To-day, Wednesday, Hon A G McKay is being honored with a great demonstration by his Owen Sound friends as a recognition of his elevation to the ministry. Hon Mr Harcourt, Minister of Education, is also to be present.

LIBERAL CONVENTION.—To-day, Thursday, the Liberals of South Jersey meet in Convention to choose a representative for the Legislature. Hon. A. G. McKay, Minister of Crown Lands, is to be the chief speaker. H. H. Miller, M. P., and others will give addresses.

GET A CHART.—This week Prof Tester, phenologist and physiognomist, is receiving orders for his community and pointing out your fitness for some sphere of life's duties. He is to be found at the Middaugh House, and your character will be told for 30c and fuller written information for 50c and $1.00.

SNOW.—After 3 or 4 weeks of beautiful fall weather, snow fell on Saturday 25th inst., sufficient to make sleighing for light loads. At Seaford a foot of two feet took place, but three inches only fell here, and since we have been mildly treated, Blizzards and stalled trains in England seem to call for Kipling to celebrate his own "Lady of the Snows."

DORSNOCH.—Communion service will be held at Dornoch on Sunday next at 11 a. m. and will be conducted by Pastor Aitchison. Preparatory services will be held on Friday at 2.30 p. m., and on Saturday at 11 a. m. Rev. F. Matheson of Chatsworth will preach on Friday. Preparations are being made for the annual Christmas tree on Dec. 23rd, and the workers are determined it shall not be inferior to its predecessors.

Best value in town in Xmas Groceries and Candies. S. F. Morlock.

ANOTHER GREAT CONCERT.—The Sons of Scotland Society here, remembering their experience last winter, are taking time by the forelock and have arranged for a first class concert on Thursday Dec. 8. The talent consists of the well-known Mrs. Helen MacFarlane, Jarvis, of Detroit, Miss Marietta La Dell Toronto, Miss Dunlop, Hamilton, a clever contralto Scotch vocalist, Piper J. Ross, Acton, and his son, Master Willie Scottish dancer. Mrs Newton will again be accompanist. The high class talent being expensive, the committee have placed the admission to all parts of the Hall for 50c. There will thus be no crowding. Plan at MacFarlane's Drug Store and first come first served in the choice of seats. Plan is now open.

THE LATE GEORGE KRESS.—Monday forenoon last, after several weeks' illness, the above gentleman, passed away in his 80th year. His removal breaks a link between the Durham of the past and of to-day, for back in the 50's he founded the well-known cabinet shop, which, under him and his sons, has had continuous existence. He was a man of straight forward character, affable in business and valued as neighbor and friend. His family consists of six sons, George, Michael, Jacob, Edward all resident here, John in Wisconsin, who is home for the funeral, and Wm who went sailing some years ago; three daughters are Louise, the youngest at home, Mrs Hallet St Catharines, and Mary married in the States. Mr Kress was born in Alsace, then in France, over 70 years ago and came to this country at the age of 24, working sometime in New York and New Jersey at his trade of cabinet maker. From there he came to Durham and established his first shop where Mr. R. MacFarlane's residence now stands. In religion he adhered to the Church of England and to-day is being buried in the English church cemetery beside his wife who predeceased him a few years ago.

A recent patent issued by Marion and Marion, Montreal, was one to Elhanan Bowman, of Elmwood, for an improved snow plough, which will bring the inventor a snug sum, as we believe the O. P. R. is after it. Write to Marion and Marion about it.

WHO WANTS MAGAZINES?—The regular monthly meeting of the Durham Public Library will be held on Friday evening, and part of the business will be disposing of the magazines for the coming year. This opportunity to get high-class reading at a low price should not be neglected.

Word was received on Monday of last week of the death of James Calvert, eldest son of John Calvert, Orchardville. James had been undergoing treatment in the Winnipeg General Hospital for the past two months. The remains were taken to Brandon where the funeral took place from his brother's residence, on Tuesday, to Brandon cemetery.—Aytton Advance.

The first social evening of the season prepared by the Presbyterian Guild for last Monday evening was a decided success. In addition to games, a fine program was rendered consisting of solos by Misses Gibson, Jessie Laidlaw, B. Crawford and Ida Wilson, and rather humorous readings by Misses L. M. Puffer, A. Blackburn and M Hunter. After light refreshments were served the social was brought to a close by singing "God Save the King."

One of the chief partners in a large city wholesale firm withdrew from the firm. The other members tried to float a new company but were unsuccessful. The scheme fell through, thousands of dollars worth of goods were arriving and had to be sold at once at a great sacrifice. H. H. Mockler was on hand and bought a large quantity of these new goods. He lists some of the snags in his ad this week.

PIE AND BOX SOCIAL.—Mr John Graham's school social, in McGirr's school house last Friday night, beat all records in financial results, even his own at Hyton Hill last year. Money must be plenty around No. 9, when pies go at any old price from 75 cents to $3.25. Mr Graham himself was in the chair and the program had only one fault, it was too long and retrogressive. ## THE GREAT CONVENTION

That in every sense of the word the meeting of Ontario Liberals in Toronto last week, and it is difficult to say if it except in the superlative degree. The attendance of delegates was 5000 in number, and hundreds thronged the galleries. From the first forenoon session to the last the interest was maintained, and hundreds and hundreds must have missed their train on Thursday evening to witness the last great debate on temperance.

When first called, Mr. Foy, M. P. pronounced it would be "a flat failure," and his attitude and remark may have led the conference the day after, which all must now recognize, was a tactical mistake, for in numbers and enthusiasm and we may easily predict in results, it was far inferior to the Liberal gathering, Association Hall, the meeting place of the Conservatives, held about 1800 and at no time did it overflow, and the last day the attendance dwindled to hundreds where the Liberals had thousands on their last day. If Mr. Whitney made such mistakes as premier it would be no more than is expected. No can it be said that the Massey Hall gathering was not representative, for the role of "delegates only" was strictly adhered to and every door was tiled till radiator and platform rear were filled, and the overflow had to be directed to the last gallery.

This is the meeting readers of the Mail are informed was made up of "Bag, tag and bob-tail," or "officials and office seekers," whose "expenses were paid," &c., &c., at which men were provided with revolvers!! where one was going to smash another's face!! where Rev. J. McDonald, of the Globe, defended corruption and was cheered for doing so!!

The editorial in the Mail and Empire of Thursday last, dealing with the Convention, is a disgrace to Canadian journalism, and readers who read that paper only are grossly misled. The World, the Telegram, the News, all good Conservative papers, while using criticism, gave trustworthy reports. What's the Mail?

The Convention was first and foremost a great tribute to a great leader, the Hon. G. W. Ross, and the difference in the size of the Conventions was a fair estimate of the valuation of the leaders by their respective parties. The remarkable convention was also a protest against the persistent attempt to vilify the whole Liberal party from their leader downward by accusing them of justifying acts of corruption, when the fact is the true heart of the Liberal party and of its great leader, deplores every attempt to use unfair means to win political advantage.

Here and there men are found whose conscience prevents them not from taking devious courses, but these are local manifestations just as the ballot stuffing in Durham back in the 90's in the interests of the Conservatives, was local, and it was small wonder that young delegates and old hearty cheered the frank denunciations of corruption within the party and took steps to cleanse it by adopting a strong resolution which we give herewith:

"That this convention, representing the Liberal party of the Province of Ontario, repudiates and condemns in the most unqualified terms every form of bribery by which electors are illegally or corruptly influenced at elections to the Legislative Assembly, and all fraudulent schemes to defeat the honest purposes of the electorate as being a violation of the fundamental principles of responsible government and contrary to the spirit and traditions of the Liberal party. (Hear, hear.) And this convention would also call upon the Liberal members of Parliament to devise the most ample means whereby election trials shall be continued until every offender is duly convicted and punished, and that no political or other considerations be permitted to stand in the way of the fullest vindication of the sanctity of the ballot and the protection of public morals."

Dr. Hunter, Liberal Candidate in West Toronto, moved the following rider which was attached to the motion and as amended carried unanimously:

"That any candidate bearing the Liberal colors should try to complete his organization out of reputable men residing or having business connections in his own riding—(hear, hear)—and that it is an active duty of every Liberal candidate to see that no person who has been judicially noted for corrupt practices is included in his electoral organization or brought into political contact with his constituents." (Cheers.)

Amongst the notable speeches of the Convention, next to the Premier's, was that of Mr. McDonald of the Globe, which for its clear fang moral tone could not be surpassed. The four new ministers all made a good impression.

The limitations of space prevent us referring at greater length at present to this notable gathering and its actions.

3 Short Weeks

Till Christmas, and what busy ones. It's human nature to procrastinate and how prone we all are. The wise make their selections early—because it means better Selections and better Service.
