War Notes.

[Latest news received as we go to press is that Rojestvensky is a prisoner and wounded, and 22 Russian ships in all captured or sunk. The defeat is a disaster. The Japs lost 400 men.

Togo, in better luck than Nelson, lives to receive his nation's thanks and the admiration of the world.]

To-day, Monday, comes at last the great news of the sea-fights between Miss Cousins, who has been visiting at Mr H. McRae's, left Thursday for Lis- Japan and Russia directly, and indirectly representing to some extent the yellow and white races.

About nine months ago the Russian admiral left the Baltic, thought he had Miss Spence, Boothville, visited her poured death shot into the fishing fleet. went by Gibreltar and the Suez Canal to the Indian Ocean, and off the coast of Madagascar, lingered for months, no doubt, laying plans and practising his men in artillery firing and naval movements. At last he started east Mrs Alex Ireland, Gourock, is visiting and for a week or two was obscured to her son Fenton and brother-in-law, Mr the world. The parlor experts had it arranged that they would be met near the East India Islands, and myswent to Chesley Monday and have the Russians, made it uncertain whethtical despatches, no doubt sent out by er Rojy would go by Singapore or round the Southern end of Sumatra. vick, who have been guests of Mrs Togo had no idea of meeting them there, they came by Singapore, got safely through, and anchored at Saigon was in Toronto last Tuesday getting coaled, cleaned their ships, laid in in French 1ndo-China. Here they provisions, and apparently by the feeling in Russia, blessed their luck in being granted such liberties.

Japan had borne with French violations of neutrality at Madagascar, but growled loudly at liberties in the China Sea. Fr ancewas very anxious to clear herself and seems to have done so, but all the same, the Russian Mr Cecil Gun visited at his mother's fleet was made presentible during the wait of about three weeks and until the arrival of Nebogotoff with another squadron.

The combined wisdom of the leaders of the fleets was now evidently bent to to the task of confusing Togo: they were going east of Formosa, west of Formosa, into the Pacific, through the Corean Strait, entirely round Japan to Petropavlosk, &c.

Where they did decide to go, and they should get credit for their courage We are pleased to learn that Mr less than 100 miles wide, and near to Japan's two most famous bases, Sasebo ersburg rose high, celebrations were in progress, and a fog Saturday morning made a rush possible. And Togo? Was he watching the Pacific route? the Formosa route? No, he was right there, his fleet watching the south en-Mr and Mrs John Cameron and Mrs trance to the Japan Sea on which Vladivostock lies.

It was no fishing fleet the Russians met this time, the straits of Tsushima were not the Dogger Bank for there was achieved the greatest naval victory since that far gone day in 1588 when the Spanish Armada was swept from the seas. From that day England was mistress of the ocean, an island power dominating the waters, and now another island power, more populous than Britain, has arisen in the Pacific, giving rise to the liveliest speculations as to the future of the world under the allied mastery of two island kingdoms.
