The cigarette question has taken a turn in Acton the past few days which should mean very much in further curtailing the use of this nefarious article. From the time of the passage of the cigarette by-law by the Municipal Council the hotelmen have claimed that their liquor licenses gave them permission to sell cigarettes. Judgement has just been given, however, that in a municipality where a by-law has been passed, fixing a license fee for the sale of cigarettes, hotel men must take out a license under the by-law or be amenable to its provisions, the same as all other ting them amongst their friends to know that they also are liable to the penalties of the by-law, for such action is illegal,—Acton Free Press

THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY. - A meeting of the Electric Railway directors was held at Walkerton on Tuesday and as a result of their deliberations, proceedings have advanced another stage. What was done we understand was to take a bond from Mr May for the sum of $1000, that he would begin construction work before the first of July next, or in de-fault to relinquish his control of the charter. In the opinion of this great family journal, the bond amounts to nothing, and we have no more chance of getting the railway built, than we have of getting one built to the moon. All the same we have not a word of censure for the directors. They have all along been doing the very best they could, and if their efforts are not crowned with success, it will not be their fault. The trouble is, of course, that it requires money to build a railway, and apparently capitalists cannot be induced to put their money into this project.-Telescope.

The union of the Scottish Presbyter-ian Churches has not merely created a perplexing position of stupendous pro-portions in Scotland but has caused the executors of the will of a Scotch Presbyterian in Canada to seek the aid of the eourts to construe the will to decide which Presbyterian body is entitled to five thousand dollars. Alexander Mc-Kenzie died in Lucknow, Ont., in April 1902 Leaving the above the latest the second control of the second con 1903, leaving the above sum, the bulk of his estate, to the Free Church in Canada in connection with the Free church in Scotland. The Free Church in Canada is now united with the other principal Presbyterian bodies, and the recent decision of the Imperial Privy council, directing the handling over of the property of the United Presbyterian Church to the Free Church of Scotland has caused the executors of Mr. Mac-Kenzie's will to be doubtful as to which church is the one should benefit by the $5,000 bequest. They have asked the Court to construe the will and order whether the $5,000 should be handed over to the Free Church of Scotland. the United Presbyterian church of Scotland, or to a small Presbyterian body with only 24 ministers engaged in active work, but which has recently become of importance, known as the Free Presbyterian church of Scotland. Mr. Justice Britton made an order for service on representatives of the three Scottish shurches of the proceedings .- Port El-
