DROMORE.

Well, Mr Editor, quite a while since our town was heard from but we are still here yet, notwithstanding the hard winter and late spring. Seeding is now a thing of the past with the exception of a few a little later than usual but the growth of grass and grain is almost if not equal to that of other years.

Our town was brightened last Wednesday evening by the appearance of Miss Katie Hay from the city, who intends visiting her parental home for a month. We are pleased to see her looking so well.

Mr and Mrs Chas Small visited the latter's parents at Hanover this week.

No need for going away to any of the minor places to sell your wool when at J. M. Findlay's you can get the highest prices paid in cash or trade in our own town.

Born—On Saturday, the 21st, to Mr and Mrs Walter Hastie, a son—stillborn.

Mr R Taylor is on a business trip to the city this week.

What might have been a serious accident occurred to Mrs S McLean. While going about the house, she had forgotten that she left the cellar trap door open and fell into it down to the bottom of the cellar, inflicting several nasty bruises on her head. Dr. Sneath was called in and under his care, we hope soon to see Mrs McLean around again.

[An extended account of the Bonar song service is unavoidably held over.—Ed.]

CRAWFORD.

Miss Annie Milne, of Chesley, spent Sunday at home.

Miss Jessie Honess is visiting friends in Listowel.

Miss Nancy Boyd is spending a few weeks at Shallow Lake.

Mr Alex. Hobkirk has a new driver. Our estimable teacher, Miss McKenzie, and her pupils contemplate holding a picnic on June 2nd. There has not been a picnic in this neighborhood for some time and on that account we feel more confident of it being a success.

Inspector Campbell, of Durham, visited our school last week and found everything in good order.

Sheep owners have experienced considerable loss lately by having their sheep worried by dogs.

THE LATE LEWIS C. SMITH.

There passed away at Valetta, Kent County, on Thursday 12 inst., Lewis C. Smith in the sixtieth year of his age. Deceased was a son of the late Duncan Smith of Latona. He was born in Glenarry, and came to Grey Co with his parents when only a child, the family settling on the farm at Latona where Mr Smith always lived until two years ago last Christmas, when he moved to Valetta. He leaves a wife and six of a family to mourn his loss, all of whom were at his bedside when he died except his oldest daughter, Margaret, of Toronto. His death is the first break in a family of six: John and Duncan near Winnipeg, Mrs. McNeal of Moosomin, Mrs. Hay of Dornoch, and Mrs. Scott of Chatsworth.

The deceased had been in failing health for some time but nothing serious was apprehended until about five weeks before he died when complications set in and from the time he took to his bed the Dr. gave no hopes of his recovery. He bore his sickness with great patience and Christian fortitude, and although anxious and hopeful for a time that he would get better, he was enabled to say "Thy will be done."

He was a member of Latona Presbyterian Church and for many years preacher.

The funeral took place on Saturday to Stewart Cemetery, Rev. R. McQuarrie conducting the services. In the course of his remarks Mr McQuarrie said he thought everyone had some special characteristic by which they were known and Mr Smith's was meekness, love and an amiable, retiring disposition.

During Mr Smith's short stay in Valetta he endeared himself to all who knew him, and much sympathy is felt for Mrs Smith and family.

The Review also extends condolences.

PRICEVILLE.

Lots of seeding to do around here yet. Low lands are suffering on account of too much wet. Fall wheat in general looks fairly good. Grass has a good appearance so far.

The 24th will be observed here pretty much like the rest of the days. Business in our town is becoming lively and we expect a good share of patronage during summer. Lots of flour in town now and cheaper than it has been.

Some of the sick ones are getting better and others are doubtful of recovery. The venerable Dugald McLean is lying in a critical condition and his recovery is somewhat doubtful as he is very low with affection of the heart, and may drop off at any moment. Mrs Neil McLeod is also very low with the same trouble and her recovery is but very doubtful as the old lady is upwards of 80 years. Hector McLean who got a rusty nail into his hand over a month ago is not much better yet but hopes are entertained of his recovery. In our last writing it appeared Hector McDonald instead of McLean, so those anxious to find out who the H. McDonald was will find out it was a mistake of ours or the printer's, we do not know which.

Everybody will remember the re-opening of the Presbyterian Church here next Sunday, the 29th of May. Rev Stanley Robinson of Caledon, will officiate both morning and evening, and a grand entertainment on the following Monday night, when the best of time, order and talent are expected. As we are never behind in Priceville in matters of this kind, a crowded church is expected on both occasions. The painting of the church is completed and reflects much credit on the painter.

Mrs McKechnie, of Little Current, (Maggie Livingstone) is visiting her uncle and aunt (Stonehouse) the last few days. Miss Stonehouse, who has been unwell, is somewhat better.

Mr and Mrs Franks, of Erin, are visiting their daughter, Mrs Arch McArthur, during this week. They attended church here Sunday last.

Mrs Neil McDonald is visiting her daughter, Mrs McLeod, on the Gravel Road during the past week.

Mrs Hepburn, of Durham, is visiting at McCannel's this week.

Hector McDonald has returned to Owen Sound Business College after spending a few weeks ploughing at home during seeding time.

Willie Conkey is working Captain Dugald McLachlin's farm, north line, this spring.

We thank the editor for the correct manner he printed our Gaelic correspondence last week. The reader would almost be tempted to believe he was born in the Isle of Mull in the Highlands of Scotland.

Inspector Campbell visited our schools here and at Top Cliff lately and found them very satisfactory. We extend congratulations to Mr Campbell on his recent success in obtaining a higher title to his name.

Mr P. F. McArthur deserves thanks for the beautiful manner he lettered the motto over the pulpit in the Presbyterian Church, which is "Holiness becometh Thine House, O Lord."

The merchants of Gananoque have organized an association to protect themselves against "dead heats" and people of doubtful pay. Once a month they will have printed on a sheet of paper a list of those who run accounts and refuse to pay them. A copy will be furnished every member, and a part of the agreement is that no one whose name appears on the list shall receive credit.
