THE PEOPLE'S STORE

YEOVIL

The elections are past and we bow in submission to the voice that has spoken, but would rather have seen good government sustained. The severe cold weather kept many of the electors at home, but after all we find that South Grey is as well represented as in the former Parliament.

Mr. James Murdoch, Jr., and his sister, Mrs. Sandry, came from Dakota to see their brother John, but he breathed his last the day before they arrived.

Mr. Peter Orme and Mrs. George Swanson, Guelph, Miss E. Swanson, teacher, Mosbro, and Dr. J. B. Swanson, Detroit, attended Mr. Murdoch's funeral.

Mr. Jas. Calder has let the building of a new barn, and is now getting the timber gathered together ready to begin work in the spring.

Mr. James Murdoch, Jr., visited friends at Guelph last week, and this week he and his sister are visiting their father at Owen Sound. The writer had the pleasure of teaching the lady and gentleman above named in the year 1888 and fondest ties of friendship still bind our hearts together. "For the days of Auld Lang Syne."

Mr. Robert Connolly is preparing to build a new house.

Mr. Thos. Stewart is drawing brick for a new house.

Mr. John Manary, Jr., has rented a farm in Arthur township and will shortly move there.

Mr. James Mitchell is recovering from the effects of his broken ribs.

Mrs. Wm. Eccles, Sr., departed this life after a long illness.

Mr. E. W. Morphy, poultry dealer, of Montreal, is taking his holidays here. He says the French of Montreal are a very fashionable people and are extremely fond of amusement. Mr. Morphy also says that Montreal is one of the finest cities in the world, reminding him of some of the Continental cities of Europe.

DROMORE

Well, Mr. Ed., the elections are over and we will have things a little quieter for a while. While we feel a little disappointed at the result of last Wednesday, in looking over the returns we find our temperance men wanting. Whether they deserve better fortune they themselves best know. It is quite evident that the measure brought out by the Liberals was not strong enough for one class of the people and was too strong for the other.

Mr. Harry Newcombe, of Harrison, and Miss Jean Brown, of Toronto, were guests of Mr. James Eccles' home over Sunday.

Mr. John Eccles, of Georgetown, attended the funeral of his brother's wife, Mrs. Wm. Eccles, Sr. He returned home this week bringing with him the bereaved brother.

Miss Mary Taylor is on the sick list this week. We hope to hear of her recovery soon.

Well, Mr. Ed., our death roll of last week is strikingly large. Our pastor, the Rev. Mr. Campbell, had the painful duty of preaching three funeral sermons last week: first, on Monday 21st, Joannie Kenton; 2nd, Wednesday 23rd, Mrs. Wm. Eccles, Sr.; 3rd, on Saturday 28th, Mr. Alex. McKenzie.

The angel of Death has been amongst us and many homes are saddened and darkened by the going out of the light and life of loved ones. One, namely, Mrs. Eccles, we have obtained a few notes from, besides her in the north of Ireland. She was born in Canada with her parents in 1842, and lived in Esquesing, Halton County, being their first place as home. On April 23rd, 1852, she married Mr. Wm. Eccles, in 1850 they came to Egremont and took up a home on the 16th con., where she has lived continuously until the 23rd of Jan. last when death removed her from our midst. A short time previous to her death she took a paralytic stroke. The best of medical aid was secured and all done that careful nursing could do, but death was in the cup, and that devoted husband and loving friends are left to mourn the highly esteemed lady whose presence will be missed in other circles besides that of her own home. Coming to this country in the early days, then all bash, she had borne her part of the trials and hardships of the pioneer settler. She was a consistent and earnest member of Amos Church here, and for many years took a prominent part in his service of praise and generally was a public spirited supporter of all good movements. Her name previous to marriage was Martha Mullen. She leaves to mourn, besides her husband, six sons and one daughter, viz., James, Wm., David, Joseph Major and Martha, now Mrs. P. Reid, all in the near vicinity. Her funeral took place on the 25th inst., to Reid's cemetery, and notwithstanding the bitter cold day, a large number gathered to pay their last respects to one who had been to many a friend in the time of need, which speaks the high esteem in which she was held. The sorrowing friends have the sympathy of this whole community.

HOPEVILLE

The election is now past and was rather quiet. McKinnon came out best here by 30 of a majority. We do not know the cause of it. It is whispered that the Conservative party did not work well together. Again we hear little stories of parties from Dundalk having control of the election matters being the cause. It is hard to tell.

The Hopeville church has a lady preacher, and reports are that she is doing good work.

We have had some very stormy weather here lately, and the roads are drifted badly with snow.

Miss Annie Dezell has returned home from the States.

Elder McGregor, of the Saints church of S. Stafford, is paying a visit here to friends.

Mr. D. Scarick, an old settler here, is very ill.

NORTH EGREMONT

[We give space this week to a communication over two weeks old from our N. Egremont correspondent, which through no fault of his, went a-missing, and only last week was discovered, but not in time for last week's issue. The items are still readable, but we greatly regret the delay.—Ed. Review.]

We have to congratulate our friend,

Mr. Angus McKelvie, a boy from this part on his election as Mayor of New Liskeard by 40 of a majority over his opponent. The boys of the town were so jubilant that they made coats of themselves and pulled him on a sleigh around the town. We are glad to learn of the estimation in which he is held by his fellow townsmen and wish him success.

These traveling peddlars seem to be plentiful and more of a nuisance than usual, in some cases not failing to show their temper if you fail to purchase. Whose place is it to see if they have licenses? In a recent case here, when one was asked to show it, he promptly produced a recommendation to the Co. Council that he be granted one. This is the duty of no one in particular, but should be seen to by our Commissioners.

In our last budget a typographical error occurred regarding the price of Frank Scott's mare, it does not matter a great deal perhaps, but we wish to report correctly according to our information $147.50 instead of $150.00.

Through some inadvertence Miss Lizzy Laughton's reply to the presentation made her was left out in the last issue. She said in effect, that she expressed her gratitude for the unfailing courtesy and kindness shown her. The duties of organizers of a non-sectarian nature, from which she had derived much pleasure and benefit. When asked by the stewards of the church, to preside at the organ she had done so, purely to fill the vacancy at the time and help on the good work, quite unexpectant of the handsome gift which they had just given her, for which they had her kindliest thanks.

Miss Harrie Watt, who has been sojourning successfully in Chicago for some time, arrived home on a fabled vision to relatives here, looking well and hearty after her prolonged residence in the Windy City. She received at the Stores at Amos, where she first made her appearance, a warm and gracious welcome.

The vivacious and winsome Miss Gardner of Toronto is a visitor at Mr. and Mrs. Peter Reid's and is renewing acquaintances made on her last visit.

Miss Sarah Brown, who is recovering nicely from the effects of a bad cold to the satisfaction of her many friends, recently made a visit to her Uncle Robt. at Lobb, to rob them of any solitude or loneliness they might have to be afflicted with.

This item though somewhat late is none the less worthy of mention, it escaped our memory previously. The sons and daughters, with their wives and husbands, of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hooper to the number of 13, together with their 15 grand children, gathered at the old homestead on a recent evening and presented them with a handsome easy rocking chair. A pleasant time was spent together, all of them being of a musical turn. Instrumental music on organ and violin was given, interspersed with Zouzeque selections by Mr. Thos. Moore Jr., who was also present. Mr. and Mrs. Hooper have seen 42 years of happy married life and are still hale and hearty. Their sons-in-law are David McKelvey, Joseph Lawrence and Wm. Lawrence.

The many friends of Miss Della LeBlanc will be glad to learn of her recovery from a painful attack of quinsy.

Miss Sampson, at present residing at Mr. Chas. Soule's, made a week's visit to relatives in Beaufort, Newcastle to say she was accompanied by one of Egremont's prominent young men.

You have heard of

Professor Dorenwend

America's greatest Hair Goods Artist. He is coming to the Middaugh House, Durham on Wednesday, February 8th.

This visit gives you a chance to consult Prof. Dorenwend about your hair and to choose from the stock of Hair Goods which he carries with him—just what you require. You can try on any $4.00, Bang, Pompadour, etc., and see just how it will look.

Professor Dorenwend can be depended upon to sell you only first quality Hair Goods. You are not forced to buy because you call to see and examine these goods.

Baldness

As all men know, baldness adds an aged expression to the face. Why remain bald when Professor Dorenwend can fit you with a wig or toupee which will hide all traces of baldness and take the place of your own hair? Doctors recommend these Toupees as a preventative for colds in head, catarrh and neuralgia. Professor Dorenwend will fit you on the spot and show you just how you look afterwards.

Ladies—Read this!

You will never have a better opportunity to see for yourself the beautiful assortment of SWITCHES, BANES, POMPADOURS, WAVES, WIGS, &c, which Professor Dorenwend carries with him.

If you cannot call, write for Prof. Dorenwend's Catalogue—it's free.
