t that the Japanese Governnight two C. P. R. steamships

C. Salter has been appointed raffic Agent of the Grand offices at Liverpool.

be a convention of the enrade of the Province in Tothe latter part of June. it. has awarded contracts for to be built in the west this

m of St. Paul contractors. terday in Vitebsk, a city of tants in eastern Russia, dehouses and did damage to of $250,000.

British battleships Belleromeraire are to be converted ships and workshops for the navy.

th, a high official of the aw Railway, has been archarge of selling Austrian plans to a foreign power. lity of Chinese laborers be-he Panama Canal is unfavented upon in the Panama A law prohibiting Chinese is in effect.

ooke, Crown prosecutor of s asked the Attorney-Geneial commission to investirges made against him by of Toronto, in of a mine at Tocina, Seesterday buried many minies have been recovered iners were rescued, but all adly injured.

sents for grand larceny in ee were reported by the in New York yesterday Rothschild, former Presiederal Bank.

ires to have $1,000,000 of be paid that country on canal purchase transmitpont Morgan & Co., their s in New York.

eruiser California, of the avy, was launched at San is the first of six of her the general lines of the Drake. The cost will be the maximum speed 22

before the Workingmen's som Association of Hartident Mellen, of the New cen & Hartford Railroad. ionism, advised all workanions, but to be a force nited States Minster of led the American State very reassuring message ndition of the American that country. He says danger, and will not be nt conditions continue

FIRST PRIZE HERO Saved a Maniac on a., May 2. - Captain , the gallant fireman r life with a madman undow Ledge.

a window of the seve Manhattan Eye and New York yesterday. at hero in the United sipate in the Carnegie for heroes. aving in charge the t been organized, nor is been placed at its Carnegie; but just board is organized liantry w li be taken I will d cide whether arnegie medal or its tion of Captain Clark pavement has gone ero Fourd, but should present Capt. Clark

VITH MEASLES.

orst Epidemic in its

istory. ay 2. - New York

from the worst epis in its history, Dr. at statement vesprroboration he proil figures of his de-

April 25, inclusive, easles have been relealth Department. s of the preceding beginning of winhigh. Dr. Darlington east side and in ections of the city stedly many more not been reported. these figures are from the fact that ling period of last only 504 cases. The iber then was 46, -in April alonelowest daily reh thus far is 105, " April, 1903.

THE BRITISH.

on the Coast of dand.

. - The Admiran official report ling, on the coast were wounded in enemy's works. ason-Willis, Comthe East Africa nally commanded ays the fighting, April 24, was at Dervishes dezarebas and towbut the British letachment of the t stormed their ily and drove by losses. It was the guns of the ger to the at-talian flags were over the zarebas.

Violet's Lover

out to him. He had bidden farewell to often enough at Bramber Towers, with all her beauty, may yet want so the Lonsdales' arrival passed off those hands—their least touch was I hope he will consent. I thought a friend. "Do you mean, Lady Chevenix, to ask me if I will be your friend? I do not see that that is possibleyou forget the difference in our positions.; "You are Lady Maude's friend," she interrupted. "Yes, that is natural. I have business relations with Lady Maude's father. It is quite a different mat-There never can be much friendship, I think, between people of different positions." The tears stood in her eyes. "I did not think you could have spoken so to me," she said. "I am unfortunate if I have spoken impolitely or abruptly," he returned. "Friendship is to me a very sacred thing-I never lightly use the word-and I can not but say that for Lady Chevenix of Garswood and a very hard-working lawyer there can be no common ground."

"I have known you all my life," she said.

He looked at her; he did not speak; it seemed to him that further speech would be imprudent. Her eyes fell before the clear, honest gaze; there was no reproach in it, no upbraiding, but it reached the depths of her soul.

They came to the end of the path : he did not turn back. There was a garden-chair; she sat down upon it, companion, and at times, when her and he passed on with a low bow.

CHAPTER XXXII. did not meet again for some time. Have was always diplomatic. Sh able impression at Bramber Towers. beautiful young wife, to a grand ball, say: "Every wife, my dear, has but Felix was not present, and Sir Owen forgot himself so far as to drink too much, and then, when intoxicated, to use coarse language. In September, Sir Owen was invited to be present at a grand political binquet given at Ol'stone, and Felix made one of the most telling speeches of the night. It was so eloquent, so magnificent in its true, noble ideas, its picturesque language, that he became popular; a man who could speak so well ought to be in Parlia- | times: ment, the leaders said-and it seemed very probable that at the next election Felix would stand an excellent chance.

a great deal about "young Lonsdale." With all his own dense stupidity, he was capable of admiring great talent in others. Another quet he sat next to Captain Hill, who told him that he had heard Lord | happened for the best. Arlington say that the wisest action of his life was the placing of his affairs in the hands of Darcy ford and called at the office in Casand Felix Lonsdale, Sir Owent hought | the street. If he had found Felix there a great deal of that; a good, clever, his request would have been refused; trustworthy land-agent was a per- but Darcy Lonsdale was in the ofothers, and, if the Lonsdales served baronet had to say. Lord Arlington so faithfully, they would perhaps serve him in the like answer," he replied; "but I will and it was arranged they should go. manner. He thought over it some think over your proposition and let days before he mentioned the sub- you know our decision."

ject to his wife.

One morning he received a numsome documents that he could not understand were sent to him to "A man may sign his whole fortune away without knowing it," said he. "I wish I had some clever man to none of this trouble, I know.'

him. They had just finished break- the remarks that people would make "My dear Felix," Darcy Lonsdale the remarks that people would make the remarks the remarks that people would make the remarks that people would make the most amiable hour. He looked up at nothing about it until he returned carry his private feelings into busi- been called together, and closed his his wife suddenly; he had never con- home at night, and then he found ness, business would soon stop. house. When he is going to Nagoya sulted her on any business before, Eve Lester there, and the matter Men come to my office who have with his two kinsmen he has sudand would not have done so now but was reviewed in solemn council. slandered me, who helped to denly become a war-insurance, and that she knew the Lonsdales.

face or her agitation. She did not said Mr. Lonsdale. know what answer to make-she "I am of Nate's opinion," put in dared not say she was glad. Sir Owen Evelyn. "I quite think you should Miss Violet Haye in her innocent did not want an answer. He went on: accept it. If you do not, people will him to be my land-agent; they say "I have thought of that, too. The bond Sir Owen wish or he does so well for the land-agent; they say "I have thought of that, too. The he does so well for Arlington. I really general impression would can not grapple with all these that Felix held some kind matters myse f; and he seems to be resentment against Lady Chevthe only man about here who has a enix, or that he had still view," said Felix. head worth carrying on his shoul- some lingering liking left for her. ders. I wonder if he would under- What do you say yourself, Felix ?" Felix ,forget the past. The world take the post if I asked him, Vio-

know, she replied. some idea—you have known them a her husband's agency. Accept or de- ho whitterly you must grieve after long time. What do you think?" cline it, just as you will." "I should say the Lonsdales would be very pleased; they ought to be. You would pay them well, of course?" "I should be quite willing to give five hundre la year; but then I should expect all my work done for that. I pay almost as much as that now in one way or another. I think I shall go and see them about it,

"Young Lonsdale has not shown "I shall neither like nor dislike ers gave color and fragranceany great anxiety to visit us," he it," he replied. "It is a matter of through magnificent rooms, until continued, with a sneering laugh. utter indifference to me. I do not they reached the great drawing- $9,000,000 worth in 1886 to $86,000,-Perhaps he has not quite forgiven like Sir Owen, I confess; as to room where Bir Owen and Lady 000 worth in 1901. me about you-eh, Violet !-though he Lady Chevenix I say nothing. If Chevenix received their guests. Sev-did not seem to care about it." sense," said Violet. "I do not be- in society."

It was the first time he had met month, men servants $1.36 a month, important element in the development stove length!"

The spoke in a tone of such perfect in the midst moment in the midst moment.

dale consents, I will make him come both looked anxiously at him. He wondrous beauty. Her dress of pers.

He did not touch the hand she held and dine with us. He dines of travelling next year; and I should enjoy my tour much better if I left him in command." "I hope you will succeed," she replied-and she did hope so; she would have been glad of anything that would have forced Felix into her society. She was lonely in spite of all. her grandeur, and there were times when she was dreadfully tired.

It was hard to live with Sir Owen, she had to watch him incessantly, to study his humors, to obey him readthe wife of many a poor peasant. She much for me. I was tired of it." would be so pleased and so content if she could see Felix sometimes-not that she wanted any allusion even to their former acquaintance, but she never knew what that sweet sunny presence of his had been to her life until it had passed out of it.

If they could meet sometimes, and laugh as they used to laugh over all the little comic scenes and sensations Lilford afforded, if she could We will give a grand dinner-party, talk to him of some of the thoughts and you must ask all the people and ideas that began to crowd up- from Bramber Towers, with Mr. and on her mind and brain, she would Mrs. Lonsdale and Felix. See about be well pleased; there was always it at once; send the notes out toa sense of something wanting, some- | day." thing missing, in her life. So she hoped that he would consent to act as Sir Owen's agent. Surely she should see him occasionally.

Her husband was not a pleasant nerves and patience were overtaxed, she would go to her mother with Lady Chevenix and Felix Lonsdale a long list of complaints. But Mrs. Sir Owen had not made a very favor- | would listen with every appearance of sympathy; she would condole with The earl had invited him, with his her daughter, and then she would great deal to undergo; the foolish ones talk about their trouble, th wise ones keep it to themselves. After all, you must expect some little drawback. You have wealth, title, gran deur, diamonds, carriages, servants; the only drawback is your husband, and you must study to bear with him as well as you can."

That was all the comfort that Lady Chevenix ever had from her mother. Francis Haye would say to her at "I do not like to interfere, Violet but is all this I hear about your husband's intemperate habits true?' "I am afraid so, father," she would Sir Owen was startled; he thought | reply; and then he would add: "Can you do nothing to check him? A wife should have some influence over her husband." "I can do nothing," she would ansthing struck him. During the ban, wer; and then her father would life she differed from her stepson, doubt whether, after all, things had

Sir Owen had rode over to Lilson he had long desired above all fice, and listened calmly to what the

"I cannot give you an immediate

He knew that he was deficient in something about his earnest desires, to prevent the children from receivbusiness capacity. In his sober and and he made some impression on ing the benefits of an ample income. most sensible moments he owned Darcy Lonsdale by his evident trust He would not do that; but when he that. Study-learning of any kind in him. Once the older man was in was in sight of Garswood he hated -had always been irksome to him. He clined to turn round and say, "You himself for having come near the never had read anything but the robbed my son of the greatest joy place. He could not help wondering daily newspapers and some of the of his life-his love-and I will have how Lady Chevenix would receive sporting prints; he could not write nothing to do with you or any- him, what she would say to him, thing belonging to you." But that whether she would be pleased or the would have been undignified, and he had harned his asson of mercy. To him there was something almost pitiful in the fact of this strong, coarse rich man unable to take care of his whether she would be pleased or the which reverse. What shall we do to refine to meet me," he thought. "The sight of me must remind her of her unfaithfulness."

Whether she would be pleased or the they should pray Buddha to have given until quite brown. This district the which reverse. "It can never be pleasant for her to meet me," he thought. "The sight of me must remind her of her unfaithfulness."

Haribe, Ensign, Professor of a william to have given until quite brown. This district the which strong, which reverse. "It can never be pleasant for her to meet me," he thought. "The they should pray Buddha to have given until quite brown. This district the which reverse. "It can never be pleasant for her to meet me," he thought. "The they should pray Buddha to have given until quite brown. This district the which strong, rich, red blood, which reverse. "It can never be pleasant for her to meet me," he thought. "The they should pray Buddha to have given until quite brown. This district the wath better they should pray Buddha to have given until quite brown. This district the wath better they should pray Buddha to have given until quite brown. This district the wath better they should pray Buddha to have given until quite brown. This district the wath better they should pray Buddha to have given until quite brown. This district the wath better they should pray Buddha to have given until quite brown. This district they should pray Buddha to have given until quite brown. This district they should pray Buddha to have given until quite brown. This district they should pray Buddha to have given until quite brown. The strong pray and they should pray Buddha to have given until quite brown. The strong pray and they should pray Buddha to have given until quite brown. The strong a letter properly, and he had just thing belonging to you." But that whether she would be pleased or the sense sufficient to know his own would have been undignified, and he reverse. him there was something almost piti- to meet me," he thought. "The ber of letters that puzzled him - ful in the fact of this strong, coarse sight of me must remind her of her rich man unable to take care of his unfaithfulness." own, unable to hold his position with As they came in view of the towers dignity, appealing to him for the sen. and turrets of Garswood he expressed sible management that he could not this idea to his father. He wished give himself. business. But five hundred per an- "It seems to me," he said, "that When he saw her after some days much. Serve it in a little gravy liams' Pink Pills have cured me and see to it all for me. Arlington has did not think his son would like the face. Lady Chevenix, in her graceful num was a consideration, besides we have compromised our independ- he cut her bright black long hair, bowl with the fish. costume, sat opposite to which, Darcy Lonsdale shrunk from ence by accepting the agency."

man that young Lonsdale is! He is there is an especial providence for to forgive them. I do not make Cheap restaurants near military making quite a good position for us. Take it by all means. It is a sin friends with them, but I freely for- camps are full of people which are himself. I should not be surprised to to throw away five hundred a year." give them and do business for them; soldiers and its seers and the hear of his getting into Parliament." "My dear Kate, this is more a mat- you must do the same. Bear one houses call them all night. He did not notice the flush on her ter of sentiment than of money," thing in mind, and you will never be ing," he smiled. "It is a matter of is always pitied; a man forsaken is "I can not tell you-I do not utter indifference to me. I do not often laughed at. Let people see see that there is the least connec- how little it must have affected you "But you must; surely you have tion between Lady Chevenix and since you can visit her husband-not Lonsdale.

"There would be one thing," re- accient crest emblazoned everymarked Mr. Lonsdale. "If we take where. the agency, we shall be compelled | They passed through a broad beauto visit Garswood at times; and I tiful corridor where statuary-copies freedom and indifference that Darcy her in her own home, in the midst women farm laborers $8.50, men of the highest powers of the horse. The "Well, how bout the airthquake?" "So much the better. I shall call Lonsdale said to himself, "He has of the splendor that was now hers, farm laborers $15.96. 'So much the better. I shall call Lonsdate said to minsell, the land ten minutes fore to-day and see them. If young Lons- forgotten her"; but Kate and Eve and his eyes were dazzled by her to-day and see them. If young Lons- forgotten her"; but Kate and Eve and his eyes of porg offer was accepted. "I am glad," said Eve, "for I hear | despite all her efforts, grew deadly many people say that unless mat- pale as she saw him.

"I hope not," said Darcy Lonsdale, kindly. "If I have anything to do with Sir Owen's affairs, I shall do my best always for her." So the matter wacs settled, and Sir Owen, when he read the note in which Mr. Lonsdale gave his consent, was grateful. He took it at once to his wife.

ily; she had less real liberty that ing and writing and worry was too superbly appointed table as though down without comment. "Are you pleased, Violet ??" he

> "I am pleased if you are," she re-She was thinking whether this would bring her and Felix more together.

asked.

"I tell you what we'll do, Violet,

She obeyed him without a word. CHAPTER XXXIII. "We can not refuse," said Darcy Lonsdale, as he held Sir Owen's invitation open in his hand, "We must go this once, and then we can please ourselves afterward. What do you say, Felix?"

Felix thought a few minutes, and then he said, frankly : think I would rather not go-I do troubled with constipation and sour not boil the mixture; strain it; put bowels. Many people appear to in not like the idea. To transact Sir stomach. I gave them the Tablets into a little warm water one cup-Owen's business is all very well, and they are now perfectly well, ful of stoned raisins, one-quarter

although he had felt great com- er cross, peevish, sickly babies in lightly on a cloth to remove the passion and great indignation con- the land. These Tablets are guar- moisture, add to the jelly one tea- and affections of the lungs, to cerning his son, he was pleased nateed to contain no voiate or spoonful of vanila extract; turn inthat he had not married Violet. harmful drug. Sold by medicine deal- to a mold, harden and shape. If the been left standing undried after co He had seen no chance of happiness ers everywhere, or sent by mail at | jelly does not unmold readily; dir the | in heated and wet with perspiration

Darcy Lonsdale knew that his son was bitterly wounded, but he said to himself, "Pain is discipline," and every one had some kind of trouble to undergo. So, when he declined to go to Garswood, Darcy sighed to himself, and was sorry that his son still felt the rankling of an old wound.

But Kate would not have it so for the first time almost in her "You must go, Felix," she said. "Only think what people will say if you stay away! Even Lady Cheve nix herself will be flattered and think you dare not meet her. Go, Felix; I should not like to give her that triumph. You will have to meet her some time or other-do it

He was not quite willing at first, but after a time Kate persuaded him, Yet Felix hardly liked it. To have refused Sir Owen's agency would have Sir Owen stopped while he said been to stand in his father's light, even then that he could return. He

"I say take it," urged Kate. "It raise the cry that I had robbed he left the metropolice to go back "Violet," he said, "what a clever seems to me, really, Darcy, that James Hardman of his rights. I have his birth place being attended them. vexed about coming here. You are invited here, not as the lover whom pride forsook, but as the agent with-of soon be ruined." "There is commonn sense in that "Then again, for your own sake, "My dear father, I will say noth- is very unjust. A woman forsaken

"If I accept it I will undertake cline all invitations." to do all the work," said Darcy | And with those words the carriage stopped before the great en-"Then I will do more for you, so trance. Father and son entered the that you may not feel it," said superb hall with its ancient oak and armor, its stained-glass windows, an

"It would be the wisest plan," she do not know whether you would of the great masterpieces of the States. we are compelled to visit them, we eral were already assembled, but $87.

and Kate white silk with trailing roses was | *************** thought he had achieved the vic- richly trimmed with fringes of gold. tory; but Eve knew him better, She wore a tiara of diamonds set and understood that he would fight in gold. Her exquisite beauty and her to the death, but would never exquisite dress dazed him for a few yield. So, after a long and ani- moments, but he made no sign; and mated discussion, it was decided Darcy Lonsdale was proud of his son, that Darcy Lonsdale should write as he advanced with princely grace to Sir Owen and tell him that his and carriage into the room and : bowed to the lovely woman, who,

ters improve the time will come Lord Arlington, who never negwhen Lady Chevenix will badly lected any opportunity of publicly want some one to look after her | showing his great affection and reinterests. Sir Owen drinks dread- | gard for Darcy Lonsdale, went up to fully, and has no thought of the | him and began a long and interesthundreds he lavishes when he is ing conversation with him. Lady as the arrival of any other guest

"They have consented, Violet," he said. "Now, from this day could hear all that was passing. He henceforth I shall lead a wondered at her perfect grace and happy life; all that read-elegance. She took her place at that happy life; all that read-elegance. She took her place at that serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the exercise required serve with a state of national taking only the serve with a state of national taking only the serve with a state of national taking only ta "They have consented, Violet," he only see Lady Chevenix, but he she had been accustomed to it all She read the note, and laid it her life. There was no shyness, no

of manner? (To be Continued.)

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

"Keep your little ones' stomach and bowels right, and they will be healthy, happy and grow well." This is the deliberate opinion of a physi-"You shall please yourself," re- tag back." If all sensible mothers turned Mr. Lonsdale. In his heart, follow this advice there will be fewfor him-he had resented her con- 25 cents a box by writing The mold into hot water and out im- rain, or both at the same time.

Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brock- mediately; that will warm the mold of Yours of the mold. ville, Ont.

> Notes From Japan in Jap English. Publication. Many kinds of map of the East included Manchuria, Whin the whites of four eggs stiff, of the Yellow Sea, have been Jub- gradually adding one-half cupful of fished suddenly, and reople buy any powdered sugar and a pinch of cream one of them, viewing with other, and consequently the printers are utas in a buttered serving dist. Serve working all the day and night to leither with whileped cream or sauce. supply them to them. And many magazines, novels and essays on the war have been published, and they are read by the nation which like lookers on and paid the taxes, yen 47.62." Some years ago, when he was laboring a large cotton mill at Tokio, he was cut off his upper limb by the machine, and consequently he declined the mill and entered a law school to study it.

The Cruelties of War. Each Arch-Bishops of the Hongwanji (Buddhist) is mostly animate soldiers to | battle bravely, that is, to kill their brethren barbarously in spite of Military Academy, Pekin, China,com- squeeze it in a cloth bag to strain strong proof of confirming the above mitted suicide, filling chagrin that he could not proceed with the army. Is the pulp remaining with a cuplkumura divorced his one liged ful of mayonaisse. This should not T was paralyted and had no power. itary labor in the battlefield. or it will thin the mayonaisse too to be lifted like a child. Dr. Wil-Yozo Mori, territorial soldier,

The Minister for Education has instructed to all the teachers of various schools to teach them calm until the war shall be paci-

Officers of some departments of made sweet. Mold in buttered cups our Government have been ordered and set in cool place or on ice. At to deposite somewhat of their sow- serving time turn out and pour over ing to any post office why?

A big lecture meeting was held at Tokio Christian Young Men Association Hall at 7 p. m. The 17 ult. seven speakers did and about five hundred audiences came to hear. The police of erudition called down Good Advice on His Care and two of those for perhaps he misundestood them.

Both Japanese and foreigners are presenting money in succession to. our Government to defray the war of working horses is given by Mr. W. S. Juntil I took Dr. Williams Pink Pills, expences. It will be large sum .- From Spark the English expert who has for land after using them about a stretching nearly 2,900 miles. Area, 161,153 square miles - as large as the North Atlantic

Coal is the chief wealth-9,000,000 tons mined in 1901. Textile production increased from

"He has forgotten all that non- must suffer the penalty of mixing standing apart from all others Felix Day laborers receive 20 cents a from age the animal powers begin to mushrooms, which have been turned out in a field does very soaked for ten minutes in cold wa- without it?" It is not the fact of li ter and from which the stems have under cover, but the active work of celery cut into inch pieces; a which constitutes the difference bety small desert dish of Chinese sauce, the domesticated animal and the h which takes the place of salt. (The in the state of nature. By work, would have done.

"I am glad you came," said Lady Maude to Felix. "I was afraid you would refuse—and I should have beer sorry for that."

Then dinner was announced, and the long and stately procession which takes the place of sait. (The lin the state of nature. By work, and the place of sait. (The lin the state of nature. By work, and chief takes the place of sait. (The lin the state of nature. By work, and chief takes the place of sait. (The lin the state of nature. By work, and chief takes the place of sait. (The lin the state of nature. By work, and chief takes the place of sait. (The lin the state of nature. By work, and chief takes the place of sait. (The lin the state of nature. By work, and chief takes the place of sait. (The lin the state of nature. By work, and chief takes the place of sait. (The lin the state of nature. By work, and chief takes the state of sait. (The lin the state of nature. By work, and chief takes the specially by fast work, the secret of the glands of the skin are largely done, but not hard; add the omion artificial means to remove these and pook is fitted then only in the state of sait work and the sait of the state of sait work and the secret of the sait make the contents of the pan brown. will be deteriorated greatly. The gre moved forward to the dining-room. Add a little water and stew for the action of the skin, the greater r Felix, from where he sat, could not fifteen minutes. Put in the celery be the attention paid to it. As lon

In the trap of blood warm migriffe become the design are carried manuraise honte, no gaucherie of solve of thipd of a yellst cake then mainly by the action of the bowels manner. If she had been the daugh- add two teaspoonfuls of granulated kidneys. ter of a duchess, she could not have sugar. Scald a beer bettle with a Doften over who Thate been driving been more well-bred, more refined and parent Masterer othen fill three- working horses, make a practice, if graceful. He watched her keenly, quarters full of fresh milk that has get a chance, when bringing and with wonder. Where had she been warmed to blood heat, Pour horses home in a heated and fati aquired her perfect grace and ease / in the yeast mixture, shake hard and state, to ride them through a po fasten down the stopper. Set the ford until the water reaches the b bottle in the warm kitchen for six of the animals. They are then broke hours or until the mixture begins into the stables, and a feed thrown koumiss. I SPhin Padding belly Soak sope-had a box of golatin in three-quarters of a cup of cold wacian of world wide reputation. One ter; het in dauble boiler one eupful mother who followed this advice—

Mrs. Albert Boisvert, St. Claude, One. proves the truth of it. She of milk; melt in a small pan over het latter which they may be led. It water one and one-half ounces of latter which they may be led. It water one and one-half ounces of latter which they may be led. It water one and one-half ounces of latter which they may be led. It checker, pour a little of the latter which they may be led. It says ;-"I have the greatest faith in | milk over it and rub it smooth; then Baby's Own Tablets for young child- add all the remainder of the scaldrein, and I always keep them in the ed milk; add the soaked gelatin; "To tell you the truth, father, I house. Both my little ones were stir until the getalin is dissolved .Do but to dine with him is quite an- Once in a while I still give them of a cup of chopped cition the is a very great mistake. Groomin other thing.

enough to loosen the contents.

Prune Souffle. Wash one-half pound of sweet cunes, soek over night, cook soft, remove the stones, and chop I ne

ONE THING DONE WELL The True Secret of a Remark Success.

From new canned salmon remove sauce of one tablespoonful of butto battle. How is it in Russia?

Mr. Toyojiro Takamatsu. He has reported "that I showed my vitas-capes 178 times at thirty-one capes 178 times at thirty-one bad had 105 002. ter, one heaping tablespoonful of

He would not decide hastily; he looked anxiously into his father's roor wife to responed Mil- be done in his father's roor wife to responed Millike a miracle.'

> inch thick; dip each piece in melted and was daily growing weaker. Butter, and line the bottom and Then I began the use of Dr. Wilides of a buttered mold. Fill the liams' Pick Pills and my health and entre with alternate layers of stew- strength have fully returned." d and sweetened rhubarb and the Mrs. John McKerr, Chickney, N. attered fingers, having the bread on W. T., says; For some years I about three-fourths of an hour and ments that make the lives of so shoul many women miserable I never got > qual quality of rhubarb, cut in small | they have made me feel like a new person." Shine Minert Luddlagted, St. Mary's River, N. S., says: "I was a cripple from rheumatism until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Now the aches and pains have left me, and I

them a soft custard.

Rhubarb Charlotte.

Rhubarb Cup.

Mix one cup boiled rice with

erve with hard sauce

Management. Department of Agriculture, the English columns of a Tokio some months been acting as because on month every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because on month every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because on month every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because on month every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because on month every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because on the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because on the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because on the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because on the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because on the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because of the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because of the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because of the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because of the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because of the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because of the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because of the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because of the every bit of the from the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because of the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because of the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because of the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because of the every bit of the fromble was a some months been acting as because of the every beautiful and the fromble was a some months been acting as because of the every beautiful and the fromble was a some months been acting as a some months and the some months been ac piratory obegans may by madienty bon- trans 1981 by medicine dealers every on strinte dad increasing usen be gradually which or by much from the Dr. Wil-and power of doing work and of sustaining cumulative. Provided that the horse be kept in good condition, it increases from day to day and from year to year, until lar work are also kept nearly exe from the many accidents which from over-freshness. had chicken the meat scraped Grooming .- The question is often one and cuttinto bits; ed, Why does the stabled horse requestion sliced hip; a handful constant groming, whilst the same h

the washed and sliced; & stalk work and the food, not the she and, five minutes later, the pota- the horse remains in a state of na because the debrig of the food and to "work" and foam. Then set in front of them, and the horses are of the ice ber made needed. One weest, left in that state without anyth cake will an the part of the process of more than done. Instead of that the ment, the forses should not be all ool to wet their less above the knees; after the harness has been taken on they should be carefully rubbed and dried from the cars to the fette are gorged. Hearty feeding after a of this kind is very apt to bring digestion, colic, or inflammation that it is unnecessary to groom horses regularly and thoroughly. many diseases, such as cold, brone

W. A. Clemons,

People do only one thing-but IN of tartar. Fold lightly into the do that one thing well. That is bad blood. Anaemia, paleness, pim thick. Braw toward the back morant people sometimes hugh at of the stove and add the yolks the idea that one little medicine can been well mashed. Take from the fire bu tthey forget that they were all and add one teaspoonful of lemon caused by one little trouble- bad parsley, and then she fish proker in-to small flakes. Add a little more asoning if desired, it should be the one cause at the root of them aghly seasoned, and turn stantona from spent anany Pink Bills stilke at buttered baking dishadryinton indis htheoreoten built addood and nothing dual shells, Sprinkle with butter- else. They fill the veins with new,

Use at least ohe-half loaf stale Que., says: "The doctor told me I anything to relieve me until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and

Mr. M. Cook, Tamerton, N. W. T., ed me of a severe attack of erysipelsays: I suffered for two years from Some good advice on the management decines but got nothing sto help me brought to perform safely an amount of his me Medicine Cot, Brockville, Ontam work and to support a estrain which, at 50 cents a box, or six box estering without such progressive training they such progressive training they such be would be wholly unable to stand. The Everything for the Best.

(Atlanta Constitution.) "Yes, sir, I allus believed Providence does ever thing fer the best!" "How bout that March harricane?" "Split the trees to kindlin' wood-horse in regular work will suffer less "Swallered the land ten minutes fore

THE BOOK OF THE RESIDENCE THE STATE OF THE S ONTARIO ARCHIVES TORONTO