DOWN TOPICS

SPECIAL OFFER.—The Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer and the Review to Jan. 1, 1906, only $1.00.

FOR SALE.—1 heavy draught Mare, 5 years old. Apply to W. J. DERBY, Vickers, Ont.

Many are the compliments being paid to the delightful spring opening. It has been an excellent month and bids fair to go out like a lamb.

Dr Burt will be at the Middaugh House Durham, Wed. Apr. 5th for consultation in eye, ear, throat and nose cases. Eyes tested and glasses fitted. Hours 10 to 4 p. m.

The typer here is now free of ice and in flood, the falls at McGowan's mill presenting a romantic appearance. The "break up" has been a good one, snow leaving gradually.

NOT YET SOLD.—Owing to the state of roads and weather, Day of Chas. McGowan's sale at Yeovil, the young Shorthorn bulls were not sold. There is still an opportunity to get one of these fine animals by any of our progressive farmers.

It is reported that a Maple Sugar Makers' Association is to be formed. The main object of those who are talking organization is to prevent the ruin of their industry by the mass of bogus stuff which floods the market every spring.

A letter was received by a friend in town last week from Mrs. Camp Dornoch, who has been spending the past few months with a brother and sister in Munden, informing her of the death of Mrs. C's daughter Dorothy who died suddenly in Toronto.

FOR SALE.—A Colt, rising 3 yrs., and one Colt rising 2 yrs, full brother and sister and well matched. Also a few head of young cattle in good shape, 20 store pigs, 80 to 100 lbs each. Sow with litter 2 weeks old. Apply to Wm. J. ADAMS, Dromore P. O., March 4, 1905.

PROPERTY CHANGE.—The Messrs Fifth brothers have bought the old Parker Store in Upper Town, with stable and lawn in front for $1250. The lot that sum didn't put it there and the purchase we understand was made easier on account of the burned factory. We congratulate the purchasers on securing a fine property.

We regret to notice the death of Mr. John Cameron of Danak, who with his family were formerly residents of this place.

PROPERTY FOR SALE.—The undersigned offers for sale that very desirable store property on Garafaxa St., now occupied by James Ireland. Also the store and dwelling on Hill St., at present occupied by E. Seizner. These are first class business locations. Apply personally or by letter to Wm. LAIDLAW, Proprietor.

The prize list for the eleventh annual Canadian Horse Show is now out. The show will be held in the Armories, Toronto, on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 28 to 29th inclusive. Entries close on Wednesday, April 27th, and should be addressed to Henry Wade, Parliament Buildings, Toronto. Single fare tickets will be issued to passengers attending the fair.

NEWSPAPERS THE BEST.—The two greatest circus proprietors in the world, Barnum & Bailey and Ringling Bros. have decided this year they will spend very little money on bill board advertising. They claim the newspaper going as it does into the homes of the people, is the best advertising medium that will go hand with many of the money they have put into expensive lithographs and large bills into newspaper publicity.

The A. O. U. W. Grand Lodge meeting in Toronto last week was one of the most important in the history of the Order, because a material increase was made in the rates by adopting what is known in insurance circles as the Hunter Scale. This will out the Order on a hopeful financial basis, but it is feared that it will go hard with many of the old members. Some estimate that it will mean a loss of several thousand of the senior members. The new scale will go into effect on May 1st, next. Mr. A. Binnie was the delegate from the Durham lodge.

$1.00 will pay for the Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer and the Review to Jan. 1, 1906. Send to-day.

THE PRECIOUS COW.—Auctioneer Case while selling a cow, recently eulogized the animal as follows: "Of all the animal friends of man she is the greatest. I wish that I, as you are about to sit down to your Sunday dinner, might take from your table what she has placed thereon. I would remove the cup of milk waiting at the baby's chair. I'd take the cream, the cheese, the butter, the custard pie, the cream biscuits, the roast of beef, and leave you a meal of potatoes and tooth-picks. Every scrap of her, from nose to tail is used by man. We use her horns to comb our hair, her skin upon our feet, her hair keeps the plaster on our walls, her hoofs make glue and her tail makes soap. Her blood is used to make our sugar whip, her bones are ground to fertilize our soil. She has gone with man from Cape Race to Nooka Sound. It was her sons that turned the sod in the settler's clearing; it was her sons that drew the prairie schooner for the sturdy pioneers while she followed, and when the day's march was done she came and gave her milk to feed the babe that was perchance to become the ruler of this country."

The Furniture Factory in Ashes.

$50,000 worth of Property Destroyed.

at the end of 1905 repayment would begin.

The alarm of Fire never called the Brigade and the citizens of Durham to fight and to witness a more disastrous conflagration than on Thursday night last when, about 7.30 in the evening, the alarm announced the factory on fire. The firemen with creditable alertness, considering the state of the streets got the engine to the pond near the factory and soon had three streams playing an the burning pile.

The fire started in the south west corner of the building, in the finishing room and apparently from defective wiring or from a cause known as spontaneous combustion, for every thing was normal at 8 p. m. The manager Mr. Catton and Mr. Koch, who has been assisting in Secretary work in the evenings of late, had both come back after tea and were at work in the office when Miss Jessie Burnett followed by a son of Mr. Lavelle who had seen a blaze at a distance, rushed in to give them their first intimations. A rush up-stairs was made but the devouring fire had made such progress that fighting it with pails was out of the question and retreat had to be made. The whistle was made to screech out the danger, and soon the firebell joined in the clamor, bringing we should say three fourths of the citizens to the scene.

Rapidly books and papers were got out of the office, while the raging fire above was finding ready food in the combustible nature of the place, and fast spreading to the north favored, as the windows burned in, by the wind, a south east one, the very worst that could be for the factory, but the best for the safety of surrounding property. The exertions of the firemen were for a time directed to confine it to the upper level and possibly save the expensive machinery below, but despite their exertions the fierce wind engendered swept the whole length of the building. Later, as roof fell in the fire, separating the store room from the rest of the building, though previous to the iron door and every insurance device, and the hands of dollars' worth of fine finished goods were gone.

It soon became evident that all the building was doomed and a supreme effort was made to save the surrounding buildings. Happily this was successful, and boiler house and dry kiln and the pile of fine lumber near remain to prove the value of the fire engine, for undoubtedly without it all would have burned. When the steam pipe from the boiler to the engine broke or burned the noise of the escaping steam in the flames was something frightful and overmastering.

As the beams of the roof fell in they brought with them the greater part of the upper story wall, but the lower story with basement is nearly intact and will form a good beginning for a renewed structure which will almost surely take its place.

NOTES.

The engine never worked better, the hose seemed perfection, and the firemen were doers and darers to be proud of, but Chief Torry thinks that with a new nozzle lately brought out more effective work could be done.

Early in the fight Mayor Hunter wired to Palmerston and the boys there were fully loaded up and got as far as Mt. Forest with their engine but were stopped there, it being seen then that the fire was under control.

Dr. Jamieson, President of the Company, came in on the evening train. In Toronto there wasn't much doing and he had no call for home, yet it seemed borne in upon him that home he must go and he went. Was it a presentiment?

Four carloads of goods for Manitoba—one for British Columbia—were packed and waiting for some enclosures from other points.

The Directors, thoughtfully, prepared refreshments for the firemen which were partaken of in Mr Calder's home near by.

The loss involved is estimated to be about $500,000.00, covered by insurance to nearly half that amount in several companies.

Messrs Edwards and Powers, agents and experts of the Underwriters' Association were in town on Tuesday and took stock of the fire situation and after examining the ruins, the company's books, etc., agreed to recognize the full amount of the insurance, which is placed as follows:

Economical Mutual	$4000 00
Perth Mutual	4000 00
London Mutual	4000 00
Western	2000 00
Queen	2000 00
Northern	3000 00
Norwich Union	1000 00
Ottawa	2000 00
Sun	2000 00

A Rousing Meeting.

Says the Factory Must be Rebuilt.

Within 24 hours after the factory was in ashes, a rousing meeting was convened in the Town Hall, called by the Mayor to consider the situation created by the fire. The town is a creditor of the Company to the extent of $10,000, a loan granted it six years ago, and fully secured by insurance. Though the terms of repayment of this loan have not been observed, there was no anxiety, for the great benefits derived by the town from the institution, through a wage bill of $16,000 to $20,000 annually, was very apparent and there was almost a certainty that
