WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular monthly meeting of this progressive body met on Thursday last at the fine residence of Mr and Mrs David Hamilton. This meeting is reported as being the best and the largest yet held, some 40 good specimens of the finer sex being present. There were also present some 10 coachmen or drivers who whiled away the time in whitling sticks and in boating on the Lake.

Mrs Chas Gray, Sr., gave a good paper on "Good Manners," and deplored the tendency of the present day young people in referring to their dad as the "Gov.," the "boss" or the "old man." Her summing up was good and went far to show that the proper cultivation of manners easily attained went a long way towards making the perfect gentleman. Mrs And. Scott and Pres. Mrs McGirr each gave good papers on cooking meats. The discussion on all papers being racy and lengthy. Miss Mary Dixon, lately from the McDonald Institute, Guelph, was plied with questions Mrs. Jackson and daughter Christine in regard to the Institution and the work engaged in from day to day. The timely subject of canning fruits was also touched upon. Pres. McGirr also gave a paper on "Rest" recommending a short recline after dinner or at stated Mrs. McDougall, Sr., left last week interval, which elicited the remark end for O. Sound to visit her daughter, from one of the ladies present the propriety of discussing the possibility of keeping house without work of any kind. Miss Kate Dixon, Sec., was slightly indisposed having recently returned from an extended trip to friends near Mrs. Morlock and family left this Milverton.

NORTH EGREMONT

One of those sad events which awakens all the inborn sympathy in man's nature transpired here last Friday morning when the bright infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Long passed away at the age of 1 year and 1 week. He was well and full of innocent childish prattle at the beginping of the week in a neighbor's house, and having while there, unknown to its parents, swallowed some foreign substance Miss Islay Campbell, so dangerously | picked off the floor and which lacerated the throat in its passage, finally lodging in the bowels inducing inflammation, from which it died on Friday morning after great suffering. The grief-stricken parents did everything in their power possible, having conveyed him to Listowel on Tuesday last to have him submitted to the X-rays there, but nothing could be discovered in either throat or stomach. He spoke also of what is expected of the Orange Order, of their walk and conversation and of their behaviour to each other and to others not members. He very forcibly, in summing up, declared it to be a disgrace to live in such a land, a land of gospel light and Christian privileges, and not live up to the principles of Mr. J. E.
