer Gibson has been here for a week or two.

Died at her son's residence, Hugh McPherson, near Ceylour, on Monday 4th January inst. Mrs McPherson, widow of the late Hugh McPherson, aged about 78 years. Mrs McPherson, with her husband and family moved to Artemesia from Lower Canada 30 years ago. Her husband preceded her some ten or fifteen years ago. She was a woman of good qualities, of a quiet and unobtrusive nature. In religion she was a staunch Presbyterian and a devout Christian lady. She was a native of Argyleshire, Scotland. Her remains were laid beside her husband in Priceville graveyard. Rev Mr Matheson officiated at house and grave.

Death in any case is cause for sorrow. It is natural to be sorrowful for the parent who has reached the allotted time, how much more it is to be sorrowful for the young man or woman, who has left in either case a bereaved wife or husband and a helpless family. A few days ago Mr and Mrs Jno McPhail and family, residing in Glenelg, received the sad intelligence of the death of their youngest son, Neil, at Duluth, after one week's illness with pneumonia, at the early age of 35 years. The aged father, mother with delight eagerly awaiting to hear the news, contained in the letter that conveyed them the sad news, thinking that everything was all well as in former letters received from their dutiful son, but also how hard for the member of the family, who has the honor of being their leader, and partook of a supper of the above named fruit furnished by the members of the respective choirs. Needless to say a very pleasant evening was spent in music, mirth and games, both before and after the solemn hour of midnight when supper was served. The company dispersing after the rendering of "Auld Lang Syne" in a double circle of unity, well on into Wednesday morning. For downright good feeling, mirth and music, loving, sociability and friendliness of character commend me to the people of North Egremont. We don't know whether to congratulate or sympathize with the lone bass singer of the Ebenezer, who had no less than seven ladies under his charge, and delivered his goods safely at their respective homes, much like your Lock Elvidge, a freight handler, only he quit work when the latter would be stalling. The experience, trying as they dipped into the depths of the gravel pit at the south corner. We were pleased to welcome the organist of Priceville church, Miss Maud Riley, among the number.

HOPEVILLE.

Mrs Wm Irons, of Toronto, formerly a resident of this village, who moved from here about twelve years ago, has been paying her old friend, Mrs Joseph McArdis, who is now very low, a visit for a week. Mrs Armstrong and family have had several friends visiting them. Amongst them, is her grandson, Jas Fettes Jr., from Michigan, U. S.

Died on Friday morning 15th, the infant son, aged 6 months, of Peter McArthur. It was buried at Priceville on Saturday afternoon.

The weather has been very stormy and the roads are very heavy to travel on.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

The meeting of this body last week was not the success it would have been owing to the unfortunate but unavoidable absence of the two government speakers, who wired from Wingham that they could not make train connections. Pres. Wm Young, Secy. Geo Binnie and other of the local workers made the best of a bad situation and went on with the meetings, succeeding in filling in the time very profitably.

Some advised cutting off the evening meeting altogether, but the judgment of those who said go on, was justified by the success attained. The hall was filled to the door and a good program, more musical than was intended, was cleverly rendered. Pres. Young filled the chair, Secy Binnie gave a comprehensive report of the Guelph Fair Stock Show and the benefits springing from it to those who interest themselves in it. Rev Mr Newton excelled himself in an excellent speech, pointing out the merits, opportunities and possibilities of farm life, and had much good advice couched in an attractive style.

But the music was the chief attraction and Misses Jean Brown and Jessie Munro won golden opinions on their musical talent. Then besides there were the popular singers Messrs Alex Bell, Wm Ramage and Grant McComb. They were all encored heartily, and gave several duets, Mr Bell also contributing two recitations. Mr Geo Wright was an efficient accompanist.

—Hon. H. R. Emmerson of N Brunswick was last week appointed Minister of Railways and Canals in succession to Mr. Blair.

—Lieut. Col. Munro and Mr. R. E. Butler were nominated for the vacancy in North Oxford on Tuesday. Munro is the Liberal, election next Tuesday.

Hymeneal.

On Tuesday Jan. 12th, a very happy event took place at the residence of Mr. Geo. Rawns, S. Egremont, when his youngest daughter, Etizna Electa (Elsie) was married to Mr. W. H. Sim of Yeovil.

At 2.30 p. m. leaning on the arm of her father, the bride entered and took her place beside her lover. The wedding march was played by Miss Merilla Dowling. Rev Jas. Ferguson performed the ceremony, only immediate friends of the parties being present. These all extended hearty congratulations, and with the happy couple now man and wife partook soon after of a sumptuous wedding repast.

The bride was attractively attired in navy blue velvet skirt, with blue silk frilled drop skirt and white tuckered silk waist, trimmed with medallions and point lace. She wore white carnations and hyacinths, with maiden hair fern in hair and on waist.

The bride was the recipient of many lovely presents some sent from a distance. Mrs. Sim, as Miss Rawns made a reputation for herself as a teacher and was and is highly esteemed for her work's sake and for her many excellent qualities of hand and heart. The bride and groom wish to thank through life, Mrs. Sim, a sister of Mrs. W. S. Horsburg, Mr. Forest, formerly of Durham.

NORTH EGREMONT.

Oysters and Music in North Egremont.

We do not mean to infer by the above heading, that a bed of such had been found at the bottom of the lake in addition to the excellent marl there, or that the ubiquitous oyster hitherto regarded and quoted as a simile of the silent and self convicted criminal as being, as dumb as an oyster, had suddenly opened its mouth—if it has any—and taken to music—but that the music loving people of N. Egremont and they are many—the members of three choirs, Ebenezer, the Hall, and Dro-more, to the number of 33, met at the home of Mr and Mrs Wm Ramage, who has the honor of being their leader, and partook of a supper of the above named fruit furnished by the members of the respective choirs. Needless to say a very pleasant evening was spent in music, mirth and games, both before and after the solemn hour of midnight when supper was served. The company dispersing after the rendering of "Auld Lang Syne" in a double circle of unity, well on into Wednesday morning. For downright good feeling, mirth and music, loving, sociability and friendliness of character commend me to the people of North Egremont. We don't know whether to congratulate or sympathize with the lone bass singer of the Ebenezer, who had no less than seven ladies under his charge, and delivered his goods safely at their respective homes, much like your Lock Elvidge, a freight handler, only he quit work when the latter would be stalling. The experience, trying as they dipped into the depths of the gravel pit at the south corner. We were pleased to welcome the organist of Priceville church, Miss Maud Riley, among the number.

Another jolly company of over 50 gathered at the home of Mr and Mrs Wm Hunter, on the invitation of their amiable daughter, on Friday evening last and spent the night in games and music operatic, peripatetic, systematic, terpsitatic and many other atics coupled with the antics of the superabundant frolicsome youth. A very enjoyable time was spent together till well on into morning. The Dro-more choir were again present and contributed of their talent, as did also Miss Jean Brown, and Miss M Gordon, of your town, Miss Nellie Dunstan, of Dakots; Miss Alice Swanston, Y-ovil and our own Misses Renwick of Dro-more.

ALEX. RUSSELL.

The roof of part of John Calder's barn has succumbed like many another to the weight of snow upon them.

Mr W L Dixon has decided on taking a step higher from that of a teacher, that of an Agriculturist; and for that purpose is attending the O. A. C. at Guelph. From Mr Dixon's well known ability we would not be surprised to see him yet come out as one of the teaching staff and taking the place of some of the Professors. He is taking a short course in cattle judging. Mr D. is the possessor of fine buildings, on one of the finest farms in N. Egremont, made so greatly by muscle work, or "Main Strength" now he intends to put science into service, and in company with his son Chas, who has already profited by a course at the same institution, endeavor to make two blades of grass grow where only one grew before.

The song service at the Ebenezer was successfully carried out on Sunday last, being ably assisted by Messrs Coleridge, Lothian and Renwick of the Dro-more Choir. The audience was not very large on account of the storm the previous night.

Miss Mary E Weatherhead, house-keeper for David McKelvey, for over a year and a half, left this Monday morning for Detroit.

A UNIQUE HOUSE.

A House Unique in Interest is shown in the February Delineator in the series "House Building and Home Making." The long low hanging roof of weathered shingles and chimneys of terra cotta bricks at each end give a quaint appearance that accounts in large measure for the peculiar charm of the house. The illustrations give a good idea of the interior decorations and furnishings, which are also original. The interior is possible Japanese and Chinese pottery and brass figures, and other curious duced with selling effect. The carpeting and furnishings are also largely Oriental, but not to the exclusion of modern conveniences. The result is a house that is out of the ordinary, artistic, element of comfort and essentially livable, one that is full of suggestion to the prospective home builder.

Arrangements are now completed for the holding of the greatest BURNS' ANNIVERSARY CONCERT yet held by Ben Nevis Camp of the Sons of Scotland. On Jan. 28 & 29.
