Mr. Binnie spoke on the advantages small value become acclimatized as in recommended, Wheat can be grown just as profitably, if not more so and makes better feed. Experiments must be carefully conducted or results were misleading, this care and method was also a fine training in itself. The advantages of experiments in small fruics was touched upon, and further could be learned on application to Prof. Hutt of the O. A. C. He spoke also of the plan originated by Prof. Robertson of selecting good heads of grain from some good variety, and sowing continuously for 3 years, picking enough for ‡ acre each year from that preceding. At the end of that time one would be entitled to have his seed registered much the same as pedigreed stock.

Pres. Young advised selecting and growing the best possible variety of winter apples. Canada having amply demonstrated her ability in this line. Incidentally he touched on the drawback of Railway overcharges. Much interest was aroused by his advocacy of the careful guarding of our nouses and Alfred Hincks bought one of James RESPONSIBLE! RELIABLE! REASONABLE!

We are RESPONSIBLE for every state-ment we make and are prepared to live up to it.

We are RELIABLE because the goods we offer are of the guaranteed sort and we replace every single thing that does not held up to our idea of perfection. We are REASONABLE in our prices, con-sistent with good values, and every price is marked in plain figures and no other is accepted.

This alone should prove to you, as it has to our hundreds of customers, that we know our prices are reasonable and right. There are lots of men who do not buy their Wedding Rings from us. and we are just as satisfied that there are lots of men who would be better off in many ways if they did buy from us. Suppose you make a test case of this.
