

ROSELVILLE

We are sorry to write this week the death of Mr. Thomas Wilson second son and fourth child of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Wilson, Roselville, who died in Lunenburg, Ass., April 25th 1904, at the age of 28 years and 26 days.

He was not very well all winter but owing to the press of work he kept working. He soon fell sick of Typhoid Fever on March 9th. A professional nurse was engaged and she was called daily to see him; the lady with whom he boarded did all she could for him, his companions and acquaintances were kind and thoughtful, and though he was far from a father's care and a mother's love they felt confident that everything was done for him that kind hearts could do. When the symptoms became alarming his brother James was sent for and he stayed with him until he died. He was conscious to the last, he bade his brother and companions good-bye and told them to be good boys and meet him in Heaven. He died as he lived a Christian, and was perfectly reconciled, for him to live was Christ put to die was great gain.

Seven years ago he learnt his trade of blacksmithing with Mr. McKinnon, Birmingham, he then rented the blacksmith shop at Roselville for two years leaving for the Maritime Provinces two years ago, he opened a shop in Lunenburg and there, as well as elsewhere, he won for himself a host of friends.

Tom, as he was familiarly known was of a kind and cheerful disposition and had a pleasant word for everyone. He was strictly temperate and we have it on good authority that for the three years he lived in Birmingham he was never known to enter a hotel door. In religion he was a Methodist but while at home he attended the Swinton Park church quite regularly. In politics he was a Conservative and was also a member of good standing in L.O.L. No. 1186, Preston, and had reached the Royal Arch degree, and his brethren symbolized this in their final offering. He expressed a wish to be taken home and he now lies near the scenes of his youth.

On Friday the 2nd his father received a telegram stating he was not expected to live many days. He left next morning for Lunenburg but he died on Monday and his father was met at Regina by his son James on his way home with Tom's remains. He was accompanied to Regina by Dan Ferguson, Archie Ferguson and John A. Campbell, all old neighbors, and two intimate friends names not known at present. His father arrived home late Friday night and a large number met him at Dundalk.

The funeral from his father's house on Sunday was attended by a very large number of friends and neighbors, over 100 rigs being in the procession it being one of the largest if not the largest funeral seen at Lunenburg. The new and commodious church could not seat all present.

Rev. Mr. Rosch, Pricoville, conducted the services at the home, church and grave. He was assisted in the church by Rev. Mr. Matheson, Pricoville. Mr. Rosch preached a powerful and impressive sermon, using for his text Heb. 4:9 "There remaineth therefore a rest to the children of God." He fully explained what that rest was to the children of God; he also spoke of the two ways, the narrow way and how few that walk in it, and the broad way and how many that go therein.

At the close of the sermon he related a peculiar incident that came under his notice. Seven years ago while he had charge of the St. James church the Methodist and Presbyterian had a union revival when about 100 were converted. He took particular notice of six young people who were converted. When he was the deceased, all of them are now dead and he preached the funeral sermon of them all. Mr. Rosch on coming to the notice of the four spoke briefly saying that Mr. Rosch had fully and freely dealt with the text, remarking that he seldom saw so many young men and that their meeting-to-day showed that life was very uncertain.

He spoke comforting words to the bereaved parents, his brothers and sisters. The hymns sung were 945 and 952, and the choir sang a selection of the organ. The pallbearers were Willie Kinman, Fred Runciman, Findlay Clark, Douglas Ferguson, Willie McCormick, Peter McDonald, all his old schoolmates.

The friends from a distance were his aged grandmother, Mrs. Alex. Watt, Southampton nearly 76 years old, his aunt Mrs. Jas. Wilson, Walter's Falls, four uncles and two aunts from Birmingham and a large number of friends from Plesherston. The beautiful coffin was covered with flowers, all but one wreath by his mother, came from Lunenburg. One beautiful one in the form of an arch from the L.O.L. order covered with beautiful flowers. On the base were three large snow white lilies, all silent witnesses of a friendship that spoke more than words.

Mr and Mrs. Wilson desire to thank their many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy in their bereavement. [The Review also extends sincere condolences to the relatives over this (humanly speaking) untimely death.]

Mrs. Robert Knox has been very ill on account of an abscess forming behind her ear. Information as to and the Dr. could not operate on her but she is now out of danger. Mrs. Hill is suffering from sore throat, also Mrs. Jas. Marshall's little girl.
