SCOTS GREYS CELEBRATION.

Priceville was astir on Tuesday: it was her first civic holiday, it was the longest day in the year, and her largest fraternal Society honored it with a day of sports and a night of song.

The morning looked a little threatening, but cleared off in time to allow of a fair attendance. The committee were a little slow in getting started but once Mr. Freer, Toronto, was a guest at the procession from the village, headed by Pipe-Major Beaton, had reached the grounds things got a move on. The petite Duncan sisters gave an exhibition of dancing and won many commenda-

The best fun of the day was the old Miss Wilkes and Miss Edith Kilbutn, boys' football match under the sprightly captains Dugald McCormick and Alex. McMillan. Vicious was the play, exciting the falls, and glaring the fouls, Mrs. Donald McDonald, and little but on they rushed giving many a kick at nothing. It could easy be seen that some of them were scienced. After some close shaves at both ends. Dugald's men got it between the stakes, and this was the only goal.

The strong men had their turn at the shoulder stone, and the first prize was tagen by our townsman, Mr W E. Theobald, who seemed to do it easy too. Alex McDonald was second. Theobald took his first throw at tossing the caber but needs practice. We are not sure of to, arrived home last Friday night for the prize winners but Dan McLachlan and Dan McKinnon were well to the "One might say and say with truth, He almost had too much." On Monday the Assembly was delighted to receive fraternal greetings from The friendly greeting and polished eloquence of the deputation captured the hearts of all. Canon Richardson humorously referring to the rush of people from all churches to hear the new preachers said "If you did not enter our pulpits common honesty compels me to state that you at least captured our people." He assured the Assembly that Presbyterian enterprise in the West was so great that they could not turn in any direction without encountering a Preshyterian missionary, and he expressed the assurance, that if ever the north pole be discovered there will be found astride of it a Scotchman with a bible sticking out of one pocket and a confession of faith cut of the other.

Altogether this meeting of the Assembly has been the most inspiring of any I have attended. There was a happy lack of any one eager to pose as leader, and speeches were to the point. Questions of the greatest importance were under discussion, and commissioners on every hand were heard to express their new sense of the yastness of the work that lies before the church, and of of S.
