When the nerves are weak everything goes wrong. You are tired all the time, easily discouraged, nervous, and irritable. Your cheeks are pale and your blood is thin. Your doctor says you are threatened with a nervous breakdown. He orders this grand old family medicine.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

A pleasant evening was spent at Mr Wm McLeod's jr., on Friday evening last, when a number of friends and neighbors gathered to surprise Mr and Mrs McLeod and spend a pleasant evening. After a programme of singing, music, speeches, club-swinging and recitations, the following address was read by Miss Edna Chislett:

April 1st, 1904.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIE MCLEOD, Topcliffe,

Dear Friends,

It was with feelings of sincere regret that we heard of your intended departure from our immediate neighborhood and we could not allow the opportunity to pass without endeavoring to express, in a slight degree at least, our gratitude to you for many neighborly acts and favors conferred. We are pleased that you are not removing far from us and that the tie of social relation existing need not be entirely severed. We ask you to accept of this mantel clock, as a slight expression of the esteem and kind regards of your friends and neighbors. Its continual ticking will remind you that life is passing, and as age creeps on may your lives be happy, prosperous and ever surrounded by as many true friends and well-wishers as at the present time. Wishing you a happy, useful life in your new home.

Signed on behalf of friends and neighbors,

Edna Chislett, Maggie McCannel,
Neil McKinnon, Jonnnie McDonald.

Mr McLeod replied thanking the friends for their kindness and hoping they would spend a pleasant evening which they all seemed to do, considering the hour they left for their several homes. Before dispersing they all joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne."

Carried unanimously.

A petition was signed and ordered to be forwarded to Dr Jamieson, M. P. P. for presentation to the Legislature at its present session, praying that no interference shall be made with the optional section of the Municipal Amendment Act 1903.
