For Want of a Nail

"For want of a Nail, the Shoe was lost:
For want of a Shoe, the Horse was lost:
For want of a Horse, the Rider was lost:
And all for the want of a horseshoe Nail."

You remember the old jingle? Well, its often so. The great losses are often due to a lack of attention to some small detail.

Darling's Perhaps some of our best cooks have lost many Cakes and Pastry by the use of inferior Baking Powder. It's easy to cook with Darling's Baking Powder and its use insures success. No soggy cake, no biscuit thrown away, but digestible food at every baking—that causes the smile that won't come off.

FIRE

PLYMOUTH BINDER TWINE

Quantities of this twine slightly damaged by the recent fire, we intend to sell off, while it lasts, at 7 cents a lb.

We have also a large quantity of this Twine which was kept in Burnett's store and therefore undamaged; this we offer at lowest current rates.

We expect the showroom to be repaired at once, and will continue business at the old stand.

PERSONALITIES

Miss Mary Foreman left for Hamilton Tuesday morning.

Miss Mary McGowan arrived home from Toronto last week.

Miss McNab of Toronto, arrived Saturday to visit her home in Glenelg.

Mr Thos. Banks, Owen Sound, spent a few days in this vicinity last week.

Miss Maggie Corbett, Guelph, is the guest of her sister, Mrs J. P. Telford.

Mr Alex. Russell and little daughter spent a few days in Fergus last week.

Miss Lizzie Burnett came last week from Tottenham to visit her home here.

Mrs G. Blackburn and Mrs Sutherland visited Mount Forest friends last week.

Mrs W. Black is at present enjoying the company of Mrs. G. Nixon, Toronto.

Mr Plunkett and Miss Rhoda Scott, Mount Forest, visited friends in town Sunday.

Miss Ingram of London is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs (Rev.) Culling.

Mrs. Firth came home on Saturday from a visit to Kincardine friends and is spending this week with friends in Priceville.

Mr Frank Jackson, Kamloops, B. C., arrived at the parental home in the Glen, Glenelg, last week after about 20 years absence.

Miss Maud Watson, who has been visiting at Dr. Hutton's, left Saturday to spend a short time with her aunt near Proton Station.

Mr Don. McGregor, Lethbridge, Alta, is visiting his sister, Mrs Don. McFayden, Glenelg. We were pleased to have a chat with him.

Mr Robt. Ledingham, Knox College Student, occupied Rev Mr. Aitchison's pulpits at Dornoch and Rocky last Sunday and called on his mother in town.

Mr. Jas Morice came home Saturday from Lumsden, Assa., looking well after a two months stay. So pleased is he with the country that he intends to go west next spring with his family.

Mr. Jacob Kress is home from Gravenhurst Sanatorium for a few weeks' visit to wife and family. He is looking well, weighs heavier than he ever did in his life, and will return for more complete restoration.

Mr. Alex. McArthur, so long chief clerk with his uncle, Mr. C. McArthur, has left town for a while and is staying with his parents in Glenelg. The absence of Sandy's genial smile and presence is a distinct loss around town.

HYMENEAL

AITCHISON-ANDERSON.

We have much pleasure in reproducing from the Blyth Standard the following notice of the marriage of the popular pastor of Dornoch and Rocky Saugeen. The REVIEW extends hearty felicitations.

At high noon on Tuesday a pretty home wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Anderson, when their second daughter Janet, became the wife of Rev W. Wilson Aitchison, of Dornoch, pastor of Presbyterian churches at Rocky Saugeen and Dornoch. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev Dr McLean, pastor of St. Andrew's church, Blyth. The guests present were the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. Miss A. M. Anderson, sister of the bride, and Miss Isabel Aitchison, sister of the groom, were the bridesmaids, and the groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. R. M. Aitchison of Stouffville. Lobengrin's wedding march was played by Miss Ella Anderson the bride's younger sister. The bride looked very pretty attired in a costume of green gigue silk trimmed with point lace on net. She carried a bouquet of white roses and was married in her grandmother's wedding veil. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of red and pink roses. The happy couple left for Toronto on the 3.35 train, accompanied by showers of rice, chrysanthemum leaves, and other items of good luck. The bride received many beautiful and useful presents. She is one of Blyth's cleverest young ladies and the groom is to be congratulated in his choice of a wife. He had secured a lady who will be in every way an excellent helpmeet to him in his noble work. The Standard joins with the many friends of the happy couple in extending congratulations.

MATHESON-DAVIDSON

On Wednesday the 19th Oct., a pleasing event took place at the residence of Mr. Thos G. Lauder, of Upper Town, when his niece Miss Louie Davidson was united in marriage to Mr Peter Matheson of this town. Rev Mr Farquharson performed the ceremony and the bride was given away by her uncle Mr. T. G. Lauder.

The bride looked charming in a gown of pearl grey crepe de chine trimmed with chiffon and wore a wreath of orange blossoms in her hair. The bride's sister Maud was bridesmaid and the groom was ably assisted by Mr. Wesley Theobald of Mt. Forest. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining-room where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. The tables were tastefully decorated with myrtle and carnations. After partaking of the refreshments several short and suitable speeches were indulged in and the happy couple were the recipients of many nicely pleased compliments and a large number of valuable presents.

The newly wed couple took the afternoon train and started on their honeymoon trip amid showers of rice heaped upon them by the many friends who assembled at the station to see them off.

WHERE WAS MCKINNON?

The above question appears in the Ayrton correspondence of the Hanover Post in writing up two meetings. He says of Miller's meeting "The spacious hall was filled to the door and many were unable to get in. It is said by some of the oldest citizens that Mr Miller made one of the best speeches ever made in this village." Of McKinnon's meeting he says: "On Monday evening Chas. McKinnon, Miller's opponent in the campaign, was advertised to hold a meeting in the same hall but disappointed the audience and some of his most ardent supporters by failing to show up. The hall was again fairly well filled and Messrs I-aidlaw of Durham and Kingston of Mt. Forest addressed the meeting. Where was McKinnon? He is a comparative stranger in this section and the voters did not get the opportunity of seeing him on the platform."

The Neustadt correspondent of the same paper says of McKinnon's meeting there: "A lot of Reformers and Conservatives were anxiously waiting to hear Mr McKinnon on the platform to see what kind of speaker he was, but were terribly disappointed when told that Mr McKinnon was in Sullivan and could not be there. The band furnished music and gave a good concert. The meeting was not enthusiastic."

The very same query, "Where is McKinnon?" was asked at Holstein, Dornoch, and other points, where his own meetings were advertised and he didn't appear. The contrast in this respect between him and Mr Miller is very marked and has turned many to Miller, who believe in being "Always prompt, never Negligent."

Where is McKinnon? The questions above refer to his bodily presence, and had always to be answered that that presence was elsewhere than the point expected. But the question may well be extended to apply to his attitude on public questions: Where is he on many national questions? what are his views on transportation, Cold Storage, Quarantine of Canadian cattle, British Preference, &c. &c? Beyond a few disjointed sentences at the nomination, it is not known where he is on these questions. We may of course assume that he is "again the government" but the electors of South Grey if we mistake not will not be satisfied with assumptions: they have a right to know their representative's views, and Mr McKinnon has not given them at the time and place expected.

When the result of the poll is known, the question will be easily answered, and we confidently expect it to be "At the bottom of the poll."

PERSONALITIES.

In the heat of an election many things may be said, indeed are said which would not be said at a calmer time and this remark may apply to a tirade of abuse which appeared in our contemporary last week. We have witnessed the cowardly attempts to besmudge Mr Miller, and when the untruthfulness of the charges were exposed, they crawl out of the mess without apology, by virtually admitting in characteristically elegant and refined language that "they had looked in the wrong herd book for his pedigree. It would be interesting to know how many herd books the Corner man has access to."

We would have been somewhat disappointed if an election had gone by without a reference to the ancient story of "Wobbling," "Patron," "Jumping Jack," "Political weathercock," "Equal Righter," &c. It has been all up before of course, has all been thrashed out, but Mr Irwin keeps hold of the string and every now and then to gratify himself he duly tugs at the cord and up goes "the same Charlie Ramage," to quote his own language. All we have to say is "If it pleases he, it don't hurt I."

We are not dealing in "mean personalities," we leave that to our contemporary; and if it could be shown that we wobbled as often as the files of the Chronicle could show that Mr Irwin forgot to be a gentleman, we would be a wobbler indeed.

"BECAUSE THAT"

The Corner Concerns correspondent to the Chronicle found the quoted expression occur in two letters to the REVIEW two weeks ago, he jumps to the conclusion that they have the same author. The correspondent has been off his base badly in this campaign, and he is no nearer the truth now than in the step grandmother invention.

CUT THIS OUT.

For purposes of comparison we give the result of several previous Dominion election contests in this riding by municipality majorities. Numbers with a dash indicate Conservative majorities

|           |                         |      |      |
