TOWN TOPICS

Walkerton Jail is now empty, the last prisoner having left some time ago.

Don't you forget that all kinds of carpets are being cleared out at live bargain prices, at Jas Ireland's.

Remember the sale of Furniture &c of the Parker Estate at the residence, this, Thursday afternoon.

JOHN CLARK, auctioneer.

The Owen Sound Board of trade is in favor of the government ownership of telephones and has so informed the representative for North Grey at Ottawa.

Junior District No 1, C. L. A., will be composed of only two clubs, Hanover and Southampton; Walkerton, Tara and Chesley having withdrawn. A double schedule has been drawn up.

To LET.—The rooms above A. McLachlan's store, recently occupied by Dr Gun as office. To rent on easy terms. Apply to

W H BEAN, Sec'y A. F. & A. M.

They have just received some very handsome new Tweed and Worsted suitings for men at Jas Ireland's, which will make up very well suits—at very reasonable prices.

THE GREAT ECLIPSE.—This year the Farmer's Institute Excursion to Guelph takes place on Saturday, June 10th and all the attractions of cheap rates and stay over privileges are allowed as usual.

The hotel keepers in North Bruce have been warned to toe the mark. A few things must stop viz: Sunday drinking, the sale of liquor to minors, the throwing of dice, and the playing of poker, etc., etc.

A total eclipse of the sun which will be visible in Canada, will take place on the 30th of August next. It will be one of the greatest and most striking astronomical phenomena ever witnessed in Canada.

The grant to the Public Library from the Legislature is the smallest received for many years—only $300. A meeting of the Directors is called for Saturday evening and a full attendance is requested.

DURHAM IS OUT.—By all present appearances, Durham will have no Lacrosse Club in the C. L. A., this season. The C. L. A. Executive formed a very unsatisfactory district, knowing it was against the Club's will, and the Durhams have dropped out rather than agree to it.

The Sons of Scotland committee having in charge the 1st of July sports are waiting—not patiently—on the G. T. R.'s decision as to a special train from London on July 1. The coming of the famous cadets depends on this being secured. Other features are well advanced.

OIL & GAS.—The "International Oil & Gas Co." will send a drilling outfit to a district in the U.S. to put a hole in the ground from Chesley to put a hole in the ground as soon as $4000 is subscribed. According to an item in the Enterprise, the surface indications are satisfactory to an expert in whom the Standard Oil Co. has great faith.

THE "POST" IN A LAWSUIT.—Mr Geo. Ries of the Reid House, Hanover, has entered an action against the Post for alleged libel in a letter published some weeks ago, which justified the commissioners in refusing license longer than three months. "It" was true that they had heard that young boys are allowed to lounge about the house and are given all the liquor they can pay for.

PASSED WITH HONORS.—Last Saturday's papers contained the names of Jos Collinson who has passed with honors the recent examinations at the College of Pharmacy, also of Jas. Darling son of Mr Jno. A. Darling who has also distinguished himself at the both lads and to Mr Darling, Sr., who can claim no small credit for "helping them on their way."

Candidates who attend entrance examinations to High School are now required to take 40 per cent. on each subject as an aggregate of 60 per cent. The percentages formerly required were 33 and 50 respectively. Only those who have to do with examinations can realize how much the increased percentages mean. Parents should see that their children who are studying for the entrance, do their work faithfully and send them regularly to school.

A SIX-YEAR-OLD HERO.—Despatches to the papers last Friday tell of a remarkable rescue at Fort Frances, where little Eric Williams aged six years saved his 5-year old sister from drowning. As an instance of the value of presence of mind it is worth reading: "Eric went fishing at the lower dock accompanied by his sister Agnes. Shortly after Mr Williams missed the children and thinking they might have gone towards the river, he started for the dock between the falls, and on his way met the children coming home. Agnes was streaming wet and crying, and Eric was helping her along. When questioned the little fellow said sister was sitting on the edge of the dock, and in turning around to get up had fallen in. The water at the place afterwards pointed out was ten feet deep, but this did not deter Eric. With rare presence of mind he hooked the little girl's dress in his fishing line, and by the aid of it pulled her in to the edge of the wharf and dragged her up in safety."

Victoria Day.
 This week we issue, for most of our mails, earlier than usual so as to allow us fittingly to observe the holiday sacred to the memory of the great Queen and with equal fervor for her son, who has changed his birthday for celebration purposes we pray, "God Save the King."

If you want a raincoat at a decided bargain, you can get it at Jas Ireland's. Brick for sale, or will exchange for wood. Apply to Ayling & Son, at the brickyard, Durham.

Lemon Bros. circus visited Walkerton and Mt. Forest last week and Owen Sound Monday this week, drawing large crowds.

J. L. Flarity is making to order a fine line of ladies' up-to-date coats, in fancy cravenettes. Call and see them. You will be delighted.

Orders taken at the office of this paper for The Weekly Mail and Empire and the Durham Review to be mailed to any address in Canada, Great Britain or the United States from now until Jan. 1st, 1906, for 65 cents.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered in the Presbyterian church on Sabbath, June 4th next at 11 a. m. Rev Mr Farquharson has a class for the study of the higher things in the Christian life which meets in the vestry Thursday evening at 8 p. m.

Capt Snider as will be seen wants recruits for No 4 Co. preparatory to another outing at Niagara. The loss of the Regimental band and the downfall of the drill shed has taken the glamour off this annual military picnic at this end.

GOT 15 YEARS.—This was the sentence meted out to a young married man at the Assizes in Owen Sound last week for attempted rape on a young girl of 13 years, a daughter of Mr James Reid, formerly of Nomanby. The judge charged against the prisoner very strongly.

Nothing about boy or girl is more noticed than their manners. Yet many a girl frets because her hat is shabby, and never worries because her manners are unlovely; and many a boy thinks a better suit of clothes might help his chance in life, without dreaming of bettering his manners instead.—Ex.

DENTAL CHANGE.—Mr. J. F. Grant, D. D. S., L. D. S., has bought out Mr. T. G. Holt's business and on the first of next month will occupy the rooms above the Post Office formerly occupied by Mr. Pickering. We congratulate our young townsman on his successful student career and hope his business career will be as successful. His business card will appear next week.

The Report of the Inspector of Penitentiaries of the Dominion for the last fiscal year contains several items of general interest. The average daily population of the penitentiaries during 1903-4 was 1,293, which was an increase of five per cent. over the previous year though less than for any of the seven years previous to that. The total number in custody on June 20th, 1904, was 1,328 and of these twelve per cent were under twenty years of age. As to the nationality of criminals, 881 are given as Canadian born, 134 came from the United States, 125 from England, 53 from Ireland, 20 from Scotland, and a less number than twenty from several other countries. Of the total number, 223 said they abstained altogether from intoxicants, 619 were temperate drinkers, and 489 drank to excess. The interesting item of the religious affiliation of the convicts is given as follows: 30 belonged to numerous small sects, Christian and non-Christian; 11 were Buddhists; 28 were Lutherans; 81 were Baptists; 116 were Presbyterians; 139 were Methodists; 251 belonged to the Church of England; and 602 were Roman Catholics.—Ex.

Tabernacle Meetings.

John Knox, The Great Reformer.

Four hundred years have come and gone since John Knox was born in Haddington, Scotland, and with the years have come many changes. Could he awake again after a Rip Van Winkle like experience of four centuries and look upon us it would be hard to tell what his feelings he would survey upon the altered aspect of things. Much there would be to delight him and yet one would hesitate as to whether his coming would be with a rod or with a psalm of praise. However that may be it was certainly a fitting thing that Sunday May 21st was selected as a day to review his memory and the principles which he so fearlessly defended. Along with the great body of protestants in Europe, Mr Farquharson dealt with the here of the Scottish reformation on Sabbath morning, taking his text from the stormy leave taking of the most rugged of all the Old Testament Prophets: "My Father, my Father, the chariots of Israel and the horsemen thereof." He sketched the troubled state of Society in Scotland at the time when Knox was born and followed the reformer, through the crisis at St. Andrews' his experiences in the French Galley, his stay in England, chiefly at Bezwick, his flight to the continent on the accession of Mary Tudor, his return to Scotland in 1539 that he might stand with his fellow countrymen at Stirling to answer for their lives, the reformation of the Church of Scotland followed by twelve years of reconstruction with its joys and its disappointments.

The speaker noted as the outstanding marks of his character a certain reticence in taking a decided course till he felt the pressure of conviction urging him forward, a spirit of real gentleness under all the rough exterior and a courage that made him utterly fearless when he felt that stern work was to be done. The great scenes in his life were at St. Andrews when he was called amidst many tears on his own part to take the work of his public ministry; at Perth, where, after his return to Scotland his preaching was followed by a riot during which the "rascal multitude" tore down the images and destroyed the marks of idolatry, and a second time at St. Andrews, when, in the face of the Archbishop with "a hundred spears and a dozen of culverines" he dared to enter the pulpit and preach on casting the buyers and sellers out of the temple. His intense passion for reality comes out in the way he met the demand while on the Galley that he should kiss an image of the Virgin Mary that was held out to him. Instead of kissing the image he threw it in the water saying "She's light enough let her swim—it's only a pented breed" (i. e. painted board.) All his life he was saying things that had had men enslaved and ventured to dub them with a "sentence"—"It's only a pented breed." Taunted once by Lethington who was examining him before the Council with the words "You forget yourself, you are not now in the pulpit," he revealed his very soul's depth in the reply, "I am in the place where I am demanded of conscience to speak the truth and therefore the truth I speak, impugn you list."

Such was the great reformer: at a safe distance we may say he might have been more tolerant here, or a little less harsh there, but were it not for such men as he, we had never possessed the liberties we have. The picture of Knox with his body prematurely enfeebled but spirit invincible as given by Melville deserves to live. "I saw him," says he, every day of his doctrine go bulie and fear (dove) and wearily with a furling of materials about his neck, a staff in the one hand and good Godly Richard Ballanden his servant holding up the other extor from the Abbey to the parish Kirk; and by the said Richard and another servant lifted up to the pulpit where he behoved to lean at his first entry; but before he has done with his sermon, he was so active and vigorous that he was like to ding the pulpit in blade" (i. e. shivers.) So the spirit triumphed though the body decayed till on Monday Nov. 24th 1572 the man with the two handed sword entered into his rest and over him was never pronounced truer word than those uttered by Regent Morton, "There lies he who never feared the face of man."

 C. J. Sproule, Capt. & Bvt. Major, Adjutant.

Spend July 1 in Durham.

The Sons of Scotland committee are making good progress with their big day of National sports on Dominion Day. The highland cadets, of London, about 70 strong, are coming and those who have seen their marching and military manoeuvres are loud in their praise. Besides these, 10 or a dozen pipers and drummers are coming, prize dancing and the whole round of athletic sports as proved so successful last year. For the evening concert the Town Hall and the rink have been secured and a brilliant group of performers, of whom more later on.

Bands will play and flags will fly to accompany the enthusiasm of the greatest Dominion Day Durham has yet had.

Volunteers, Attention!

This will be the last chance to camp on the historic old battlefield around Fort George and Queenston Heights. Preparatory drills Saturday, May 27, June 3rd and 10th at 6.30 p. m. A few more men can still be taken. Apply at once to

CAPT. O. M. SNIDER, No. 400, 31st Regiment.

New Styles In Summer Millinery

Last week in company with our head trimmer, Miss Porter, we attended the Summer Millinery Openings in Toronto and have brought home many new ideas and styles in Ladies' Summer Hats and Bonnets.

Two new leading shapes are the "Polo" & "Short back Sailor" which are very becoming and quite popular in the cities. We have in stock a splendid showing of these as well as of other fashionable shapes and styles for summer wear. We extend a cordial invitation to everyone to see our fine display of Summer Millinery.

Miss Dick.
