HOLSTEIN SHOW.

We indicated last week the general success of this fine show and this week give the Prize List in full. A feature is the fulness and the keenness of the competition in horseflesh, the prizes being well distributed. Not so in the sheep classes where George and J. A. Swanston almost clean out the Long Wool and J. Fairbairn the Short Wool classes.

As usual W. J. Adams is prominent in many classes and we think will again win the Review prize for competitor taking the greatest number of prizes. He had a very fine collection of field roots. W. L. Dixon captured the coveted first for tub butter. Wm Waddell and J. C. Adams captured H. H. Miller's two prizes for 'Two loaves of bread baked by an Egremont farmer's wife or daughter,' the latter also being awarded first for collection of vegetables.

Only Holstein and Yeovil schools—Mr. W. J. Sharp and Miss Lawrence, teachers, respectively—competed in the School drills, the former winning first for a fine flag drill, the latter having also a nice hoop drill.

Piper McArthur, of Priceville and the Jubilee troupe supplied music during the afternoon and the pipes were far the best in the open. The concert hall could have been twice filled so great was the demand for tickets.

A striking exhibit of Photos was made by Chapman, of Mt. Forest, on the walls of the new school. Every variety of style and finish was displayed and admiring crowds could be found around it all afternoon. The grouping and out door work could not be surpassed for fidelity and tone.

Both the churches and the hotel did a land office business in supplying meals and the village must have been nearly eaten out for the Durham baker had to take a load of bread down early next day.

Oh leaves upon you stately trees, Why do ye fall so fast? Some of you stay yet here awhile. To blush and gently smile Then go to last. Ye crimson tints leaves ye tell That things the 'er so brave Flourish awhile and show their pride And then like you they glide Into the grave.

She is a lady possessed of a charming manner is Miss Colena Campbell who is spending a month at the old b-n-estead after a year's absence in the Queen City.

Mrs Jas Robertson left a fortnight ago for her home in the Canadian Soo after spending a pleasant two months holidaying in the burg and community.

The winning personality of Miss Lizzie Campbell again enchances the social circles after a years absence with our republican neighbors.

Mr Jones, an auspicious youth of Walkerton is catering to the wants of the many customers at Mr H Hunt's modern mercantile establishment.

Mr Geo Vasey, diamond drill setter in the mines at Soranton, Pa. is renewing acquaintances in and around the burg at present.

The Roman Catholic church at Dornoch was the scene of a very pretty double wedding on Wednesday morning when Misses Hanna and Julia, daughters of Mr Wm Lister, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr James Sullivan of Dornoch and Mr. Patrick Sullivan of Irish Lake respectively, Rev. Father Buckley officiating. In the evening a large number of guests congregated at the home and whiled away a few pleasant hours tripping the light fantastic and various other amusements. May the new homes that have thus found their place "among the myriad springs of earth, like a new star just sprung to birth" be blessed with joy and prosperity.

DORNOCH.

The past few days have been fair, but windy and cold, very fall like, reminding us that winter is not far distant. Some have gone so far as to predict even a harder winter than last, but we think they know nothing about it.

Mrs John Renton, Sr, accompanied by her grand-daughter, Miss E. A. are this week visiting friends in the vicinity of Guelph.

Mrs C. Renwick and Mrs T. Atcheson left last week for their sister's at Bracebridge.

Mr and Mrs James Geddes, Sr, returned last Friday after renewing old acquaintances in the vicinity of Galt.

Mrs Highland of Toronto, is at present visiting her parental home, Mr and Mrs Gasson's.

Miss Eliza Wilson, teacher near Markdale, holidayed at her home here last week.

Messrs Harry Sterne and John Pinkerton, who were away on a hunting tour for a week in Muskoka have returned. We have not heard what became of the game, probably the G. T. R. could not handle them at present.

Mr Lee of Cedarville ably filled Amos pulpit on Sunday last the Rev Mr Campbell taking his place to dispense the Sacrament.

Executors Geddes and McKelvey have arranged for the sale of the household goods of the late Wm. Bell on the 14th inst.

C. P. R. vs G. T. P. R.

[We give below more of the important particulars which show how superior is the bargain made by the present Dominion government over that by the Conservatives at the inception of the C. P. R.—Ed.]
7. No attempt was made by Parliament to grant running powers to other companies over the portions of the Canadian Pacific constructed by the Dominion Government. Running powers over the portion of the Grand Trunk Pacific constructed by the Government may be obtained by any other company, subject to the operative control of the Grand Trunk Pacific Company so far as that is necessary to the safety of passengers and property.

8. The Canadian Pacific was allowed to import construction material free of duty. The Grand Trunk Pacific enjoys no such privilege. As far as possible, its material must be made or purchased in Canada. Where it imports material that cannot be procured here, it must pay duty.

9. When the Canadian Pacific was finished it possessed little more in the older provinces than its main line from Kat Portage to Montreal. A system of feeders had to be laboriously built up. The Grand Trunk Pacific, on the other hand, will commence operations with all the lines and equipment of the Grand Trunk proper behind it in the older provinces, which means that the Eastern manufacturer will at once be placed in direct communication with his customers in the West and ensured lower rates.
10. The Canadian Pacific, though built as a national undertaking, was semi-americanised from the first. Its Soo line to-day carries wheat from Minneapolis to the seaboard for less than the main-line charges from Winnipeg; in other words, treats the farmers of Dakota and Minnesota better than the main line treats those of Manitoba. Further, although St. John N. B., is the winter port of the Canadian Pacific, its line thither runs for 230 miles through the State of Maine. The Grand Trunk Pacific will traverse the Canadian soil from start to finish, will send all unroasted freight to Canadian ports, is under obligation not to discriminate in rates against those ports, and will run too far north to become tied up as the Canadian Pacific is with the rival interests of Minnesota and Dakota.
11. The Canadian Pacific did comparatively little for the older provinces in the way of opening up new
