III. The call of Elisha (vs. 19-21). Elijah went as he was commanded and found Elisha ploughing in the field. The prophet threw his mantle upon Elisha and passed on. "This was a symbolical act on the part of Elijah, investing Elisha with his own prophetic office." The sign was understood by Elisha, who obeyed the call.

A prophet discouraged. Elijah had had a glorious victory at Carmel. But periods of depression are likely to follow victories, and we soon find him so discouraged that he prayed that he might die. Had his prayer been answered, his life would have gone out under a cloud. There would have been no anointing of Elisha, no school of the prophets; no chariot of fire.

A prophet comforted. God did not leave Elijah to himself. He loved him still, in discouragement as well as in victory. He refused to answer his unwise and shortsighted prayer. God gavce him rest and refreshment and then as a means of further comfort Elijah was led to Horeb.

A prophet encouraged. In the solitude of the evidence. of the desert in a cleft of Mount Horeb, God speaks. 1. His first word is one of reproof. "What doest thou here, Elijah ?" Specially endowed for a great work and miraculously aided and protected in the prosecution of it, God inquires why he should be so far away from his field of labor. The command was to "return." Yielding to discouragement necessitated retraced steps. The call was to practical work. It was to anoint three men to carry out the purposes of God in Israel. It was to personal work, dealing with individuals. Hazael he was to anoint king of Syria wicked house of Ahab; Elisha to be pro- Gervais, the Canadian M. Reciprocity With Canada.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 29.—President of the demand for Canadian reciprocity in New England, which the national administration has so far ignored, as far as definite action is concerned, and will take the matter up in his letter of acceptance. From what standpoint he will deal with it and what recommendation he may make is not disclosed at present. The President's idea is, however, that something must be done. He expressed the fear that New England would show a great Republican defection, especially in Massachusetts, due to the scant recognition given reciprocity in the Chicago

The issue was the subject of a long and grave discussion at Sagamore Hill to-day on the part of the President, Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, and Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island.

Senator Lodge endeavored to persuade the President hat he had no reason to feel any alarm about New England. Senator Aldrich argued vigorously as a Chicago, Ill., Aug. 29.-When Harry Sidders put his strong right arm around Miss Emma Anderson, 99 Dawson street, the young woman said "Don't!" Then she heard something crack, and she found out afterward, she says, that the hug had fractured a rib and broken one of her arms.

"It was fierce, judge," Miss Anderson said yesterday to Justice Martin, before whom she appeared to prosecute Sidders on a charge of assault and battery. "He was worse than a bear-I suppose.' Miss Maggie Elton, 266 Dayton street, appeared with the complainant, and told of an experience she once had with Sidders. He had kissed her, she said, and incidentally bitten her cheek. Miss Elton showed the court the scar in order to support her evidence.

According to the story told by Miss Anderson, Sidders called upon her several days ago and the breakage resulted. She Chicago, speaks to young women did not say whether the hug was authorized, but she gave the impression that

"To Young Women: - I suffered for six years with dysmenorrhea (painful periods), so much so that I dreaded every month, as I knew it meant three or four days of intense pain. The doctor said this was due to an inflamed condition of the uterine appendages caused by repeated and neglected colds. "If young girls only realized how dangerous it is to take cold at this critical time, much suffering would be spared them. Thank God for Lydia E. Within three weeks after I started to take it, I noticed a marked improvement in my general health, and at the time of my next monthly period the pain had diminished considerably.
